Employment Groups Meet Here Friday

The ninth annual Employment Security Institute will be held at 10:00 a.m., on Friday, in the Ohio Union.

The event, expected to attract some 400 representatives of employment agencies, industry and labor, is sponsored by the College of Commerce and the Ohio chapter of the International Association of Personnel in Employment Security.

Prof. Glenn W. Miller of the Economics Department is chairman of the meeting. Walter C. Weidner, Dean of the Commerce College, will give the welcome address.

Opening the session, Frank Brockmeyer, International Representative of Community Service, AFL-CIO, and A. S. Voorhees, Employment Director, General Motors, will discuss "Improving the Employment Service."

Other speakers include D. B. Thomas, of Battelle Memorial Institute, who will discuss "Science and Employment." E. J. Eberling of Tenn. Department of Employment Security and W. C. Curtis of U. S. Bureau of Employment Security will close the session with a consideration of "What's Ahead in Unemployment Insurance."

Ford Makes Nine Grants

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The Ford Foundation today announced the award of grants totaling $9,161,210 to nine schools to support improved training for teachers.

Barnard College received $70,000; Brown University, $1,047,000; University of Chicago, $2,400,000; Claremont Graduate School, $425,000; Duke University, $294,210; George Peabody College for Teachers, $600,000; Harvard University, $2,800,000; Stanford University, $900,000; and University of Wisconsin, $625,000.

The foundation also announced the award of grants totaling $740,800 to support experiments in undergraduate college education.

All Quiet On The Southern Front

FORT LAUDERDALE, FLA. — (UPI) — The quiet that follows a storm has settled over Fort Lauderdale Monday as a mass invasion of college students on Easter vacation melted away.

Police Chief J. L. Holt guessed that almost all of the 20,000 who were in town last week would be gone by today.

Holt said there were 71 arrests of students during the nine day holiday. Most were fined or reprimanded.

"None of them were really bad," Holt said.

UPI BULLETIN

Communist China has warned foreign nations against interfering in Tibet where it admits the anti-communist revolt is still boiling. The warning was directed chiefly to India.

DEBATERS—James Caplinger, Carl Hetrick, Allen Rule and William Hamann will discuss ROTC on TV.

ROTC Debate Gets TV Time

Four OSU students are going on television.

The subject of compulsory military training — presently under discussion by the Council on Student Affairs — will be presented on television on the weekly Columbus Town Meeting program over WBNS-TV, Channel 10 on Sunday, April 5, at 1 p.m.

Debating the question: "ROTC — Should It be Compulsory?" on the distinguished Columbus Town Meeting program will be four members of the Ohio State University Forensic Society. They are James Caplinger, A-3; Carl Hetrick, A-4; Allen Rule, Com-2; and William Hamann, A-3.

Charles A. Kienzle, Columbus attorney, will moderate the first Columbus television discussion on this vital question. The program will be rebroadcast at 8 p.m. Sunday over WBNS radio.

Students are invited to attend the program at the WBNS-TV studios, Twin Rivers Dr., and to participate by asking questions from the floor or via telephone, CA 8-3881, during the telecast.

Builder Bids Low on Dorm

Baker and Coombs Inc. is the apparent low bidder for Ohio State University's married housing program, the Associated Press said last night.

The firm submitted a bid of $1,177,700, against a state estimate of $1,531,956.

Richard L. Tulley of Tully and Hobbs, Columbus architects, said that there will be 200 units in the new project. Of these, 132 will be one-bedroom units and 68 will be two-bedroom units. The buildings will be brick and concrete and the project will also contain garden courts, offstreet parking and recreation areas.

This project, first of several that are under consideration, will be on the southwest corner of Olentangy River oRad at Ackerman Road.

Big Three Reasserts Stand On Prior Talks

WASHINGTON—(UPI)—The Western Big Three powers bluntly put the Soviet Union on notice Tuesday that they will attend a summer summit conference only if there is some progress in resolving problems at a preliminary foreign ministers' conference.

The United States, Britain and France also managed to resolve some of their differences at yesterday's meeting to coordinate Allied strategy for the forthcoming May 11 Geneva meeting between their foreign ministers and Russian negotiators.

THE WESTERN powers also made clear after their strategy huddle that Communist East German and West German representatives would be welcomed at Geneva only as advisors.

A joint statement, issued by the foreign ministers of the Big Three Western Powers, said that Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, who met first, "noted with satisfaction" Russia's acceptance Monday of the May 11 foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva.

BUT THE three Western Powers then went on to recall that they had "made clear their position with respect to the relationship of a foreign ministers' conference to a summit conference and also regarding the question of German advisers."

Assistant Secretary of State Andrew Berding said the Allied statement was considered necessary because the Russians in their note Monday seemed to assume that a summit conference was automatic whether any progress was made or (Continued on page 8)

New NAACP Try Receives Student Aid

Petitions endorsing public school integration are being distributed by the newly re-organized campus chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) in a national distribution campaign.

The petitions call for implementation of the 1954 Supreme Court decision which declared segregation in public schools to be unconstitutional. They will be presented to the President and Congress asking each to effect an executive and legislative program that will "insure the orderly and speedy integration of schools throughout the United States."

