Council Approves Budget

Neophytes Paint Orphanage

Continuing the policy of Help Week, fraternity neophytes will aid charitable organizations on a work program from 6 to 12 tonight.

A total of 194 neophytes from 37 fraternities will paint and clean the West Side Day Nursery, St. Vincents Orphanage and other institutions in town.*

The contacts for getting jobs is at the Volunteer Bureau of the Council of Social Agencies and are in turn handled by the Council of Fraternity Presidents.

The committee members are: Don Lukens, Com-4, general chairman; Don Bowyer, Engr-2, public relations; Tom Jacoby, Com-2, liaison officer between the fraternities and social agencies, and Jerry Hardacre, A-2, fraternity contracts.

Order Of Amicists To Hold Initiation

The Ohio State chapter of the Order of Amicists will hold its quarterly initiation and banquet at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow in Room 331-DE, of the Ohio Union.

The guest speaker will be James H. McElhaney, assistant dean of men.

Students who have not made reservations may contact Jim Doane, WA-9051 or Stanley Harshfield, LA-9708.

Cold Days Affect Dreamers

At one time, students would dream of Europe as the mecca in travel, but as the weather grows colder and colder, dreams of sunnier places have been uppermost.

As temperatures and hopes drop, students have been heard to talk wistfully of the warm Florida sun as they walk across campus on cold mornings.*

Illinois may be closer to California than Ohio but these dreamers do not seem to know their geography. They see a fast route through Michigan.

Thanksgiving, say these students, is too short to think of going someplace warmer. The only hope is Christmas.

So, whether it's Florida or California, the only remedy now at hand for the cold weather is three extra sweaters, mittens and a heavy overcoat.

Art Group Established At Ohio Union

A Union exhibition committee under the chairmanship of Barbara Kuhlman, Grad, arts and crafts supervisor of the Union has been established.

The group includes Prof. James W. Grimes and Robert D. King, of the School of Fine and Applied Arts; Warren Beech, director of the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts; Maryann Horner, student chairman of the arts and crafts committee, and W. L. Swartzbaugh, program director of the Union.

The primary functions of the committee will be to recommend and approve art exhibits.

McClure Leads Opera

The producer-director of Friday night's opera, "The Maid as Mistress," by Pergolesi, at Cabbage Corners will be Theron McClure of the School of Music.

McClure built Chicago's Symphony Woods and organized the Symphony Woods Orchestra. He also was co-organizer of the Chicago Civic Opera Orchestra School and participated in the beginnings of Chicago's Grant Park concerts, National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., and the Cleveland Orchestra Summer Pops Concerts.

As well as being the organizing manager of the Columbus Little Symphony at its inception, he has served during the past five years as mid-western personnel representative of the Central City, Colo., opera festival, operated by members of the Metropolitan Opera Co. management.

McClure, who has initiated opera production on the campus, is a Ph.D. student in theater.

Students' Music Highlights Klatsch

A talent show, featuring original songs and music will be the highlight of the Kaffee Klatsch at 4 p. m. today in the second floor lounge of the Union.

Vicki Brown, A-1, will sing songs that she wrote, and will be accompanied by Burt Wolfe, Com-2.

BUCKEYE FILMS

Movies of the Ohio State-Northwestern football game will be shown at 7:30 tomorrow night in the Conference Theater of the Ohio Union.

$4,300 Is Allotted To Cover Expenses For Greek Week

A $4,300 Greek Week budget and a petition concerning solicitations to fraternities were approved by the Council of Fraternity Presidents last night in Page Hall.

The petition asked for the executive committee's approval of all solicitations to fraternities to protect the fraternities.*

The budget, expanded to a total of $4,300, to cover increasing costs, includes a band cost of $2,500.

Al Feldan, Com-4, reports, "Although Greek Week is sponsored by both Panhellenic Council and the Fraternity Council, the bulk of expense will go to Fraternity Council." Feldan attributes this to more events sponsored by fraternities during Greek Week than by Panhellenic Council, such as the stag dinner.

Feldan added, "The impact of the increased budget should not be too great since it will be spread over a large group."

Feldan's plan to hold stunt night tryouts during initiation week was also approved by the Council.

Investigate Prices

The petition, introduced by Claude Goldsmith, Com-4, will allow the executive committee to investigate solicitor's prices and decide if solicitations are worth the fraternities support. "This will save the fraternity system a lot of money in the long run," Goldsmith explained.

Tom Wheeler, Engr-4, warned the council that it has been operating in the red for the past three years. Wheeler said, "For the last three years, the council has been eating up the assets, and using up profits of past years."

Expenses Cited

Wheeler cited expenses Spring Quarter when the council dropped $1,500 in the hole. Wheeler requested that a new budget be set up and pledge registration, raised.

He also recommended a committee, consisting of men with financial experience, to set up a workable budget.

Bob Silverberg, Com-4, chairman, announced that a committee (Continued on Page Eight)

Dad Of Dads To Highlight Purdue Game

The Dad of Dads, chosen at random from all fathers of University students from Ohio, will be announced Monday in the LANTERN, Ronald Gross, A-3, publicity chairman, announced today.

He will be honored at the Dad's Day luncheon Saturday, Nov. 14, and will be presented at the half-time ceremonies of the Purdue-Ohio State football game.

