War Referendum Asked

Two veteran isolationist senators—William E. Borah (R), Idaho, and Hiram W. Johnson (R), California—will assume major roles, probably today, in Senate debate over President Roosevelt's foreign policy.

High military and naval authorities disclosed plans today to make Puerto Rico an impregnable defense base—a key unit in the program for defense of the Western Hemisphere. Plans for the development calls for the expenditure of nearly $25,000,000 to make the island the "Hawaii of the East."

Grandmother Wins $25,000

AKRON — Somewhat exhausted today was Mrs. Laura W. Carpenter, Barberton widow who admits "being over 65," who won the $25,000 second prize in the Movie Quiz contest. She was kept at an Akron theater until 1:30 a. m. by newsreel cameramen, and has been receiving telephone calls since dawn telling her how to spend the money.

First prize of $50,000 went to Mrs. Elizabeth C. Benincasa, San Francisco housewife.

Deaths Prompt Morals Probe

JOLIET, Ill.—The "Lovers Lane" deaths of a high school football star and his 16-year-old sweetheart prompted investigation today of general moral conditions among the 4000 students of Joliet High School and Junior College.

"Spain Independent"—Britain

LONDON—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, fighting a bitter attack on his government's recognition of Nationalist Spain, told the House of Commons today that the government "hopes it will not be long before an armistice is reached in Spain."

Entry blank for the filly has not yet been received at Churchill Downs. Entries closed February 15.

Colonel Matt Winn, Churchill Downs president, said that the entry would be accepted if it could be proved that the letter was lost and bore a postmark before February 15.

Ohio Pen Head Out?

COLUMBUS — Warden James C. Woodard of Ohio Penitentiary was called into an hour-and-a-half conference today with State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood and W. F. ### Future Policy Report Will Be Given Board

Report of the Future Policy Committee will be made by Barbara A. Boughton, A-4, chairman, at the meeting of the Student Labor Board at 7:15 Wednesday night in the Ohio Union.

Complexity of tabulating the questionnaires to determine the result of the recent student labor survey made by the board has made it necessary to call for volunteer aid in grading the questionnaires.

A petition for IWA representation in the Student Senate is being drawn up by the executive committee. The group concluded other functions for the remainder of the quarter with the election. The new officers will be installed at the first meeting next quarter.

Eleanor Burt, A-3, retiring president, commended the organization on its work during the one year of existence, adding "There are many things we are looking forward to—an even larger membership, a more extensive educational and social program, and a well founded scholarship fund."

Hull Suggests P. A. System to Staters

That the cheering section at the Purdue basketball game Saturday should be led through the public address system was the proposal made by Jimmy Hull, basketball captain and leading Big Ten scorer, at the luncheon meeting of Ohio Staters in the Ohio Union today.

Ohio Staters will contact Henry Taylor, director of ticket sales, in an attempt to reserve two sections at the final game for use of the cheering section.

William Guthrie, director of student employment, called attention to the fact that all the prospects entertained by the organization this quarter were athletes. It was decided that emphasis on next quarter's prospects will be based upon scholarship.

It was decided that relationships between students and faculty be expanded through the medium of Ohio Staters, by holding fireside chats "of real meaning" at various fraternity and sorority houses.

Hopes of Independents Optimistic as IWA Plans To Observe Its First Anniversary Wednesday

Was Originally Sponsored By IMA, WSGA

By CORA E. WAYT
The IWA will celebrate its first anniversary Wednesday. In less than a year it has become an organization powerful enough to have one of its members voted Homecoming Queen over a field of sorority girls, has taken an active part in campus politics and is about to petition for a seat on the Student Senate.

Week in and week out it has more than 100 active members attending its alternating board and mass meetings. It has a similar number interested in its activities and attending as potential members.

Before its inception a year ago, the Independent Women's Association was a question considered by the WSGA and IMA during the winter quarter of 1938, and Dr. Grace S. M. Zorbaugh, then acting dean of women, suggested a questionnaire

Governor Runs Into Probers On Illinois Trip

The governor's tour included an inspection of the University of Illinois and the University of Michigan.

According to Dr. J. L. Morrill, vice president of the University, the trip was "entertaining, instructive and very enjoyable. The universities showed the members of the legislature the finest hospitality, the trip was excellent, and we were very busy during the entire time."

Bucks Trounce Michigan As Hoosier Quintet Loses

Bob Lynch Paces Ohio to 42-28 Victory Over Traditional Rivals with 12 Points

By MANNY SCHOR

Rotund Harold Olsen brought his Ohio State cagers back to Columbus today tied with Indiana for first position in the Big Ten standings and eager to meet Purdue, the spoilers of the Conference.

The Bucks laid claim to a share of the leadership by drubbing Michigan 42 to 28 in Ann Arbor Monday night while Indiana limped from the Purdue hardwood court beaten 45 to 34.

The evening's action left the final determination of the outcome of the Big Ten title race until Saturday night when Indiana completes its schedule at Michigan and Ohio State concludes the season at home against Purdue.

