West Fights New Demand From Russia

GENEVA — (UPI) — The Western Big Three and Russia clashed on the eve of the East-West Foreign Ministers conference last night over Soviet demands that communist East Germany be seated at the conference table.

French delegation sources said flatly the West would walk out of the meeting today unless Russia backed down.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve De Murville sent British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to try to thrash out the matter yesterday afternoon with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. He failed to break the deadlock at an almost two-hour meeting.

LLOYD AND Couve De Murville were to meet Gromyko again today before the conference opens in the Palais Des Nations to try to settle the matter and prevent an open conflict when the meeting starts.

The United States is willing to have both German governments represented in the conference room only as advisors. West Germany is reported content with this role.

The West has held that acceptance of East Germany would be tantamount to recognition of the East German government. This the West always has opposed and would continue to oppose.

THE WEST has held that accept-attend the crucial meeting produced a separate squabble over the shape of the table the ministers will sit at.

The Russians want a round table which would allow room for East Germany as well as Poland and Czechoslovakia as equals.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The University's Board of Trustees met Friday morning and confirmed the Faculty Council's decision on the Rose Bowl.

A full report on the Board's decisions appears on pages 3 and 7.

Judge Robert N. Gorman

Gorman Heads Board; Favors Enrollment Limit

By Grace Van Atta

"Ohio State should develop a master plan for education that sets forth the objectives it desires to achieve."

This is the opinion of Robert N. Gorman, who was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees last Friday. He succeeds Brig. Gen. Carlton S. Dargusch.

STANLEY C. ALLYN, Chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the National Cash Register Co., was elected vice chairman. John T. Mount, administrative assistant to President Novice G. Fawcett, was re-elected secretary of the seven-member board.

A former Ohio Supreme Court justice and common pleas judge, Judge Gorman practices law in Cincinnati.

Judge Gorman said there will be no radical changes in Board policy under his leadership.

As chairman of the Board of Trustees, he said the only distinction between him and the other members is "that I will preside at the meetings and will probably attend more ceremonial functions."

"EVERY MEMBER will have the same voice as always," He added, "My views on various problems always have been formed out of my experiences with the other Board members."

INVESTIGATION GOES ON

An investigation to determine the identity of the person who allegedly set fire to the prize-winning Phi Kappa Theta-Alfa Delta Pi float during Thursday's Pageant Parade is continuing, Chief of Police William Parker said last night.

"I expect to outline at the June meeting my ideas for improving the University, which I hope will be considered by the Board," he said.

Entrance requirements, limitations of enrollment, faculty-trustees relationships, student-faculty relationships, adequate facilities and many other matters will be considered as always, he said.

"PRIMARILY, we must first determine the function of a state university."

He said this consideration should be made from the standpoint of education, research and from the standpoint of service to the people of Ohio.

"If a university is to turn out first-rate graduates, then the primary objective of education must be character-building," Judge Gorman said this holds true whether an institution is private or public or the study is specialized or liberal arts.

When his term expires in May, 1960, Judge Gorman intends to terminate his Board membership.

"I have enjoyed the association and opportunities and I believe another man ought to have the same privilege," he explained.

Judge Gorman completed two years of his undergraduate work at the University of Wisconsin, and received his undergraduate and law degrees from Harvard University.

Veterans Memorial Is New Scene of Play

By Myron Belkind

The University Musical Productions' "Show Boat" — originally scheduled for Mershon Auditorium May 20 to 23 — is upping anchor and moving to Veterans' Memorial Auditorium, 300 W. Broad St.

The $3-million campus structure has been closed as a safety measure pending a thorough* examination of its ceiling plaster, according to Gordon B. Carson, vice president of business and finance.

"THE 15,000 TICKETS already sold for Mershon will be honored, without exchange, at Veterans' Memorial on the same dates as formerly planned," E. C. Reynolds, Show Boat's business manager, said yesterday. "Seats," he added, "will be in comparable or better locations."

As a result of the transfer, some 500 additional balcony and orchestra seats will be available for each performance. They will go on sale at 12:30 this afternoon at the Mershon west box office. Tickets are $1.50 each and University Theater coupons will also be honored.

TICKETS CAN ALSO be ordered by calling Mershon at AX-9-3148, ext. 8476, or by sending mail orders to University Musical Productions, 205 Derby Hall.

Rehearsals will continue at Mershon until Thursday, when they will be transferred to Veterans' Memorial. Reynolds said that arrangements are being made to transport the cast by bus from Mershon's parking lot to the downtown auditorium and back.

Carnival Fun Ends Ye Olde Maye Week

By Leon Williams

The mid-way atmosphere hit Ohio State's campus Friday night as the fraternities and sororities went all out in an effort to put a fitting end to the May madness that struck the campus earlier in the week.

THE CARNIVAL, held in the French Field House, was a gala affair with an emphasis on merrie olde England. The various organizations dressed appropriately in the motif of English historical fig-

Senior Honoraries' Members Linked in Common Ceremony

Old members of Mortar Board and Sphinx, senior honoraries, linked the new members Friday morning.

As their names and activities were read to a watching audience, the new members walked from the library to the steps of University Hall. A receiving line of alumni members of Mortar Board or Sphinx met them. They were greeted by the deans of their respective colleges.

PRESIDENT Novice G. Fawcett gave a speech. Dean Guthrie acted as master of ceremonies at the morning ceremonies.

Leaving University Hall, the two honoraries walked to the campus sundial where they sang "Carmen Ohio."

The new members of Mortar Board were then placed around the Oval. At 3:30 they were taken to the Browning Amphitheater and initiated.

Sphinx proceeded directly from the combined ceremonies to Mirror Lake. The new members heard a speech from last year's president, Dick Turner.