He will be first escorted by the State Highway Patrol from his hometown to the Ohio Union for the luncheon and then to the game.

The Dad's Day Luncheon is sponsored by the Student Senate and is open to everyone.

Tickets will not be available at the door but are available at the Ohio Union ticket office every afternoon or by mail from the Dad's Day Luncheon Committee, Student Senate Office, Room 313, Ohio Union.

Of the total of 600 tickets 450 are still available and organizations may buy blocks of tickets. Sales close Thursday, Nov. 12. The cost is $1.50 each.

Buckeyes Study Rule

By James L. Adams

A committee to "study and bring forth a program of possible revisions" of the present ban on social functions in private rooms in hotels has been set up by the Buckeye Political Party President Burt Eichler, Com-4, announced last night.

"The committee's function is to study and bring forth a program of possible revision on the ruling," Eichler stated at the Buckeyes' weekly meeting in the Alpha Psi sorority house.

"I feel that the problem need not be presented again as everyone is familiar with it."

"There is a definite need for an acceptable solution to both students and administration which is what we hope to accomplish," Eichler concluded.

This action by the Buckeye Party brings the controversial hotel ruling under the scrutiny of two student political parties. The Ohio Student Party, Associated also has a committee which is trying to get the Council on Student Affairs to replace the ban with a "more satisfactory ruling."

The Buckeye committee is composed of five members with Dick Botsch, Com-4, as chairman. The other members are Clarkson Bitzer, Com-4; Robert Nelson, Com-3; Gordon Zacks, Com-2, and Toni Hightower, Ed-4.

It was also reported by Catherine Morter, Ed-3, Buckeye vice-president, that a speakers' bureau which will serve as a publicity agent for the party was formed at the last executive meeting.

The two-fold purpose of the bureau is:

1. To have a ready agency for dissemination of information to member houses at all times.

2. To acquaint pledge classes with the workings of the Buckeye Political Party. This was listed as the most important of the two.

Help Week Growth

Sororities are taking a more active part in Help Week this year. The neophytes of all groups are doing volunteer service work in social agencies in Columbus as part of their initiation requirements.

The project is sponsored and coordinated by the Panhellenic Association. The group voted last Spring to organize a Help Week program to include all sororities. In previous year, individual sororities have sent their neophytes to social agencies, but not all groups were following the practice.

The neophytes are spending almost all their free time at the various agencies throughout this week. They are helping out in offices by doing typing or filing as well as doing some cleaning and other light household tasks in some of the agencies.

Fraternities are also cooperating with a Help Week program sponsored by the Council of Fraternity Presidents. Their program is not, however, connected with the Panhellenic project.

The men are giving one evening of their time to the volunteer work. All neophytes will go to social agencies tonight. This year, 37 fraternities are taking part in the project. Although this number is larger than last year, it is still not large enough. All groups should be willing and eager to take part in this worthwhile program.

Help Week, however, in both the fraternity and sorority system, is a great improvement over the hazing and humiliating practices which have characterized initiation weeks for so long. It cannot help but grow in popularity and cooperation in the years to come.

An Unfunny Joke

Trophies are taken from fraternity and sorority houses many times throughout a school year. Usually, the thefts are merely jokes—the expected continuance of a long-standing feud. But the most recent theft of this particular item is not a bit funny.

The trophy awarded to one member of the Homecoming Queen's court was taken from her sorority house the day after she received it. The guilty party merely walked into the sorority house following the game Saturday and then walked out with the large trophy under his arm.

We hope the culprit, whether it be a group or an individual, has a quick change of heart and returns the trophy in the same way it was taken. Some jokes are funny, but others are strictly unfunny. This one falls in the latter classification. Childish is, we think, an inadequate term to describe a joke of this kind.

Professor Decides To Write Novels After Teaching Others Many Years

"The Stones of the House" is written by a man who has spent many years teaching others how to write. Theodore Morrison has been a teacher of fiction writing at Harvard and although he has had books of poetry published, this is his first novel.

The fact that he is proficient in writing skills is revealed by the well-developed techniques he has used in this book — his character portrayal, his sub-plots and his satisfactory ending.

This is a story of college life written on an adult level. It is the story of Andrew Aiken, acting president of a small college called Rowley. It is the story of a college community and is full of details of academic life.

Acting President

Andy Aiken became the acting president of Rowley when the old president died. He will hold the job for one year until another man, or possibly himself, is appointed permanently to the job. This means that he has the responsibilities of the position without definite confirmed power.

Andy hopes that he will be kept on permanently, but does not allow himself to think about it as he is too busy campaigning for a new library for the college. He has an earnest desire to do good in his work as expressed by the question he asks of the old college chaplain: "What good does it do to do good?"

His question would seem to leave doubt in the reader's mind as to whether Andrew has become discouraged in his job and is determined not to try to do his best any longer. The book goes on to answer that question, very satisfactorily to my viewpoint.

Many Problems

We sympathize with Andy's problems in dealing with the ever-present, troublesome board of trustees. We want him to get the money for his library.

We hope that his brilliant, but erratic friend who is also a professor will be able to continue teaching. Most of all we recognize and like Andy's tactful handling of a wealthy and troublesome alumnus, Badger Bratten.