Although the Boilermakers can finish no better than third in the Conference standings, they hold the key to the championship. Two weeks ago they defeated a favored Minnesota quintet and eliminated the Gophers as a title contender. Their victory over Indiana halted the Hoosiers' rush towards an undisputed championship, and Saturday night they will seek to continue in their role of spoilers against the Bucks.

Scarlet Takes Lead

After a slow start in which neither team was able to find the basket, the Buckeyes rolled up a commanding lead over Michigan and finished the first period ahead 18 to 12. After that the outcome of the game was never in doubt.

The second period was marked by erratic passing and rough play generally. Neither team performed in

14 Cases of Flu Reported in Week

Although 14 cases of influenza have been reported at the Student Health Clinic since last Tuesday, Dr. John W. Wilce, director of the University Health Service, stated that there is no danger of the situation becoming serious.

Although this figure is higher than last year, it is neither unusually high nor proportionally higher on the campus than elsewhere throughout the city and nation, Dr. Wilce declared.

The extreme variations in temperature locally were a contributing factor in bringing many persons into the Health Service for treatment of upper respiratory afflictions, Dr. Wilce said.

Institute to Issue Application Blanks

Application blanks for registration in the Institute for Social Living for the spring quarter may be obtained in the YMCA and YWCA offices, the dean of men's and dean of women's offices, the Physical Education office, or any college office.

Registration for the course consists of an interview with a member of the advisory board in addition to filling out the application blank.

A general discussion led by Dr. Charlotte Winnemore, department of physical education, is planned for the meeting of the Institute at 7:30 Thursday night in the blue lounge, Pomerene Hall.

The committee in charge has not yet decided who is to direct the Institute during the spring quarter.

March Grads Sought For Fair Employment

According to William S. Guthrie, head of the Student Employment Bureau, March graduates will be preferred for the 50 jobs open to Ohio State students at the New York World's Fair.

Students must be available for work early in April and it is expected that only graduate students will qualify for this reason.

Three Co-Eds Initiated Into Theta Sigma Phi

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary professional sorority for journalism majors, initiated three co-eds at a meeting Sunday at the Village.

Those initiated are: Virginia G. Bomberger, A-3, Mardelle J. Kleinman, A-3, and Margaret E. Tuttle, A-3. Marcia E. Cooper, A-2, was pledged immediately after the initiation. Grace O. Schaffner, A-4, presided at the ceremony.

Newly Elected Officers Plan Activities

they have given parties for each other on frequent week ends.

Cooperative House

Another activity of the group has no doubt spread an idea which probably will develop more in the near future. Ever since 12 of the girls have formed an IWA House, they have realized the advantages of working for a housing project for all members. The present house is not run by the group, but is a University house in which all girls are members.

There has resulted from the house, an idea prevalent in the organization to work for a project which would be equivalent to a sorority house, with efficient management to insure economical and desirable living conditions.

One of the group's steps this quarter

It's Not Politics, but VOTE

A non-political election is scheduled for Wednesday. The Women's Self Government Association will hold its annual election of officers and representatives. All women students are eligible to vote in the election.

Ordinarily elections are preceded by a period of political maneuvering and ballyhoo for the candidates of two or more political parties. Not so with WSGA. This organization keeps the names of the candidates secret until the day before election. By that time it is too late for much politics to develop.

Nominations of candidates are made by a nominating committee that selects the candidates largely on the basis of merit. Most of the students on this list have shown their qualifications for higher office by their records of previous work in the organization. This is true of all major offices.

All women students will have an opportunity tomorrow to express their opinion on which of these qualified candidates is the most qualified. Inasmuch as WSGA is the governing body of all women students in the University, we think every co-ed should take advantage of that opportunity.

Be a Little Careful

We see by the papers that the co-eds have decided to go into the business of pre-examination befuddling. Last quarter the examination files maintained by Student Activities in the Ohio Union were closed to women students, so now the co-eds have decided to open a file of their own in Pomerene Hall.

The file is being sponsored by Pomerene Advisory Committee, and it urges all students to bring in old examinations to add to the grief. Some students believe that examination files are a big help in preparing for finals, but we are not among them.

We tried looking up an old exam one time and found so many things in it that we didn't know that we decided it would be impossible to ever get prepared for the examination. So we just gave it up and stopped studying.

Perhaps co-eds are not so easily alarmed, though. If they're not, an exam file would be of some help to them. We therefore endorse the plan with this qualification! It's a swell idea, but if you're an alarmist, for heaven's sake don't use it.

Promoting Good Will

A banquet which should aid in promoting good will between the University and the state Legislature will be held tonight in the Faculty Club. University alumni now serving in the Legislature will be the guests of the Student Senate at a banquet there this evening.

The affair will give the legislators and some of the students an opportunity to compare notes on what the University is doing now and what it did back in the undergraduate days of the present lawmakers. Talking with students should give these alumni a pretty clear impression of the worth of the University today, a picture somewhat different than would be gained from talking with University officials.

We welcome these alumni back to the campus with the hope that they will enjoy their banquet this evening and will leave it with a renewed faith in the worth of the University.

Well, Well . . .

