New Housing Contractors To Get Nod

The Council of Business Affairs will recommend to the Board of Trustees today that Garwick and Ross, Inc., be appointed general contractor of Steeb Hall construction.

This Columbus firm submitted a bid at $1,266,500, the lowest below the estimate by the University architects.

Including electricity, plumbing, elevators, heating and ventilation, the total amount in contracts which will be recommended is approximately $1,800,000. The total contract estimate by the University architects was $2,150,000.

In appearance and furnishings, Steeb Hall will be nearly identical to Park, Smith and Stradley Halls. Garwick and Ross, Inc., was also the general contractor for these buildings.

Along with the Steeb Hall contract the Council will recommend that Baker and Coombs, Inc., be awarded a contract for the married students' housing. It will be located on the southwest corner of Olentangy River Rd. at Ackerman Rd. Baker and Coombs, Inc., submitted a bid of $1,177,700 against an estimate of $1,531,956.

Tours Offer 'Last Look'

Foreign students wishing to travel in America before returning to their homes can receive assistance through Council on Student Travel's "Farewell Look" program.

Foreign students and American students who are considering foreign travel are invited to talk with Alec Lambrinudi today, said Miss Ruth Bailey, International Students Adviser.

THE PROGRAM offers a number of pre-arranged tours or assistance to individuals or groups planning special trips. The program also provides special trans-Atlantic shipboard discussions with other foreign students.

Ship passage accommodations are offered at a minimum cost on comfortable tourist-class ships which travel to either North Atlantic or Mediterranean ports. All sailings feature the shipboard discussion and evaluation programs.

Students in need of financial assistance in order to travel before going home can apply for scholarship grants, whether they choose a listed travel program or plan their own.

The program is sponsored in conjunction with the National Association of Foreign Student Advisers. Further information is available at the International Students' Office.

PETITIONS AVAILABLE

Petitions are now available in the Student Senate office, Room 327 of the Ohio Union, for the position of non-law justice. They must be returned to the Senate office by Monday, April 13, at 4:00 p.m.

'Penny-a-Minute' Night Set

NOW YOUNG MAN—This young man got carried away with Penny-a-Minute Night. All residents in women's housing units will be permitted to stay out until 1:30 a.m. Saturday night, provided their dates pay one penny for each additional minute. Collection boxes will be placed in each housing unit. Jim Tedrow is bringing his date, Phyllis White, in slightly after the time limit. He is given a reprimand by Mrs. Marie Meyer, house-mother.

Commerce Dinner Plans Completed

The Commerce College and Commerce administrators have completed plans for a scholarship recognition dinner and program.

It is scheduled for 6 p.m. April 15 in the Franklin room of the Ohio Union.

Thirty members of the Commerce student body have been invited and each will be presented with a certificate in recognition of outstanding scholarship.

To be eligible, the student must have completed six quarters and have an accum of over a 3.5.

Japanese Prince, Commoner Wed

TOKYO — (UPI) — In exactly 15 minutes of Oriental pomp and splendor, Japanese Crown Prince Akihito shattered 2,619 years of tradition today by marrying his commoner sweetheart, Michiko Shoda.

Under ancient Shinto ritual they became husband and wife at the precise moment she sipped the rice wine. From that point until she ascends the throne with her husband she will be known as "Her Imperial Highness, Crown Princess Michiko."

Rumble in the Ranks . . .

Over-Motivated(?) Cadet Blasts Off, Fists Swinging

Seen an out-of-uniform Air Force ROTC cadet having a private chuckle? Officials of the program would like to know.

The fellow caused quite a rumble in ROTC ranks Wednesday.

Just as ROTC members grouped for drill, a sloppily uniformed cadet, wearing white sweat-shirt, socks and a yellow shirt, fell in with the flight.

"Atten-hut!" snapped the cadet officer.

Yellow shirt pushed back his hat and lit a cigarette.