It seems throughout the book that there is a constant succession of human beings in trouble. From

Federal Agencies Start Organizing New Job Bureaus

CHICAGO—(UP)—The Civil Service Assembly says many federal agencies may set up job placement bureaus for the benefit of the employees they have fired under the administration's cut-back.

The assembly said two such employment efforts already are underway in California. It noted that the civil service commission estimates that 80,000 government employees already have been discharged.

The California region of the Bureau of Reclamation has begun an effort called "Operation Opportunity," designed to find new jobs for several hundred workers who have been laid off.

The San Francisco office of the Production Marketing Administration has prepared a special pamphlet for out-going employees. The pamphlet notes that contracts have been made regarding prospective jobs in state agencies and in city governments, for federal jobs not covered by civil service and for openings in private business.

his secretary on up to his best friends, Andy must attempt to help them all. He proves himself to be an unusual administration, and in helping these others, helps himself.

Likable Person

We learn to like Andy Aiken and we feel that here is a man we would like to talk to. He would be very easy to confide in for he understands human frailties very well. He would be sympathetic to anyone's troubles, having dealt with so many.

"The Stones of the House" is a book many people will enjoy reading, chiefly because the reader becomes acquainted with a very likable man.

It is a good picture of college life from the administrative outlook. Students, especially, will get a new perspective of how things look from the other side of the text books.

This book is in the Phi Eta Sigma collection in the Browsing Room in the Main Library.

Mostly NOTHING...

University Hall Birthplace Of Makio; Three Students Responsible For Idea

Ma-kio was an unfamiliar word of Japanese origin on the small Ohio State campus way back in 1880.

In fact it was so unfamiliar that it took a visiting professor lecturing on "Things Japanese" to translate it into the English equivalent of "magic mirror."

The story of Makio, Ohio State's annual yearbook, goes back to the winter of 1880 when three students were sitting in the basement of University Hall discussing campus affairs.

Things seemed pretty dull to them so they decided that an annual student publication might help to "liven things up a bit." Thus was born in the minds of Sidney Short, John C. Ward and Willis S. Jones the idea which became a tradition.

Gained Approval

Jones is given credit for the idea. The others heartily approved and agreed to bring it before their fraternities. In those days this wasn't too much of a problem.

There wasn't any Council of Fraternity Presidents because there were only two fraternities, Phi Gamma Delta and Phi Kappa Psi. Each fraternity thought it was a fine idea so the first editorial staff of the first Makio was appointed.

Jones and George W. Dun represented Phi Kappa Psi while Ward and Harwood R. Pool were picked from Phi Gamma Delta. No one knows what happened to Short.

Remembers Lecture

In searching for an appropriate name, the words "magic mirror" kept sticking in Jones' mind. Where had he heard those words before? Then he remembered a lecture which he had attended.

Professor Edward S. Morse, recently returned from Japan, had lectured on "Things Japanese." In his talk he had mentioned the magic mirrors of Japan.

These mirrors were made of highly polished bronze. The backs were covered with mercury and bore carved designs of butterflies and flowers of the statue of Buddha.

Would Be Fitting

When the sunlight was reflected from one of them to a wall, the design on the back was clearly seen in the center of the reflection. Jones thought that this would be a fitting name for an annual which is designed to reveal what is behind the scenes in college life.

Jones wrote to Professor Morse then living in Salem, Mass., asking him to translate magic mirror into the Japanese equivalent. Ma-kio was his answer.

First Had 80 Pages

The first issue came out on Commencement Day. All the work had been done in six weeks. Although it only consisted of 80 pages in a paper jacket, student approval was instantaneous.

Something happened in 1881 for no Makio appeared but it was published again in 1882 and every year after. Except for the year 1896 when it was called "Scarlet and Gray," it has been called the Makio, the magic mirror.

The oldest U. S. operating coal mine is at Ocean, Md., where Consolidated No. 1 Mine of Consolidated Fuel Co., has been producing bituminous coal since 1842.

British Have Farm Price Problem Also

By W. G. Landrey

LONDON — (UP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill's government is hearing rumblings over farm price supports similar to those plaguing the Eisenhower administration in Washington.

British farm prices have not been falling as have those in the United States and France, for example. But the traditionally conservative British farmers still are visibly worried that Churchill's policy of going back to a freer economy might damage their system of guaranteed prices despite government assurances that it will not.

There is a tug-of-war between the interests of farmers, butchers and consumers over how prices shall be determined once the government stops buying and selling all meat at fixed prices.

The grain situation has been settled only temporarily.

The agricultural act of 1947, passed by the Socialists, guarantees the farmers markets and prices, and Churchill's Conservatives promised to continue to apply that principle. The uneasiness among farmers has come from the slowness to evolve a permanent system as agricultural products come out from under the long time controls of Socialism and war.

State Board, Highway Bond Issues Passed

By The Associated Press

A heavy favorable vote in Ohio's big cities has assured passage of two controversial amendments to the state constitution.

One amendment permits a 500-million-dollar bond issue for state highway construction and maintenance.

The other permits creation of a state board of education which in turn will select a state director of education. The director of education now is appointed by the governor.

Amendments Pass

Amendments to the state constitution require a majority vote.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown reported the following totals as of 6:20 a. m. for 9,052 of Ohio's 11,091 polling places:

Highway bond issue: For 800,379; against 539,053.