. . . we see by the papers that a member of the Columbus Rooming House Association thinks that bills which aid schools to build dormitories are a step toward communism.

Gosh, if that's the case, maybe we better get busy and pass a law taking the state's entire educational system out of the hands of the state and turning it over to some private corporation, so that someone besides the people of Ohio could make a profit out of education.

Congratulations . . .

. . . to the Buckeye Club for repeating last quarter's win of the scholarship award for the men's dormitories.

Short Stories . . . from the News

By AGNES VAVREK

Man Nobody Wants Faces Deportation

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 23.—Feodor Vasilewski was supremely bored. He'd been through this so many times. There wasn't much difference, he reflected, between the immigration authorities in Great Britain, Russia, Turkey, or America. Hm, that was an interesting idea, and his eyes brightening for a moment, he regarded the little group of perturbed officials huddled about the desk in the far corner.

Thin, bald men they were, with bespectacled eyes, crabbled expressions, and celluloid collars. One was bending over a large case book, running his finger down the pages poring; another was re-reading the official papers for a tenth time, searching desperately for something he might have missed the time before; a third was studying Feodor nervously and suspiciously out of the corners of his eyes. Feodor bore the scrutiny indifferently, calmly returning the examination. He was accustomed to the inspections of the curious and the official.

Picturesque was the word for Feodor. Tall and dark as a Turk, with large melancholy eyes, a thin curved blade of a nose, and a lugubrious, pursed mouth, as if he were forever thinking sardonic thoughts and holding them back. Draping his thin, boney shape in an elegant, shabby suit, a soiled striped shirt, an eccentric cravat, and a stained camel's hair coat. A checkered cap hung over one thin knee, and between his thin legs lay a small tan mutilated suitcase, mottled with coal dust, the result of an extended storage in the hold of the collier, "Baron Tweedmouth."

Having promptly exhausted his amusement in the comparison of American and foreign immigration officials, Feodor shifted his legs and reached for his cigarettes. His eye was arrested by a bright blue and yellow folder on the bench beside him. He picked it up idly and after running a critical eye over the brown, sinuous girl beckoning from the page, went on to the reading matter.

It isn't real, of course, this candy-pink opera set they call a beach in Bermuda—bright jade waves breaking on miles of coral—dull olive cedars puffed against a picture-postcard sky—water so clean it spoils you for all other bathing—yachts like angel butterflies in a breeze that can be depended on.

. . . and a hundred islands all in one, with something to drink on each! . . . But the best of all is a moonless night, and a light canoe in a phosphorescent sea . . . a drift of song . . . a paddle that drips diamonds. . . .
Hurry Up! The World's Going South!

Feodor reached deep into an inside pocket and brought up a little leather notebook, and stub of pencil. Moistening the lead thoughtfully on his tongue he printed on a clean page B-E-R-M-U-D-A, and underlined it twice.

Backstage Chatter

. . . by Paul E. Jacobs

Idiot's Delight*

As long as dimpled heroes continue to kick the slate out of the underworld's 10 toughest triggermen in successful efforts to rescue their goggle-eyed women of destiny, and until such time as patient lenses can be coaxed away from slinky legs, slat-like Venuses in bathing suits, and heart throbs beating a gooey tattoo beneath our most droopy willow trees, the American film industry will continue its failure to live up to the best standards of the theater.

Despite limitless facilities, geographical and otherwise, the motion picture has consistently refused to recognize the high mental and moral status of the legitimate stage, appearing content to make its personal appearance in swaddling clothes, babbling like an idiot to whom adolescence will always be a stranger.

No such appealing mess as that with which the American moviegoers are daily spoon-fed has been seen since the day Oliver Twist asked for more. Take, for example, the cinematic version of Robert Sherwood's "Idiot's Delight."

It may be safely said that the film lived up to its title. Beside feebly written-in sequences which the author never intended for the stage, the audience was further tortured by the too heavy gamboing of Norma Shearer, which proved to be as suffocating as a night spent wrapped up in velvet drape. Miss Shearer fairly swept the entire cast with her into a feature length eclipse. Unleashing a Russian accent thicker than a London fog and an arm motion vaguely reminiscent of a protesting windmill, the once delightful Shearer battered her part with the innocent gusto of a four-year-old thinking of next year's Christmas presents. . . . It was too much.

Even the shaggy Gable seemed unable to hoist his virile frame into the spirit of the thing. Perhaps there was too much vodka being quaffed, at any rate the entire cast—including the generally effulgent Edward Arnold—went about their tasks like somnambulists groping through holiday traffic.

Surely this treatment ill became a Pulitzer prize-winning drama. On the other hand, with only four or five major parts and an unimposing, cheap background, Charles Laughton's "Beachcomber"—a recent release—was as fine a piece of work as any critic could demand. We can no longer afford to scorn British films.

Whatever the cause, the motion picture industry has missed its potentialities as widely as an astigmatized William Tell. Instead of fashioning its unique and magnificent talents into a great modern art, it has turned gun-toting into the plastic minds of fourth-graders. In a year of motion pictures one can see more corpses than a vulture flying low over a battlefield, and more emptied bottles than a rummy in his wildest nightmare. The average screen toughs throw more fists in an hour than Joe Louis will have thrown when he is fifty.