MORTAR BOARD initiated one honorary member, Prof. Esther

McGinnis, School of Home Economics.

Other new members are: Joan Elizabeth Ashbrooke, Linda Kathleen Bair, Roberta Brunner, Judith Ann Bowers, Arlene Francis DeNardo, Grace E. Durflinger, Dorothy May Grosse, Carolyn Margaret Grubb, Joyce Ann Haignere, Marilyn Herrmann, Gretchen Hoffman, Carole Sue Karshner, Gretchen Klein, Judy Marlene Kyle, Carole Ann Lusch, Sharon Dee McGowan, Carol Jean Miller, Jean Marie Milner, Sally Marie Phipps, Phelia Rutledge, Sandra Sue Spurrier, Donna Lee Stimpson, Margaret Jane Tener, Marcia Thone and Yvonne Kay Wagner. Officers will be elected this Friday.

Honorary members of Sphinx are: W. Arthur Cullman, Business Organization; Stuart Summit, Law School.

The new officers and members are: Dean Hoge, president; Robert Rogers, vice president; Andy Fanta, secretary; Marv Pliskin, treasurer; William R. Snyder, chaplain; James Houston, sergeant-at-arms.

William Whitmore, James Tjoflat, Carroll Lurding, Jerry Woodworth and Thomas Settlemire are also members.

ROTC Decision In Faculty Hands

Tomorrow is the day that anti-ROTC backers have been waiting for. At 3 p.m. the 80 member Faculty Council will convene and discuss (No. 4 on the agenda) the CSA report of the Student Senate resolution on compulsory ROTC.

Members of the Senate worked most of Winter Quarter to prepare the heavily-documented 35-page report.

Included is the report of Malcolm M. Willey, Minnesota vice-president, in which he tells the effect of voluntary ROTC at his Big Ten school.

He says "many students probably elected the advanced course because of its 'scholarship' feature, and not because of any basic interest in a military commission or career . . . Accordingly, any change in the number of students taking advanced ROTC may not reflect policy as between compulsory and voluntary basic ROTC, but merely the student's best guess as to where he can do his military service most advantageously."

He concluded that "the introduction of voluntary ROTC at the University of Minnesota has not resulted in lessened officer output—and this was the criterion in terms of which effects were to be measured. . . . The consensus of the officers appears to be that the best motivation for the advanced course comes with the esprit de corps that is the result of voluntary enlistment in the basic course."

The same results found at Minnesota after compulsory ROTC was dropped there in 1934, should be found at Ohio State, if voluntary ROTC is enacted.

A study released recently by two Dartmouth College researchers concluded that college ROTC programs must be revised to meet national nuclear security needs.

Their recommendation of a subsidized federal program designed to recruit, educate and motivate career officers was based in part on the smaller scale Navy program in operation since 1947. The researchers feel it would be less costly if those enrolled in the Army and Air Force program were educated at government expense, and then required to serve a four year term.

The Dartmouth researchers went to 300 colleges and universities which had ROTC units. After talking to students and military officials they decided that most students join ROTC programs only as an alternative to being drafted as enlisted men.

The researchers recommended less classroom content and said the student should instead devote his time to a broad educational preparation for later training and specialized technical and professional training.

This same principal is advocated by the Ohio State Senate report. Many OSU students maintain that citizenship training (which the Board of Trustees says is the purpose of basic military training) is not provided in the basic ROTC courses.

The Ohio State students have proposed a one quarter compulsory Military Survey course, which they think will substantially strengthen the procurement of officers.

The final decision rests with the Faculty and the Board of Trustees. May these two groups give as much consideration to the issue as the student body has. We believe that if they do, they can make no other decision, than to agree with the students, and initiate a voluntary ROTC program at Ohio State.

Autherine Lucy Leads Quiet Life Wed to a Pastor

TYLER, Tex. — (UPI) — The Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Foster live quietly today here in Tyler where Foster is pastor of the Liberty Baptist Church.

The people of Tuscaloosa, Ala., probably will never forget Mrs. Foster, a young Negro.

IN FEBRUARY, 1956, Mrs. Foster's name was Autherine Lucy. She was an applicant for admission to the University of Alabama and the Federal courts said she must be admitted.

Miss Lucy rolled onto the University campus in a big automobile, surrounded by friends, and went through the registration procedure. But campus reaction smoldered and then exploded into riot proportions.

SHE FINALLY had to be rescued to prevent her from being hurt, or worse.

In a flurry of court activity that followed the violence, Miss Lucy charged that the University itself conspired to keep her out of the institution.

It was this charge that ended her efforts to break down segregation barriers in Alabama. The University expelled her on grounds that she lied about the conspiracy charges. When she could not back them up in court, the University's position was upheld.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which was supporting Miss Lucy's efforts, did not appeal the case. She soon married Foster and they moved to Texas, where they live in quiet contrast to the young woman's one-time explosive role.

Issues Confronting Big 4 at Geneva Meet

By Wellington Long

BONN, Germany — (UPI) — The West and the Soviet Union each insist a reunited Germany should be molded in their own image.

The Big Four Foreign Ministers meeting in Geneva to discuss the German problem on that level for the first time since 1955 will seek to determine whether there is any hope of compromise somewhere between the two poles.

THE GERMANS are in the middle. While they are the people who will be most directly affected by any agreement or disagreement at Geneva, they have the least influence on any decisions to be reached there.

As Germany looks on, these are the issues to be taken up at Geneva:

QUESTION: How is Germany to be reunited?

ANSWER: The Western powers — The U. S., Britain and France—and the West German government believe the nation should be reunited by means of free and secret general elections. They probably would agree to the establishment of some kind of East-West German group commissioned to try to write an all-German election law and perhaps a second group to try to arrange greater freedom of movement of persons and publications across the East-West German frontiers before elections are held. But the West German government must remain sovereign until such elections are held.