State board of education: For 706,794; against 537,544.

Seven other proposed revisions of the constitution also received favorable margins. These proposals remove what Brown calls obsolete sections of the Constitution.

Results Not Final

Final tabulation was not expected until late today or early tomorrow.

Voting in Cuyahoga and Hamilton counties ran about 2 to 1 for the highway bond issue and gave heavy margins favoring the school board amendment.

Other counties giving strong favorable margins to both issues included Franklin, Lake, Lucas, Geauga, Erie, Summit, Mahoning and Montgomery.

Rural Areas Against

Early returns from rural counties Tuesday night indicated a trend against passage of the two amendments.

The 43 polling places of Meigs County in Southern Ohio returned a vote of 2 to 1 against the highway bond issue.

In central Ohio's Union County it was 3 to 1 against the highway bond proposal and 2 to 1 against the school board issue.

Other counties opposing both measures in early returns were Athens, Clinton, Fulton, Mercer, Noble, Pickaway, Shelby and Wyandot.

Trend Shifts

But as the tabulations started coming in from the urban areas, the trend shifted. Late returns gave an increasingly large margin in favor of the two proposals.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche has strongly opposed both amendments.

Ohio educators backed the school board proposal. They were supported by some large civic groups. Trucking, commercial and other business interests campaigned widely in support of the highway bond issue.

Passage of the school board amendment opens the way for action by the legislature to determine how a board of education will be selected and how the board will choose the director.

10-Year Program

Approval of the highways bond issue amendment will enable the state to sell bonds for a 10-year improvement program. The bonds may be paid off with funds from the gas taxes, highway use taxes and license fees.

The seven proposals amending what the Secretary of State termed "dead wood" received more than a little opposition.

Considerable opposition went to the two "militia" proposals. One provides for use of non-whites in the militia.

No. 3 Opposed

The other provides for election of militia officers by persons living in their districts.

One county—Noble—voted against every amendment proposal.

Several other counties voted against No. 3 on the ballot, the "non-white" in the militia issue.

GOP Loses New Jersey Governorship

By The Associated Press

Results of yesterday's elections in brief:

New Jersey—The governorship went to Robert B. Meyner, Democrat, to end 10 years of Republican control of the Trenton statehouse.

The defeated GOP candidate was Paul L. Troast. In a special House election in the 6th District, held by the Republicans since 1932, Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr. narrowly defeated Republican George F. Hetfield.

Virginia—Democrats retained the governorship, which they have held since Civil War times. Thomas B. Stanley won over Republican Theodore R. Dayton in the closest race there in years.

New York City—Robert F. Wagner Jr., Democrat, won the mayoralty by a whopping margin over Harold Riegelman, Republican, and Rudolph Halley, liberal.

Other mayors—Republicans held onto city halls in Little Rock, Ark., and Waterbury, Conn., and made gains in Syracuse, Glens Falls and Oneida, N. Y.

Democrats held Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Albany, Louisville, Ky., and Binghamton, N. Y., and made gains in New Haven, Conn.; Akron and Columbus, Ohio; Davenport, Iowa, Buffalo, Batavia and Beacon, N. Y. Many other mayoral elections were non-partisan.

Craft Shop Renovated

By Bob Kingwell

The Union craft shop is an unimpressive-looking room in the basement. Inside is found the odor of fresh paint, a few posters drying on tables and several cabinets filled with paints, brushes and thinners, all in remarkably neat order.

The room definitely looks inadequate. But not for long says Barbara Kuhlman, supervisor of the shop.

The Board of Overseers has just approved the purchase of equipment and material which should keep craft-minded students busy for many years to come.

Many Facilities

Facilities for weaving, ceramics, jewelry-making, metal enameling, wood working, leather craft and silk screen and linoleum block printing on both paper and cloth are to be installed this quarter.

A meeting will be held in the shop at 3 p. m. tomorrow to enlist new members for the arts committee. With the new equipment and projects scheduled for the quarter, this committee will handle publicity work, set up and remove Union art exhibits and make programs and posters for various campus organizations.

The craft shop is used by students, faculty members, wives or husbands of either, alumni and University employees.

The room is open from 3 to 5 each afternoon, Mondays through Fridays; 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and 9 to 12 on alternate Saturday mornings.

Was Counselor

Miss Kuhlman, who received her master's degree at Ohio State in August, is no newcomer to the field of arts and crafts. During the last few years, she has been a craft counselor at Camp Allegheny in West Virginia and at Lake George N. Y. *

She also had charge of the art recreation program for the South Euclid-Lyndhurst City Schools in Cleveland, where she taught meta enameling. Her exhibits have been shown in Dayton, her home town and at the Cleveland Museum of Art May show.

PLANES TO U. S.

2000 HOMELESS... LINES DOWN.

URGENT... REPAIR QUICKLY.

Gale winds ripped through Alabama and Georgia last spring, destroying 500 homes, leaving 2000 homeless, killing and injuring 382.

