Carolyn Jarmon, associate director of the National Center for Academic Transformation (NCAT) will provide this workshop on re-designing the large course. NCAT administered the highly successful PEW Project on Course Re-design, and Carolyn will share findings from that set of projects and many others. The overall message is that re-designing large courses can save substantial money and improve student learning outcomes. There also will be a demonstration of "The Digital Bookshelf," a method to collect on-line resources and deliver them tightly tied to a syllabus. Attendance by instructional teams is encouraged. Lunch will be served. Registration link: <https://newman.uts.ohio-state.edu/TELR/>

The Ohio State University Libraries Wiki is currently available at: http://library.osu.edu/wikis/library/index.php/Main\_Page If you want to learn more about what a wiki does, how it works, and whether it would be useful for your project, please RSVP to kilzer.2@osu.edu by Tuesday, July 25.