Along with the petitions, a youth march is scheduled for April 18. Phillip Luce, first vice president of the campus chapter, said it is still unknown whether delegates will be sent from Ohio State.

This year's proposed march grew out of one that was made last Oct. 25 by some 12,000 youths. When President Eisenhower refused to see the group, they pledged to return to Washington in 1959 with petitions.

'Prophet' Hits Trail; Squelches Rumors

By Jaan Kangilaski

Rejoice, O outlying districts, for the bearer of light is on the way! Ohio State's loss is your gain.

The apostle of Forepaughism, Bruce Elledge, will be on the road this week with "four violins and a baritone horn, bouncing along to new horizons..."

Being a faithful practitioner of his own preaching, Elledge is not unduly perturbed. Forepaughism holds that "only a four dimensional view of the universe (with time as a constant) is acceptable." (Epistle 13.)

HE DENIED wrathfully that he was leaving town because the University had threatened to give him an honorary degree, almost upsetting his glass. And that was not the only vile rumor he scotched.

"I would like to take the opportunity at this time to squelch any rumors that I have left Larry's under duress, even though there have been many times during the past three years where Forepaughistic ideals and management policy have come into sharp conflict," he declared in an exclusive interview. "MY SEVERANCE occurred under the most pleasant and cordial conditions. The possibility of my being rehired, however, is practically zero."

Elledge said that he is anxious to start up his little green truck and depart. He decided to stay awhile in Columbus when the truck broke down three and a half year ago, stranding him and his famed dachshunds.

"Every day I stay here means three hundred miles of gasoline money wasted," he said ruefully. He can't leave before he gets a new driver's license.

HE IS leaving in the serene confidence that his labors at Ohio State have not been in vain and will bear fruit in due time.

For the benefit of the uninitiated, Elledge was the founder and mentor of the Adam Forepaugh Research Foundation, an organization with no aims and few activities, but plenty of ideology.

Adam Forepaugh was a 19th century circus promoter and a sternly uncompromising foe of intellectual vacuity. An example of this is his treatment of Zen Buddhism.

ABOUT TO LEAVE—Elledge and friend.

Students, Faculty End Winter Controversies

Ellison Article, Et Al . . .

To the Editor:

Your issue of March 13 compels one to believe that Ohio State was very properly included in Ellison's Post article on American college life, his factual errors notwithstanding. This is a University where foolishness and juvenile rah-rah take precedence over scholarship.

Boo Boo . . .

To the Editor:

It was Friday, the 13th, when it happened.

Charlie Brown would have been told, "You made a boo boo."

PROFESSOR Egghead would have said, "You made an exceptional error in the March 13 issue of the Ohio State Morning LANTERN (col. 1, page 1, under the photograph). One of the people in the photograph was listed as being a Commerce student when she really is enrolled and will graduate as an education major."

Both would have been right. Charlie's erstwhile critic would have been naively blunt. The professor, effusively bombastic.

THE FACT IS, you listed Lee Lestock, voted Outstanding Woman on Campus, 1959, as "Com-4." Instead, she is Ed-4.

Lee is a Distributive Education major and will do her student teaching at Whitehall Yearling High School during the Spring Quarter this year and will graduate in June.

Lee was in the College of Commerce during her first three years at Ohio State. She transferred to the College of Education one year ago to major in Distributive Education. That is possibly the source of your error. Lee has done outstanding work in both colleges and each would naturally want the distinction if rightfully theirs. Since she is now an Education major, the record should be corrected.

We are forgiving you for the error since our slate is not exactly clean in the mistake column.

William B. Logan,
Asst. Prof. of Education.

Senate . . .

To the Editor:

I have noted in the LANTERN, March 12, 1959, that the Student Senate no longer truly represents the whole student body at Ohio State. A vast majority of the senators, under the re-organization plan, will be from the Greek-letter fraternities and sororities. These groups represent the minority of the student body.

What has happened to the independent students at Ohio State? Are they no longer vitally interested in their own student government? Certainly the Student Senate is controlled by the Greek minority, and whereas they may be kind and generous to the independent majority, they do control student government.

The Independents and independent student organizations are no longer actively participating in their campus life. Why? Can they answer this most serious charge? Or are they going to remain apathetic to their changing environment, and give up control over their student status?

Carl Nissen, Jr., A-5

ican college life, his factual errors notwithstanding. This is a University where foolishness and juvenile rah-rah take precedence over scholarship.

How else can one account for the fact that the award of six Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for graduate study to Ohio State students, as a result of a national competition, is given four column inches on page seven of the March 13 LANTERN, whereas the resignation of Ray Elliott (spelled Eliot in your story) as football coach at Illinois rates a comparable space on page one?

Obviously this represents someone's decision as to the relative importance of the two stories. Don't say that there wasn't space on page one for the Woodrow Wilson story, because there was space on page one for a 16-column-inch feature story on Friday the 13th.

You would have done much better to forego pious editorializing about the Post article and show by action, not words, that you believe in higher education. Until more people do so we shall not deserved to be called a true University.

Charles B. Wheeler,
Asst. Prof. of English.

(Editor's Note: The correct spelling of the Illinois football coach's name is Eliot, as stated in the March 13 LANTERN article.)

