Trailerites Still Fight For Camp

Residents Will Carry Case To Supreme Court If They Lose Decision

An injunction brought by residents of Olentangy River Rd. still keeps more than 120 University students and their families from the co-operative trailer camp.

The Ohio State Student Trailer Co-operative, Inc. won the case in the Common Pleas Court last Summer, but 14 residents of the Braemer addition recently carried the case to the Court of Appeals. The proposed trailer camp is behind the homes of the residents who filed the injunction. These residents contend the trailer park would violate property deed restrictions.

The property purchased for the trailer park is north of Lane Ave. and east of Olentangy River Rd.

The Co-operative was originally formed last March because of dissatisfaction with conditions at the University trailer camp on the Ohio State Fairgrounds. The trailer families had to move out each year for the fair and protested that the fairgrounds is no fit place to rear children.

Fred W. Postle, attorney for the Braemer addition residents, said he will not file briefs ahead of time, which would allow an earlier hearing. He also stated that if the case were lost in the Court of Appeals it would be carried to the Supreme Court of Ohio.

Independents And Greeks Plan Joint Activities

Greek-Independent good-will was stressed at the Wednesday night meeting of the Ohio Students Party Associated at the Phi Gamma Delta house.

Under the leadership of Max Baron, Com-4, president of OSPA, special plans are being formulated for combined OSPA-Independent activities designed to increase mutual understanding and promote good-will.

An improved system for the selection of the Homecoming queen was considered, intended to prevent dissatisfaction over the conduct of such elections in previous years.

Russians Are Reported Mining Czech Uranium

MUNICH, Germany, Oct. 7—(AP)—A Czechoslovak airman who fled his homeland said today the Russians are mining uranium ore in a heavily-guarded area around Joachimstahl, Czechoslovakia.

Strong Russian forces have sealed off the area, the airman said, and are using German miners to prevent the Czechs from learning of their activities.

Is The University 75 Or 78 Years Old? School Seal Says 1870 Was Birth Year

But the University seal says 1870!

The celebration scheduled for next week is in observance of 75 years of activity at Ohio State, which would put the school in business in 1873. However, the seal of the University (that design with the pyramid) has the figures 1870 prominently displayed. The natural question arose—is this really the 78th anniversary?

Strictly speaking, it is, but from the years 1870 to 1873 there was little or no activity on the campus. The Ohio legislature established the school in 1870, but classes didn't begin until three years later. So this year is actually the 75th year of classes, which after all are the real business of a university, and a much better basis for celebration than a legislative act.

The anniversary will be marked by a two-day academic program, Oct. 14-15, during which eight distinguished speakers will come to the campus.

Classes will be dismissed from 2 to 5 p. m., Thursday, Oct. 14, to give students an opportunity to join in the beginning of the year-long celebration.

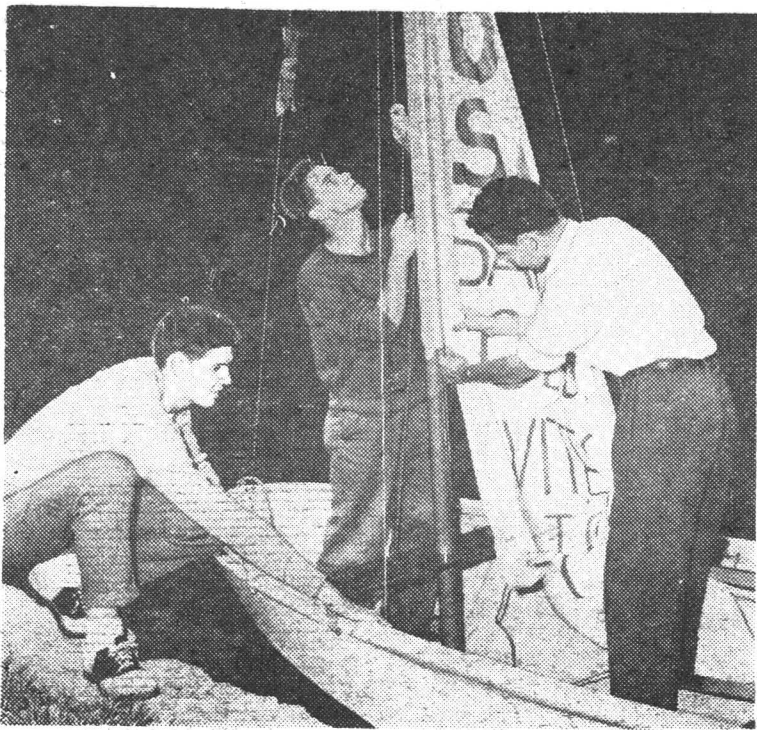

The formal opening of the celebration will begin with convocation exercises at 2:30 p. m. in the Physical Education Building, with an evening session to be held at 8 p. m. in University Hall Chapel.

A procession made up of representatives of colleges and universities from all sections of the United States, Canada and Mexico, and University faculty and students, will form at 2 p. m. Thursday, at the east entrance of the Main Library to march to the Physical Education Building.

The 75th Anniversary Dinner to be held at 7 p. m., Friday, at the Neil House, will climax the two-day program of events.

Sailing Club To Enter Three Regattas This Fall

The Ohio State Sailing Club proved its ability to sail on larger lakes than Mirror Lake when it won the Dennison Invitational Regatta at Buckeye Lake last week.

Not content to rest on these laurels, the sailors have entered two more regattas this fall and plan to enter another during the Christmas vacation.

This fall the club will race in the Michigan State Regatta and the Northwestern Regatta both to be held this month. The dates for both of these races are not yet set.

As a climax to hold the "sailors" over till the spring season, the club plans to enter the Miami Regatta. This race is to be held at Miami, Fla., on New Year's Day, in conjunction with the famous Orange Bowl football game, Warren A. Foster, Ed-4, a member, said today.

The club was practically an unknown organization on the campus until it sprang into the limelight by sailing one of its boats on Mirror Lake in an effort to recruit new club members.

"The stunt, coupled with the victory at Buckeye Lake, brought the club campus recognition," Foster said. The club now boasts of 50 active members and is in the market for more, he said.

Frosh To Greet Team; Rally Gets New Site

School spirit in general and football spirit in particular will take a sharp rise over the week end if two new activities are successful.

When the Buckeyes of Ohio State leave their dressing room for Saturday's game with Iowa, they will be met not only by the members of the Varsity "O" Club, but also by a large and yelling portion of the freshman class.

The frosh are to be called from their seats in the Stadium immediately following the playing of the national anthem, and will go through the back pathways of the Stadium to assemble inside the north portal (where the band comes out).

They will then run the length of the gridiron and form an aisle on each side of the dressing room portal. As soon as the team has run the gamut of Varsity "O" men and boisterous freshmen, the student fans will return to their seats in the stands.

Coach Wesley Fesler expressed hope in the new plan. "I think that this freshman line-up can be the forerunner of badly-needed school spirit at Ohio State," he said. The football mentor pointed out that the plan will work toward instilling school spirit in the new students, and in that way can start the ball rolling for continual spirit and interest in athletic and other school activities. "We want to keep it rolling year after year," he said.

The second boost to school spirit will be administered at the football rally to be held Friday at 5 p. m. Several changes in rally procedure have been announced by Rally Chairman William E. Joseph.

The changes are:

Football Tickets Still Available For Home Games

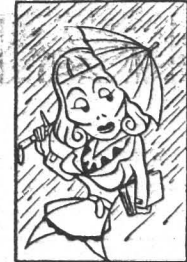

Numerous tickets are still available for the next three Ohio State home games, according to information disclosed today by the Office of the Director of Ticket Sales.