The Soviet Union says reunification can come about only as the result of a confederation of the existing East and West German governments. The Big Four, the Soviets insist, no longer have any responsibility for arranging reunification. All-German elections must be indefinitely postponed. Khrushchev told visiting West German Socialists recently that he could not approve any elections in which "the 50,000,000 people under the Adenauer regime would impose their majority on the 17,000,000 living in East Germany."

QUESTION: What about a German peace treaty?

ANSWER: The Western powers and West Germany say that only the sovereign, freely-elected government of the whole of Germany may negotiate and sign a peace treaty with the victorious powers of World War II.

The Soviet Union proposes that the wartime Allies now sign a peace treaty with each of the existing German governments, and has even suggested that some sections of the treaty might be different for each Germany.

QUESTION: What should be the international and military status of a reunited Germany?

ANSWER: The Western powers and West Germany believe the government of a reunited Germany must be free to choose its allies, and to join defensive and other alliances.

The Soviet Union argues that a reunited Germany must be forbidden to join any military alliances directed against any of the Allies of World War II.

QUESTION: What about Berlin?

ANSWER: The Western powers and West Germany say that Berlin's present status should remain unchanged until the nation has been reunited as the result of free elections. That means that Western troops should remain in West Berlin, with right of unhindered access to the city across East German territory, until that time.

The Soviets say the "occupation status" of West Berlin must end forthwith. Originally, Khrushchev demanded the withdrawal by May 27 of all Western troops in West Berlin. But during his March visit to East Germany, he modified that slightly to say that "token" units of Western and Soviet plus perhaps some United Nations troops might remain in West Berlin for the time being. No Soviet troops have been stationed in West Berlin since the war, as there are no Western troops in East Berlin, seat of the Communist East German government.

QUESTION: What should be Germany's future boundaries?

ANSWER: The Soviets say that the Oder-Niese line must remain unchanged. They refer to it as the "peace border." The former German territories east of this line were placed under "Polish administration" pending the signature of a peace treaty under the terms of the Potsdam agreement. The area includes a total of 40,000 square miles, from which more than 7,000,000 Germans were expelled following the end of World War II.

The Western powers usually have claimed the final disposition of the Oder-Niese territories must await the negotiations of a peace treaty with an all-German government. But there are differences within the Western camp.

FRENCH President Charles de Gaulle said recently he thought Germany's border should remain unchanged after unification, and this was interpreted to mean he thought the Oder-Niese line should be Germany's permanent eastern frontier. President Eisenhower displayed a map during a recent television speech on the German issue on which the Oder-Niese territories were shown as part of Poland. The Soviets, and the West Germans, both publicly suspect this was deliberate.

The West German government recognizes that Germany has little, if any, chance of regaining the Oder-Niese lands.

REPORT To The Campus

NUMBER 6

MAJOR ACTIONS BY THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES ON MAY 8, 1959

Major actions by the Board of Trustees at its meeting Friday morning, May 8, are contained in "Report To The Campus." Prepared by the staff of the Office of University Relations, "Report" provides more details on Trustee action than newspaper, radio or television reports of the meeting ordinarily can include.

Three on Staff Get Promotions

Recommendations for the promotion of three University staff members received approval of the Board.

Prof. Paul E. Fertig, 38, of 336 Acton Rd., a member of the accounting department faculty since 1948, was named professor and chairman of the department, to succeed Prof. James R. McCoy, present department chairman who will become dean of the College of Commerce and Administration on July 1.

Ernest W. Leggett, 35, of 3200 Karl Rd., assistant comptroller in the University's Office of Business and Finance, was promoted to the post of assistant treasurer. He will succeed Prof. Paul L. Noble, who will become dean of the College of Commerce at Ohio University, Athens, on July 1.

Ronald H. Pollock, 35, of 917 W. 10th Ave., coordinator of student personnel in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics and instructor in the department of agricultural economics and rural sociology, was named assistant business manager in the Office of Business and Finance.

All three promotions will become effective July 1.

Dr. Fertig has the bachelor's degree from Wabash College, master's from the University of Michigan, doctor of philosophy from Ohio State, and became a certified public accountant in Illinois. He is chairman of the Committee on Professional Development of the American Accounting Association; chairman of the accounting department's Research Committee; a member of the Ohio Society of CPA's and president-elect of the Columbus chapter; and a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. He is currently preparing new teaching materials for courses in accounting principles, which represent first steps in a new approach to accounting teaching at Ohio State.

Mr. Leggett will handle the university's investment portfolio, real estate, insurance, budget analysis and budget research. A 1948 graduate of Ohio State, he served as auditor for the public accounting firm of Arthur Young & Co., New York, for two years, joined the Ohio State staff in 1950 as internal auditor and was named assistant comptroller in 1958. He is a member of the National Association of Accountants.

Mr. Pollock's duties in his new post will include management of internal accounts and departments and will serve as liaison representative between the Office of Business and Finance and the various college and departmental administrations. He received the degrees of bachelor of science in agriculture from Ohio State in 1948 and master of science the following year. He was instructor in vocational agriculture at Pettisville High School from 1949-51 before joining the Ohio State faculty as instructor in agricultural economics and rural sociology in 1951. He was named to his present post in 1955. He is a member of the American Marketing Association, the American Farm Economics Association, and other groups.

All Cage Games to be Reserved

The University will return to a reserved-seat plan for student and faculty season book holders attending basketball games in St. John Arena.

The Board approved the plan, requested by the Athletic Council, under which all Arena seats will be reserved, effective with the 1959-60 season.

Student and faculty athletic activity book holders will obtain seat reservations by presenting their books and paying a 25-cent service fee during a period of at least five days before each basketball game.