These things are what you see because you pay for them and what a grammar school kid sees because he doesn't know better. With such wanton dissolution of leisure time is it any wonder Sherwood could sum up a given state of mind and call it "Idiot's Delight?"

Way Back When

By

JOHN MURRAY

DEC. 5, 1915.—(Special from Chicago to the LANTERN).—Baseball as an intercollegiate sport in the Western Conference is doomed. This startling announcement comes as a big surprise to the student bodies of the "Big Nine" schools, even though the Minnesota and Northwestern faculty governing bodies have already abolished the diamond sport.

Members of the "Big Nine" representatives at their annual December meeting yesterday meted out the death knell of baseball by a vote of 7 to 2. On the question of the retention of the summer baseball rule, the vote was 6 to 3 in favor of the rule.

JAN. 4, 1916.—Henry Ford's peace expedition is important as an expression of the sentiment of the people of the United States, even though it has not achieved its original purpose of "bringing the boys out of the trenches by Christmas." Such is the opinion stated by Elinor C. Ryan, senior arts, Ohio State representative in the party, in a letter written at Christiansand, Norway, December 18, and received by the LANTERN yesterday.

Song to a Glassblower-- Blow--w, Boys, Blow--w

Now we know how glass is blown—we think—as one of those who attended a lecture and demonstration by Professor Marion Hollingsworth, department of chemistry, on "Glass Blowing," Monday night in the Chemistry Building.

To be a successful glass blower the aspirant must first learn two fundamental principles. These are: (1) When glass gets hot it expands; (2) How to blow.

The second thing to remember, according to the professor, is how to break glass other than by the baseball method. A glass tube, for example, may be broken by rubbing it vigorously with a piece of string and hastily treating it with water. The professor said so.

Another Problem

If you should find yourself faced with the necessity of cutting a concave piece of glass you need only place it over some plaster paris, allow the stuff to dry, buy a knife made for that purpose, then cut. Just cut. The professor said so.

If it is a big tube which is troubling you, take a gadget which looks like a miniature Australian brush hook, heat it and then let it caress the place you want to cut. The professor said so.

Blow the Man Down

The blowing process is really nothing. One need only apply enough heat to a piece of tubing to break it in two parts. Proceed from there by placing one of the ends in the flame until it is red hot. Then take the other end, place it in your mouth—b-l-o-w-w. The professor said so.

It must be remembered that it is not wise to blow any ordinary blow, like that used in cooling soup. The blowing must come in short puffs. Blow . . . cool . . . blow . . . cool . . . that's it. Aha! Just like the professor.

11 Reported Ill

Eleven students were reported ill at University Hospital today. They are: John C. Fagley, Harold E. Nichols, Harold C. Dietrich, John W. Mueller, William D. Scott, John M. Lewis, Edward E. Hudson, Robert V. Beltz, James A. Whittaker, William T. Baughman and Harold K. Roberts.

Old Age Payoff May Reach $85 a Month for Students

Anti-New Deal students and others can set the government back about $14,000 provided they are 22 years of age, average a $2000 annual income until they are 65, and live to 85, Professor Edison L. Bowers, department of economics, revealed Monday afternoon at Commerce Auditorium in a speech on social insurance.

"To put it bluntly," he said, "you can give the government a terrific licking by staying alive until you are 85."

The spectre of old age in a poorhouse need not bother young people today, he reassured the 300 commerce seniors in the audience. "Providing production keeps up, young people working now can expect to receive a maximum pension of $85 a month on retiring."

He pointed out that it has been said that by 1980 there should be a reserve of $47,000,000,000, but since the government is spending funds of the old age insurance on everything from "NYA to bombers, it won't be there to get."

However, it is stipulated this money must be invested in government bonds, he added, further pointing out that government bonds are

McPherson to Give Speech Trophies

High School Leagues Will Compete in Finals to Be Held in Chapel March 24, 25

Acting President William McPherson will present trophies to the winners in the semi-finals and finals of the Ohio High School Speech League to be held March 24 and 25 in University Chapel. This twelfth annual meeting will feature competitive contests in debating, extemporaneous speaking and one-act plays.

One hundred and fifty schools are now enrolled in this league. One hundred and nineteen have debating candidates, 94 in the one-act plays and 67 with speaking aspirants.

The high school students must first successfully pass their district and inter-district meets before becoming eligible for the finals here. Finals will have two teams in debate, three with one-act plays and a first and second in extemporaneous speaking.

Instructors of the department of speech who will conduct and assist this program are: Drs. James Carroll and Eugene W. Bahn and Professors Earl W. Wiley, Herman A. Miller, Marie K. Mason and Elbert R. Moses, Jr. Professor William C. Craig of Capital University will be one of the judges.

IWA Will Observe First Anniversary

ter, toward making the organization a more and more socialized group was the introduction of award pins. In other ways, too, it is trying to fulfill the place of a sorority for those who do not wish to join a sorority or cannot afford to.