The cadet officer turned red — moved in for the kill.

He quickly noticed that the cadet also needed a shave, had his blouse unbuttoned and wore non-regulation shoes — ample material for an object lesson on the "character, ability and attributes essential for the development of an officer."

AT CLOSE range, his eyes searched out the offender's name tag, tell-tale link to the military world. It said "Canyon!"

The cadet officer turned white. "You're out of uniform, Mister," he thundered — or words to that effect.

"DROP DEAD," said yellow shirt. (Some said he shoved his superior.)

By this time the cadet officer was blue. But inbred military manners held him in good stead. He called the sergeant in charge.

A more experienced demonstration of military manners followed. YELLOW SHIRT left the ranks. But now he was mad. He took a swing at the sergeant.

Several Air Force officers came flying to his rescue.

THE SERGEANT gave chase. "Let him go, let him go," hollered a captain. "You've got his name, haven't you?" he asked.

The sergeant hit a brace, "Yes sir, yes sir," he said, "It's Canyon, sir."

O' somewhere, cadet "Canyon" is laughing, laughing, laughing . . . but for how long?

College Dean Says Choice Is Necessary

By Al Brown

Continuing growth of the nation's college population has brought a need for selective admissions.

McGeorge Bundy, dean of arts and sciences at Harvard University, told an Ohio State audience yesterday, "Since 1945, the situation has changed sharply. We had to abandon the notion that we could tighten the screws of academic judgment to limit an incoming class. The problem of choice was forced upon us."

AS AN EXAMPLE, Dean Bundy cited the Harvard process of choosing applicants for admission. A committee drawn from the faculty and administration goes over each application.

Along with the completed application form, they study a machine-punched card which includes: (1) Rank in high school graduating class; (2) College entrance test scores; (3) Whether or not the applicant's father attended Harvard; (4) Father's occupation, and (5) Parent's income, as reported on the application form.

The committee then proceeds to act on collective judgement.

"If there is any doubt in the minds of the committee toward an application," Dean Bundy added, "the student is usually given the advantage."

He said that in the last academic year, Harvard had 4,000 applications for admission. Of these, 1500 were accepted, and 1100 reported for classes.

At the present time the Ohio legislature is considering a bill that, if passed, would standardize the admission policies of the six state-supported schools. It has the support of President Fawcett and officials of other state-supported schools.

As it now reads, House Bill No. 341, would allow the individual boards of trustees to prescribe an entrance examination. Presently, any Ohio resident, who is a High School graduate, may be admitted to one of the universities without an academic examination.

Finalists Picked For Space Flight

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Seven eager candidates to be the first American to orbit the earth were named today. Each grinningly proclaimed that he was confident of returning safely if fate hands him the honor.

The seven, all crack military pilots, also told a jam-packed news conference their wives and families were 100 per cent behind their participation in the government's effort to hurl a manned satellite into space sometime in 1961.

Families of the nation's seven prospective spacemen felt the glow of pioneers Thursday. They said they were immensely proud — if a little fearful — for their kin.

Cigaret Vapor Stiffens Arteries, Scientist Says

BOSTON — (UPI)—A Boston University scientist reported that there's something in cigaret vapor that may stiffen lung tissue and arteries—prematurely aging them.

The something, said Dr. F. Marott Sinex, is "acetaldehyde." He said it is produced by the combustion involved in smoking.

THE SAME something, he told the 135th national meeting of the American Chemical Society, is found in polluted air.

"It also is produced by metabolism of alcohol and may," said Sinex, "explain why heavy drinkers sometimes suffer liver damage."

Sinex said the stiffening apparently is associated with changes the acetaldehyde causes in protein in tissues. He said it may be compared to what happens to leather when it is tanned. The more it is tanned, the stiffer it becomes.

THE SCIENTIST arrived at these conclusions by working with tendons from a kangaroo's tail and the neck of an ox.