The Board action did not change the price of $12 for student activity books and $14 for faculty books; nor was any change made in the general admission price of $2 per individual ticket. The revised plan does not affect alumni and public seating allocations at the Arena.

George R. Staten, director of ticket sales, said the plan was recommended by the Athletic Council "in anticipation of increased interest and large attendance" at basketball games next season.

He pointed out that students and faculty each year purchase more than 30,000 activity cards, which admit them to football games and certain other athletic events. St. John Arena seats 13,300 for basketball, and with 2,500 allocated to alumni, Varsity "O" and public purchasers, a total of only 10,800 student-faculty tickets are available per game.

By reserving seats during the period ending at noon the day of each game, many students and faculty will be able to avoid last-minute ticket disappointments, Staten said. The plan will eliminate the need to turn away a large number of fans at game time, if demand is great. Also, students and faculty will not need to arrive at 6 p.m. in order to obtain a seat.

Staten added that students and faculty have expressed general approval of the optional reserved seat system in use for the past two years, and that the revised plan will represent an extension of this system.

Reserved-seat tickets will be available at least five days before any game and up to noon on the day of the game. They will be on sale each day during this period at the Arena Ticket Office, and the first two days of the reservation period at the Ohio Union. There will be two days of sale at the Faculty Club also.

The 25-cent charge for reservations, Staten said, was not established as a means of producing income but only to cover added costs of ticket printing, sale, auditing and ushering.

In past years, Ohio State has had in effect a variety of reserved-seat plans for student-faculty basketball seating. During the past two years, the optional reservation plan was used.

When the University played its basketball at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, where the capacity is about 7,000, three reservation systems were tried. These included pre-season issuance of three-game reserved-seat tickets on a Series A, B, and C basis; issuance of individual tickets prior to each of three games; and reserved seating on a first-come first-served basis.

Board Recommends Contract Awards

The Board approved recommendations to request award of contracts totaling $206,654 for redesign of University Hospital facilities and $172,088 for construction of a Water Resources Building on the campus.

Plans were approved last Nov. 7 for the hospital project, which will streamline present facilities and provide for handling of increased patient load which will result from completion of the North Wing addition, now under way. The Water Resources Building, for which plans were approved Feb. 6, will be situated north of the hospital and will provide laboratory facilities for research and graduate instruction in problems dealing with water supply and waste disposal.

Both projects will be financed through the state capital improvement bond issues, although a grant of $85,500 from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare will be applied to the Water Resources Building.

On the University Hospital project, low bidders all from Columbus, were:

General contract—Joseph Skilken & Co., $130,430; plumbing—The Kuempel Co., $30,980; heating and ventilating—The Kuempel Co., $25,244; and electrical—Electrical Contractors, Inc., $20,000.

For the Water Resources Building, low bids included: General contract—Harry E. Miller, Groveport, $98,218; heating and ventilating—The Kuempel Co., $26,389; electrical—Blum Electric Co., Columbus, $19,200; plumbing—The Kuempel Co., $12,943; and laboratory equipment—Metal Laboratory Equipment Co., Hicksville, N. Y., $15,338.

Award of a contract to Henry A. Justus, Inc., Columbus, on a low bid of $27,807, for reconstruction of the cornice and gutters on Brown Hall was reported to the Board.

The Trustees also approved a recommendation for award of a contract for interior repairs at the Ohio Union to General Maintenance & Engineering Co., Columbus, whose low bid was $21,743.

Trustees Uphold Faculty on Bowl

The Board of Trustees approved the Faculty Council's stand against renewal by the Western Conference of the agreement for continuation of the Rose Bowl.

The action was recommended by President Fawcett. On a motion by Trustee Robert N. Gorman, five board members voted in favor of the recommendation, and the board chairman, Brig. Gen. Carlson S. Dargusch, Columbus, abstained. One member, Stanley C. Allyn of Dayton, was absent.

Ohio State's Faculty Council on March 10 voted to instruct the faculty representatives to the Big Ten to vote against renewal of the agreement for continuation of conference participation in the Rose Bowl game after Jan. 1, 1960.

Board Elects Gorman Chairman

Robert N. Gorman, Cincinnati attorney, was elected chairman of the Board for the coming year.

A former Ohio Supreme Court justice and common pleas judge, he has been a member of the University's board since 1951. He succeeds Brig. Gen. Carlton S. Dargusch, Columbus.

Stanley C. Allyn, Dayton, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the National Cash Register Co., was named vice chairman, and John T. Mount, administrative assistant to the President Fawcett was reelected secretary of the seven-member board.

The same officers also were elected for the Board of Control of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

Vision Research Augmented

Plans and specifications for two construction projects totaling an estimated $117,000 at the Research Center, 1314 Kinnear Rd., were approved by the Board.

In the former "factory" section of the building, a series of nine laboratory rooms will be provided for the University's Institute for Research in Vision. The laboratories will make up a medical research area for use in studies of blinding eye diseases, to be conducted jointly by the Institute and the University's department of ophthalmology. An adjoining section of the building will be prepared for use by the Institute in other visual research studies of highway lighting, legibility of signs, reading disability, and basic investigations of the visual processes.

The construction work will be financed in part through a $50,000 appropriation from the Ohio Lions Eye Research Foundation and from the state capital improvement bond issues.

Another area of the Research Center will be prepared for use by the Building Research Laboratory of the University's Engineering Experiment Station. A new overhead crane will be installed, as will foundations for wall, floor and ceiling test furnaces.

The Trustees authorized Vice President Gordon B. Carson to proceed with the purchase of property at 21, 23 and 25 W. 11th Ave., at a price of $41,000, from Charles S. Berry and George T. Elum. The property is situated at the south edge of the campus, where the University has acquired other lots.