IWA Queen Wins

Although it is not essentially a political faction, during the elections on the campus last fall when a new political party was formed, it joined the IMA in supporting the independent United Students' party. With IMA-IWA support, the USP proved a dangerous potential threat to the older parties on the campus, even though it did not gain an office. But it did manage to boost Agnes M. Ondrak into the queenship of the homecoming festivities.

Now that its first year is about over, it has elected new officers and is making plans for another year. None of its members complain of first-year difficulties and they are optimistic of the future. The future of the organization seems to be positive. Its members are actively engaged in many campus organizations.

The visions of foresightedness independent men and women on the campus have materialized today in the IWA, an active, influential, campus-wide and socially desirable movement. It is aiding tremendously in introducing the independent to her proper place in University life.

34 Teams Left in Tourney

Thirty-four teams were left in competition as the playing of the first round of the Student Activities bridge tournament ended today at the Ohio Union. The second round of elimination will begin Wednesday afternoon.

Keith Tyler, Bureau of Educational Research, will participate.

ASA Will Hear Representative

Chairmen of the peace, education and labor committees will report on the work and plans of their various committees. On Saturday, the labor committee is planning a field trip to a local factory to investigate labor conditions.

Molly Yard, national head of the ASA, is being sought as speaker for the club's next meeting which will be held March 8.

Avukah Elects Officers; Levinson Named Head

Avukah elected the following officers at its meeting at the Hillel Foundation Tuesday night: Alvin Levinson, Com-2, president; Morris Swack, Com-3, vice president; Rita Duker, Ag-1, secretary; Evelyn Knight, Ed-3, treasurer.

Plans for the induction of the new officers include a banquet at 6:30 Saturday, March 11, at Hillel Foundation. Reservations for the dinner, at which some well known speakers will be presented, can be made at the Foundation.

Will Hear Art Lecture

Pen and Brush Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in room 204, Hayes Hall. Professor Hoyt L. Sherman, department of fine arts, will speak on "Prospective in Drawing and Painting," following a short business session outlining plans for a New York trip to be taken during spring vacation.

Club to Consider Campus Airport

Discussion of possibilities of a campus airport, in anticipation of the proposal before Congress to train college students for the Army Air Corps, will take place after the regular meeting of the Flying Club at 7:30 tonight in room 106, Derby Hall, according to Richard G. Hall, A-2, president.

This has already been successfully undertaken at Purdue and similar projects are getting under way in colleges over the country. Tonight's meeting will also hear Robert I. Diller, Grad, on the intercollegiate flying meet held in Akron last spring.

The regular meeting scheduled for Tuesday, March 7, has been cancelled so members may attend a National Aviation Association meeting in the Neil House that evening to aid in launching plans for establishing model airplane building courses in the junior high schools.

Saddle and Sirloin Announces Prizes

Exhibitors of the prize-winning livestock at the Little International Stock Show, sponsored by the Saddle and Sirloin Club on March 11, will receive 15 prizes, including silver loving cups, trophies, and stockmen's canes, according to Leland L. Leachman, Ag-3, president of the club.

A judging contest will be held for the Future Farmers of America and a trophy will be presented to the winning team at the stock show.

Fritz Mackey Arranges Banquet for
Buckeye Diamond Squad at Ohio Union
Wednesday with Celebrities as Guests
Lantern Sports Editor

Fritz Mackey, Varsity baseball mentor, has a nice banquet arranged for his squad on Wednesday evening . . . Among the guests of honor will be Cy Young, one of the greatest hurlers in the history of baseball, Red Trautman, American Association prexy, and Jack McCallister, former Cleveland Indian manager and at present a major league scout . . . These well-known diamond figures should have a few interesting comments to make to the squad on the great American pastime . . . The Buckeye team will be leaving for the South at the conclusion of this quarter two weeks hence on its annual spring training trip . . . Prospects look great for Mackey in his first year at the helm of the Buck forces for he will have a veteran club to work with . . . Hurlers Johnny Dagenhard and Mark Kilmer are back for their final year and they will be aided by sophomore Jimmy Sexton who is considered a better baseball pitcher than a football forward passer . . . This should be enough praise for Jim as he did plenty of accurate throwing for Schmidt's football team last fall.

Pitt Schedules Gophers . . .

That the Western Conference schools have apparently agreed to meet Pittsburgh on the gridiron if their schedules warrant it was proved Monday when Pitt officials announced the renewal of relations on the gridiron with Minnesota . . . The two schools have agreed upon a three-game series beginning in 1941 . . . This announcement follows the decision of the Panthers to have the Western Conference govern its athletic policies . . . At that time Major John Griffiths agreed to look into the Pitt situation and check upon it as he does the Big Ten members . . . This game between the Gophers and the Panthers will be the first since 1934 when Minnesota's unbeaten team defeated a great Pitt eleven in one of the greatest battles of the year . . . Both schools are known far and wide for their football squads and this renewal of their rivalry should provide for some more great battles between the two schools . . . We wouldn't be a bit surprised to see Pitt announce games with other Big Ten schools during the next year . . . Pitt is a desirable opponent under Western Conference rules.

Hull Has Little Chance for New Mark . . .