The kangaroo tail tendon, shipped in from Australia's wild bush country was put in a tube of water, and cigaret smoke was directed into the tube.

The scientist said the kangaroo tendon in water alone normally would shrink 20 times faster than it did in the solution of acetaldehyde from cigaret vapor.

THE LONGER the shrinking process, according to Sinex, the stiffer the tissue. Old tissue takes longer than young tissue to shrink because it is stiffer, he explained.

The apparent stiffening induced by the acetaldehyde in cigaret vapor may explain why there are reports of decreased longevity among smokers, Sinex said.

He and his associate, Barbara Faris, put the ox tendon to a stretch test. They found that the tendon exposed to the cigaret vapor product was twice as hard to pull as was tendon not exposed.

DR. SINEX said: "These results demonstrate that tobacco smoke contains a substance which is capable of reacting with a specific protein, collagen. By inference, acetaldehyde would also react with other proteins, enzymes and cellular structures, altering their properties and interfering with their functions.

"Acetaldehyde is a small molecule and should readily pass from the lung into the circulation."

Sinex said that compounds such as cysteine are capable of reversing the "tanning action" of cigaret smoke.

Civitas . . .

To the Editor:

Why? This is the question I'd like to ask. Why aren't independent men interested in joining together in a fellowship which could provide them with: entrance into campus activities of their choosing; with opportunity to be of service to their university; with opportunity to participate in intramural sports; and with social activities?

AM I TO suppose they aren't interested in these things. That is ridiculous! The majority of red-blooded American males are interested in these types of proceeding.

Do they not wish to have a voice in campus politics? Do they not realize that no independent representation is left to them on Student Senate, the body in campus that should represent all students?

ARE THEY ALL so lethargic that they don't get aroused when they realize that student government is run exclusively by Greek oriented individuals? Would they not like to belong to a group whereby they could achieve this representation as well as achieving participation in the other areas mentioned above?

Or is it that they don't know such a group exists? One does. Civitas by name. It meets Monday nights at 7:15 in room 329-B of the Ohio Union. Anyone interested?

Campus Humor

A recent Newsweek examination of the campus humor magazines concluded that "the campus humor magazine seems to be the one enduring if rudely buffeted, institution in an educational world where modern and complex times have forced drastic changes."

Cited were several instances when such magazines were highly censored, editorial boards forced to resign by school administrations and in particular a case presently occurring at the University of California. The humor magazine's editor, R. R. Irvine said, "I am, at the moment, under threat from the administration for what it terms objectionable material. For example, in the February issue was an article advocating the practicability of establishing a campus betrothal, a parody of Swift's 'A Modern Proposal.'"

"The administration complained that the parody could be taken seriously and quoted out of context." He concluded, "If our colleges are steeped in fear, then where is intellectual freedom to come from?"

The article explains that many such publications have been killed by official fiat because young writers and editors may not have learned the bounds of good taste. This good taste is apparently hard to find since these writers are caught between the administrations' natural conservatism and their own irrepressible irreverence.

On this campus, we have what we feel is an excellent humor magazine, the Sundial. This year the Sundial has been presenting clever stories ("Mr. Ohwessyo" in the April issue), jokes and art work.

At no time will jokes, cartoons, satire and pictures be considered the same by everyone who reads them. A vulgar joke to one will be rather funny; to others not so funny. But where is the line to be drawn? Who should be satisfied?

According to Thomas J. Machura, editor of the Dartmouth humor magazine, today's undergraduates are disgusted with the present world situation. He feels this disapproval "provides a fertile atmosphere for satire, which is essentially an attack."

Newsweek says that perhaps for this reason college humor has refused to die. They say, "It may well be that an age of acute self-consciousness will be unable to produce men like the old-timers who could turn the obvious and everyday into the stuff of humor."

