OSPA Considers Change

Forum Gets Recognition Upon Campus

By Kris Harley

The Dissent forum was granted official recognition by the Council on Student Affairs last night.

A CSA committee met recently with Norman Clary, president, and Dr. Mary Young, adviser, to discuss the Forum's recognition. At this time the Forum's spokesman said they plan to hold open meetings and to have the president prepare press statements on discussion meetings.

THE PURPOSE of the Forum is to "promote discussion of national and international social and political issues within the framework of independent, democratic socialist opinion."

In connection with the Forum's recognition CSA reread the Speaker's Rule which states that those persons who are subversive or whose views do not contribute in some way to the University's educational program are not acceptable as campus speakers. The responsibility for inviting guest speakers to campus functions is held by the faculty adviser. (Rules 21:01 and 21:09).

CSA asked the Social Board to accept a modification to Chaperone Rule 7.4 This would add Graduate Residents to the list of qualified chaperones for residence hall social functions.

THE NEW Social Board constitution as presented to CSA by Assistant Dean of Women Ruth Weimer, was approved with the exception of Article V—Membership.

The Council recommended that Social Board add the men's residence hall program director to the membership list, and delete the requirement that the men's and women's program directors serve alternate two-year terms on the Board.

NEW STRUTTER—Leonard Hart, a junior in the School of Music, will be the Marching Band's drum major for 1959-60, Band Director Jack O. Evans announced last night. Hart was assistant drum major during the 1958-59 scholastic year and has been a member of the band for three years. During his freshman and sophomore years he played the cymbals.

Ohio House Kills Proposed Bill To Restrict Admissions

By Myron Belkind

The selective admissions bill was killed for this session of the Ohio Legislature in a scant three minutes and thirty seconds last night.

By a 15 to four vote, the House Education Committee voted to "indefinitely postpone" house bill 341.

THE PROPOSAL, sponsored by Rep. Robert Reckman (R-Hamilton), would have abolished the present law requiring the six state universities to accept all Ohio high school graduates.

The motion for indefinite postponement was made on recommendation of an education sub-committee by Rep. Carl Long (R-Champaign). There was no discussion on the bill last night.

Before the meeting, Long told the LANTERN that he felt there are many students who do not realize their true capabilities until after coming to college.

LONG IS THE SAME Representative who introduced a resolution in the House Tuesday asking Ohio State to work for renewal of the Rose Bowl pact.

Divisional Representation May Be Basis of New Party

By Vern Frame

The Ohio Students Party Associated last night established an organization which may in turn eventually establish a united Greek-Independent political party.

After two hours and 15 minutes of haggling OSPA passed a motion to set up the committee of 50 for better student government.

This committee acting as a subordinate branch of OSPA will accept any campus individuals as members to discuss the chances of setting up a political party where representation will be based on divisions. Divisions consist of dormitories, Greek letter organizations and rooming houses.

At the first of the meeting it was proposed by the party leaders that OSPA be abolished and directly replaced by the proposed Greek-Independent political party.

This proposal did not pass because fraternity members felt it would be too big a jump if entire houses were to lose identification with a political party.

This argument arose because the proposed Greek-Independent party would be organized on the basis of individual membership.

In the argument heard for the establishment of this party many representatives realized that the growing dormitory bloc will spell eventual independent power. The voting power of 4,000 dorm dwellers will overpower the potential Greek electorate.

"We can't forever stay oblivious to this growing power," said Byron Kennard, past Student Senate president. "We must incorporate into one party both Greek and independent voting power. The prestige lacked by the United Students Association in two former failures at trying to establish a new party will definitely be found in this combined Greek-Independent endeavor."

Ag Students Have Feast

One of the highlights of this year's all-ag review and barbecue, Thursday, May 14, at Plumb Hall, will be the honoring of the retiring faculty in the College of Agriculture.

The following members will be introduced during the program and presented with certificates of recognition:

T. V. Armstrong, assistant professor of dairy technology; Mrs. Eunice Kochheiser, supervisor of the School of Home Economics; Miss Esther McGinnis, professor of home economics; Everett P. Reed, associate professor in agronomy;

Miss Eunice Ryan, associate professor in home economics; John A. Slipper, professor of agronomy; Miss Eve Turnbull, associate professor in home economics; Charles J. Willard, professor of agronomy; Chauncey E. Wilson, extension service.

NEW TELEPHONE NUMBER

University Hospital's new telephone number, AX-4-4848, goes into effect Friday, May 15.

Hospital officials have urged Columbus area residents to record the new number in their telephone directories.

The purpose of the number change is to provide more efficient service for incoming calls and to help meet problems of hospital expansion.

Painter, Physicist To Receive Honorary Degrees From OSU

Prof. Ralph Fanning

A noted Ohio watercolor painter and a Nobel Prize-winning physicist will receive honorary degrees from Ohio State University during Spring Quarter commencement exercises beginning at 9 a.m. Friday, June 12.

The doctor of human letters degree will go to Ralph Fanning, emeritus professor in Ohio State's School of Fine and Applied Arts. Dr. Polykarp Kusch, professor of physics at the Columbia Radiation Laboratory, will be awarded a doctor of science degree.

THE DEGREES, among the university's highest honors, will be presented by Robert N. Gorman, chairman of the Ohio State Board of Trustees. The ceremony will be held in Ohio Stadium.

Dr. Kusch received the Nobel Prize in 1955 for his study of the magnetic moment of the electron. He is an internationally recognized authority in the field of atomic and molecular beams.

THE PHYSICIST joined the faculty at Columbia University in 1937. During World War II, he was a research and development scientist for Westinghouse, Bell Telephone and the War Research Division of Columbia. Dr. Kusch is a fellow of the American Physical Society and a member of the National Academy of Sciences.

Well known for his watercolors of Ohio State scenes, which hang in many campus buildings, as well as for his paintings of a variety of other subjects, Professor Fanning taught art history at Ohio State. He is the author of a number of books and articles on art, architecture and art history. He has painted also in England, France, Israel, Egypt and Mexico.

He started his teaching career as an instructor in architectural design at the University of Illinois in 1914, and joined the faculty at Ohio State in 1921 as an assistant professor in fine arts history.

PROFESSOR FANNING was acting chairman of the New York University art department in 1947, visiting professor to the University of Georgia in 1951, and has held a Fulbright Professorship at the University of Cairo, Egypt. He retired from active teaching duties at Ohio State in July, 1956.

He holds a bachelor of architecture degree from Cornell University, and master's degrees in history and architecture from the University of Illinois.

Dr. Polykarp Kusch

Wilting Roses

The Rose Bowl fracas, already blown into fantastic proportions, took on a more ridiculous aspect this week when a resolution to urge Ohio State to continue participation was introduced into the Ohio Legislature.

A quick check yesterday showed that there have been 1,123 bills introduced to the House, 468 introduced to the Senate and several resolutions introduced per day.

With such important issues as Governor DiSalle's budget and tax program still unsettled, it seems a waste of time and money discussing (1) a "dead" issue, (2) an issue which outwardly challenges a decision of the Ohio State administration.

Rep. Carol Long (R-Champaign) explained the purpose of the resolution: "Personally, I felt that the Ohio State action on the Rose Bowl game did not truthfully reflect the feeling of Ohio State alumni nor the people of the State of Ohio whose support maintains the University."

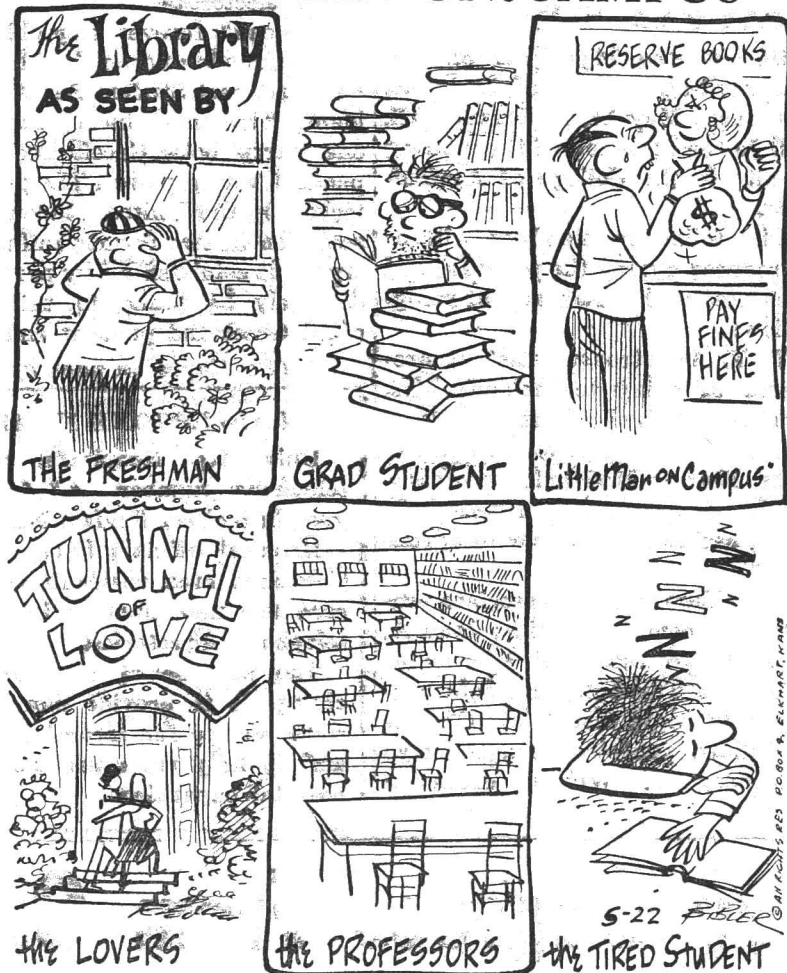

This statement, along with other published gripes attacking the Ohio State administration, seems to follow a basic pattern—an apparent confusion of values.

Is the main impetus behind contributions to the development fund an assurance of good football tickets, the Rose Bowl and control of administration policy?

If the answer to this question is yes, perhaps, a de-emphasis of the University's athletic program is in order. What is paramount at this University—education or athletics?

The whole situation is beginning to look like a bunch of little children pouting over being spanked. One of the first points of sportsmanship is involved here. Why can't we be good losers? —J. W.

Expert Suggests Newlyweds Rent Furnished Nest

CHICAGO — (UPI)—Newlyweds would do better to begin married life in a furnished apartment than to buy their own furniture, says interior decorator Sam Sorkin.

"WE'VE found that without exception, their needs, desires and ideas about furniture change dramatically after the first few years of marriage," he said.

"Things that impressed them as brand new newlyweds are of absolutely no interest to them three to five years later."

SORKIN, WHO has worked as an interior decorator in the Chicago area for more than 30 years, conceded that this idea would not be popular with sociologists. They, he said, recommend that young people do things which bind them together. Buying furniture is an excellent example.

"But it makes economic sense to avoid furnishing a home until they understand one another," he added.

FAILING THIS, Sorkin believes the young couple should keep their home-furnishing spending to "an irreducible minimum for the first four years or so of married life, until they find out where they are going."

Do-it-yourself furniture would be Sorkin's next choice; after a furnished apartment. Husband and wife can work together in choosing a color scheme and finishing unpainted furniture, and still keep their home-furnishing budget near the minimum.

Readers Are Disgusted with Student "Un-American" At Corps Day Review

To the Editor:

To those students who saw fit to mock and slander the recent ROTC Corps Day Review, I send my condolences. I wonder if the mockers would still be "ribbing" had similar corps of trainees been their sole salvation against hordes of enemy invaders, over-running their families, friends, and neighbors and destroying the institutions they once knew. No, they would be lamenting and imploring rather than squirting ROTC officers with squirt guns.

ARE NOT some of the individuals who march each year through the varied insults of Corps Day going to be vested in the future with the preservation of the mockers' future. Do the mockers help their morale by throwing paper wads at them?

Would they still aim paper wads at this ROTC officer, I wonder, if they knew that some day this officer might be the thin human shield between an enemy missile and their children? Would the mockers aim their paper wads at the missile aimed at them, to ward it off?

I AM NOT a member of the advanced ROTC program at Ohio State, and I am cognizant of its many limitations. I read Look magazine's comments on the qualified graduates of Annapolis and West Point who forsake military careers for business. I know many individuals, as qualified as they are, who do not enter the Ohio State ROTC program. I see the apathy here, I read about Russia, its strong military and its expansionism. I wonder about my country's military future.

To the mockers I send condolence. With their rotten attitude we may all lament in the future. And the mockers, of course, always lament the most.

Soviets Want Neat Clothes

PARIS — (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev may have opened up the floodgates when he urged the Russian people to dress more smartly in Western-type clothes. The Christian Dior Fashion House will show them how.

The Soviet Trade Bureau quickly responded to Khrushchev's hint and asked the House of Dior to stage an all-out Western fashion show for the Russians in Moscow, June 12 to 16.

The French quickly agreed. Dior official Jacques Rouet, just back from Moscow talks, said that Muscovites were eager to get tickets for the show.

Some 12,000 Russians were expected to see the show during its run at a worker's club in Moscow and another 2,000,000 on television. Khrushchev, himself, was expected to let nothing short of a Summit Conference stand in the way of attending the gala preview at the French embassy in Moscow.

"They asked us to show them everything," Rouet said. "Loungeing clothes, cocktail dresses, evening gowns—everything."

To the Editor:

I would just like to make a few comments about the activities of some of the supposedly mature students during the President's Review on Thursday, May 7.

Although it is to be expected that there will be a "select few kiddies" who will harass the review participants to a certain extent, it is nevertheless carrying matters too far when these individuals begin former kindergarten practices of throwing beans.

It evidently wasn't providing them with enough enjoyment just throwing at the Army, Navy and Air Force cadets, so they began "zeroing" their bean barrage on the Color Guard.

I have always been under the impression that an American respects and honors the American Flag. Those individuals must not be of the same opinion and therefore I can only show the utmost contempt for these so-called "Americans."

I only hope that this exhibition was a spur-of-the-moment thing. Most of us fail to think and use common sense now and then. However, if this wasn't the case, and it was an organized plan, then any disgrace which may befall them is no more than what they deserve.

Howard Webb Ellis,
ROTC Color Guard.

Organize . . .

To the Editor:

Since I have been associated with the University, I frequently have thought that perhaps it would be well for non-teaching staff members to socially organize.

Perhaps the feeling is shared with me that while, on the one extreme, the local sandwich shops, the Ohio Union bowling lanes, poolroom, and other activities therein are not appropriate for us to recreate, dine, and shop talk, our entitlement to the comforts of the Faculty Club, on the other hand, leaves us standing in the middle of nothing.

It seems reasonable that we should remain in our own little category, and therefore, have our own diner, lounges, et cetera.

