Sororities Open Doors

COME ON IN—This is the greeting that will welcome the new freshman and transfer women to the Panhellenic Fall Open Houses this weekend. The Open Houses will give the women an opportunity to become acquainted with the twenty-one sororities on campus. They are not, however, a prerequisite for formal rush in January. Each party will last for twenty-five minutes and school clothes will be the appropriate dress.

Senate Gets Nowhere In Rule Battle

By Vern Frame

The parliamentary rule book and points of constitutional interpretation almost blocked Student Senate's legislative channels last night.

President Kay Wagner rapped her gavel eight times during the two-and-a-half hour meeting to quell the confusion which raged about two separate constitutional amendments.

THE 42 senators spent almost an hour trying to define an amendment dealing with absences from both Senate meetings and commission.

The amendment was titled, "Senate Meetings." The argument arose over whether a senator would lose his seat after two absences from Senate meetings or if the absence quota also included commission meetings. The amendment was returned to commission.

Two senators were offended during the half-hour argument over Senate's ratification of a part of * Twenty-seven College of Education faculty members sent a letter yesterday to President Fawcett calling for action against landlords who practice racial or religious discrimination, according to Dr. Bernard Mehl, one of the signers.

Dr. Mehl told the LANTERN that "we are a group joining with other faculty members in support of the stand taken by faculty of the department of political science in their letter to the LANTERN on Nov. 3."

THIS MAKES a total of 69 faculty members who have taken such a stand. Twenty-six other members previously sent letters to the LANTERN on Oct. 30.

The letter sent by the education faculty is identical to the one signed by the political science faculty. In part it says:

"There is an immediate step that the University should take in the interests of the fights against discrimination which, by virtue of its being a University, it has of necessity joined:

"Declare formally to all landlords who ask University approval for their rooms that such approval is conditional on their not practicing racial or religious discrimination."

IN ADDITION to Dr. Mehl, the letter was signed by: George S. Maccia, Donald Reichert, H. Gordon Hullfish, Robert B. Sutton, Fred R. Schlessinger, Frederick R. Cythert, Alan Griffith, Lowry W. Harding.

Wilfred Eberhart, M. Eugene Gilliom, C. B. Mendenhall, Margaret Koste, Isabel Miller, Hugh D. Laughlin, Loren R. Tomlinson, Norman Jacobs.

Group Plans Union Dance

Dances from around the world will be featured at the Dance-O-Rama to be held tomorrow night in the Ohio Union by the International Students Association.

The dance, open to the whole campus, is the big event of ISA during Autumn Quarter. It will start at 8:30 and last until 1 a.m.

An international floor show will be presented which will include Greek dances, a French pantomime, American western-style square dance, Korean folk songs and dance, Russian folk songs, West Indian limbo, Arabic songs and dance and Filipino Pandango Sa Ilaw.

Some of the entertainers will be Jajla Hikary of Iraq, Ivan Romanichik, John Holder and Antoine Wilhelm.

Tickets can be purchased from all dormitories, ISA Office in room 325 Ohio Union, Ohio Union ticket booth and the ticket booth on the Oval. They are $1.75 couple and $1 single.

Human Relations Group Will Meet

A general meeting of the Student Senate Human Relations Subcommittee will be held at 4:30 p.m. today in room 329-A of the Ohio Union. It will last until 6.

All interested persons are urged to attend the meeting.

The subcommittee is working for ways to solve discrimination problems at Ohio State.

At today's meeting, the area of discrimination in off-campus rooming houses will be discussed.

Ohio Staters Set Ticket Deadline

Deadline for buying tickets for the Ohio Staters train trip to the University of Michigan on Nov. 21 is 5 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 12.

The trip is to see the Ohio State Buckeyes battle the Wolverines in the traditional game for both teams.

Tickets are $18 each and include football ticket and round trip train fare. They may be purchased from the Staters office on the third floor of the Ohio Union.

The trip is open to all Ohio State students, faculty, administrative personnel and other paid University employees.

Groups of 60 may rent a whole train car. At present, Baker Hall, both men and women, are getting up enough students for a car as are Park Hall and Bradley-Pater-son.

The train will leave from the siding near the St. John Arena at 6 a.m. on Nov. 21. It will leave Ann Arbor for Columbus a half hour after the game.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(UPI)—The United Nations team which investigated the late-summer revolt in Laos is expected to report that it found no evidence that Communist North Viet Nam committed aggression in the fighting, it was learned. The report of the 4-power fact-finding committee was scheduled to be published today. