

SULLIVANT LIBRARY
MULTIMEDIA PRODUCTION SPACE
(Room 220 Sullivant Library)

- Working on a digital story?
- Need to create a poster for the Denman Undergraduate Research Forum?
- Designing a website for a class project?

Then stop by the Sullivant Library Multimedia Production Space in Room 220 Sullivant Library, part of the Sullivant Learning Commons. We have specialized hardware and software, and we also have graduate assistants and Peer Library Tutors to assist you with your multimedia needs.

Help is available:

- Mon./Tues. and Thurs./Fri., 10 am to 4 pm
- Wed., 4 pm to 10 pm
- and by appointment

Questions or appointments, contact:

- Brian Horton 247-2452, horton.87@osu.edu
- Tingting Lu 247-2460, lu.162@osu.edu

Hardware and software

- 12 G5 Mac workstations, 6 with dual monitors
- A/V cart for converting analog video to digital
- Color Laser Printer
- 36" color plotter/printer for producing up to 36"x48" posters (HP DesignJet 1055)
- HP Photo scanner, capable of scanning negatives and positives (3600 x 7200 dpi)
- All utilities programs that come with a Mac OS X Tiger (Version 10.4.8)
- iLife Suite (iMovie, iDVD, GarageBand, iWeb, iPhoto, iTunes)
- Adobe Creative Suite (Illustrator CS2, Photoshop CS2, InDesign CS2, Adobe Bridge)
- Macromedia Studio (Dreamweaver 8, Flash MX 2004, Fireworks MX 2004,)
- Final Cut Pro Studio (Final Cut Pro, Motion 2, DVD Studio Pro 4, SoundTrack Pro 2, LiveType)
- MS Office X (Word, Excel, PowerPoint)
- Labanwriter (Labanotation editor developed by the OSU Department of Dance)

Workstations in the Learning Commons (Rooms 210 and 266) have PC applications such as:

- Adobe Creative Suite CS2 (Photoshop CS2, Illustrator CS2, inDesign CS2)3

- Macromedia Studio (Dreamweaver, Fireworks, Flash)
- MS Office (including Word, Excel, PowerPoint, FrontPage)