In-breeding Here

To the Editor:

Mr. McElhaney has made an admirable attempt to defend our provincialism. He has come up with a statistic on in-breeding among our faculty which indicates that 30 percent of the faculty received their undergraduate degrees at OSU.

MY STATEMENT, of course, had a slightly different basis; it included those persons who obtained one of their degrees — in many cases the highest — at OSU. The most alarming type of in-breeding occurs when one takes his doctorate at a particular institution and stays on to teach merely what he learned there. He brings essentially nothing from the outside, so his is not contribution, but merely perpetuation.

My statement involved entire colleges. Since Mr. McElhaney seems to be interested in more specific statements, agriculture, dentistry and medicine deserve special citation. Engineering is working toward the top only with respect to in-breeding. In other respects it definitely is not the greatest — even in Ohio!

ON PAGES 88 and 89 of the Catalogue Number for 1955-1956, 39 faculty members are listed. Of these, two are shown on leave of absence and pertinent data are not given. Of the remaining 37, 23 hold at least one degree from OSU.

This small sample, selected at random, indicates 62 percent of in-breeding, or twice as much as estimated by Mr. McElhaney by using a different basis. Whether or not the in-breeding at OSU is alarming to Mr. McElhaney, it should be alarming to the people of the State of Ohio.

Cheating . . .

To the Editor:

I was quite interested in the editorial appearing on page two of the LANTERN for March 13 concerning cheating on college examinations. During my five years at Ohio State I have often seen much cheating done on examinations in various departments. However, one department has, to the best of my knowledge, found a complete and permanent solution to this problem.

ALL EXAMINATIONS in the department of electrical engineering given to the classes of electrical-engineering majors are given on an "honor-system" basis.

During the examination the instructor leaves the room, after first notifying the class where he may be found, if any questions should arise concerning the examination. Conduct in the classroom during this time is policed entirely by the students taking the examination.

THE STUDENTS are "put on their honor" not to cheat in any manner on the examination. Furthermore, they are honor-bound to report any attempted cheating during the examination, after first giving a fair warning to the persons involved in any cheating attempts. If the student so wishes, he may leave the classroom at any time during the exam, and he may converse with anyone as long as the conversation does not concern the examination material.

At the end of the examination the student writes and signs the following pledge: "No aid given, received or observed."

Has the system completely stopped cheating on examinations? . . . But I can say that in the past three years, during which I have taken a great number of exams in electrical engineering, I have not seen one single case of cheating on any exam given under this system.

If such an honor system works in one department, why should it not work in others also? Or perhaps even on a university-wide basis?

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"SOMETIMES I THINK THE 'MATH SECTION' OF THIS TEST IS A LITTLE TOO ROUGH."

Military Trio Honored at Graduation

Three of the eight seniors who graduated "summa cum laude" last quarter are officers in the armed forces.

THE THREE are Navy Lt. Cmdr. Jerome L. Wolf Jr., Air Force Capt. Ernest L. Carlton, and Air Force Lt. Col. Jay C. Van Bloom.

Lt. Cmdr. Wolf, who took a bachelor of science degree in mathematics and physics, has joined the staff of the Atlantic Fleet Naval Air Forces Command at Norfolk, Va. He chalked up a 3.80 point-hour average during his seven quarters at Ohio State.

CAPT. CARLTON, an Air Force navigator, has reported for duty in Iceland. An industrial management major, he tallied a 3.95 point-average during his two years here.

Lt. Col. Van Bloom, also an industrial management major, had a 3.70 point-hour average. His duty station is the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton.

THE 25 TOP-RANKING students, 17 men and eight women, were members of a class of 591 seniors and graduate students receiving degrees. Sixteen of them graduated "cum laude," and one with a "distinction in journalism."

Other seniors receiving bachelor's degrees "summa cum laude" were Marji Slesnick, Joy Ann Weis, William Bramlage, Margaret E. Carter, and Marian E. Lehky.

THE "CUM LAUDE" graduates included:

KARL W. KEPNER, Wilson O. Adams, Russell Byerly Jr., Harold F. Hintz, John E. Simpson, Robert E. Schupp, William F. Chamberlain, Howard E. Stripling Jr., and Noel S. Lawson.

Graduating with a B.A. degree with "distinction in journalism" was Joan M. Kriikku.

PENNY SAVED

WOONSOCKET, R. I. (UPI) — For eight years, Antonio Valois, an electrical contractor, saved zinc-covered pennies. The other day he took his hoard down to the bank for deposit. There were 102,000 pennies.

Sales of baby food in the U.S. last year reached a record of more than 300 million dollars.

British Economist To Discuss Labor

A British labor economist, Benjamin C. Roberts, of the London School of Economics, will discuss "Regulation of Union Affairs" at 4 p.m. Thursday in room 201 of Ohio State's new Law Building.

Presently in this country on visiting professorships at Princeton University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Roberts is the author of "Trade Union Government and Administration in Great Britain," published in 1956 by the Harvard University Press.

His lecture will be open to the public. It is sponsored by the Graduate School, College of Law, and Labor Education and Research Service of the College of Commerce and Administration.

THE TRUE AND TYPICAL CASE OF CHATSWORTH OSCEOLA

You all know, of course, that every engineering senior is receiving fabulous offers from dozens of corporations, but do you know just how fabulous these offers are? Do you have any idea how widely the corporations are competing? Let me cite for you the true and typical case of Chatsworth Osceola, a true and typical senior.