Everett Shimp Reports to Board

Everett C. Shimp, director of the Ohio State School of Social Administration, told the University's Trustees that "our graduates are occupying important leadership positions throughout Ohio, the nation and in several foreign countries."

Some 566 graduates of the school are employed in Ohio, but 603 are employed within other states, and 27 are employed in foreign countries, Shimp said in a report to the Trustees.

Between six and 10 positions are available for each student graduating from the Ohio State School of Social Administration, he reported.

"The growth of our population and the increased complexity of life today produce a need for larger numbers of well prepared people to give counsel and guidance to those in difficulty," Shimp said. He noted that many positions in social work are not filled because of a shortage of properly trained personnel.

"Among the schools of social work in the country, the School of Social Administration is unique in its offerings and has given nationally recognized leadership in the areas of community organization, corrections and rehabilitation of the handicapped," the director reported.

He told the Trustees that faculty members at the school, established in 1927, are making research studies into such problems as basic causes of juvenile auto

Inconsistency Looms As Detroit Dilemma

By Jack Wittenmeier, Sports Editor

One morning last week, a newscaster on WJA, a Detroit radio station, dropped Michigan's financial crisis to page two and jubilantly opened his news show with the details of a Tiger victory over the Boston Red Sox—their third win in a row.

Whether the change in format was an attempt at comic relief or an effort to jack up Detroit fan interest is questionable. The latter approach seems the most feasible in view of the Motor City situation this spring.

THE BOOS HAVE been outnumbering the cheers since opening day at Briggs Stadium. The apparent collapse of a club selected as top competition for the Yankees this season was a serious blow to Tiger prestige.

Kaline and Kuenn were not hitting and Narleski and Mossi could not put out the fire when Tiger starters faltered. The Tiger K-corps are hitting once more at a hot clip and Cleveland's former bullpen aces are starting to find the plate again.

However, in many cases, the verbal barrages were justified. Examples were numerous early in the season. During the first week of play with the Indians still unbeaten, the Tiger first baseman cut off a throw to the plate with none on base.

THE CLEVELAND runner, stationed on third, tagged up and waltzed across home plate on a play which could have been close if the throw had come in unhampered.

Plays like this did not help to endear the Tiger stalwarts to the home patrons.

Detroit's annual collapse is one of baseball's biggest mysteries. How can a club, almost unbeatable on paper, finish so low in the standings?

THIS SEASON the Tigers are solidly in the AL basement, lagging behind the slumping Yankees. And yet, take a good look at the statistics. The Tigers lead the junior circuit in batting with a .272 mark.

Harvey Kuenn, one of Detroit's top sluggers, is rapping the ball at a .381 pace. Al Kaline, the second half of the Tiger punch, is close behind with a hot .367 mark.

But the story does not stop with the Tigers' "K-twins." Rocky Bridges, the veteran infielder, is hitting .329 and outfielder Charlie Maxwell is batting .325.

CATCHER LOU Berberet is swinging at a respectable clip with a .298 average. Frank Bolling is established as a top-notch second baseman.

Where is the weakness then? Pitching? Frank Lary's 3.43 ERA is the AL entry's tops, but the blame can not be piled on the Tiger hurling corps.

Jim Bunning and Lary have each had a 20-game season in the last few years. Paul Foytack, Ray Narleski and Don Mossi have better stuff than they have shown this season. Sisler, Susce and Morgan are far from being over the hill.

THEN WHY—why can't the Tigers win ball games? The obvious answer is a bad case of inconsistency. When Lary and Bunning were winning their 20 games, Kuenn and Kaline were having mediocre years and vice versa.

Just as rookies become veterans—veterans become hasbeens. Gus Zernial is valuable only as a pinch hitter. Larry Doby no longer has the magic touch at bat or afield.

EX-BENGAL manager Bill Norman found out all about the Motor City "mystery" and couldn't cope with it. Now Jimmy Dykes has been given a chance to grab the Tiger by the tail.

Whoever the manager, one thing is certain. If, and when the Tigers find the pitching and batting balance to win ball games, the rest of the American League might find themselves on the outside looking in.

Angry Indian Club Cooler; Lane Fumes

A national TV audience discovered the wrath of the defeated Saturday while the Chicago White Sox were busy clubbing the Indians, 9-5.

Woody Held, picked off first base to kill a Cleveland rally, expressed his anger in the dugout, dismantling the Tribe's water cooler with a couple of well placed kicks.

Meanwhile, GM Frank Lane fired a purple barrage on the playing field from his upper deck box while his Indians were doing their best to fall over and play dead.

From the apparent zeal of Frantic Frank's blasts, we're betting that the toughest lip reader had to turn away now and then.

Seitz Tagged Twice; Sterns Hitting Star

By Dayton Todd

The Buckeye baseball team flew back home Saturday night with their hopes for a Big Ten title flattened. No one could tell them that Indiana emphasizes basketball. The Hoosiers downed Ohio State 3-2 Friday, and then edged the Bucks twice on Saturday, 7-4 and 6-5.

While the triple loss pushed Ohio State into seventh place with a record of four wins and five losses, Minnesota took undisputed possession of first place by defeating Illinois, 5-1, and Purdue, 4-3. The Gophers have now won seven and lost one in Big Ten play.

INDIANA'S PAUL MICHAELS

Illinois Stuns Buck Thins, Records Fall

By Phil Rohr

Ohio State's chances of finishing in the top five in the annual Big Ten track championships this month took a sharp turn in the other direction last Saturday at Champaign, Ill.

The weakened Buckeyes were trounced by the powerful Fighting Illini, 92-32. The Bucks simply had no chance at all as they won only three of the events.

DICK BOWERS won the pole vault with a leap of an even 13 feet; Dick Furry triumphed in the 220-yard high hurdles; and Gene Cotterman took the discus throw with a heave of 155 feet for Ohio's only wins of the afternoon.