At Ohio State there should be no trouble turning out those who could turn the obvious into humor. For the Sundial has produced clever, exciting work. Ohio State's administration appears to have an open mind on college humor. Though they may cringe at times, it is doubtful if they would create pressures on student editors to accomplish a conservatism of thought.

Humor is the way it is. Suppression would only bring rebellion. Rebellion leaves a bad taste. We should be proud of the Sundial and its interpretation of college life. We should be proud that the hand of the administration does not fall too hard on the campus press. This campus enjoys a freedom evidently not present at many other schools.

Rays Ravage Lusty Flies

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reports "good progress" in the campaign to eradicate the screwworm, a serious livestock pest in Florida and the Southeast, through a kind of birth control method.

Eradication is being accomplished by saturating the natural screwworm population with male flies rendered sterile by exposure to radioactive cobalt.

The eradication program is a cooperative effort among the department's Agriculture Research Service, the Florida Livestock Board and state agencies in Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina and Mississippi. Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana also are working closely with the program.

Dr. Robert S. Sharma, a department veterinarian, credited the campaign with greatly reducing the number of screwworm cases in an area where thousands used to be reported each month in warm weather. The department said the reduction represents savings of millions of dollars to livestock producers.

The sterile males are released at the rate of 200 to 800 per square mile weekly over most of the infested area. During 1958, about two billion of them were sent into Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

"MOTHER KNOWS BEST"

ITHACA, N. Y.—(UPI) — Most adolescent girls buy the theory that "mother knows best."

A Cornell University survey of 194 girls in the ninth and tenth grades indicates that they follow their mothers' advice more than just doing what their friends do.

Buckeye 9 Meets Musketeers

By Dayton Todd

Still wondering who is going to be "that consistent pitcher," Marty Karow will send right-hander Tony Drobnick against the Xavier Musketeers at 3:30 this afternoon on the Buckeye diamond. Tomorrow it will be Butch Seitz and Carl Unger or Dale Denny on the hill in a double-header beginning at 1.

Even after last week's sweep of a double-header, and a win and tie at French Field House, Karow is still skeptical about his pitching.

"We still have a problem," Karow said yesterday. "They (Kent State) hit Drobnick pretty hard in the early innings — and Seitz was a little wild. That may have been because he hasn't been out there enough."

SEITZ WALKED five batters in beating Kent State, 5-2, but the hard-throwing sophomore also struck out eight in seven innings. Drobnick gave up six hits in as many innings, and allowed no runs or bases on balls.

Unger may get the nod in one of Saturday's games, but thus far the senior southpaw has not come up to Karow's expectations. He may be coming around, though, Karow admits. He started throwing more over-hand under the coach's insistence in an intra-squad game Wednesday, and turned in a fine job.

At other positions, Karow was a little less reserved.

"WE FEEL THAT our catching and first-base problems are solved," he said. "Whiz (Jim Wiezbiski) hit real well for us last week, and although he needs a lot of work around first-base, he should do the job. We can't count out Gary Haverkamp on the first-base position, though — he was our best hitter all last season, but he just can't get going."

Rod Davis is still nursing a pulled leg muscle, and may be forced to relinquish his second-base chores to Bob Stearns. There isn't much difference in the hitting potential of the two, but Davis has the edge defensively.

RIGHT-FIELDER Dale Hampshire promises to do his share of the hitting for the Bucks. Much to the happy surprise of his coach, the Columbus product has been busting the ball at a .391 clip this spring. He has power too, last week rapping a home run, triple, double and single in seven times at bat.

"A year ago he couldn't hit," Karow said. "He hit just .162 last season, but we've had him cut down on his swing and he seems to be watching the ball better."

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

All those interested in tennis and golf intramurals must register in room 250 at the Natatorium on or before next Tuesday.

Intramural softball play in both the slow-pitch and regulation divisions will get underway Monday on the fields behind University Hospital.

MIXED SWIMS will be held on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Natatorium. The swims are open to students and the faculty and their families.