Chatsworth, walking across the M.I.T. campus one day last week, was hailed by a man sitting in a yellow convertible studded with precious gem stones. "Hello," said the man, "I am Norwalk T. Sigafoos of the Sigafoos Bearing and Bushing Company. Do you like this car?"

"Yeah, hey," said Chatsworth.

"It's yours," said Sigafoos.

"Thanks, hey," said Chatsworth.

"Do you like Philip Morris?" said Sigafoos.

"Of corris," said Chatsworth.

"Here is a pack," said Sigafoos. "And a new pack will be delivered to you at twelve-minute intervals every day as long as you shall live."

"Thanks, hey," said Chatsworth.

"Does your wife like Philip Morris?" said Sigafoos.

"She would," said Chatsworth, "but I'm not married."

"Do you want to be?" said Sigafoos.

"What American boy doesn't?" said Chatsworth.

Sigafoos pressed a button on the dashboard of his convertible and the trunk opened up and out came a nubile maiden with golden hair, flawless features, a perfect disposition, and the appendix already removed. "This is Laurel Geduldig," said Sigafoos. "Would you like to marry her?"

"Is her appendix out?" said Chatsworth.

"Yes," said Sigafoos.

"Okay, hey," said Chatsworth.

"Congratulations," said Sigafoos. "And for the happy bride, a pack of Philip Morris every twelve minutes for the rest of her life."

"Thanks, hey," said Laurel.

"Now then," said Sigafoos to Chatsworth, "let's get down to business. My company will start you at $43,000 a year. You will retire at full salary upon reaching the age of 26. When you start work, we will give you a three-story house made of bullion, complete with a French Provincial swimming pool. We will provide sitter service for all your children until they are safely through puberty. We will keep your teeth in good repair, and also the teeth of your wife and children unto the third generation. We will send your dentist a pack of Philip Morris every twelve minutes as long as he shall live . . . Now, son, I want you to think carefully about this offer. Meanwhile, here is ten thousand dollars in small, unmarked bills, which places you under no obligation whatsoever."

"It certainly seems like a fair offer," said Chatsworth. "But there is something you should know. I am not an engineer. In fact, I don't go to M.I.T. at all. I am a poetry major at Harvard. I just came over here on a bird walk."

"Oh," said Sigafoos.

"I guess I don't get to keep the money and the convertible and Laurel now, do I?" said Chatsworth.

"Of course you do," said Sigafoos. "And if you'd like the job, my offer still stands."

3 All-Americans Top NBA Draft

CINCINNATI—(P)—Three All-Americans and the fabulous Wilt Chamberlain were drafted yesterday as the eight clubs of the National Basketball Association picked 81 players from the college ranks as potential players. Chamberlain is out of college, but this is the year his class will graduate.

There was no surprise whatsoever when the Philadelphia Warriors latched on to the seven-foot, two-inch Chamberlain, who has been playing with the Harlem Globetrotters after giving up his last year of college eligibility.

The Warriors had laid claim to Chamberlain four years ago under a now discarded high school territorial rights draft rule.

Now it's up to Warrior boss Eddie Gottlieb to lure the towering negro star away from the Globetrotters.

The three seniors on the Associated Press All-America team were drafted in this manner: Kansas State's Bob Boozer by Cincinnati and Mississippi State's Bailey Howell by Detroit in the first round and Kentucky's Johnny Cox by the New York Knickerbockers in the fourth round.

After Cincinnati and Detroit, the first two teams on the draw list, picked Boozer and Howell, Minneapolis selected Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame and Syracuse came up with a bit of a surprise in taking Dick Barnett of Tennessee A.&L.

The first trade popped up on the second round when the Cincinnati Royals, hard pressed for a big man, swapped their choice and Archie Dees to Detroit for 6 foot, 10 inch Phil Jordon (CQ), a veteran of three seasons in the NBA.

The 6 foot, 8 Dees was drafted last year by the Royals after playing at Indiana University. He saw only limited service with Cincinnati during the past season.

Exercising the choice traded to it by Cincinnati, Detroit took Tom Robitaille of Rice, and then picked Don Goldstein of Louisville as its regular choice.

New York obtained Frank Selvy from St. Louis in exchange for its second round choice, and the Hawks picked Alan Seiden of St. John's and then Cal Ramsey of New York University.

Another All-American, Johnny Cox of Kentucky, was not selected until the fourth round, when he was picked by New York.

The other two members of the Associated Press All-America team—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, and Jerry West of West Virginia—still have another year of collegiate eligibility.

FIRST ROUND

Cincinnati—Bob Boozer, Kansas State. Philadelphia—Wilt Chamberlain. Detroit—Bailey Howell, Mississippi State. Minneapolis—Tom Hawkins, Notre Dame. Syracuse—Dick Barnett, Tennessee A. & I. New York—John Green, Michigan State. St. Louis—Bob Ferry, St. Louis University. Boston—John Richter, North Carolina State.