Jimmy Hull scored 11 tallies as the Bucks defeated Michigan Monday night, but he has a very, very slim chance to beat Jewell Young's Big Ten record of 184 points for one season . . . Jimmy has a total of 149 points so far and he needs 36 points against Purdue to beat Young's mark . . . This is a virtual impossibility for one evening's efforts and Master James will have to be content with just winning the individual scoring crown . . . He has already surpassed his own Ohio State mark of 134 points for a Big Ten season and any points he scores from here in will be added on to his own mark . . . It's too bad Hull had to miss the Iowa game because of that flu attack . . . That game cost him an excellent chance to score a lot of points, for Iowa had a poor defense that night . . .

Peppe Sees Defeat . . .

Mike Peppe has been doing a little thinking lately about the forthcoming Big Ten swimming meet at Purdue and all that he can see ahead is defeat for his Buckeye swimmers . . . Michigan's all-around team strength looks too tough for the Scarlet tankers in this meet . . . The big difficulty being that none of the other schools have anything in the way of men who will cut in on Michigan's strong points . . . The National Collegiate will be another matter though . . . Here Michigan will not be so strong as the Bucks in competition against the nation's best college talent and the Bucks should come out on top . . . This would mean a reversal of the standings of last year when the Bucks won the Big Ten title and the Wolverines nosed them out in the National Collegiate.

TIDBITS 'N STUFF

By RAY RICKLES

Here's a record for some future, or present for that matter, Ohio State athletic star to shoot at . . . Eddie Bickle, present assistant basketball coach and football scout, won five freshman numerals while at Ohio Wesleyan . . . He then went on to take 12 Varsity letter awards . . . His sports were basketball, baseball, track, tennis and football . . . The Buckeye wrestling team is badly depleted for its homecoming match with Indiana . . . Rudy Meyer, Tony Montanaro, Glenn Griffith, George Beshara and Don MacIntyre are all on the sick list . . . Coach Spike Mooney has hopes for some, but it is sure that Montanaro, who has won four and lost one to date, is sure to be missing . . . Hope they are all in top form for the Big Ten meet March 10 and 11 at Chicago . . . If you're baseball conscious and like to pick up some of the finer points of the game ask Coach Fritz Mackey to show you one of his pets . . . It's a trick slide, that we guarantee is a honey . . . Incidentally Coach Mackey has followed the custom inaugurated under Floyd Stahl's regime . . . That is he gets in the batting cages and tosses them up for the boys to bite at . . . Still on baseball . . . Wayne Wright, the new assistant baseball coach, has gained the confidence of all the boys . . . They've labeled him o.k. . . Reports have it that the Buck frosh track squad is a pretty tough outfit . . . It has won two telegraph meets to date . . .

PHI KAPPA GOES FORWARD IN I-M FINAL PLAY-OFFS

Phi Kappa's pledges advanced a round in the Class III I-M elimination finals by eking out a thriller over Beta Theta Pi 23-22 Monday night. The game was closely fought throughout and it was only in the last minute and a half that the final outcome was decided. The losers had a 14 to 12 lead at the end of the first half but were unable to hold out. Reeder of the winners was high point man with 13 markers. Kurmat and Keku led the losers with six points each.

In a low scoring game Delta Tau Delta defeated Delta Chi 15 to 11 to move forward in the Class II division. The game was featured by air-tight defenses of both teams, each team having only four goals. The winners took the lead at the beginning with two foul shots and were never headed at any time. With four minutes to play in the game and Delta Tau winning 15-3, Dagenhard of the losers went on a scoring spree and looped in four consecutive long shots from mid-floor. It was as pretty an exhibition of shooting as has been seen all season. Martin led the winners with eight markers.

Alpha Sigma Phi won over Phi Mu Delta in an interesting game 28-15. The winners led from the start and left no doubt as to which was the better team. Kohl with seven buckets was high man for the winners and the game.

Phi Beta Delta won the Class III active championship as a result of a forfeit. Kappa Sigma failed to show up.

Harrison House Victors

The Harrison Club, a colored aggregation favored to win the independent championship, stepped over another hurdle by defeating the Chemists Club 17-12. It took a last four minute rally to give the colored lads a victory. With the score knotted at 9-9, three fast buckets were made to clinch the game. Woods led the winners with four baskets.

The Basin St. Blues also advanced in independent play, trouncing the Tower Club No. 5, 34-25. The winners had only a 10-3 lead at the end of the first period but began to find their stride midway in the last half and won going away. Lesk was high man for the winners with 13 points, while Cavanaugh led the losers with eight.

The Rangers walloped the Buckeye Club No. 3, 39-14, and advanced into competition with the Harrison and Basin St. Blues outfits. They led from the start and had no trouble in winning. Tranz of the winners had 12 points.

Shannon Wins

Sam Shannon, one of the favorites in the University table tennis tournament, won a flight championship by winning four straight matches Monday evening. He went straight through the games without losing a game. He defeated William Woosley in the last round.

FORMER DEAN WAS TRACK MAN AND GRIDDER

Former Dean Arant of the University law school and recently appointed to a judgeship in the Circuit Court of Appeals, has won recognition for something else besides law. Back in the good old days of 1907, '08 and '09 he starred in football and track for Alabama University.