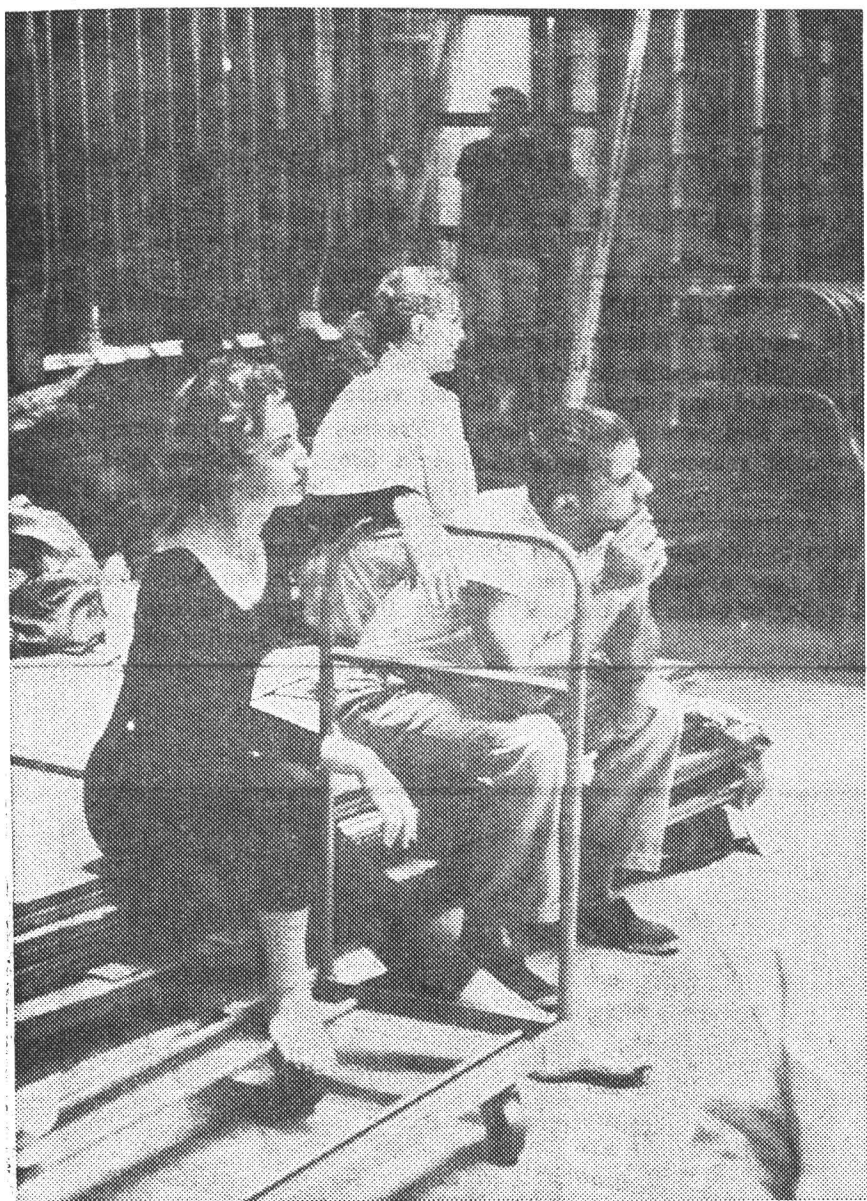

I am interested in the response this may draw and shall be happy to either receive calls on Ext. 301, or have other non-student and non-faculty personnel express their opinion in the LANTERN.

Robert L. Kelley,
Engineering Placement.

COLLECTORS' ITEMS

NEW YORK (UPI)—We are becoming a nation of savers and restorers, collecting relics as squirrels gather nuts in autumn. So says C. J. Nuttall, president of the annual New York Antiques Fair.

"Twenty, fifteen, even ten years ago," he said, "it would have been hard to find in antiques shows such items as old-time kitchen utensils, paperweights, Civil War belt buckles, Samurai swords . . . dolls. It is safe to say that no matter what it is, someone collects it."

First American Space Man on His Own

WASHINGTON — (UPI)—The first American space man will be on his own. There will be no automatic control from the ground which can take over operation of his satellite.

This was disclosed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in a briefing for the Aviation Writers Association. The briefing dealt with the training program now being followed by the seven military men selected to operate the first American manned satellites.

ANIMALS WILL be used to test emergency escape procedures to be built into the satellite launching vehicle, George M. Low, chief of the NASA man-in-space program, said.

But he said that the first man aimed for an orbit will hurtle spaceward without having first tested the escape measures himself.

He said that was in line with procedures currently used in new aircraft where pilots do not test ejection seats. Their first use of an ejection seat is in a real emergency.

THE CAPSULE now being built as a manned satellite will be boosted into orbit by an Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile. Provision is made to blast the capsule loose from the missile and let it down by parachute if something goes wrong on launching.

Asked if there would be any way to take over control of the satellite from the ground once it was in orbit, Low said that would "defeat our purpose." The capsule will have controls which can operate automatically and can be taken over by the pilot.

He said the first orbiting American would circle the globe probably three times and then, somewhere over the Pacific, near California, would be told to re-enter the atmosphere. About 2,800 miles later he would alight in the Atlantic.

OSU Vice-President Handles $63 Million Per Year

How would you like to handle the transaction of $63 million a year?

Vice-President of Business and Finance, Gordon B. Carson, estimates that this is how much his office handles a year.