SECOND ROUND

Cincinnati—Choice traded to Detroit. Detroit—Tom Robitaille, Rice. (Choice obtained in trade with Cincinnati) and Don Goldstein, Louisville. Philadelphia—Joe Rucklick, Northwestern. Minneapolis—Rudy La Russo, Dartmouth. Syracuse—Gene Tormohlen, Tennessee. New York—choice traded to St. Louis. St. Louis—Alan Seiden (choice obtained in trade with New York) and Cal Ramsey, New York University. Boston—Gene Guarille, George Washington University.

THIRD ROUND

Cincinnati—Mike Mendenhall, Cincinnati. Detroit—Gary Alcorn, Fresno State. Philadelphia—Jim Hockaday, Memphis State. Minneapolis—Bob Smith, West Virginia. Syracuse—John Cincebox, Syracuse. New York—Bob Anderegg, Michigan State. St. Louis—Hank Stein, Xavier of Cincinnati. Boston—Ralph Crosthwaite, Western Kentucky.

FOURTH ROUND

SOCCER NOTICE

Varsity soccer coach Walt Erasing is having a meeting of all members of the soccer team tonight at 5:30 in room 36, Men's Gymnasium. Plans for spring practice will be discussed and all members are asked to attend regardless of their plans for spring quarter.

Intramural Sports

All those interested in tennis or golf intramurals must register at the Natatorium, Room 250, before April 14.

Any student interested in officiating at intramural softball games should come to the Natatorium, Room 250 before April 8. These officials will be paid for their services.

MIXED SWIMS will be held every Wednesday night (starting tonight) this quarter between 7 and 9 p.m. at the Natatorium. The swims are open to students, faculty and their families.

Intramural softball entries are due no later than 12 noon, Tuesday, April 7.

All those interested in becoming a baseball manager should contact Jack Bergquist at AX 9-8283. No previous experience is necessary.

Any additional information can be obtained by calling or dropping into the Intramural Office, Men's Physical Education Building.

Hayes Urges Publicity For Good Grades

Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes, who has always prided himself on the scholastic achievements of his football players, brought up an interesting point this week.

"When a player 'busts out' of school, Hayes said, 'It's always widely publicized.' The Buckeye coach then proceeded to question the lack of publicity for athletes who score effectively in the classroom.

When gridders Jim Marshall and Sam Tidmore "fumbled" in the classroom, the fact was quickly noted. However, underplayed were the scholastic triumphs of other Buckeye athletes.

End Duane Warner scored heavily with the books, compiling a 4.0 point average which included "A's" in two physics courses.

Sophomores Gene Watkins and Bob Lister, juniors Jim Herbstreit and Don Young and senior Dave Kilgore also managed good grades last quarter.

However, Hayes wasn't the only Buck coach who could point out outstanding scholar-athletes.

Basketball Coach Fred Taylor found his cagers could score as well in the classrooms as on the basketball court. Taylor's 12-man varsity traveling squad averaged 2.82.

Senior co-captain Larry Huston led the cagers with a perfect 4.0 average. Sophomore Richie Hoyt had a 3.7, Joe Carlson 3.5, Dick Furry 3.1, Dick Hagedorn 3.1, Jim Niehaus and Jim Ferrell 3.0.

Freshman phenom Jerry Lucas led the yearlings with a 3.75 average. Don Furry had a 3.4 and Bob Gottlieb, 3.3.

Wolves Lead Big 10 Sports

A compiled record of Big Ten standings covering fall and winter sports competition shows that Michigan led the Conference in sports participation.

The scoring system, which grants 10 points for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc., piled up 47 points for the Wolverines.

Michigan took two Conference championships (track and swimming) and finished second in gymnastics and basketball.

THE WOLVERINES' nearest rivals were Illinois and Iowa with 38.5 points each, half a point ahead of Michigan State which ranked fourth with 38 points.

Ohio State finished in sixth place with 33.5 points. The Bucks finished third in football, third in track, third in swimming, seventh gymnastics, ninth in wrestling and fifth in basketball.

Here is the Conference ranking from September, 1958, through March, 1959 including points:

Michigan, 47; Illinois, 38.5; Iowa, 38.5; Michigan State, 38; Indiana, 35.5; Ohio State, 33.5; Minnesota, 28; Wisconsin, 25; Purdue, 20.5 and Northwestern, 18.5.

Top runs batted in total in the 1958 NL was by the Chicago Cubs' Ernie Banks who drove in 129 of them.

Trouble Brewing In Braves' Camp

By Jack Wittenmeier,
Sports Editor

If spring exhibition records are any indication of seasonal success or failure, Milwaukee's mysterious Braves are due for the heaviest plunge since David score a bullseye midway between Goliath's eyes.

The NL champs have managed to stumble through 19 games in Florida's Grapefruit League, winning only six and looking like anything but pennant contenders.

THE BRAVES, with two consecutive flags to their credit, have been slipping steadily since last fall.

The Milwaukee fortunes reached the highwater mark when they grabbed three of the first four Series games last October. Then the tide suddenly changed. The climax came when Yankee slugger Bill Skowron placed a three-run homer into the stands late in the seventh game at the expense of one-time Yankee killer Lew Burdette.

However, a more detrimental blow to Milwaukee's hopes came after the Series when second baseman Red Schoendienst was lost to the Braves, a victim of TB.