His activities on the gridiron were directed toward playing tackle and guard. He seemed to be rather small for a lineman, his weight never scaling over 162 pounds. When asked if he was hampered by his size, he replied that he was the second largest man on the squad. The quarterback was the smallest player on the team, tipping the scales at a mere 115 pounds. Compared with the behemoths of today, the team was quite puny.

He is still an ardent football fan and he sees whatever games he can. He doesn't agree with the old-timers who call today's game a "sissy sport." In his time anyone who played without a nose guard was considered mad, he said.

The dean ran the mile for the track squad and was on the Varsity polished style, but the Bucks were able to hit the hoop consistently and that, after all, is what counts.

Bob Lynch, senior guard, captured the evening's scoring honors by tallying 12 points on six field goals before personal fouls forced him out of the game. Captain Jimmy Hull, who bagged 11 points, slipped back into second place in his quest for Big Ten individual scoring honors as Lou Dehner of Illinois completed his collegiate cager career by garnering 19 points against Chicago and amassing a total of 151 points for the season.

But Hull, who has 149 points, still has another game to play and now is virtually certain of winning the individual scoring championship of the Western Conference.

Scarlet guards watched Tom Harmon, Wolverine scoring leader, so closely that after sinking a free throw to open the game's scoring he was unable to tally another point. Ed Thomas, senior guard, paced Michigan with nine points.

CO-ED SPORTS

By

MARDELLE KLEINMAN

It seems that basketball still reigns supreme these days, even on the women's side of the field. There's news of last week's festival, the end of the tournament and plans for an interclass tournament.

The festival proved so popular that they have to have two senior, two junior and two sophomore teams. The results were as follows:

Senior second team 29, Junior first team 14.
Faculty team 22, Senior first team 13.
Finals and semi-finals in the tournament were to have been played this week, and if the flu doesn't get everyone down, it still may be done. The champion will be selected from the four group winners. In the first group there is a tie which will have to be played off before the final eliminations. That will be between the Satellites and the Scarecrows. Winners from the other groups are, Kappa Alpha Theta, II; Oxley Hall, III, and the Berries, IV.

Purdue Quintet Tops Hoosiers 45-34; Will Be Here on Saturday

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—(UP)—Purdue, the fallen champion, became the key team in the Big Ten basketball race today after plunging Indiana into a first place tie with stubborn Ohio State.

A stunning 45 to 34 Purdue victory shattered Indiana's nine game winning streak last night and this week end the underdog Boilermakers move on to Ohio State intent on another upset.

Both Indiana and Ohio State have won nine of their 11 games and need victories Saturday night to clinch at least a share of the championship. While Purdue is playing Ohio State, Indiana tackles Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Bob Lynch, junior guard, and Captain Jimmy Hull scored 23 points between them to lead the Buckeye attack in a 42 to 28 rout of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Bucks Coast . . .

The Bucks coasted to victory after building up an 18 to 12 margin at half-time. Hull's 11 points gave him a season total of 149, two less than Pick Dehner of Illinois, who completed his collegiate career against Chicago Monday night by scoring 19 points.

Michigan was never close to Ohio after the opening minutes and the Bucks throttled Tom Harmon, the Wolverine sophomore star, with one point for the evening. The second half was a rough-and-tumble period with both teams passing wildly, but the Bucks had the best shooting eyes.

It was a rough game in Purdue's packed field house Monday night and Purdue was the aggressor. The Boilermakers were faster and fought harder and it showed on the scoreboard right from the start.

Led by Bob Igney, who scored 11 points, the Boilermakers stepped to the front at the end of the first half, 21 to 17, and clinched the game with a seven-point spurge in the last four minutes, while holding Indiana to three.

The 49 to 26 victory over Chicago was Illinois' eighth in 12 games and clinched third place, although Purdue can tie for third by defeating Ohio State and Chicago.

Other Games . . .

Iowa 41, Northwestern 26—Iowa bounced out of the cellar with a surprisingly easy triumph over the Wildcats. Northwestern, victor over Illinois Saturday, was a heavy favorite but faded quickly under the punishing pace of the Hawkeyes. Captain Ben Stephens, who scored 11 points, started the early Iowa rally which extended into a 24 to 3 lead before Northwestern began to click.

Wisconsin 35, Minnesota 25—The badgers evened up for their earlier defeat at Minnesota through the effort of Dave Dupee, veteran forward, who was making his last home appearance for Wisconsin. He dropped in four field goals and eight free throws.

If it can successfully stand up under the rigorous schedule its coach, Captain Strickler, has outlined, then the team will uphold the pre-season predictions and be worthy of the name champions.

The complete schedule, just released, of the remaining matches follows. For the weeks ending:

March 4—Wisconsin, Cornell.
March 11—Yale, Princeton, Utah, University of Missouri.
April 1—Saint Bonaventure.
April 8—University of Florida.
April 15—Kentucky State Teachers, Stanford.
April 22—Michigan State, Illinois.
April 29—Xavier, Harvard.
May 6—Purdue.