Thousands of telephones were out of order—hundreds of poles damaged and destroyed. Communications had to be restored quickly. They were! Here's how:

1. Engineering teams rushed to the stricken area. In hours, they determined material and men needed to restore service.
2. Based on these reports, equipment—as far off as Chicago and New York—began rolling toward the area.
3. Telephone crews arrived from as far away as Atlanta and Birmingham—engineering and accounting forces, construction, cable testing and repair teams.
4. Red Cross, hospital and other essential installations were rushed.
5. The public was informed of progress by daily newspaper and radio releases.

Result: in 3 days, Columbus, Georgia—which suffered 10 million dollars property damage—had half its out-of-order telephones working and Long Distance service nearly normal. In another 3 days substantially all service had been restored.

Planning and co-ordination among many telephone people with a variety of skills made this quick recovery possible. It illustrates vividly the teamwork typical of Bell System men and women.

There's room on this team for a wide range of college graduates—business and liberal arts, as well as engineering. Plan for your future by getting details now about job opportunities in the Bell System. Your Placement Officer has them.

Democratic Candidates Win In Ohio

By The Associated Press

Democrats scored some startling upsets in local Ohio elections yesterday.

One of the most surprising was the upset in Columbus of a Republican administration entrenched since 1935.

Democrat Maynard Sensenbrenner, who never before ran for public office, defeated Republican incumbent Robert T. Oestreicher by a narrow 284-vote margin.

Sensenbrenner has an all-Republican City Council serving with him. There was some talk of a vote recount.

Another upset took place in Zanesville where voters elected their first Democrat as mayor in 30 years.

Bucks Work On Defense For Spartan Game

First Team Makes Good Showing Against Freshmen

By Jim Ferguson, Lantern Sports Editor

Coach Woody Hayes is apparently going to try to counter Michigan State with one of its own main weapons, a strong defense. At last night's long tough session, defense was the big item.

Freshmen, directed by Gene Fekete, who scouted the Spartans, ran Michigan State plays against the varsity. The first eleven did a very good job of stopping them.

The second unit, however, experienced considerable difficulty. Led by passer Andy Okulovich and the running of Hubert Bobo, last year's top high school scorer in Ohio, the freshmen ground out the yardage.

Out of Action

Several of the top Bucks missed all of last night's heavy work. George Jacoby, Jim Reichenbach and Hop Cassidy worked out without pads.

John Borton's ankle is much stronger and he's able to move pretty well. That ankle injury was a tough break for Borton, but the team may have benefited from it. If it hadn't been for that, Dave Leggett would never have gotten the chance to develop as a quarterback that he did. Thus, the Bucks now have two good quarterbacks and can alternate them.

Two Good Ones

This should make both more effective since they'll be fresher and won't have to take a continual physical pounding. Leggett has improved to the point where he's more than just an adequate replacement for Borton, but is a good quarterback in his own right.

The two Bucks were doing plenty of tossing last night as Hayes put them through a snappy passing drill.

Stop Long Passes

The emphasis was on defense, however, with Okulovich doing the throwing to freshman ends and backs. Hayes was primarily concerned with stopping the long passes, which the Spartans have used to such good advantage this year.

DAVE LEGGETT
Ohio State Quarterback

Borton was used mostly as a line-backer on defense. Leggett did a good job at safety, when he was in there. Bud Bond and Bob Thornton were both tried at the deep spot when Borton was in the lineup.

No TV For Bucks Saturday

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio State has decided not to ask the Television Committee of the NCAA for permission to televise Saturday's Michigan State-Ohio State football game.

This was announced today by Richard C. Larkins, athletic director. He gave these two reasons:

1. The TV "Game of the Week" on a national network is another Western Conference contest—the Northwestern-Wisconsin game.
2. Eight other Ohio college games are scheduled within the normal TV range of stations which would carry the contest at Ohio Stadium.

Under present NCAA rules, a university may apply for permission to telecast a sellout game.

SNAKE STUDENT

WINSTED, Conn. — (UP) — A small boy thanked police for tending his pet snake so he could go to church and then explained he wouldn't need their services the following day because "I'm taking it to school."

The only known species of freshwater sharks are found in Lake Nicaragua. Ichthyologists call them Eulamia nicaraguensis.

The Michigan State-Ohio State game is a sellout. Most of the NCAA rules on football television are aimed at keeping TV from hurting the gate receipts of both participating schools and those of schools within the TV-blanketed area.

Wilbur Snypp, Ohio State athletic publicist, pointed out the Michigan State-Ohio State game will be well covered by radio. Three nationwide networks will cover the game in addition to a number of stations covering it independently.

BOYS, JUST BOYS

HANOVER, N. H.—(UP)—A local resident, thumbing through an old book titled "Have Faith in Massachusetts," found this inscription: "To Edwin K. Hall, in recollection of his son and my son who have the privilege by the grace of God to be boys through all eternity."

MISSING BRIDGE

DAVENPORT, Wash.—(UP)—John Chestnut and Roy Dyer were injured slightly when they drove their pickup truck across a bridge that wasn't there. They knew there had been one across the irrigation ditch, but they didn't know it had burned the previous night.

Even When Winning, Brown Works Hard On Sidelines

By Bud Sprunger

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The most worried man in the stadiums next Sunday when the Browns play the Pittsburgh Steelers will be dapper Paul Brown, Cleveland's highly successful football coach.