SOME BASEBALL observers don't believe that the loss of one key man seriously hamper a ball club. Although this may be true, it should be pointed out that until Schoendienst arrived on the scene in Milwaukee, the Braves were floundering around in second place and had clearly choked up and "blown" the pennant the year before.

The redhead was a much-needed sparkplug in the Milwaukee attack—the take-charge guy who steadied the ball club.

If the Braves can find a suitable placement for Red before opening day, a major problem can be solved. Number one replacement, Mel Roach, who filled in for Schoendienst last season, suffered a leg injury late last season and has not yet fully recovered.

CHUCK COTTIER, a good field-no-hit rookie, has currently been playing the keystone position. Three other possibilities are Felix Mantilla, Casey Wise and Joe Morgan, all good glove men but inconsistent hitters.

The "help wanted" signal has been flashing from the Braves' camp all spring. It's no secret that Milwaukee would like to acquire Junior Gilliam or Don Zimmer from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The latter, who boasted that the Braves "could get me for a stack of bats" was told to "clam up" by the Dodger front office which announced that their job is to beat the Braves, not strengthen them.

THE MILWAUKEE front office has been eyeing Cincinnati's Johnny Temple but Redleg GM Gabe Paul is "not selling." Paul realizes that the Braves are in trouble and the doesn't care to help them out. He would also think twice before breaking up the league's best infield (Thomas, Robinson, Temple and McMillan).

The Braves, set on playing an experienced second sacker, have even made overtures to Baltimore for veteran Bobby Avila.

However, the Braves problems do not stop at second base. Third baseman Eddie Mathews, a large chunk of Milwaukee's power at the plate, is ailing as is first baseman Joe Adcock.

EDDIE HAAS, a hard-hitting rookie center fielder up from Wichita, broke his ankle in two places last week in an exhibition game.

However, the most serious breakdown in the Braves' baseball machine is strongly evident in the pitching department.

None of Milwaukee's pitchers have escaped at least one shelling on the mound this spring. Braves' aces Lew Burdett and Warren Spahn have been especially easy to hit.

SPAHN, LONG TIME iron man of the pitching staff, was hit hard by Milwaukee's "cousins," the Cincinnati Reds, in his last appearance. The crafty lefthander threw four home run balls, three in a single inning.

Unless Manager Fred Haney can solve the Braves' sudden collapse before opening day Milwaukee might be in for a long summer.

Democrats Charge President With Foreign Policy 'Sellout'

WASHINGTON — (UPI)—The Democratic Advisory Council accused President Eisenhower Tuesday of selling out his own foreign policy convictions to GOP "clients" who believe that world leadership responsibilities can be discharged at "bargain rates."

It said the result has been a "windfall" of opportunities for the Kremlin and a "ruinous course" for American diplomacy.

THE DEMOCRATIC Congress was urged to demand strong action and point the way so the nation need not "sit in paralyzed horror for two more years. . . ."

The charges, outlining a nine-point criticism against the conduct of foreign policy since 1952, were contained in the third of the council's planned series of 10 policy pamphlets on foreign and military policy. The report was prepared by an advisory committee on foreign policy headed by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The pamphlet charged that Eisenhower repudiated his own convictions because "client interests" in GOP party circles "demanded an end to the enormous burdens of what it termed a commensurately successful American-led Western world security system born at the end of World War II."

"THEY WANTED to be rid of the worries of maintaining international order," it said. "They wanted to concentrate on amassing wealth and enjoying its prerequisites here at home."

Even the few who did see the need to maintain a strong and united free world, it said, "believed that the responsibilities of world leadership could be discharged at bargain rates."

The pamphlet said Eisenhower's way out of the "dilemma" led to a "complete separation of words and deeds."

ON THE ONE hand, it said, were "virile words, standing for policies never put into effect, and never intended to be." It described "still other words" which claimed achievements so great that their recitation "almost scraped the sandals of the heavenly choir."

Following are the Democratic point-by-point complaints about Republican conduct of foreign policy:

• 1. The Far East—The administration dropped a "time bomb" by insisting on "vague" wording of the so-called Formosa resolution; "ignored" the "sputtering fuse" for three years until "the only clear fact to emerge . . . was that we had no Far East policy at all."

• 2. The Yalta Agreement—The "bombastic" and "grandiose" GOP repudiation of "secret understandings such as those of Yalta has 'vanished away.' Having 'falsified the truth about the Yalta agreement to win an election, the Administration had to reverse its field because it needs the Yalta agreements to fight the Soviet Union."

• 3. Liberation — A 1952 campaign pledge to liberate satellite nations was a pledge to liberate by "words and not by deeds" that aroused "expectations doomed to tragic disappointment. . . ."

• 4. "Agonizing Reappraisal"—The Administration's threats of an "agonizing reappraisal" of foreign policy to "bully or bribe" European nation into accepting the European Defense Community treaties caused the defeat of EDC in the French Chamber of Deputies and left France in a "brooding, morose, and suspicious frame of mind . . ." over "improper and intolerable" interference.

• 5. Massive Retaliation — A "companion piece" to "defense on the cheap" which denied Allies the reassurance of a defense against attack where it occurred in exchange for a pledge to "blast away with nuclear weapons at some place of its own choosing."