The Michigan game, the final home game of the season, has been declared an absolute sellout. Tickets for the Iowa game may be secured at the window of the ticket sales office in the south tower of the Stadium.

Mail orders only, are being accepted for the Pittsburgh and Wisconsin games. Tickets for the Pittsburgh game will sell for $3.00, $4.00, and $1.50 for the south stands. Tickets for these games will go on sale in the tower in the near future.

Cool Weather, Rain Predicted For Week-end

The weather will be warmer this afternoon and evening, but still cooler than normal.

Temperatures between 50 and 66 degrees, with plenty of clouds overhead, are forecast.

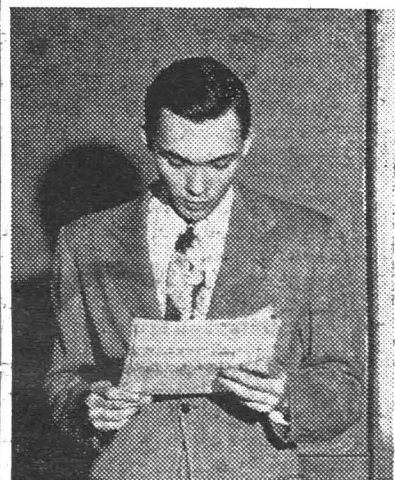

Scattered showers are likely tonight and Friday. An extended forecast shows cooler weather.

Temperature readings read at a maximum of 61 at 3 p. m. Wednesday, and a minimum of 43 at 5 a. m. today.

Homecoming Plans Up In Senate

The election committee for the Homecoming Queen will be appointed by the Student Senate during its opening meeting tonight at 7, in Room 100, Page Hall.

The appointment of a Dad's Day Chairman and a report of the Na-

Blazing Guns And Pounding Hoofs Herald The Chase For Outlaws

Hollywood has again defied history and grouped together a bunch of well-known outlaws for another western epic entitled "Return of the Bad Men." This picture has one redeeming feature however; there are not would-be-Sinatras yodeling while guns blaze.

Randolph Scott is cast as the hero of the picture. Anne Jeffreys is cast as "Cheyenne" the girl outlaw, complete with pants and six-gun. Gabby Hayes is included in the cast, as no western would be complete without him. Jacqueline White plays Scott's fiancee.

Scott is selling his ranch at the insistence of his fiancee. He finds Cheyenne wounded and carrying the loot from the local bank owned by Gabby Hayes. Cheyenne is persuaded to give up both herself and loot to the sheriff.

She is sent back to Fort Smith for trial. Meanwhile Scott helps his future father-in-law to establish another bank in a new town after the land rush. After the troops leave Scott takes the job of U. S. Marshal for the new territory.

A lot of organized killing and looting is being carried out by a gang of outlaws. Cheyenne returns and goes to work as a telegrapher in the marshal's office. The fiancee is jealous of her, because of her close contact to the marshal.

The outlaws are finally captured but the Sundance Kid comes to help them escape and murders Cheyenne. Scott goes chasing after him and after a brutal fight they shoot it out. The hero is victorious, of course, and he and his fiancee decide to remain in the new territory and help in the bank.

Miss Jeffreys and Scott turn in passable performances, as do Gabby Hayes and Jacqueline White. The outstanding performance however, is given by Robert Ryan as the murderous Sundance Kid.

Bucket-Dipper Elects Officers

Elected Little Dipper (vice-president) was Norton L. Webster, Com-3. Edward M. Miller, A-3, was named Bucket (secretary), and Harry M. Cogswell, Ag-3, was elected Keep of the Drops (treasurer). The meeting was held in the Phi Gamma Delta house.

World Federalist Group To Plan Drive Tonight

The Student World Federalists will meet at 7:15 tonight in Room 100, Derby Hall.

The group will decide on a proposal to divide its activities into four parts: extension, finance, publicity, and program. The plan would emphasize campaigning for world government and organizing Federalist chapters in Columbus high schools.

Brewer, McLean To Instruct Reserve Officers

The Colonel Converse Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association is sponsoring a series of classes for reserve officers in this area. The first class will be held at 7 tonight in Room 208, Military Science Building.

Instructors will be members of the department of military science and faculty members who are reserve officers. Lectures tonight will be given by Col. Carlos Brewer, military science department chief, Capt. D. F. McLean, head of the NROTC at Ohio State, and Prof. Harvey Walker, reserve lieutenant colonel.

Army and Air Force reserve officers will be credited with inactive duty training for the classes.

First Jazz Forum Draws Full House Of 'Hepcats'

The Jazz Forum opened its Autumn Quarter concert series last night before an enthusiastic crowd that filled University Hall Chapel.

Ray Anthony and several of his musicians highlighted the show. Anthony's group opened with a jump arrangement of "Just You, Just Me." Following this, Anthony featured several of his soloists in specialty numbers.

Nobby Lee, on valve trombone, opened with "The Talk of the Town," followed by a piano solo by Eddie Ryan doing "Don't Blame Me." Eddie Butterfield, trombone, soloed on "Body and Soul" with Anthony joining in. Dick Knoll, male vocalist with the Anthony band, then sang two hit songs, "You've Changed," and "Gloria." Frances Foster, vocalist with Anthony's band, followed with "I Cover the Waterfront," and "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby."

Miss Joan Beard, one of the regular Jazz Forum performers, sang two numbers, "It's Magic," and "Mad About The Boy." Another Forum regular, Paul DeFrancis played his special arrangement of "Hora Staccato" on the clarinet.

Ivory Mitchell, pianist, making his farewell performance on the campus accompanied the vocalists throughout the concert, participated in the ensemble numbers, and played a solo arrangement of "Yesterday."

Another feature of the concert was a drum duet by Spero Karas and Alan Abel. Tolula Fenney,

Forum vocalist, sang "Embraceable You."

Ensemble numbers featuring many regular Jazz Forum artists also kept the concert moving at a brisk pace.

The next concert will be held on Saturday, October 16, at University Hall Chapel. The featured performer at this session will be Joe Sullivan, noted jazz pianist.

Student Social Workers Needed In Other Lands

The door of opportunity to work in the religious or social field abroad is open to students.

Dr. Milton McLean announced that all students wishing work abroad with a church or social institution are requested to call the office of the University Director of Religious Affairs, Ext. 601. A meeting for interested students will be held at 5:30 p. m. Friday in Room 10, Ohio Union.

Social and religious workers are in a demand in foreign countries, and workers are requested in such places as India, Cairo, Okinawa, and the Philippines.

Buckeye Banter

By John Fisher

Many hopped up Ohio State fans are not wondering whether Ohio State will whip the Iowa gridders Saturday, but rather how many points the Bucks will win by. We have a hunch that the fans are underrating Iowa. The following may explain why we feel this way.

Indiana Coach Clyde Smith had* this to say after his charges whipped the Hawks 7-0 last Saturday.

"Iowa's football team gave us a much greater test than a lot of people realized. It varied both its offense and defense so much that it kept our boys guessing every minute. The game was a toss-up except for Harry Jagade's fine run in which he got a large portion of the yardage strictly on his own.

"Iowa stopped Jagade on his inside spins cold and that's quite a tribute to any football team. If you don't believe it, ask some of the boys he has run over."

Iowa Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson had this to say about his team's performance in the Indiana game.