Some coaches sit out games, commenting infrequently and acting as if they were conducting a board of directors meetings. But not Brown, who acts as if every play were a turning point in history—even after seven straight winning years in tough pro competition.

Carefully dressed—all in brown—the coach is undoubtedly the noisiest guy in the park. While pacing the sidelines, he alternately yells deprecating opinions to the officials, whips up his club, worries about some injustice or miscue, and calls signals.

Otto Graham, a great passer, is the Brown quarterback, but he rarely calls plays. The coach has two guards who alternate in keeping Graham posted on what to do next. Instructing them between plays takes part of the coach's time, but not all of it.

And worry: There never was

such a worry wart. Last Sunday the Browns were leading Washington by 24 fat points with maybe three minutes left when Washington completed a pass for about 20 yards. The 'Skins still were a good 40 yards from the end zone and wouldn't have meant a thing. At least, it wouldn't have meant a thing in deciding the winner. But to hear Brown yell over to his bench and to a man on the telephone connected with a press box spotter, you'd have thought the war was just lost.

"What happened," he yelled in apparent anguish. "We can't let that sort of thing happen." The Browns didn't again.

Egged on by the coach, the Browns' bench is a noisy thing. Resting players yell advice and encouragement, especially to the defensive platoon.

Brown starts cooling off after the game. In the dressing room, he discusses the game with his club before opening the door to reporters. Usually he tells newsmen a set few lines—carefully picked to give a punchy resume of the action. But if he's pressed, he will be remarkably frank.

What he says when the club loses never has been heard by a newspaperman. But it must be high octane stuff.

Graham once remarked wryly, that Brown was "undoubtedly the world's worst loser." Of course, that may be because the coach has so little practice losing.

BASKETBALL TRYOUTS

Tryouts for freshman basketball players will begin next Monday at 4 p. m. in the Men's Gym.

Chuck Davey, Al Andrews Fight Tonight

DETROIT — (AP) — Newcomer Al Andrews gets his crack at the gold and glory strung across the national television cable tonight when he meets Chuck Davey in Olympia Stadium.

The 10-rounder, starting at 10 p. m., EST, will be televised around the country. It also will be broadcast.

Andrews, former Fifth Army champion from Superior, Wis., earned this shot at the big time, and big money, by outpointing Davey in a one-sided 10-rounder in Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 14. He floored Davey for an eight-count in winning unanimously.

"Golden Boy"

Fast on his feet but light with his punches, the 23-year-old Andrews started his pro career in July, 1952. He picked up $50 for his first effort. Tonight his purse may hit $9,000.

Davey, of course, is a familiar figure to millions of TV viewers. He was the original "golden boy" of 10-inch television. His rating, however, plunged like a lead ball in a well after he was butchered by Kid Gavilan last February in a welterweight title bout.

Meet Graham

The winner will meet Billy Graham, high-ranking New York welter contender, here Dec. 2.

If Andrews loses, he can go back to the small clubs for more experience. If Davey loses, he can just about call it quits. It's doubtful if he'd get any more "big" dates for a long time.

Graham's Hold On Pass Lead Slipping; Eagle Challenges

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Bobby Thomason, who saved the Philadelphia Eagles from the depths of despair after being strangely ignored for three games, is threatening the passing leadership of Cleveland's Otto Graham in the National Football League.

The mid-season NFL statistics disclosed today Thomason had moved into second place in the individual passing competition with 60 completions in 99 attempts for 822 yards, eight touchdowns and an 8.30 yard average per pass.

A bench warmer until the late stages of the fourth game of the season, Thomason has seen only four of his passes intercepted and his percentage of completions is a high 60.6.

Graham still holds the lead with 84 completed of 132 passes, for 1,385 yards and five TD's. His percentage is 63.6 and his averaged yardage gain per pass is 10.49. Additionally, the incomparable Otto has registered six touchdowns as a ball carrier. Norman Van Brocklin is the third top passer in the league with 155 thrown, 82 completed, 1,423 yards gained, 10 TD's, a 52.9 percentage and an 8.19 yard average.

The point scoring leadership is held jointly by Cleveland's Lou Groza and Green Bay's Fred Cone, each with 47. Ban Agajanian of Los Angeles follows with 45. Pat Brady, Pittsburgh's booming punter, still tops the booters with a 49.3 average.

Feller Now 35 Feels Record Will Improve

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Bob Feller, who had a birthday yesterday, said: "I'm young at 35. At least, I don't feel that old."

The dean of the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff said he thinks he can improve on his 10-7 record of last season during 1954.

Feller, who came to the Tribe as an Iowa farm boy 17 years ago last June, has been busier filling speaking engagements than ever before in his career. He says "it's good experience," which could mean "good experience" for someone figuring to become a baseball executive after hanging up his spikes.

Race Track Sold For $2,500,000

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Nate Herzfeld Syndicate, which purchased the Tropical Park race track several years ago for $1,100,000, sold the Coral Gables, Fla. track today for a reported $2,500,000.

Saul Silberman and Ralph De Chiaro, Baltimore contractors prominent in Ohio racing and pro football circles, signed the final papers at 2 a. m., EST, in a downtown office here.

Silberman and De Chiaro own Randall Park in Cleveland and conduct night harness racing at Painesville, Ohio, Raceway. In addition Silberman is chairman of the executive committee of the Cleveland Browns of the NFL.