• 6. Neutralism—An "ambassador of irritation and insult" that got underway when Eisenhower gave a "genial pat on the back" to countries who refused to join U. S. military alliances. It irritated Allies like Turkey, and when "clarifications" were issued "aroused" India.

• 7. "We have won the cold war"—administration claims that a 1956 Russian reshuffling for a political and economic offensive in Asia and Africa meant Soviet failures and also that "every day, in every way, things were getting better and better."

• 8. The Middle East—The "collapse" of American leadership was ushered in by "flirtation with Nasser" and attempted appeasement with a "mouth-watering menu of cash" for the building of the Aswan Dam. The subsequent withdrawal of the offer characterized a "game of pressure and double-dealing" that led to "desperate and unwise measures" in the "march to disaster" at Suez.

• 9. The Eisenhower Doctrine—An attempt to "freshen up" NATO with a "coat of Eisenhower charm" which has failed to halt the "erosion of Western influence."

Ballet Group to Appear Here

The Chicago Opera Ballet which is appearing here Thursday evening, April 9 at the Veterans Auditorium, on the East-End Concert Series, is the newest addition to the nation's roster of outstanding ballet organizations. Because of its repertory of strikingly original works, choreographed by Ruth Page, the company has also been deservedly called the country's most adventuresome and creative troupe.

The company was founded five seasons ago when the Chicago Lyric Opera was formed to revive grand opera in the Windy City after a lapse of several seasons. With Ruth Page as its director, the new troupe lost no time in moving into the front rank.

In the fall of 1955, at the close of only its second season, it took "Revenge" and "The Merry Widow," its two biggest hits to New York for a run on Broadway.

Marjorie Tallchief and George Skibine, leading dancers of the Paris Grand Opera Ballet and an internationally famous dance couple are headlining this season's tour.

Tickets are on sale at Heaton's Music Store.

Protestants to Meet Here For Three-Day Conference

University faculty members from four states are expected to attend a three-day conference on "The Relevance of Contemporary Theology for Higher Education" April 10-12 at the Wesley Foundation, 82 16th Ave.

Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky will be represented at the program, to be sponsored by the Boards of Education of the Methodist and Disciples of Christ churches, in cooperation with the Faculty Christian Fellowship.

LOCAL HOSTS are the Protestant foundations at Ohio State representing Baptist, Disciples of Christ, Evangelical United Brethren, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, and United Church of Christ denominations.

The Central States Faculty Christian Fellowship Conference will open with registration at 4:30 p.m. Friday, April 10, followed by a coffee hour and a 7 p.m. dinner.

Principal speaker at the dinner will be Dr. Nels F. S. Ferre, Abbott Professor of Christian Theology, Andover Newton Theological School author of "Christ and the Christian," "Making Religion Real," and some 12 other books.

THE PROGRAM Saturday, April 11, will include a lecture at 9:30 a.m. by Dr. Ferre on "The Relevance of Neomaterialism and Existentialism" and a 6 p.m. dinner address on "Toward a Constructive Reinterpretation of Christian Theology in Relation to Higher Education."

A conference breakfast at 8:30

Institute Set This Summer For Teachers

A Guidance and Counseling Institute, federally financed under the National Defense Education Act, has been authorized for Ohio State by the U. S. Office of Education.

THE AGREEMENT between the University and the Office of Education carries a federal allocation of $35,000 for the Summer Quarter, 1959.

Dr. John E. Corbally Jr., coordinator of Field Studies and Services in the College of Education, said the institute will be held June 22 to Aug. 14 with 30 public school teachers from Ohio enrolled. Registrants are to be selected from teachers who will be in student guidance work during the next school year.

THE PROGRAM is designed to increase the supply of qualified guidance and counseling personnel and improve the competence of those presently working in the counseling field.

The institute will be directed by Dr. Herman J. Peters, associate professor of education.

NEVER SAY DIE

MANILA—(UPI)—The constabulary announced today it would launch a full-scale drive to capture two Japanese soldiers who have been holding out on tiny Lubang Island in the belief that World War II is still going on.

The Japanese have evaded efforts to contact them in the past three years. A Japanese Embassy spokesman said a mission from Tokyo would help Philippine authorities coax the holdouts to surrender.

Dental Clinic Does a Good Job For Less

By June Gladfelter

Complete dental care at half the normal price is the main attraction of the Ohio State Dental Clinic.

Staffed by junior and senior dental students, the clinic does every kind of work from cleaning teeth to fitting dental plates.

AMONG THE advantages of the clinic are the reduced cost, the professional caliber of the work, and the location of the clinic in the dental building within easy walking distance from most student residences.

The main disadvantage is that it takes longer for the work to be done because all the work is supervised by faculty members, sometimes step by step.

Before any work is done on a patient, he must have a full mouth X-ray and a complete mouth examination.

HE MUST also be willing to have all of the necessary work done by the clinic, not just a small part of it.

The hours of the clinic are 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. on weekdays. Saturday hours are 9 to 12 in the morning.

SPACE TECHNOLOGY

Offers work of the future ...today!

Computer programmers & applied mathematicians

High speed digital computers and expanding computing systems require individuals with more than the usual amount of interest and ability in the fields of Applied Mathematics and related computer programming.