Additional information on all of these activities may be obtained by calling or visiting the intramural office in the Men's Physical Education Building.

LACROSSE PLAYERS — Above is Ohio State's first midfield who will start against Denison tomorrow. In the game with Columbus Lacrosse Club last week, the three combined for five goals and three assists. Left to right are: Bill Magee, John Mercer, and Dan Cheney. Cheney and Mercer are co-captains, Mercer was an all-midwest and honorable mention All-American selection on defense last year, but was switched to midfield this year to help the Buck's offense. All three are seniors

Top Track Stars Expected To Perform in Ohio Relays

By Phil Rohr

Saturday, April 18, at Ohio Stadium, one of the biggest track spectacles in the state will take place.

This "spectacular" will be the annual running of the Ohio Relays, under the direction of Ohio State head track coach Larry Snyder.

Track fans will be able to see some of the best track performers in the nation in action all in the same afternoon. Teams from the surrounding areas and the nation will be able to participate.

IN ADDITION TO the teams, there will be unattached and club entries, e.g. the Ohio Track Club, Glenn Davis, etc.

One probable unattached entry who will be of particular interest to Ohio State track followers will be the presence of the incomparable Davis.

Glenn, who finished his college athletic career last quarter at Ohio State, will be returning once again to the scene of some of his greater triumphs. This will be one of the few times that fans will be able to see Davis in action before the Olympic trials come up.

DAVIS WILL probably run the 440, but the other events that he will participate in have not been determined yet.

A complete list of the team and individual entries will be available next week and will be published in the LANTERN.

Ohio State will be entered in the team division. They have had no competition since the trip to Texas two weeks ago and most of them are ready and anxious to see what they can do against some top performers.

THE RELAYS will give Coach Snyder and his assistants a better chance to evaluate the team, and if they perform well, the coaches can look forward to the upcoming Big Ten battles with more anticipation.

The Buckeyes were originally scheduled to participate in the Quantico Relays tomorrow, but Coach Larry Snyder has decided to pass this meet up. Instead, the Bucks will continue to work out in preparation for the relays.

In its first league game of the season, Ohio State's lacrosse team will meet Denison tomorrow at 2 p.m. on the Ohio State field.

Starting tomorrow, all lacrosse games will be played on the soccer field, east of the varsity baseball diamond. This new field is in better condition than the old one behind the hospital, and should be a better location for spectators.

IN TWO GAMES with Denison last year, the Bucks won at home and lost at Denison. This year the Big Red should have a good team, since several of last year's lettermen are back.

Denison's main advantage over the Buckeyes will lie in the strength and experience of their substitutes. The boys from Granville have a larger team than Ohio State, chiefly because they manage to get more boys who have played the game before they came to college, and are more interested in lacrosse. Denison is also allowed to let freshmen play on varsity teams.

On the other hand, the Buckeyes, the only Big Ten lacrosse team in the league, are not allowed to let freshmen play in organized competition.

OHIO STATE will be able to give the Big Red a good game if their conditioning is good enough to make up for their lack of substitutes.

Coach Howard "Skip" Knuttgen will probably go with the following starting lineup: Attack—Bill Hickman, Bob Schwinn, and Bob Shoemaker. Midfield—Dan Cheney (co-capt.), John Mercer (co-capt.), and Bill Magee. Defense — Wade Schulte, Henry Douglas, and Joe Berwanger. In the goal for the Bucks will be Butch Kirchner.

Hot Buckeye Tennis Squad In Dual Meet

By Dan Davis

The Buckeye tennis team carries its impressive 3-1 record into a triangular meet tomorrow afternoon with Kenyon College and Southern Illinois University on the University courts.

Last Wednesday the Bucks easily smashed a highly regarded Cincinnati team by a score of 7-2 for their third victory. The eight man squad appear ready to carry out Coach Hendrix's pre-season threat of a "highly successful" season.