Soccermen Lose Again

AP Honors Back, Lineman

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—It took the return of non-specialized double-duty football to bring out the full brilliance of Lamar McHan of Arkansas, the Associated Press back of the week.

The 190-pound single wing tail-back, a senior, is playing defensive ball for the first time and doing a tremendous job of it. At the same time, he is having his greatest season on offense.

A true "workhorse," he leads the Southwest Conference in total offense by a wide margin while playing with a team that has won only two of six games.

McHan was named back of the week for his titanic one-man show last Saturday night, when Arkansas upset Texas A&M, 41-14.

He ran for 73 yards, completed 11 of 13 passes for 184 yards, scored two touchdowns, passed for two more, set up a fifth, kicked four extra points in four tries, intercepted a pass, made half a dozen tackles from his safety position, punted, kicked off and called signals.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bruce Bosley, sophomore tackle at West Virginia, was selected today as the Associated Press lineman of the week.

Bosley's sterling play against Penn State Saturday kept the Mountaineers undefeated and in line for a bowl bid.

West Virginia won, 20-19, and Bosley played a vital part in the play that accounted for what proved to be the winning touchdown. He and Tommy Allman broke through to block a State punt on the State 23. Bosley fell on the ball in the end zone for the score.

'BEVO' NEW CONSTABLE

GALLIPOLIS—(AP)—Clarence "Bevo" Francis, the nation's hottest collegiate basketball scorer last season, scored 15 votes yesterday to win the election for constable of Raccoon Township.

He was a write-in candidate. His nearest opponent, Ernest Blazer, scored five points in the write-in campaign. There were no regular candidates on the ballot.

The Buckeye soccer team went through their fourth straight game without a win when they dropped a 3-2 decision to Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware yesterday. The Bucks haven't won since their second game of the season.

It was a case of an over-confident team facing an under-rated one as the Battling Bishops fought from behind to beat the Bucks.

Dick McCombs, who scored both Ohio State goals, put his mates out in front in the first period with a goal.

But the Bishops tied the score late in the period and then grabbed the lead in the second period when they tallied twice with lightning rapidity.

The final score came with less than a minute remaining in the game.

The Wesleyan soccer team, in their first year of operation, had been beaten by Michigan 5-2 last week. The Bucks beat the Wolverines at Ann Arbor 3-1.

The Scarlet's season record now stands at two wins, three losses and one tie.

TRACK COACH QUILTS

DELAWARE—(AP)—Richard Gallaher resigned yesterday as track coach at Willis High School here effective Dec. 1. He said he plans to enter the insurance business.

Player Shifts, Sophomores Make Illinois Tough Team

By Charles Chamberlain

CHICAGO—(AP)—What has made Illinois—overlooked by all the experts—football's miracle team of the season?

Illinois, the only unbeaten outfit in the Big Ten, can start glancing West to the Rose Bowl if it defeats Michigan Saturday in a gigantic homecoming classic at Champaign, Ill.

After Michigan, comes Wisconsin* and Northwestern—both dangerous, but not regarded as strongly as Illinois' bitter rivals, the once-defeated Wolverines.

Before the season started, Illinois was relegated to the Big Ten's second division by football critics. After a 21-21 opening tie with Nebraska, it bowled over Stanford, Ohio State, Minnesota, Syracuse and Purdue. Now it is ranked No. 4 nationally.

Illinois' success is a classic example of a team jelling all at once and staying that way. Everything is clicking.

Coach Ray Eliot knew he had several promising sophomores last Spring. But you can't build a season on players untested in actual games.

His remnants of the two-platoon system included such defense men as Herb Borman, Bob Lenzini, Don Ernst, Jan Smid and Cliff Waldbeser; and such offense players as Rocky Ryan and John Bauer.

He had to teach each to play both ways. Shifts were made, like moving Lenzini and Ernst from guard to tackle.

The transitions worked perfectly. At the same time, a pair of sophomore halfbacks blossomed into two of the nation's greatest ball carriers, J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates.

One Illinois observer summed it

THIRD TO SIGN

CINCINNATI—(AP)—The third member of the Dotterer family joins the Cincinnati Redlegs next Spring. He is Tom, a 17-year-old infielder from Syracuse, N. Y. Tom, signed yesterday, joins his father, Dutch, a Redleg scout, and his brother, John of Tulsa. John, however, is serving a hitch in the Navy.

classics and some of the most popular instrumentals via the LP (long playing) record.

Most of the current pop tunes as well as many of the all-time popular favorites, are on the jukebox in the Tavern.

During the morning hour, music mostly semi-classical, is piped throughout the building.

And for spice there is usually at least one Jazz Forum each quarter. Music really is hot on the afternoon.

Probably the most often requested pieces in the Music Room are Tchaikovsky's "Capriccio Italien" and "Swan Lake." "Jerome Kern Favorites" is not far behind.

In the Tavern it is interesting to note that "Red Sails in the Sunset" by Nat Cole has been in the nickelodeon for nearly three years.

Sundial To Change Theme; Emphasis On New Features

Sundial's editor, Ed Pastor, Dent-4, promises that Sundial's November edition will be more "conventional" than last month's was.