Our Computation and Data Reduction Center in Southern California is one of the largest and most advanced facilities in the nation. Three of the largest and most modern high-speed digital computers (IBM 709, 704, and UNIVAC 1103A) are utilized in the support of Systems Engineering for the Air Force Ballistic Missile Program and space flight studies.

Contact your placement office for an application, or send any inquiries to Space Technology Laboratories, Inc. to the attention of Mr. Gerald Backer.

Soviets Told Summit Talk Is Conditional

not on the foreign ministers' level.

He also noted that the Russian note said that the participation of the two Germanies "is a decided matter" without saying specifically that the Kremlin accepted the Western position that their representatives would be mere advisors at the meeting.

BERDING, to emphasize the fact that the United States will not attend the summit conference unless there is some progress at the foreign ministers' meeting, read the following section of the American note of March 26 to the Russian government:

"The purpose of the foreign ministers' meeting should be to reach positive agreements over as wide a field as possible, and in any case, to narrow the differences between the respective points of view and to prepare constructive proposals for consideration by a conference of heads of governments later in the summer.

"On this understanding and as soon as developments in the foreign ministers' meeting justify holding a summit conference, the United States Government would be ready to participate in such a conference."

UPI BULLETIN

Virginia segregationists, 5,000 strong, marched on the state capitol demanding that Gov. J. L. Almond Jr. and the legislature adopt an unyielding stand against further integration. The marchers urged that Virginia attempt to nullify Federal court rulings which result in mixing of the races in classrooms.

WOSU Radio Ups Air Time

Radio Station WOSU advances its sign-off time to 7:55 p.m. today, bringing the University station's broadcast time up to 12 hours and 55 minutes Monday through Friday.

The station added an extra hour to its air time last March 2 when it launched the "Early Morning Show" at 7 a.m. The show includes weather, news and features.

Starting May 1, the University radio station will remain on the air until 8:15 p.m. The broadcast time of educational broadcasting stations is governed by the hours of sunrise and sunset through Federal Communications Commission regulations.

Artist Series Sets 'First'

The Cleveland Orchestra, appearing on Mershon Auditorium's Great Artist Series on Monday, April 13, will perform a new work, "Partita for Orchestra," never before performed in Columbus.

Sir William Walton, its composer, was commissioned to prepare the work for the 40th anniversary of the Cleveland Orchestra. It was first performed in Severance Hall in Cleveland on Jan. 30 and Feb. 1, 1958, with George Szell, conducting; and was part of the program presented by the Cleveland Orchestra on its 1958 tour of 20 eastern cities.

The European premiere by the Hallé Orchestra, the composer conducting, came on April 30, 1958, in Manchester, England.

Tickets for the Cleveland Orchestra concert, open to the public, may be reserved by calling AX-1-4144.

Forepaughite Set To Leave OSU Region

IT IS RECORDED that Old Adam once hired one of these gentlemen to take care of his famous white-washed elephant, The Light of Asia. When he fired the Zen a week later, he told him thus:

"The kaleidoscope of life is far to fascinating to permit anybody to spend his time in inward contemplation of it. Go back to the Himalayas and become a fungus. There is no place for you on my show! Here are your fifty cents." (The paraphrasing is in order to avoid difficulties about the original copyright.)

Elledge has no firm plans as yet. But he was willing to confide that "one of my problems is to get a job at a high school near a state university with lower standards than Ohio State."

WAXING ELOQUENT, he burst out: "This creeping menace of higher standards is menacing Forepaughism! We are going underground."

He has no hard feelings and regrets. "Although the Foundation has never legally recognized the University, we feel that some of our best work has been done here."

His parting message is the slogan of the Forepaughite movement: "The Twenty-first Century is closer than we think!" (And what a celebration there will be when it gets here!)

BOMB PIONEER JAILED

DALLAS, TEX. — (UPI) — The man who pointed the way for the atom-bomb attack that ended the war with Japan has been indicted here for trying to stick-up a grocery.

Claude Eatherly, a former Air Force major, flew the reconnaissance plane that led the atom-bomb carrying B-29's over Hiroshima.

Seidlin To Be Berlin Guest

Dr. Oskar Seidlin, professor of German literature at Ohio State, will be the first American literary scholar to serve as Ford Research Professor in Residence at the Free University of Berlin.

The Ohio State author and critic will leave for Germany on June 15 and will return in mid-September.

Currently on assigned research duty, he is at work on a book on the German poet, Eichendorff, and will continue this study during the summer. The appointment by the Berlin university was in recognition of Dr. Seidlin's work on various aspects of German literature.

He is a native of Koenigshuette, Germany, has been on the Ohio State faculty since 1946, and is the author of some 10 books and 100 articles and reviews.

Japan Prints To Be Topic

Three Ohio State faculty members will present a symposium on Japanese print-making at 8 o'clock tonight in room 204, Hayes Hall.

The event, open to the public, will be followed by an exhibition of work by the noted printmaker, Shiko Munakata, and a reception.

The symposium, entitled "From Moronobu to Munakata," will include Prof. John W. Bennett of the department of sociology and anthropology and Prof. Paul Bogatay and Prof. Sidney M. Kaplan of the School of Fine and Applied Arts.

Munakata will be visiting artist in print making April 8-10 at Ohio State. His visit will be sponsored by the Japan Society, Inc., and Ohio State's Graduate School.