Illinois set a pile of records on their way to the easy victory, among them six dual, one stadium, and one varsity record. The dual meet records were set in the mile, shotput, 880, high jump, 220, and the one-mile relay. The varsity record was set by Larry Stewart in the shot with his toss of 54-ft., 5-in.

The new stadium mark was set by George Kerr as he ran the 880 in 1:49.9.

ILLINI CAPT. Ron Mitchell and his leaping mate, Ernle Haisley, both tied for the high jump with leaps of 6-ft., 7-in. The only double winner of the afternoon was Del Coleman of Illinois.

Coleman won the broad jump and the 220-yard dash, in which he set a dual meet record of 21.3.

and Larry Atkinson shut the door on the Buckeye hitters in Friday's game, allowing just three hits. Indiana did all their scoring in the fifth inning when Don Foreman, the Hoosiers' leading batsman, drive in two runs with a triple and then scored on a sacrifice fly. Tony Drobnick got the loss.

The sweep of the three-game series put Indiana into a tie with Illinois for second place. They have now won five straight.

Butch Seitz took the loss in both of Saturday's games. The tall right-hander struck out eight in the first game, but he could not calm the bats of Indiana's Jim Howe and Bob Reinhart, each of whom drove in three runs.

TRAILING 7-1 in the seventh, the Bucks threatened a comeback, scoring three runs on a walk and singles by Dale Hampshire, Bill German, Dave Murray and Bob Stearns.

Again in the second game, the Bucks fought back from a 5-1 deficit to knot the score in the top of the seventh. Walt Peters started the rally with a single. With two out, Gary Leppert tripled, Murray singled, Stearns doubled, and German singled in the tying run.

But the Hoosiers broke the tie in the bottom half of the seventh to win the game. Seitz, who had relieved starter Dale Denny during Indiana's three-run fifth, gave up a single to Howe to start it off.

Howe was sacrificed to second, and Seitz was replaced by Drobnick. He walked two Hoosiers and struck out one before Norm Mackin sent a "Texas Leaguer" into left-field driving in the winning run.

ONLY BUCK VICTORS . . .

Buck Netmen 'Serve' 6-3 Loss to Wildcats

By Dan Davis

Ohio State's tennis team successfully dissolved their Western Conference losing streak last Saturday as they handed the Northwestern Wildcats a 6-3 lacing.

Dr. Hendrix's seven-man squad gained their tenth win in topping the visiting Wildcats, taking four singles events and two doubles events. Northwestern was robbed of any chance to snatch a victory from the Bucks when their No. 2 man was injured at Michigan State, Thursday, and had to be sent back to Evanston.

The Buckeyes proved that the visitors' loss of manpower made no difference. The Scarlet and Gray went on to take four of the remaining seven positions.

JAKE SCHLOSSER was again the key netman in the Bucks' win. Schlosser was the only Buck to win in both the singles and doubles events, winning over highly regarded Steve Bard of Northwestern by an easy singles score of 6-0 and 6-3 before teaming up with Chuck Carey in the No. 2 doubles event. In the latter position, Schlosser and Carey ripped a 'Cat team of Hitler and Bard, 6-3 and 6-1.

The Buckeyes' last home match of the season also saw Jack Archer and Denny Nabors grap singles victories. Nabors won 6-0 and 11-9 while Archer took NWU's George Hitler, 6-3 and 6-3.

VANDY CHRISTIE, carrying his Wildcat team to two of its three successes Saturday, topped Buck captain Larry Biederman, 6-3 and 7-5, in the initial event of the afternoon. Christie added his second victory of the match when he teamed up with Steve Hibben for a 6-3, 6-4 success over the Buck duo of Archer and Biederman.

The loss was the seventh for the Wildcats who are now 2-3 in the Big Ten and 4-7-1 overall. The Reisson-coached Northwestern squad boasts Conference victories over both Purdue and Wisconsin, two future Buckeye opponents.

Coach Reisson pointed out that the Bucks should have little trouble with these two squads. He added that lanky Buckeye, Jake Schlosser, victorious in his last four attempts, is a very impressive competitor.

THE BUCK coach, Dr. John Hendrix, agreed and said that his vastly improved number five man has a chance for a Big Ten championship win.

Saturday's victory was the tenth in sixteen outings for the rolling Buckeyes, now owners of two straight wins after a midseason four-match slump. However, Dr. Hendrix still sees his Buckeyes in a good position to make a run on the Conference first division for the first time in many years.

The Bucks, meeting Indiana at Bloomington on Friday, will be forced to continue the campaign without the services of Hal Cunningham, a big point-getter in the past who has been forced to drop off the squad for academic reasons.

The Indiana meet will be followed by a match with Purdue on Saturday afternoon, also scheduled away. Purdue "will be easy," said Coach Hendrix, but the head mentor's outlook for Indiana is duller, and the Hoosiers will be slight favorites.

Stickmen Lose to Kenyon

Seven goals by Kenyon attackman Bob Anderson gave the Lords a 12-8 victory over the Buckeye lacrosse team Saturday at Gambier.

Ohio State took an early lead on goals by Dan Cheney, John Schaefer, and Bill Hickman. Then Anderson and Joe Hobler each hit for the Lords to make it 3-2 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second period, Kenyon shut out the Buckeyes, while they scored three goals to go in front 5-3 at the half.

In the third quarter, some fast breaks by Kenyon put them out in front to stay, as they scored four times to two for the Bucks. Twice during the period, Kenyon managed to score while they had men out on penalties.

The Lords kept the pressure on at the start of the fourth quarter, hitting three more goals. This put them ahead 12-5, which was enough of a lead to stave off the Buckeyes, who rallied for three goals in the last two minutes, and the game ended with the score 12-8.