Carson's job is divided into two major divisions: (1) fiscal planning and maintenance of accounts and (2) operations.

IN THE "OPERATIONS" area, Carson has all of the problems that a city manager has for a city of 30,000 people.

"What may be surprising to many people," says Carson, "is that the University operates its own police force, road repair gang, refuse collecting department and incinerator, water and sewer lines, street lights, traffic lights (and even fire plugs), largest central heating system in the city, and a transportation business (bus system, railroad and airport.)"

In the "fiscal planning" area, Carson calls his office the "watch dog of University funds." The state auditor audits all of the books, he says, but the University also does internal auditing of all University accounts. Every department has a separate account number.

THE BUSINESS and Finance Office makes out a budget every two years. "We must maintain surveillance over the money we have," says Carson, "and also predict purposes for which it will be used."

Actually, everyone gets paid through the Business and Finance Office, but the personnel is divided into two major classifications: (1) faculty and research and (2) "classified personnel," which indicates that it is under Civil Service, or parallel to Civil Service.

Lewis C. Stephens, who is director of personnel for the "classified personnel" division, reports directly to Carson's office.

THE BUSINESS and Finance Office handles all sources of income. They are:

1. Appropriations from the state.
2. Loans from the Federal government for dining halls and living facilities.
3. Other half of funds for dining halls and living facilities obtained from bonds sold on the open market.
4. 110 accounts for securing gifts.
5. 46 accounts for departmental earnings such as the farm, hospital clinic, Mershon, engineering experimental station.

6. 35 accounts for commercial activity (dorms, dining halls, airport)
7. 257 accounts for endowment (student aid, fellowships, department research).
8. 235 accounts for research grants, teaching and student activities.

Operations of the University are the responsibility of the Business and Finance Office, Carson says, "it's our job to get the buildings built and then to make sure they stay there."

Kerr Heads Illini Meet Hopes

By Bob White

(This is the fourth in a series of seven articles previewing the Big Ten track scene in preparation for the Conference meet on May 22-23.)

George Kerr of Illinois will be the big contender for the 440 and 880 yard crowns in the upcoming Big Ten meet on May 22-23 at Michigan. Kerr has run the 880 in 1:47 while anchoring an Illinois relay team. This is one of the fastest times ever run at this distance.

Last season Kerr placed second in the quarter and third in the half in the Conference meet. In the past indoor meet the Illini speedster copped second in the 440 behind Ohio's "Jeep" Davis, and was runner-up to Wolve Tony Seth in the 880. Ted Beastall, Kerr's running mate, was third in the indoor 880.

BRYAN GIBSON will be the top Michigan runner in the quarter. Mike Johnston could pick up some points for Indiana in this event. Earl Dearsdorf placed fourth for Michigan last year in the 880 and he is back for another try. Bob Hughes is tops for Michigan State in the half-mile.

Buck captain Ted Storer and Dick Strayer are tops in the middle distances. They run near 48 seconds and 49 seconds in the 440 respectively. Strayer also runs the 880, his best time being close to 1:54.

Dick Payne, like Strayer, runs both the quarter and the half. He has hit 49 seconds and 1:55 respectively. Dan Maloney is the other Ohio middle distance runner. He rounds the track once in 50 seconds. This foresome makes up the Buck mile relay team, which has clocked 3:18 this season.

THE QUARTER mile Big Ten record seems to be far out of reach as indicated by performances thus far. The mark of 45.8 seconds was set last year by Glenn Davis. This is also the official world's record.

If Kerr concentrates on the 880, he should be able to crack the 1:50.3 mark set last season by Michigan's Dave Lean. Illinois has the top team in the mile relay. They will have to do a lot of running to break Indiana's record of 3:11.7 set last year.

Stickmen Lose in Overtime

Playing in a drizzling rain, Ohio State's lacrosse team dropped an overtime thriller to Ohio Wesleyan yesterday on the Buckeyes' field.