"We were just as proud of the boys against Indiana as we have been on many occasions when they won the game. Our line played even beyond our best expectations and did a grand job."

The foregoing suggests that Iowa is much better than it looks on paper and should be up for the Buckeyes after its improved showing in the Indiana game.

If the Scarlet players go into the game the least bit over-confident, they may find themselves on the short end of the score when the game ends. We will be happy if the Bucks win—we aren't going to spot Iowa any points.

Grid Staff Adds Coach

There is a tall affable gentleman on the campus that has recently been added to the football coaching staff. He is John Knight, coach of the 150-pound football team.

On leave from Bethany College in West Virginia, Knight is here to do some advanced study in Physical Education.

Although it is still too early in the season to pick out any definite prospects, Knight thinks that after the squad is pruned down he will have a team of more than average promise.

"The big difficulty is getting linemen," Knight says. "Most of the boys of 150 pounds or less with previous experience are backfield men."

Knight's big aim is to give those fellows who are too light for varsity competition and who would never get recognition, a chance to play football for their school.

"One hundred fifty-pound football has gone over big in the East and there is no reason why it cannot go over just as big in the Midwest," Knight added.

With an abbreviated schedule of four games, the lightweights are pointing to their first game against Wisconsin at Madison on Oct. 22.

The Indian Service has agreed to handle the registration of an estimated 4,500 Indians eligible for the present draft in New Mexico.

Purdue-Michigan Battle Tops Big Nine Grid Menu

By Don Mathews

Two close, hard-fought contests are expected to highlight the approaching week end of important Big Nine football activity, as defending champion, Michigan, goes to Purdue and Minnesota plays at Northwestern.

The Wolverines clash with their pre-season title co-favorites, the Boilermakers, who were trounced 21-0 by Northwestern last week. Stu Holcomb's squad should be on the rebound from that loss and the letdown after the big game with rough Notre Dame one week earlier. All Big Nine Tackle Phil O'Reilly and his number one replacement, Lou Karras, were missing from the Wildcat game, but both will be back this Saturday to give Purdue's chances a big boost.

For the Wolverines this is the conference opener and their exact strength still remains unknown. Their performances in beating Michigan State 13-7 and Oregon State 14-0 are not exactly reminiscent of 1947, but this does not necessarily show them to be weaklings.

Coaches Biggie Munn of the Spartans and Jimmy Aiken of the Webfeet are in their second year at the helm of their squads. Their teams have improved steadily and it may easily be that the Western Conference champs have beaten a couple of opponents that are tougher than most people figured. Research is of little value in trying to figure the outcome of this Purdue-Michigan tilt and the safest prediction is—a lot of excitement.

The Northwestern Wildcats rate as favorites over Minnesota largely on the basis of last Saturday's victory. Coach Bob Voigt's eleven has held both of its 1948 opponents scoreless and was rated third in the nation according to this week's Associated Press poll.

However, the Wildcats are not likely to run up any score on Bernie Bierman's team which boasts a big line headed by tackle Leo Nomellini, who received some mention as an All-American in 1947. Little Billy Bye, who was out of last week's 39-13 win over Nebraska, will be back to spearhead the attack as the Gophers open their conference schedule.

The only other league tilt pits Iowa as an underdog against the Bucks here in the Stadium. Wes Fesler's biggest problem will be to stop the passing of Quarterback Al DiMarco, but it looks as if the Scarlet squad will be reasonably close to full strength and that will help.

Another game in the Western Conference-West Coast rivalry sends Wisconsin to face California. The Bears, coached by a former Big Nine mentor, Lynn Waldorf, are rated as one of the top teams on the Coast, and are favored to win by a close margin. The Badgers seem to have been overrated by the dopesters. They may be on the way back and should they live up to their press notices this will be an upset.

After two conference victories the Indiana Hoosiers take time-out to entertain Texas Christian at Bloomington. And they probably won't play the part of the perfect host. Last Saturday's 7-0 win over Iowa may look puny in comparison to the 35-7 score against Wisconsin the week before, but the Hoosiers kept the Hawkeyes pretty well under control and were in complete command during the second half.

Illinois and Army tangle for an edge in a rivalry which stands all even after five games. Each team won two games back in the early 1930's and last year's struggle at Yankee Stadium ended in a scoreless tie. They may have to wait another year to break the knot in the series.

Band To Play At Rally

The Ohio State Regimental Band will play for the football rally to be staged Friday at 5 p. m. The scene will be the steps of the University Museum, and Coach Wesley Fesler and the girl cheerleaders will be there.

Injury Insurance

DAVID BONNIE
Ohio State Halfback

Halfback Dave Bonnie has been shifted around in the Bucks' lineup more than any other griddier. After playing fullback his first year, the 197-lb. Columbus North product was shifted to end last season and then transformed into a right halfback by Fesler last Spring. Although Bonnie has been jinxed with injuries all Fall, he may see action Saturday against Iowa as a replacement for injured wingback Alex Verdova and Bob Demmel.

Dave is a twin brother of Dale Bonnie, Buckeye end.

Pleasant Weather For Second Series Game

BOSTON, Oct. 7—(AP)—The second game of the World Series between the Boston Braves and Cleveland Indians will be played under sunny skies and reasonably comfortable temperatures, the Boston weather bureau said today.

Scrimmage Cut Short; Gridders' Spirit 'Better'

Coach Wes Fesler had a 20-minute scrimmage slated for Wednesday, but the sharpness displayed by the Bucks rendered it only a 10-minute affair. Fesler said that the tackling and blocking was satisfactory and it was not necessary to take any more chances of injuries.

After the brief scrimmage, Fesler said that the squad spirit is better, but is not as high as it was a week ago. No sooner had he got these words out when the shower room echoed with — "Across the Field." "Maybe it's getting better," Fesler mused.

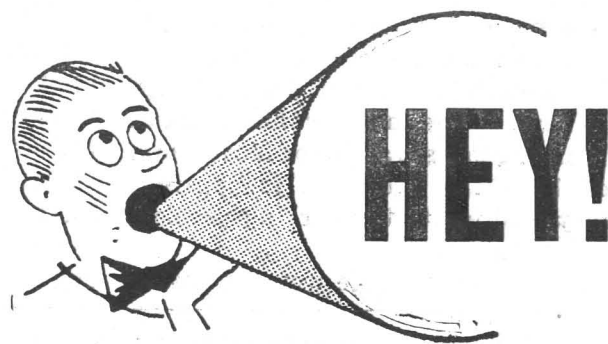

Halfback Dave Bonnie emerges as the logical choice to help bolster the injury-riddled wingback spot. Snuffed out of action by a pulled leg muscle in the first week of practice, Bonnie could not have picked a more opportune time for a comeback.

Currently there are three wingbacks sidelined with injuries, Mike

Cannavino, Al Verdova and Bob Demmel. Although Verdova and Demmel may be given the go ahead by the club's physicians, neither is expected to see much action.

Guard George Matthey may be moved up to fill the gap left by the injured Ray DiPierro. "Dippy," who seldom is forced to the sidelines, will probably be ready to see action by Saturday. Backing up Matthey is Jerry Manz. All three saw action in the Missouri and USC games.

Traffic Problem: Two Solutions, Many Headaches

"Wait until next year if you think it's bad now!" Those were the prophetic words of Dana Reynolds, Jr., after the junior class cabinet completed a survey of the traffic problem last Spring.

With campus police issuing over 2,000 parking tickets since September 22, Reynolds becomes an accurate prophet.