Standouts for Kenyon were Anderson and Hobler, who led the Lords' fine attack. Ohio State was paced by Dan Cheney on offense, and Henry Douglas on defense.

Score by periods:	1	2	3	4	Total
OSU	3	0	2	3	8
Kenyon	2	3	4	3	12

Scoring: OSU—Cheney (3), Hickman (2), Shoemaker, Magee, and Schaefer. Kenyon—Anderson 7, Hobler (3), Powdermaker, and Doerge.

Woody 'Selling' Football

SUPER SALESMAN — Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes talks football with a possible future Buckeye griddier at the intrasquad game this spring. It was this type of salesmanship that might have sent Massillon's All-Ohio end Bob Vogel on his way to Ohio State. The 6-5, 230 pound Vogel announced over the weekend that he has decided to enroll at OSU next fall. Vogel, sought by approximately 60 other schools, will play in the high school all-American game in Baton Rouge, La. in July and the Ohio high school all-star game in Troy, O. in June. Photo by Jim Katz

Golf Team Loses, Plays Today

By Bernie Karsko

Michigan proved an ungracious host to the quadrangular golf meet at Ann Arbor Saturday as they swept all three of their matches and also claimed individual medalist honors for the day.

Purdue, Northwestern and Ohio State were the Wolves' victims. Ray Lovell posted a 73 and a 79 to cop the medalist honors with a not too respectable 152 total.

HIGH WINDS and a chilly day took the toll of Coach Kepler's six-man crew as they could notch only one win while dropping two of their matches.

Ohio State had little trouble with Northwestern turning them back 21-15 in their first encounter with the Wildcats this season. But Purdue continued to be a thorn in the Buckeyes' side as they glided to a 23½-12½ win, their third over the Bucks this year. Michigan avenged the loss they suffered at the Scarlet a couple of weeks ago with a 23-13 victory.

The Bucks probably played their worst match of the current campaign as scores generally soared into the 80's. Alan Niederlitz, playing in his first match, provided the only sunshine in the dreary day as he was low man for OSU with a pair of 78's. Dick Butler turned in a 82-78-160 for the second spot.

MIKE PODOLSKI and Gene Cardi both carded 161's. George Bellino had a 163 total while Dave Daniels who was leading the Bucks in the "lowest average score" department blew to a 164 on rounds of 84 and 80.

Ohio State now has a 4-5-1 record overall with three wins against five losses in Conference action. However, these individual matches have no significance in determining who will wear the Big Ten crown.

The Conference champ is decided at the 72-hole Big Ten Meet. Michigan hosts the event this year on May 22 and 23.

THE OHIO Intercollegiate is scheduled for the Scarlet course Monday with 24 colleges competing in the 36-hole medal match for the "best in Ohio" honors.

A talented quartet from Ohio University ended Ohio State's long reign as champion last year. The Bobcats have the same four men returning this year to defend their crown. Kepler will field three teams in an attempt to regain the trophy.

thefts, the chances of relief applicants becoming chronic public charges, and the effectiveness of social work practice in dealing with neglected and abused children.

Enrollment in the school's undergraduate program has increased about 20 per cent in the past two years, Shimp told the Trustees. The school is the third-largest in the nation, on the undergraduate level.

He said graduate enrollment increased from 51 to 71 full-time students between 1957 and 1958. The school, one of 55 in the United States offering the master of social work degree, provides courses leading to both master's and doctoral degrees.

The school also offers a number of institutes, or refresher courses, each year to social workers. Shimp said some 171 persons attended seven such institutes last March.

Three institutes will be offered in June to personnel employed in Community Chests, United Funds and agencies serving the handicapped, he reported.

Chauncey E. Wilson Given Emeritus Rank

The Board conferred the title of assistant professor emeritus, Agricultural Extension Service, on Chauncey E. Wilson, 197 E. Norwich Ave.

Effective June 1, he will retire with 39 years as a staff member of the Agricultural Extension Service, where he is assistant professor and assistant editor in charge of visual aids.

A native of Berkshire, O., he taught school at Johnstown, O., before enrolling at Ohio State. He received the bachelor of arts degree in 1920, and joined the Agricultural Extension staff the same year.

$2,563 Given to Help Students in Medicine

The Board formally accepted gifts totaling $2,563 for the establishment of the Mary C. Trump Medical Student Scholarship Fund.

The fund was established in memory of the late Mary C. Trump by gifts from family and friends. It will be administered through the University's Development Fund.

Mrs. Trump was the wife of Dr. Frank M. Trump, of East Cleveland, O., and the mother of Dr. Richard C. Trump, who graduated from the University's College of Medicine in 1957. A second son, David S. Trump, currently is a senior in the College of Medicine.

Income on the invested gifts will be made available as a scholarship fund for third and fourth-year students in the University's College of Medicine. Preference will be shown to students who are doing research work in addition to their regular studies.

Week Begins For Teacher Recruitment

By Grace Van Atta

Don't be surprised if your instructors seem to size up you and your classmates during the next few days.

This week on campus is College Teacher Recruitment Week.

In a letter of proclamation to all members of the faculty, President Novice G. Fawcett said, "It is hoped that by this action we may focus the attention of faculty and students on one of the most difficult problems confronting American education now and in the foreseeable future."

During the week, interested students may visit the Main Library and look through a display of books on college teaching.

Both the Library and college offices will offer free copies of recent brochures prepared by the Ohio College Association and the American Council on Education. The LANTERN will feature articles on careers in college teaching.

President Fawcett has asked each member of the faculty to remind at least one outstanding student of the opportunities in college teaching.

He hopes that in this way many good prospects might be recruited from qualified undergraduates who have not considered the possibility.