Maybe some students got the idea from last month's issue that this was a sex, not a humor, magazine. Last month's edition mimicked Dr. Kinsey's latest report.

November's theme is football. Adding variety to the theme are an eerie science fiction story and a parody on Dragnet.

The 1953 Sundial has introduced several new features.

Verse replaces prose in exploiting Sundial topics of interest. November's issue includes a parody on Hiawatha. The subject is not an Indian but a fictional sports star who rises to fame on Ohio State's campus.

Also new is a feature called, "Prof of the Month," which could be compared to some of those creatures dreamed up by cartoonist Al Capp.

This issue's "tongue in cheek"

Hair Whisked Away With Emery Board

It's a great day for the women of America. Finally, we can throw away our razors and still keep our legs as satin smooth as before, only now without the worry of nasty cuts and scratches.

Out of the cosmetic laboratories has come a little item called "Belin's Wonderstoen," a pink wafer that whisks hair away without dangerous after effects. As its advertisers claim:

"Here is a simple, easy, feminine way to beautify your legs in seconds without any mess, fuss, odor or danger." (Well, good enough!)

The directions are easy to follow: Take the supplied emery board and use it to apply the powder from the stone. The only other requirement is that the legs be perfectly dry. No follow-up shower is necessary. The whole operation can be performed within a few minutes in the morning before we rush off to class.

This innovation might be added to the cosmetic list the next time we visit a drug store. Let's face it: if hemlines are rising, then the legs might well be the point of attraction—not distraction.

PROPER CHOICE

HARTFORD, Conn.—(UP)—A Massachusetts motorist picked the right pedestrian to ask directions to the Wilbur Cross Parkway. He received explicit directions from Wilbur L. Cross, Jr., son of the late governor for whom the road was named.

In 1620 a "Law of the Indies," issued in Madrid, provided that the Pueblo Indians were to select their own temporal officers without interference from the Spaniards.

Horticultural Club To Hear Talk On Food

Lawrence J. Turney, of the W. H. Madison Co., Medina, will speak to the Horticultural Products Society at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in Room 100, Horticulture and Forestry Building.

Turney is director of research and quality control for the company which is known for its "Dolly Madison" brand foods.

His topic will be "Responsibilities of the Food Technologist in Pickle Manufacturing." A color movie on pickle processing will follow the address.

Regular meetings of the society are held the first and third Wednesday of each month. However, because of the horticultural open house tonight the meeting has been scheduled for tomorrow evening.

Council . . .

would be formed for council to approve at the next meeting.

Appeal Approved By Council

An appeal by Goldsmith for council's support in defraying costs of Harland Randolph's proposed debating tour through India, was also approved by council. The council voted to give $25 towards Randolph's personal expenses.

The Indian government pays for Randolph's tour through India, but Randolph must pay his own expenses to the coast.

An operation of past years, the Foreign Student's Dinner Plan, was approved by council for continuance this year. This plan calls for each fraternity to invite at least three foreign students to dinner, each quarter.

Library Publishes Index

A key to the priceless manuscript collections in the library of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society has been provided with publication of the "Guide," a 150-page book just off the press.

Compiled by Elizabeth C. Biggert, manuscript librarian, the "Guide" lists 1,128 collections, comprising approximately a million and a half pieces, and including the principal collections acquired in 1951 and 1952. A 60-page index completes the "Guide."

The manuscript treasures of the Society are made readily available by the "Guide." It will be especially useful to professional historians, more and more of whom are turning to the Society's library for original research resources. Students, public officials and writers will find the "Guide" useful.

The Society's collections are open without charge in the library, located in the Ohio State Museum.

WOIO Initiates 'Songfest' Series With Quartet

WOIO's Carl Sarver, A-4, will emcee "Songfest" tonight, the first of a weekly series of shows which will feature a sorority or fraternity vocal quartet. This will be the first regular remote broadcast for WOIO since the campus station was started two years ago.

Tonight's show spotlights the ATO quartet and will originate in the Music Room of the Ohio Union at 7:45 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend, admission free.

The broadcast can also be heard over WOIO in Baker Hall and the Stadium Dorms. It is at 1000 on the radio dial, tonight and every Wednesday night.

GENERAL INFORMATION

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(UP)—Confederate Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston, who died at Shiloh, Tenn., on April 6, 1862, was the only full-ranking American-born general ever killed in action, says Dr. Marshall Wingfield, head of the West Tennessee Historical Society.

The state motto of Texas in "Friends." The name "Texas" stemmed from the Spanish pronunciation of a Caddo Indian word meaning "friends."

Six Germans Visiting Ohio

Six officials of local governments in Western Germany will arrive by train at 9:30 p. m. Sunday to begin a two-week study of city and county offices, schools and other public institutions in Columbus and Central Ohio.

Sponsored by the Governmental Affairs Institute, Washington, D. C., their visit here will be arranged by Prof. Harvey Walker, of the department of political science.

Visitors will be Dr. Hermann Bakker, city manager of Leer/Ostfriesland; Helmut Janssen, county manager of Rotenburg; Christian Kreuzer, county manager of Bayrische Landkreisordnung; Heinrich Salzmann, county manager of Trier; Wilhelm Fick, county manager, Braunschweig; and Emil Ewers, city councilor of Wilhelms-haven.