THE LORDS of Kenyon do not appear to be a big threat to the Bucks' young record; they were beaten 8-1 by Cincinnati, Ohio State's last victim. "We don't anticipate much trouble with them," said Dr. Hendrix. "Southern Illinois is our chief problem."

Almost the entire SIU tennis squad is back from last year's team which won the IAC Conference championship. The Spartans are led by a highly successful number one doubles team of Capt. Jim Jarrett and Ron Underwood. The duo boasts a 6-1-1 slate this spring.

The Spartans have enjoyed several successful seasons under Coach Dick LeFevre, but only last year reached their peak. He now has six of that squad's seven lettermen back.

TOMORROW'S MATCH will be played in pro-set style rather than like most triangular matches. That is, it will be more like three separate matches, each team playing both other teams. In any particular event there will not be three sets, but just one, consisting of eight games rather than of six.

Six single men and three doubles teams from each school will still compete. For instance, Ohio State's

Bucks May Scrimmage Saturday

By Jack Wittenmeier
Sports Editor

Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes, anxious to see how his freshman gridders will perform under fire, hinted that the Buckeyes might undergo their first scrimmage of the spring tomorrow at the sixth practice session.

Hayes, who had previously suggested that the Bucks might hold off game contact until later in the drills, wouldn't deny the possibility of a scrimmage after his players left the field Wednesday.

The promotion of the All-Ohio gridder, whose powerful running form is likened to that of the Bucks' bruising fullback, Bob White, was just one of the many switches pulled by Hayes as he Larry Biederman will play one pro-set with the Kenyon representative and one with the Spartan's man, each worth one point.

The Bucks will again host the weekend triangular match on the South tiers of the tennis court nearest the Men's Gym. Starting time is 1 p.m.

If the Bucks show up as good as they did Wednesday, particularly in the singles, they should pick up their fourth and fifth wins.

Statistics released from the publicity office this week reveal the fact that only seven juniors with previous game experience are included in a squad of 80 grid candidates.

Faced with this personnel problem, his greatest since 1951, Hayes must constantly shift his players both team and position-wise.

This spring period is a time of testing for the Buckeye coach to determine the best mileage he can achieve from his football machine.

When Hayes can fit 11 pieces of his football jig-saw puzzle together into a winning combination, a basic problem will be solved.

Only returnees Jim Houston, Bob White, Jim Tyrer, Ernie Wright and Jerry Fields are set in their respective positions. At this point in the drills, the other six berths are wide open.

Coach Hayes has 16 more chances to determine who will fill these six vacancies when final preparations for another Big Ten dog fight get under way next fall.

Summer Study Programs Announced by IIE

The Institute of International Education has announced that 15 summer study programs, in 13 cities, are being conducted in Italy during the summer of 1959. Many of the lectures will be given in English. A variety of courses is offered, including: genetics and ecology; Italian language, literature, history, and civilization; history of art and music; archaeology (with visits to archaeological sites); science; politics; and instrumental music, voice, and related subjects. Information about these and other programs in Europe, Canada, the Near East, and Latin America may be obtained in the International Students Office, 112 Administration Building.

Announcing Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation Scholarships

The Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation offers annually scholarship awards to worthy students at both the graduate and undergraduate level. In reviewing applications, preference is given to seniors and to students in the field of education, although this does not limit consideration of students of other ranks or areas of study. A special award is available in the field of physical therapy, speech correction, occupational therapy, or in the teaching of handicapped children. Major consideration is given to financial need.

Awards vary in amount according to need. Undergraduate awards do not exceed $300. Graduate awards may be greater in certain instances. Grants are made on an annual basis, but may be renewed upon written request.

Applicants must maintain a scholastic average of B or better in all college work and must have the highest character recommendations from the personnel of the college they are attending.

Application blanks are available in the Dean of Women's Office, 216 Pomerene Hall, and from the Zeta Tau Alpha Central National Office, 708 Church St., Evanston, Ill. Applications must be submitted before May 15. Applicants are notified by July 15.