"In the final analysis, it is often true that the choice of a career is influenced by a word at the proper time from one's teacher or adviser," he said.

President Fawcett proclaimed College Teacher Recruitment Week upon recommendation of the Graduate School and in cooperation with the Committee on Teacher Recruitment of the Ohio College Association.

cent completed—from Mershon to downtown, presents many problems," Reynolds explained yesterday.

"The boat will have to be torn apart and moved in sections to Veterans' Memorial," the business manager said. "A route will also have to be found in which street wires and traffic lights will not interfere."

REYNOLDS SAID he was very pleased with the co-operation that the department of speech has received from University officials and representatives of Mershon and Veterans' Memorial auditoriums.

"Financial arrangements resulting from the transfer have not yet been completed," he added.

CARSON SAID FRIDAY that Mershon Auditorium, completed in 1957, will not be used until a detailed study determines what caused a 4 by 6-foot piece of plaster to fall May 2, minutes after the final performance of the Medical Center's "Nite Out" production.

Co-operating in the study are the University's Engineering Experiment Station and several departments of the College of Engineering.

A University faculty meeting, planned for this Thursday, will be held in University Hall.

There were 27 banks in the U. S. with assets of a billion dollars or more at the mid-point of 1958, an increase of three since the beginning of the year.

ures. There were pirates, slaves, dragons, witches and druids mingling with the crowd that attended.

The crowd wandered wide-eyed from one attraction to another, kicking up a fine powder of dust from the floor that made breathing a difficult task. It also added to the attraction of the soft drink that was being sold under the guise of ye good old English ale.

The carnival included many off-beat attractions. Our friend of the parade earlier that day, Orlando Costanzo, alias Fidel Castro, drifted around the Field House carrying a sign that read: "Fidel Castro Recommends pizza" an item definitely not representative of olde England.

ARCHERY was among the many skill games that were offered to the crowds.

In consideration of the intellectuals it might be added that many games contained definite over-tones of Freud. There were games designed to allow the student to vent his frustrations. The biggest attraction among these was an automobile equipped with a sledge-hammer where one might bang away to his heart's content and satisfy his need to destroy.

SHAKESPEARE collected a few lumps in the form of skits that were held in tents around the building. His famous Macbeth came in for a ribbing when a group of students relegated some of his famous lines to the be-bob category. For example, "Lay on MacDuff" which came out in the order of "Well let's get with it Mac."

The witches who were a major part of his production started it off by singing "Tan Shoes and Pink Shoelaces." Square but different.

At 12 midnight the dust settled and the weary filed out of the Field House. Ye Olde Maye Week was over except for the cleaning-up and the announcement of the grand prize which will be awarded to some lucky group. The information on it won't be out until the middle of the week.

ATTENTION SENIORS

The following is a list of proposals for the Memorial of the Class of '59. As is the custom, the final choice will be made by the Senior Class and submitted to President Fawcett for approval. Please indicate your choice, sign the ballot, and return it to your college office.

☐ MERSHON SIGNBOARD. This signboard, to be located at the southeast corner of Mershon Auditorium, would be constructed of stone and/or stainless steel. Its appearance would be consistent with that of Mershon. This project, which would be shared with the Class of '58, would fulfill the traditional memorial requirement of permanent and prominent adornment to campus.

☐ SCHOLARSHIP DORMITORIES. The Senior Class Memorial funds would be contributed toward the construction of the two graduate resident's rooms or for furnishing approximately ten (10) student's rooms in the new Scholarship Dormitories. (These dorms will be located in the renovated Stadium Dorms.) It is felt that through this Memorial the senior students could emphasize academic achievement at Ohio State.

☐ FLAGPOLE. This flagpole would be located on the island at the head of the Oval. The absence of a flagpole near the entrance to campus makes this an appropriate project. This project, which would be shared with the Classes of '42 and '43 would be a permanent memorial to the Class of '59.

Spring Fever Hits . . .

By June Gladfelter

Spring fever has hit the Main Library. Students are deserting it for the great outdoors.

"There are about one-half as many students now as there were Winter Quarter," said John Buddemeyer, Engr-1, in the history undergraduate room. "No one's here," said Kay Patton, Jour-2, in the closed reserve room.

CLAUDIA JORDAN, A-4, in the Browsing Room, said that more students come down to study in the Browsing Room because it's cooler. "And also because the boys can sit by the windows and watch the pretty coeds go by," she laughed.

She also said that there were more dates, and that they sit closer to each other, because of spring fever.

The women at the main desk also noticed that there were fewer students now. "We were not busy at all last Sunday, and usually we're swamped on weekends," they said.

BERMUDAS ARE another indication of the spring fever. "We see lots of knees," they said at the main desk. "Half the guys who come in here have Bermudas on," Buddemeyer said.

Miss Patton said that the biggest difference was their whole collection of umbrellas. "We have all colors, sizes and shapes. The students are always leaving them here."

They take a lot more breaks because it is so hot in the rooms, and a lot of students come here to get their books and then leave to study outside," were some more comments.

NICHOLAS N. LAPKASS noticed the big change in the attitude of the students. "They study a lot in the Fall and Winter Quarters, but I guess they think that knowledge sinks in by itself Spring Quarter," he said.

"There were long lines at the drinking fountains. The windows were all open. Students sat out on the steps as serious," was another comment.

Born at Lennoxville, Quebec, Professor Frye studied at the University of Toronto, Emmanuel College, and Oxford. He was a Guggenheim Fellow in 1950-51, and has been visiting professor in several universities in this country, including Harvard.

"Fearful Symmetry," Professor Frye's study of William Blake, has been internationally recognized as the most important and searching book on that strange and difficult poet. "Anatomy of Criticism" published in 1957 by the Princeton University Press, has won equal recognition.