Each day there are cars parked in nearly every available space. About 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., Neil Ave. becomes one continuous string of cars, bumper to bumper.

New parking lots were added last year in the hope that the situation could be cured, or at least eased.

The building program has counteracted much of the good these parking lots could do. Some of the parking spaces near the construction work have had to be used to store construction material. The workers' cars have added to the congestion.

The six parking lots available to students can handle approximately 1,600 cars. There are 7,000 student cars registered. Even if 50 per cent of those cars were not driven on campus there are still too many cars for the spaces available.

The faculty fares slightly better. Of 2,100 registered faculty cars, twelve to fifteen hundred can be handled in parking lots set aside for faculty use.

Confronted by these figures it is apparent there is no easy solution to the parking problem . . . if there is a solution.

We can see only two possible ways of easing this situation. Unfortunately neither solution would be acceptable to many people.

One way out of the maze would be to bar cars from the campus, with a few exceptions. That last phrase is the gimmick, for each Tom, Dick and Harry would think he was the exception. It would take much careful thought to work out a fair plan which would not be greeted by cries of "politics."

Also, any measure to bar a large number of cars from the campus would add to the congestion near the University, and would certainly add to the city's traffic problems.

The other solution would be to create more parking lots. But with the new buildings going up on campus there are not too many places left to put parking lots, if the campus is to maintain any beauty.

To any person or group who undertakes to solve this headache we recommend three things—the wisdom of the ages, a large bottle of aspirin, any many sympathetic friends.

Scalp Collecting

Friday's unprecedented move—selling football tickets in a downtown hotel lobby—has brought the office of Oscar L. Thomas, director of ticket sales, many bouquets.

Though the major reason for setting up a ticket booth downtown was to control scalpers, other distinct advantages were quickly noted.

Mr. Thomas reports that many Columbus residents appreciated the convenience of the arrangement. Now they may purchase tickets without coming out to the University or entering into correspondence.

But the most heartening news is that the scalpers have been dealt a heavy blow. Mr. Thomas termed the downtown ticket selling "very effective," and asserted that "scalping downtown hit a new low last Saturday."

This is good news. Mr. Thomas and his staff have hit upon an excellent idea.

Now if there was a way to stop the scalping on the campus, things would be even better.

Many students have been seen "renting" student books to friends and even strangers. In the case of friends, the charge is often slight or non-existent. But to strangers, the price goes up considerably.

No system can be perfect, however, and we're glad the downtown sales are helping to squelch the vicious scalping racket.

Presidential Race Shows Similarities

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—There never has been a presidential campaign quite like this one.

It's remarkable: the identical things the two big candidates do.

For example, they're bringing home from Paris this week Secretary of State Marshall and John Foster Dulles.

But go back a bit—

Early this month President Truman, with a 17-car train, started out on his campaign. He made his big opening talk near Des Moines.

Two days later, Governor Dewey, with a 17-car train, started out on his campaign. He made his big opening talk at Des Moines.

Then Mr. Truman continued West to the Pacific coast, making speeches as he went.

And Governor Dewey continued West to the Pacific coast, making speeches as he went.

There wasn't any similarity between the two men's talks when they spoke of what's happened here at home the past few years.

Mr. Truman used bare-knuckles on Dewey's Republicans for what they did or didn't do.

Dewey used gloves to hit Mr. Truman's Democrats for what they did or didn't do.

That was on domestic affairs.

But when it came to talking about foreign affairs the two men spoke pretty much the same language.

That's because the Democrats and Republicans, although they fight over what's done here at home, see very nearly eye to eye on our foreign policy.

They've shaped it together.

They're agreed on helping Europe, standing stiff against Russia and blocking the threat of Communism.

But while the two presidential candidates were trying to snag votes in the West, this country reached a crisis with Russia in Europe.

This week the candidates were back home and—

Yesterday John Foster Dulles, Dewey's chief advisor on foreign affairs, after a special flight from Paris, told the governor first hand the score in Europe.

And—

Yesterday, just about the time the Dewey-Dulles talk was ending, the White House announced that Secretary Marshall will make a special flight from Paris Saturday to tell Mr. Truman the score in Europe.

The Last Straw?

Unique Use Of Camera, Typewriter Make Subtle, Realistic Novel

"The Home Place," by Wright Morris. Scribner, New York.

"The Home Place" is not fiction in the orthodox sense, but rather the private musings of a man returned to his home. To the raised, interrogative eyebrow, the author explains that "home is where you hang your childhood."

The flat, arid farmland of Nebraska is "home" for Clyde Muncy, a New York writer. He returns with his sophisticated, city-bred wife and self-sufficient city-incubated children, hoping to find a measure of mental peace for himself, a less hectic environment for his children.

In prose unsurpassed for subtle yet realistic expression, the author shows the reaction of the simple, inscrutable farmers to their city cousins; the impact of rural life on the interlopers from the land of modern plumbing and neon signs.

Not content with the powerful effect he achieves through his prose, Wright Morris incorporates a camera digest of the text. The photographs are of deserted barns, a pair of worn shoes, a back porch seen through shadows, an ageless rocking chair, a faded bit of patterned linoleum, a lump-mattressed double bed, the town's lone barber shop seat.

Viewed alone, the photographs are of a haunting loneliness—an echo of a generation past, once part of those scenes, but now merely faces in the old tintypes on the walls.

Blended with the text, the photographs take on a staunch dignity and a spartan type of beauty. One is struck with the absolute indestructibility of the scenes, the people. One is sure the settings would remain intact for generations to come, in spite of agricultural extension agents and Sears & Roebuck catalogs; that the people would retain their simple trust and respect for each other in spite of the greed and deceit about them.

"The Home Place" is not, as some may imagine, a mawkish, nostalgic piece that could appro-

Greene 'Too Experienced' To Write Good Adventure, Reviewer Finds

"The Heart of the Matter," by Graham Greene. The Viking Press, New York.

Across the strait lies a Vichy French colony; through the harbor steam Portuguese boats with industrial diamonds for Germany hidden in their holds; within the town are two rival merchants, always ready with a bribe, or a knife for stubborn cases; and a married man who thinks he is in love with two women simultaneously.

Sounds like all the necessary material for a West African thriller, doesn't it? And in the hands of a novelist less experienced than Graham Greene it might have been quite a creditable adventure story.

But Author Greene is in the mood for writing of psychology, religion, and introspection. So what happens? Almost nothing. Vichy stays on its own side of the strait, no diamonds are ever found on the ships (even in the captain's toothpaste); the merchants never resort to knives; and the man with the schizophrenic love affair takes the classical coward's way out.

Most of the characters in this book are Britishers who are governing the colony. Scobie, a policepriately be titled: "The Senior Rover Boys On the Farm" or "Recollections of a Farm Boy."

It is a literary combination of the author's beliefs, observation, philosophy told acutely with a camera, subtly and humorously with the typewriter.—M. J.

man, is the main character. Always a little unsure of himself, he is so uncorruptibly honest in a dishonest land, that he gets along with almost no one.

But it is within himself rather than with his compatriots that Scobie finds the greatest difficulty. Greene evidently wanted to create a tender-hearted man, but he has done the job so well as to make Scobie nothing short of insipid.

When he tries to shield his wife from knowing about his mistress, that's fine. When he won't leave his mistress because he doesn't want to hurt her, that's all right too. But when he tries to keep from damaging God's feelings—that's going a little bit too far.

Scobie, as a religious man trying to reconcile his life with his religion, is not convincing. Until Author Greene can plow a little deeper than this shallow furrow, he had best keep cultivating his movie scenarios.—R. M.