Memorandum for 15th Annual Staff Recognition Dinner

Sample Settings To Be on Display

Scarlet Mask Society will have on display tomorrow at the north-east tower of the Stadium, a sample stage setting of the type to be used in the May Week Carnival.

The Society is building the sample setting, to give all groups and organizations who plan to enter the carnival, an idea of what to build, how, type of material to use, and the estimate cost.

It will be on display from 10 to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Members will be on hand to answer any questions.

Vandewater Poetry Prize

Poems in competition for the Vandewater Poetry Prize should be submitted at the office of the English Department, 115 Derby Hall, on or before April 30th. Conditions of the award are published on Pages 27-28 of the Bulletin of the College of Arts and Sciences. Each poem should be signed with a fictitious name and identification should be filed in a sealed envelope with the poem or poems submitted. All students, graduate or undergraduate, now in residence are eligible to compete.

PRE-MEDICAL FRATERNITY

Any pre-medical student who has attended Ohio State for five or more quarters and who has a cumulative point hour ration of 3.00 or better may be considered for membership in Alpha Epsilon Delta, the National Pre-Medical Honorary Fraternity. Persons who meet these qualifications, and who are interested should attend a special meeting for all prospective initiates in room 122 of Hamilton Hall at 7:00 p.m. on April 15.

MUSIC RECITAL

There will be a faculty chamber music recital in Hughes Hall auditorium at 8:15 p.m. today.

Sponsored by the School of Music, the recital will feature contemporary music.

Angel Flight Coeds Add 10 New Women

The 24 girls of Angel Flight have blown out the candle on their first anniversary cake and are now inducting 10 new fledglings to their ranks.

A full dose of Air Force activities await the girls from trips to Lockbourne Air Force Base and Wright Patterson Museum to rifle shooting.

FANCY FOOTWORK is the next event on the agenda as the feminine troops form ranks for their yearly taste of drill in the President's Review of ROTC units on Corps Day, May 7. The girls do not appear in drill competition, but each is drilling with AFROTC Cadet Lts. Gunn and Joseph as technical advisors.

TV Religion Series Begins

The Ohio State Advisory Board for Religious Affairs will sponsor a six-week discussion series, "Face the Problem." It will be broadcast over WOSU-TV beginning April 27.

A panel of three campus religious leaders will discuss these topics with different guests. Serving on the panel will be Rabbi Harry Kaplan, Hillel Foundation director; Ewald Bash, director of the Lutheran Student Center and Father Richard Walsh, director of Newman Club.

The panelists will discuss "Inter-marriage," "Segregation," "Alcohol," "Censorship," "Return to Religion," and "Is the Campus Hostile to Religion?"

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Supreme Court yesterday dismissed an appeal by two women hoping to join 6,000 males as regular students at Texas A&M.

A corps of coeds sponsored by the AFROTC and Arnold Air Society, the group originated with a baker's dozen girls chosen to promote better relations among the corps of cadets, to act as official hostesses for Arnold Air Society and AFROTC and as a campus service organization. The girls in blue are also on active duty as receptionists in the Air Science offices.

NEW MEMBERS sporting the Air Force blue uniforms and satin-lined capes are Rosemary Osborn, Ann Williams, Pat Hana, Jo Dill, Mary Lee Corder, Lottie Neff, Linda Warner, Liz Meyer, Roz Sklenicka and Martha Kline.

Former commander, Nancy Greenwald, was the first University coed to receive the Angel medal for outstanding service.

Music Students To Give Third Concert of Series

The first event of the School of Music's Spring Quarter festival of music series is a concert by the Symphony Orchestra at 8 p.m. Sunday at Merston Auditorium.

This is an annual affair in which students of the School of Music are invited to solo.