Alpha Phis Will Have Formal Friday Night

Co-Op House Has Valentine's Party; Mortar Board Girls Plan Sunday Night Supper

By MARTHA ANN HINKLE
Society Editor

This week end promises an influx of formals and parties, and today we tell you about the Alpha Phi plans. That sorority will hold its winter formal Friday night at the Fort Hayes Hotel, with Paul Decker and his orchestra providing the music for dancing. Harriet Sage is social chairman of the affair, which is scheduled to last from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Co-Op Party

Here's belated news about the "Belated Valentine Party" the members of the Co-Op house at 220 West Tenth Avenue held last Saturday night. We don't know why the affair took place so late in the month, but evidently the motto at that house is "better late than never." To which we heartily subscribe, if it means a party!

Sor-ree!

The Phi Epsilon Pi pledges are upset because we insisted they were to entertain the A.E.P.I. pledges last Saturday. They don't think the latter pledges are pretty enough, and anyway it was the Alpha Epsilon Phi pledges all the time. As if we didn't know they entertained a sorority and not a fraternity! Our apologies to all three of you groups—we're sorry our Greek threw us.

Toymakers

Members of the Toymakers' Group of the University Women's Club will meet at 11 a. m. Wednesday at the home of Miss Myra Hitchcock. Mrs. Jerome Williams and Mrs. Edward Warner will be assisting hostesses at the meeting.

Sunday Night Supper

Mortar Board, encouraged at the success of its first Sunday Night Supper, will hold another at the Pi Beta Phi house this Sunday evening. The supper will be from 5:30 to 7:30 and, as you remember, members of the senior women's honorary will do the food-preparing and serving. You can get tickets from any member, and you'd better get 'em soon... it's going to be quite a party!

Back Again

And that winds up today's edition of the society column. We were a bit worried for a minute... Judith Smilack, who subbed for us Monday, dug up so much news that there was practically nothing left for us, we thought... And, come to think of it, it wasn't flu that layed us low—it was mumps, we insist!

YCAW Meets Wednesday

The Youth Committee Against War will hold its next meeting at 8 p. m., Wednesday, March 8, at the Indianola Student Center. The organization is now in the process of reorganization.

"The report of the Committee on By-Laws of the Graduate School, as given below, was adopted.

By-Laws of the Graduate School

1. The Graduate School shall consist of (a) a Graduate Council, (b) an Executive Board, and (c) a Dean.

2. The Graduate Council shall be composed of the President, the Dean and twenty-five or more members of the University Faculty to be appointed by the President in consultation with the Dean. Each member of the Graduate Council, except ex-officio members shall be appointed for a period of three years and shall, for one year after the expiration of an appointment, be ineligible for reappointment. The Council shall constitute the policy-making body of the Graduate School. It shall lay down general regulations for the government of the Graduate School, including requirements for degrees offered, standards for admission, approval of graduate courses and curricula, and programs of graduate students.

3. The Executive Board shall consist of seven members and the Dean, who shall be ex-officio a member and chairman. Four members of the Executive Board shall be appointed by the President in consultation with the Dean, the first four to be appointed for four, three, two and one years; and thereafter the member chosen each year to be appointed for four years; and three shall be elected by the Council from its membership. The four members of the Board to be appointed by the President shall be members ex-officio of the Graduate Council. The Dean shall consult with the Executive Board in the administration of the Graduate School and in the disbursement of Graduate School funds.

4. The Dean of the Graduate School shall be appointed by the Board of Trustees upon the recommendation of the President, acting with the advice of the Graduate Council. 6. The Dean of the Graduate School shall be jointly responsible with the Deans of the colleges and the chairmen of the departments for recommendations for appointment or promotions in rank or salary of faculty members offering graduate work or acting as advisers to graduate students.

7. The Graduate Council, in consultation with the chairmen of the departments offering work in the Graduate School, shall be responsible for fixing the minimum qualifications for those members of departmental staffs who may offer work in the Graduate School.

8. Since the department is the unit of University organization for instruction and research in a definite field of learning, the departments offering graduate work shall confer with the Dean of the Graduate School in all matters related to graduate work. In all matters pertaining to teaching load and adjustment of personnel, the Dean of the Graduate School shall consult with the dean of the appropriate college.

The members shall elect their own Chairman and Secretary annually. Vacancies shall be filled by election by the Faculty for duration of the unexpired term.

This Committee shall prepare a list of nominations for membership of each Council, Board and Standing Committee of the Faculty and shall submit the same to the President with the recommendation that he make the appointments suggested. The Committee shall maintain records of service of each person upon each Council, Board and Standing Committee and in making its recommendations shall consider among other matters the duration, frequency and efficiency of such service and shall endeavor to make an equitable distribution of Committee appointments so that over a period of years the opportunities for service, the responsibilities and the burdens shall be shared as evenly as possible. The Committee shall report its activities to the Faculty at the November meeting each year.

It is further RESOLVED: That the Rules of the University Faculty be further amended by the Committee on Rules whenever necessary to effectuate the purpose of the preceding paragraph.