At The Student Centers . . .

By Dorothy Hogan

Activity promises to break out all over at the student centers this week end.

Something new in treasure hunts is planned for the Lutheran Student Center Friday evening. The treasure—wieners and buns for a wiener roast along the river. Preceding the treasure hunt at 7 p. m.,* Robert Boettger, student pastor, will lead a Bible study group. Open house follows the game Saturday.

The Wesley Foundations have a big week end in store. King Ave. group will hold an Activity Night Party in the church basement at 8 p. m., Friday. At the same time, Indianola group meets for a wiener roast, dancing and games. Both centers have scheduled coke parties after Saturday's game.

Methodist Activities

Active members and pledges of Delta Sigma Theta and Kappa Phi, Methodist men's fraternity and women's club respectively, from both foundations combine forces at 7:30 p. m. Saturday for a party at King Ave. church.

Supper will be served at 6 p. m. Sunday at both centers. Indianola's Sunday evening program will be an illustrated lecture entitled, "Mathematics of Faith," by George McPherson Jr., Ed-4. King Ave. plans to show the movie, "And Now I See."

A style show spotlighting college clothes for Fall and Winter will be presented for Newman Club members in Campbell Hall auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday. Clothes and models are to be furnished by a downtown department store. Following the style show, Newman Club will sponsor a dance in Pomerene gymnasium. The public is invited.

Open house at St. Stephen's Episcopal Student Center will begin with supper at 6:30 p. m. Sunday. New students are welcome.

Picnic Scheduled

Westminster Foundation journeys to the home of Linda Otting, H-Ec-1, in Westerville at 8:30 p. m. Friday for an "outdoor outing" including picnic and dancing. Transportation will be provided from the Foundation house.

Following a Sunday supper at 5:30 p. m., the Rev. Leon D. Sanborne, director of Westminster Foundation, will speak about "Finland, The Link Between The East and West." Rev. Mr. Sanborne was in Finland this Summer helping with a work camp for Quakers and will show pictures he brought back.

"Presbyterian Beliefs" will be the topic of the discussion group which follows breakfast at 9 a. m. Sunday at the Foundation house.

Dr. Avey To Speak

Another wiener roast has been planned by the Baptist students' group. Members will meet at the parish house at 5:30 p. m. Friday. Sunday breakfast is at 10 a. m. and will be followed by a discussion of "The Sermon On The Mount," to be led by the Rev. Harry G. Ford.

The Baptist sandwich hour comes at 6 p. m. Sunday. Dr. Albert A. Avey, philosophy department, will speak on "College and My Studies" at 7 p. m. The Ford's home, 388 W. Eighth Ave., will be the scene of a fireside hour for fellowship and devotions at 8 p. m.

The Unitarian students will have as their guest speaker Dr. Meno Lovenstein, economics department, at 7 p. m. Sunday in the church chapel. Dr. Lovenstein will discuss "The Present Political Situation."

Wilke-Albert Rites Announced For November 6

Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Emmett, 50 S. Central Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Dolores Wilke, to Carl Albert Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Albert, 240 Woodrow Ave.

Miss Wilke, a graduate of Central High School, attended Ohio State and is now employed at the Columbus Production Manufacturing Co.

Mr. Albert attended South High School and is now associated with the C. & O. Railroad.

The wedding, an event of Nov. 6, will take place at the bride-elect's home.

Watch That Neckline!

The woman with a short neck should always remember to wear narrow lapels, small collars or collarless coats and jackets and flat furs. Bulky ones accentuate the short neck.

Tied In Velvet

Campus night life will seem brighter for the wearer of this Rothmoor-designed coat with full-swinging back. It is tied under the chin with velvet loops to keep warmth in and to add the sophisticated look. Triple stitching trims the collar, cuffs and pockets.

Traditional White Satin Gowns Predominate At Recent Weddings

Traditional white satin predominated the wedding scenes as three couples exchanged marriage vows recently.

Morgan Memorial Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding ceremony of Miss Mary Frances Walker, daughter of William A. Walker of Miami, Fla., and Glenn Rhoades Gierhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Gierhart, Sr., River Bend Farms, Bexley, on Oct. 2.

The bride attended the University of Miami and Stetson University. Mr. Gierhart attended Ohio State and is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

LeBay-Musso

Miss Mary C. Musso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Musso of Sheridan, Wyo., was united in marriage to William D. LeBay, of Sheridan, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. LeBay, 3984 Cleveland Ave., at a service in the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Sheridan, on Sept. 3.

The former Miss Musso is a graduate of Sheridan High School and of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. The bridegroom was graduated from the University and is affiliated with Sigma Gamma Epsilon. He is employed as a geophysicist by the Standard Oil & Gas Co.

Porter-Fischer

The wedding of Miss Mildred Carolyn Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Fischer of Circleville, to Robert Dean Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Porter, also of Circleville, took place at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Circleville, on Sept. 4.

The Rev. C. D. Fischer, uncle of the bride, and the Rev. G. L. Troutman, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride was graduated from Capital University and is now employed as a technician in the pathology department of the Ohio State University College of Medicine. The bridegroom is a junior at Ohio State.

Glowing Skin, Lovely Nails Are Results Of Care

To beautify your complexion, cream the face with a good cold cream, hop into a warm bath and relax for 15 minutes. The steam of the bathroom, plus the softening effect of the face cream, will stimulate the skin and leave it refreshed and glowing.

To make your nails more attractive, buff them into a high natural sheen. Also, give them a rest by not wearing nail polish every day.

Man Your Needle, Lass; Home Sewing In Vogue

Man your needle, lass, and start to sew! With prices at their peak, home sewing is the vogue again.

Bring a fresh look to date dresses by adding sequins, braid or ruffles. Eyelet embroidery will surround many necklines this coming season.

A little ingenuity and a few dollars will turn last year's cast-off clothes into this year's wearables.

Ross Addresses Pledges

Mylin H. Ross, assistant dean of men, was a recent dinner guest of Phi Mu Delta fraternity. Following the dinner Mr. Ross spoke briefly to the new Fall pledge class about fraternity life. He emphasized the fact that the new student should carry on a well-rounded program of extracurricular activities in addition to doing his best job as a student.

Independently Yours...

By Helen M. Hettterscheidt

The social life of the independents on campus started rolling merrily along this quarter with Pleiades, Civitas, and the Stadium Dorms taking the lead in the activities for the coming week end.

The women of Pleiades, in conjunction with the men of Civitas, are holding Open House* in the Informal Lounge of Pomerene after every home game on Saturday from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. All independents on campus are asked to come and meet independents of the visiting school who will also be invited.

Sigma Pi Nu, nurses professional society, held a meeting in Pomerene, Monday, Oct. 4, at which they discussed plans for initiations on Monday, Nov. 1, and a dance to be held Friday, Nov. 5.

Dorms Plan Dance

Civitas is having a stag get-together in the shelter house at the University Country Club on Friday, Oct. 8, from 5 to 8:30 p. m. for all independent men.

The dormitories in the Stadium will hold a platter dance in their Recreation Hall this Friday night for all the women's dormitories. Refreshments will be served.

Attention all bridge hounds, experienced or otherwise. Duplicate bridge games will be played in the Grand Lounge at Pomerene from 6:30 to 10 p. m., every Thursday. Bridge classes will be held every Monday night for seven consecutive weeks also in the Grand Lounge at Pomerene. The beginning class is from 7 to 8:30, and the advanced from 8:30 to 10 p. m. Registration may be made by calling Miss Browning at Ext. 731.