Conductor George Hardesty, selects all 70 members of the orchestra by auditions, and they are either seniors or graduate students. Featured soloists for this concert are Walter Myers, Ed-4, Marilyn Thompson, Ed-4, and Roger Jamison, Ed-4.

Myers, who will play the trumpet in "The Quiet City," by Copland, has studied with Forrest Stoll, Richard Suddendor and Samuel Krauss at Ohio State. He is also a member of the Concert Band, the Brass Choir, and the University Orchestra.

Miss Thompson will be featured* in the "Hungarian Fantasia for Piano and Orchestra" by Liszt. She is a pupil of George Haddad. During the past year she has served as president of Delta Omicron, and vice-president of the Women's Glee Club. She also plays the violin.

Jamison will play "Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra" by Franck. He has appeared in New York with the Symphonic Choir, and has formed a two-piano team with Robert Mumper.

THE WEEK'S NEWS IN REVIEW

Compiled by Jaan Kangilaski

Still Coming Soon

Since both the original Berlin deadline (May 27) and the coming foreign ministers' conference (May 11) are still a long way off, the whole crisis seemed to be quietly fading out of the public mind.

The various Western governments told the world that they were almost agreed on what they would say to the Russians when the foreign ministers met at Geneva. Very little was said about the "areas where disagreement still exists."

These were presumably the same old thing—whether to take a "rigid" stand against Russia, or whether to use a "flexible approach." The final position will probably contain facets of both approaches—but in what proportion?

Lineup Change?

Last week's events must have given heart to both sides.

In America, it looked as if Secretary of State John Foster Dulles would definitely go back into action for the Geneva talks.

Meanwhile, Konrad Adenauer, the West German Chancellor, suddenly announced that he was going to resign.

This raised a storm of comments.

Russians, who have been regarding Adenauer as "Soviet Enemy Number One" claimed that he had been driven out by members of his own Christian Democrat Party because of his "rigid" position on reuniting Germany through Western-style free elections. The West German Socialists said the same thing.

Adenauer is sure to be elected president of West Germany. This job has been strictly a figurehead affair up to now, but "Der Alte" has said he intends to change that.

He also told the world that Bonn's foreign policies won't be changed one bit under the next chancellor, whoever he will be. Several prominent Christian Democrats are regarded as having almost equal chances. The Russians hate most of them almost as much as they do Adenauer.

Real War Now

The Tibetan war showed no sign of let-up. In fact the news that the Dalai Lama had reached India and safety was said to have put fresh heart in the Khamba tribesmen who have been fighting the might of Red China for over three weeks.

The nationalists set up a provisional government in southern Tibet and declared they had liberated an area inhabited by 500,000 people. (Estimates of the total Tibetan population vary from 1 to 6 million.)

As the Dalai Lama continued on his way to New Delhi, his Chinese puppet successor, the Panchen Lama, flew to Peiping to confer with the Chinese leaders. He arrived in Lhasa only last Sunday to assume the role of civilian ruler of Tibet.

Reports from both Peiping and India indicated that the war was still going on. But while the Chinese referred to the "bandits," the Indians spoke of "a small country paying the ultimate price for aspiring to independence."

Side Glimpses

Radio Peiping reports that the Dalai Lama was in such poor health he might die at any moment were flatly denied by the Indians. The Indian government also denied rumors that the Dalai Lama would be asked to leave India as soon as possible.

U Nu, former Premier of Burma, who is visiting Nehru at the moment, has already invited the Dalai Lama to his country.

Denunciations of Red China continued to pile up.

Chinese Nationalists continued telling the world that the fighting in Tibet was only the first part of Chiang Kai-shek's return to the mainland.

Home News

Meade Alcorn, national chairman of the GOP, resigned. At week's end, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky was cited as the likeliest successor for his thankless job.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said that there were two occasions in the last nine months when the United States almost started shooting and added that this might still happen over Berlin. The other two crises he was talking about were Lebanon last summer and Quemoy last fall.