The lead changed hands four times, and Wesleyan almost had the game wrapped up when they led throughout most of the fourth quarter. Then with 30 seconds to go, Ohio State attackman Bob Schwyn tied the game at 6-6, and they led 7-6 when the final five-minute period began. Wesleyan's Dave Schmidt scored his team's winning goal with three minutes left in the second overtime. Schwyn scored again for the Bucks, but they were still behind 8-7, and before they could get any more goals, the game ended.

The Buckeyes were led paced offense by Bob Schwyn with three goals and Dan Cheney with two. Ohio State defensive standouts were defensemen Joe Berwanger and Henry Douglas, and goalie Butch Kirchner.

Score by Periods: OSU— 2 - 1 - 2 - 1; first overtime, 0; second overtime 1; final 7. OWU — 1 - 3 - 0 - 2, first overtime, 1; second overtime 1; final, 7.

Scoring: OSU goals — Schwyn (3), Cheney (2), Mercer, and Magee. Assists: Hickman (2). OWU goals — Fry (2), Schmidt (2), Cain (2), Wilson, and Jantz. Assists: Cain (2), and Wilson (2). Goalie's saves: OSU— Kirchner (16), and Barrows (5). OWU— Mitchell (20).

THE "MALE-STROM"

MONTH'S BEST QUOTE: "And now a word from the President of the United States . . . 'FORE!!'"

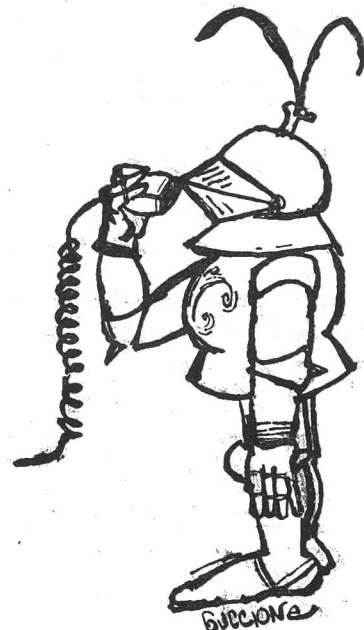

FASHIONS: With the rapid change in clothing styles for men, the news in shoes has been somewhat neglected. The new fashions afoot have given clodhoppers of yore the boot. While men's suits are busy adopting conservative continental styling, shoes have remained intrinsically American. For the campus flexible leather soles, a squared-off toe and finished in neutral leather tones, is great. It affords rugged wear, masculine styling, while also suggesting dressy sportswear . . . For those black-tie evening affairs, either the four-eyelet, black oxford shoe of textured and smoothed-grain calf, or a good pair of plain black cordovans should do the trick.

NEW TO THE MARKET: Men, do you have a beard like iron? Do you shave twice a day and sometimes at night? Relax. The first completely adjustable electric shaver, developed by the Remington Rand Electric Shaver Company, has revolutionized shaving . . . The "Roll-A-Matic" features a "roller control panel" which can be adjusted to shave from the toughest of beards to the tenderest of skins . . . The unlimited settings of this remarkable Remington make for a real close shave without sign of skin irritation.

WHAT SOPHOMORES SHOULD KNOW: The Teen-Ager Lipstick Corp. has recently come out with a new Elvis Presley Lipstick. Endorsed by the gyrating idol, the shade is hound-dog orange . . . Keep your knitted ties rolled up in your drawer — hanging will stretch them . . . Here's some "off the collar" advice. You can remove powder and make-up from a shirt by rubbing the spot lightly with toilet water . . . As for lipstick, try sponging the spot with carbon tetrachloride.

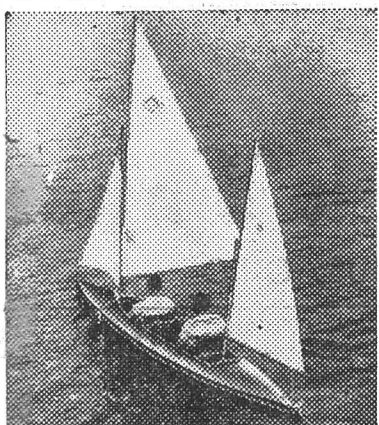

I CAN SEE IT NOW: Situated on a lovely corner lot, the local psychiatrist's house, with a sign on the lawn reading: "Please, walk on the grass."