Wiener Roast

The Roger Williams Club of the Tenth Ave. Baptist Church will stage a wiener roast along the banks of the Olentangy Friday evening. Games will be played from 5 until 8, followed by the roast. All students are invited.

Pleiades is tea-ing prospective members at Pomerene from 3 to 5 Sunday afternoon. A style show will be held in which the girls from the various groups will model their own creations. Maxine Johnson, formerly of Lyra, will conduct the gay display.

The Tower Club is staging a Dike Party Saturday afternoon for their guests. A songfest and movies will be included in the entertainment.

And before I write "finis" for this week, here are some tips on all-campus dances to be held this quarter. The Bluebook Prom, sponsored by the Newman Club, will be held Friday, Oct. 22; the Barn Warmer is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 6. The date for the all-important Homecoming Dance is Friday, Nov. 19, while the Mistletoe Prom will be Friday, Dec. 3.

There were only eight counties in Nebraska when the state was admitted to the Union.

Magazine Announces Contest

Mademoiselle magazine has announced the opening of its annual contest for College Board members and its 1949 College Guest Editors.

Last year, Marilyn F. Barcroft, Com-4, was one of the guest editors for the month of June. Miss Barcroft worked with the merchandising editors and talked to outstanding New York men and women in that field.

In 1949, the guest editors will be brought to New York City for four weeks, June 6 through July 1, to help write and edit the annual college issue of Mademoiselle. They will be paid round-trip transportation, plus a regular salary for their work.

While in New York, the women take part in activities designed to give them a start in their careers. In addition, each woman interviews a top celebrity in her chosen field, to get advice on the education and training needed and to ask about tips and short cuts in reaching the top.

Guest editors also take field trips to newspaper offices, fashion workrooms, radio stations, stores, agencies and printing plants.

Guest editors are chosen from the national college board of 1948-49. Twenty editors will be selected from the board on the basis of three assignments given by the magazine during the year.

In order to join the board, contestants must submit an article on campus life and an application before Nov. 1.

Don't Forget Rally!

The steps of the Ohio State Museum will be the scene of the football rally to be held Friday at 5 p. m. Coach Wesley Fesler, the Regimental Band, and the girl cheerleaders will be there.

The town of Haskell, Ariz., was named for Oklahoma's first governor, Charles N. Haskell (1907-11).

75th Anniversary Celebration Notice to Teaching Staff

Because of the 75th Anniversary Convocation on the afternoon of Oct. 14, all University classes are to be dismissed on that day between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. Classes will not be dismissed on Friday; but instructors may excuse individual classes for the purpose of attending an Anniversary address the subject of which is relevant to the class work or the curriculum of the students.

The Faculty will assemble for the Academic Procession promptly at 2 p. m. on the walk just east of the University Library; in case of rain on the ground floor of the Physical Education Building. Seats will be reserved at the Convocation for wives of the Faculty until 2:20 p. m. Tickets may be obtained at the Information Desk in the Administration Building. No reservations will be made for other campus meetings.

Reservations for Anniversary Dinner

More space has become available for the Anniversary Dinner on Oct. 15 at the Neil House than was originally contemplated. Consequently, the Anniversary Committee will be happy to accept and fill reservations from members of the Faculty and Administrative Staff in the order of receipt until Monday, October 11, or until the capacity of the dining hall is reached.

The Committee regrets that because of the late date it is impractical to issue personal invitations. Requests for reservations with covering check should be mailed or brought to the 75th Anniversary Committee, 115 Derby Hall. The cost of the dinner is $5.15 per plate, tax and tip included. Requests for reservations should indicate the names of the persons for whom places are requested. Tickets will be mailed before the dinner.

Student Tickets

Student tickets for the Anniversary Convocation at the Physical Education Building on Thursday afternoon will be available free of charge beginning Monday, Oct. 11, at the following buildings: Townshend Hall, University Hall, Hagerty Hall, Arps Hall, Chemistry Building.

Graduate Leaves $69,625 In Will For Ohio State

An Ohio State graduate of 1895 has left his entire estate of $69,625 to the University Development Fund, partly to be used for the education of native-born Korean students.

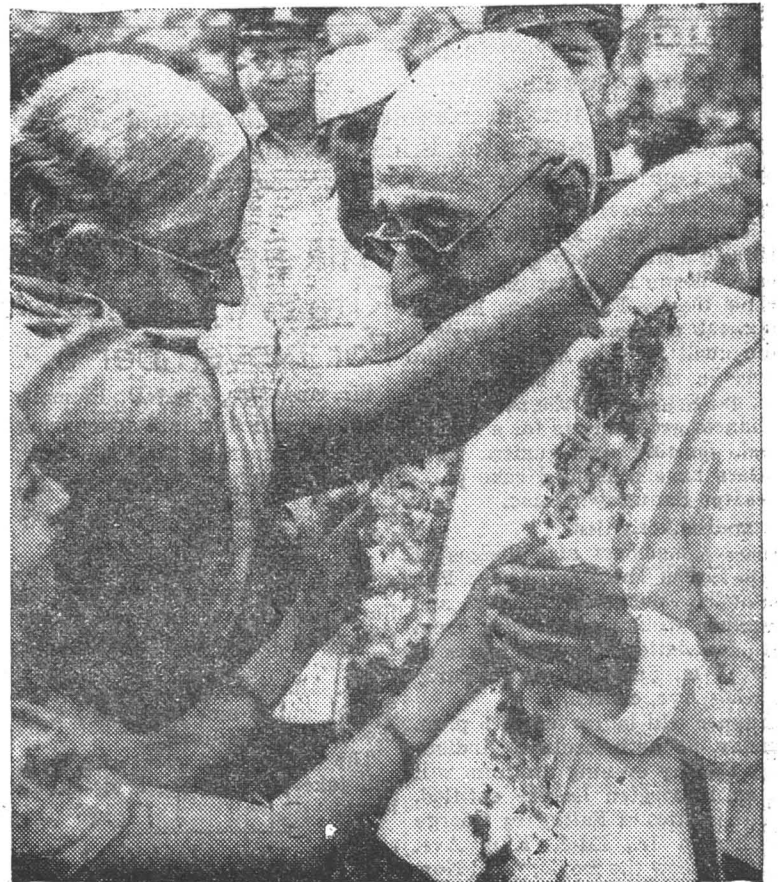

Raymond E. L. Krumm, former chief engineer for the Korean government and a resident of Columbus, died a few months ago in Kane, Pa. His estate consists mainly of securities and a bank account.

The University will receive a total of about $25,000 of the sum for the "Martin Krumm Korean Scholarship Fund," in honor of Krumm's father.

India's Pride: 'C. R.'

To the first Indian governor general, Chakravarti Rajagopalachari, goes much of India's adulation since the death of Gandhi. The governor general is more generally referred to as "C. R.," or "Rajaji" at most. During a tour of south India many women transferred necklaces from their necks to that of their loved "C. R." Such a scene is pictured here.

Meat Prices Fall, But Cut May Prove Temporary

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The drop in hog and meat prices was getting down today to where it counts for most people—at the retail butcher shop.

Many stores throughout the country slashed pork prices for the coming week end, a direct result of the sudden outpouring of hogs from the country. The oft-mentioned but never very apparent "consumer resistance" was pooh-poohed in some quarters as a cause for the decline; and it was in pork, much more than in beef or lamb, that butchers were posting the lower figures.

While retail outlets were cutting prices, the hog market's steady slump came to at least a temporary halt. Prices firmed a bit at most markets Wednesday. However, wholesale pork quotations continued to ease at Chicago.

Agriculture Department officials, packing house sources and representatives of farmer organizations gave these opinions of the hog-pork price breaks:

1. It's a seasonal matter, but came a little earlier than usual this year. An Agriculture Department official at Chicago said farmers knew the drop was coming, as it usually does in November, and had marketed Spring pigs the past few weeks in an effort to "beat the break."

2. The meat packers are moving pork quickly. A leading packer spokesman said the industry was going into the "accumulative season," when supplies are built up. But, he said, "Nobody wants to hold now and they are pushing pork right out into wholesale channels."

3. Many packing plants are short of help, which makes them less aggressive buyers of live animals than they otherwise would be. A South St. Paul packing plant manager said, "The help shortage in plants is apt to be a factor in the future in lowering prices."

4. The whole thing may just be a temporary flurry. James Elliott, president of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said, "The chances are that after the usual heavy runs at this time of year meat prices will go back to where they were two weeks ago."

5. Consumer resistance was a doubtful factor. Elliott said there was none "to speak of." But an Agriculture Department official at Indianapolis said the housewife had heard so much about bumper crops lowering prices that she was reducing her buying.

Green Mountain Inn, which now serves tourists in Stowe, Vt., once was a popular tavern for stage coach travelers.

Dispute Arises On Pick-Off Play

Arguments sprouted up all over town last night after publication of Associated Press pictures of the vital play of the World Series opener—an attempt by Bobby Feller to pick Pinch Runner Phil Masi off second base in the eighth inning of a 1-0 game.

Many neutral observers insisted the pictures showed that Manager Lou Boudreau of the Indians had tagged Masi a foot off the bag. Others were unconvinced.

Of course there will be no official protest by anybody connected with the Cleveland club.

Employment Offered Students

Have you always had a secret yearning to be a baby sitter? Now is your chance, according to Mrs. Lucille G. Rose, associate director of the Student Financial Aids Office.

There are numerous opportunities for potential nursemaids, plus many openings for students interested in clerical work, truck driving, tutoring, clinical work, being a life guard, teaching piano, or even teaching driving.

There are many other types of jobs open in the professional and managerial, skilled and semi-skilled fields, both on and off campus.

Mrs. Rose said that although there is now a wide range in the type of jobs open for students, the staff's greatest problem is that many students cannot arrange their hours to fit the jobs.

Applications for student employment have been heavy through the Summer and during the usually light period at the first of September. There are over 200 requests daily for part-time employment, she stated.

Mrs. Rose said that the biggest need is for more part-time jobs on the campus. She also said that steps are being taken to try to improve the situation immediately. The Financial Aid Office is on the first floor of the Administration Building.

Tyler On Air This Evening

Dr. I. Keith Tyler, director of radio education at the University, will serve as moderator for a Junior Radio Town Meeting broadcast at 9:30 tonight over WLOK, Lima.

The broadcast will initiate a series to be aired in co-operation with Lima High School. Accompanying Dr. Tyler will be Donovan Rowse, New York executive of the BBC.

Dr. Tyler and Dr. William H. Ewing, program supervisor for WOSU, will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters Sunday through Tuesday at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Tyler will speak at this meeting and also at the opening session of the School Broadcast Conference Wednesday in Chicago.

Grad Appointed Editor

Charles A. Adams, '48, former LANTERN news editor, has been appointed editor of the monthly employee magazine of the Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. in Springfield, it was announced recently. The company publishes Collier's, The American Magazine and Woman's Home Companion.

Deadline In Six Days For Artist Series Tickets

Only six days remain for students to get season tickets for the University's 1948-49 seven-concert Guest Artist Series.

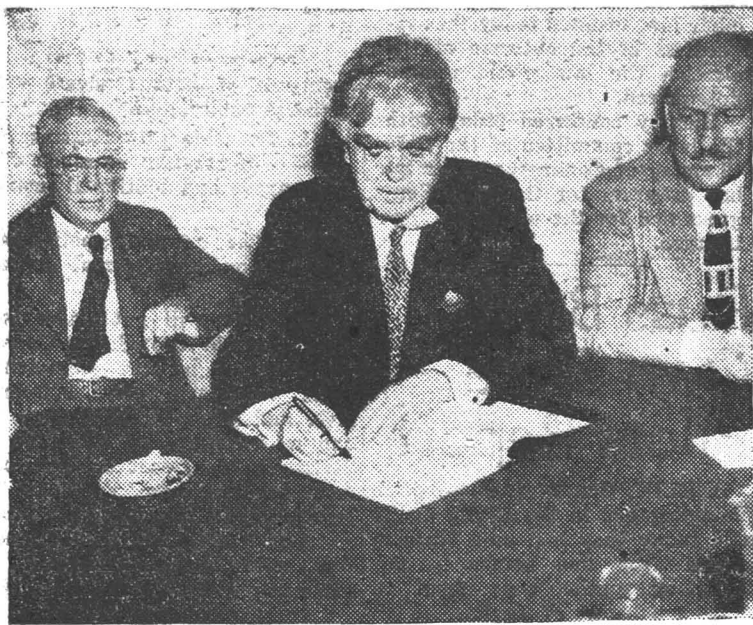

Prof. Eugene Weigel, director of the School of Music, has announced that Friday, Oct. 15, will be the deadline for issuance of season books at the Music Office, Room 1, Page Hall.

The office is distributing tickets from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily. Students who have applied for tickets by enrolling for Music 550 may obtain season books by presenting paid fee cards.

Those who wish to attend the seven concerts and recitals for $4, but have not yet registered for Music 550 may do so at the Music Office, where they may also pay the fee and obtain the tickets. Veterans who add the course to their schedules may receive tickets at the Page Hall office after having the addition approved at the Veterans' Information Desk in the Administration Building.

Purchase of a season book for the Guest Artist Series will represent a saving of $4.75, since individual concert tickets will cost $1.25 each. University staff members also may purchase season tickets at the Music Office for $4

Lewis Blasts Candidates

John L. Lewis, shown above signing a contract for his United Mine Workers, is in the news again. Speaking this week at the UMW convention in Cincinnati, Lewis gave a venomous tongue lashing to both President Truman and the Republican Congress. Lewis did not attempt to tell the convention attendants for whom they should vote.

Flight Training Available To Veterans On GI Bill

Who said you can't take flight training on the GI Bill? Mr. C. J. Pierce, director of the School of Aviation, says that you can, and in fact he wishes you would.

All that is necessary is a letter to the Veterans Administration in Cincinnati justifying your need for this course in your future business or profession.*

Mr. Pierce also announced the addition of four new training planes which enlarges the accommodations of the school to 40 students.

Those several hundred students who have already received their licenses through this course, plus all other pilots on campus, will be glad to hear that new reduced rental rates for airplanes are now in effect at Don Scott Field.

For additional information contact Mr. Pierce at extension 593, or call the airport on Case Rd. at FR-2-5345.

If you hurry you can still take flight training this quarter, said Mr. Pierce.

Dr. Helms To Be On Town Meeting

Dr. E. Allen Helms, department of political science, will act as moderator Sunday when the Columbus Town Meeting discusses food prices.

The topic will be "Are Farm Supports To Blame For High Food Prices?" The WBNS broadcast will originate from the Council Chambers of Columbus City Hall at 1 p. m. Dr. Helms is acting as moderator for the Town Meetings throughout this month.

Pistol Club Hears Talk

Forty-three men turned out for the first meeting of the University Pistol Club Tuesday night in the Military Science Building.

The club members were greeted by their new faculty advisor, Capt. Clyde E. Koontz, who pointed out that the club would teach beginners the elements of pistol marksmanship as well as prepare the advanced members for competition.

Lt. Col. Harold G. Haskell, department of military science, assured the group of the support of the department, and commented on the progress of the club since its reorganization last year. The team has already received challenges from four schools.

It was announced that the pistol range would be open for firing on Tuesday afternoon, Wednesday evening, and Thursday morning. Those interested in the club's activities are invited to come to the range at those hours or contact Sgt. Robert Miller, the coach, at the Military Science Building.

Prof. Hullfish To Speak

Prof. H. Gordon Hullfish, department of education, will speak Friday and Saturday at the annual Conference of the Faculties of the New York State Teachers Colleges. The meetings will be held at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Dr. Stogbill's Class Note

Dr. Emily L. Stogbill, department of psychology, urges all students in her classes during previous quarters to pick up their work-book material and autobiographies. It may be picked up in Room 300, Arps Hall.

Musical Opinions

By Jane Rives

Bebop Is Definite Trend In Musical Thinking, Requires Technical Skill

Back in 1936 a group of jazz greats, headed by Dizzy Gillespie, decided to break away from the then prevalent Goodman-Dorsey school and develop a new style. Bebop was born.

This group, which included Charlie Parker, Max Roach and Thelonius Monk, weren't interested in creating a new fad, but were doing some mighty serious thinking.*

They were working on a definite trend in musical thinking, and have spent the better part of the last 12 years in proving their point.

Today a bebop sound can be recognized in almost every big name band even though old school musicians persist in calling it commercialism and extravagant thinking.

The first thing any enthusiast of the subject will tell you is that bebop shouldn't be called bebop. The word has received a bad connotation because so many copyists (known in the profession as "leeches") have given the public an overdose of poor imitation.

This trend in jazz music is highly technical and to play it a musician must not only be proficient in handling his instrument, but must also know the technicalities of music. He has to be able to read music, have good tonal quality, and be able to visualize the effect he is creating. The days of quick rise to jazz greatness are gone forever; now its plain hard work and intense study.

The first impression a listener receives from bebop is its dissonant sound (irregular chord intervals, not dischords). Secondly, the phrasing is not on the strong beat in a series of eighths, phrases, but is on the off beat. Last, but not least, in contrast to the old style of "head" or impromptu playing, bebop is a style which can be written.

Dizzy Gillespie has a final word to say on the subject. "The present style of jazz known as bebop has progressed as far harmonically as it can, and the only outlet at the present time is through rhythms. Rhythms haven't been explored at all."

He goes on to say that any progression from the bebop style will be a new trend entirely, and as yet, has no name. Lennie Tristano and his followers are building along those lines now.

Sidney Gross Elected Head Of Wallace Group

Sidney Gross, L-2, newly elected president of Students for Wallace, announced last night that the group is willing to debate with any other campus political organization.

Other recently elected officers include: Melvin Phillips, Com-3, vice-president; Evelyn Mull, Ed-4, secretary, and Charles Glimski, A-3, treasurer.

Gross explained this year's ballot system. His proposal that sample ballots be circulated on the campus was unanimously adopted.

Student Indicted On Manslaughter Charge

Lewis R. Trembly, Com-2, was indicted on a charge of second degree manslaughter by the Franklin County Grand Jury Wednesday.

The charge came as the result of the deaths of three men Sept. 5, and is based on state law regarding speeding and reckless operation. Trembly was the driver of the car which struck the trio near Westerville Sept. 25.

Gold was plentiful during the early colonization of Honduras. The reachers used the precious metal to shoe horses.

Pathology Profs To Aid In Probe

University pathologists have been called upon to aid in discovering the cause of death of a Dayton woman whose body was found Sept. 21 near the Miami River.

Dr. Emmerich von Haam, chairman of the department of pathology, said that he was making an investigation but that the tests were not yet completed. The woman had previously written a letter stating that she thought she was dying of cancer.

Russia Asks Arms Cut; Renews Bomb Demand

PARIS, Oct. 7—(AP)—Russia accused the Western powers today of blocking world disarmament for the past 20 years, and demanded the Big Four immediately cut their armies by a third.

Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky led off debate in the United Nations Political Committee on a Russian resolution calling for a ban on atom bombs and a one-third cut in armed forces and armaments within a year.

A few minutes before, the political committee had shunted to an 11-nation subcommittee the East-West dispute over atomic energy controls.

The Political Committee, made up of all 58 U.N. members, adopted an Ecuadorian resolution establishing the Atomic Study Subcommittee. This group will draft a resolution directing the Atomic Energy Commission to resume its attempts to achieve an Atomic Controls Treaty. The Russian bloc supported the resolution.

Committee President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium named to the committee the United States, Britain, France, Russia, China, Canada, Brazil, Ecuador, India, Sweden and the Soviet Ukraine.

Tau Beta Pi Chapter Meets

Prof. R. D. Barden, department of agricultural engineering, presented a series of colored movies following the first meeting of the Autumn Quarter of Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honorary fraternity, Wednesday, in Pomerene refectory.

The movies included scenes taken in the Lake of the Woods area of northern Minnesota, where the professor took a hunting-fishing trip.

Jap Minister, Cabinet Fall

TOKYO, Oct. 7—(AP)—Prime Minister Hitoshi Ashida, assuming "moral responsibility" in a growing government scandal, resigned today and his entire cabinet fell with him.

Japan's Parliament, the Diet, has been summoned into special session next Monday to select a new prime minister. Ashida's coalition cabinet, in office since last March 9, will stay on the job until a successor is named.

The fall of the sixth post-war government followed a conference between Ashida and General Douglas MacArthur, presumably to obtain occupation approval to resign.

Ashida issued a brief statement: "It is a matter of very great regret that a present cabinet member has been called (for questioning) in connection with the present Showa Denko case.

"I have come to the decision to give up my post as Prime Minister because I as Prime Minister feel deeply a moral responsibility."

'Labor Law To Stay'

Rep. Fred A. Hartley (R-N. J.) co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor law, insisted today that regardless of the outcome of the election the law would remain unimpaired.

Hartley conferred today with the labor committee of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce on its labor program for the next Congress and for the next Ohio legislature.

Russ Bomb Own Zone Pilots Report

BERLIN, Oct. 7—(AP)—British fliers engaged in the Berlin airlift said today they had seen Russian planes drop live bombs in the Soviet occupation zone about 12 miles northwest of Berlin.

There is a possibility the reported incident might have been part of large-scale Russian air war maneuvers announced for today over the Soviet zone. Berlin and Allied air corridors, including bomber flights.

There was no confirmation from either German or Russian sources of the bomb report. The German press several months ago reported that Russian planes on maneuvers dropped live bombs on a small town, causing some casualties.

The Russians also informed the Western Powers they plan large-scale war maneuvers in the Allied air corridors, including bomber flights over Berlin.

Soviets Demand Italian Navy

MOSCOW, Oct. 7—(AP)—The Soviet news agency Tass said today Russia has demanded again that Italy turn over Italian naval units to the USSR at once.

Tass said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov made the new demand after summoning Italian Ambassador Manlio Brosio to the Foreign Ministry.

According to the peace treaty, Italy is required to hand the ships in question over to Russia.
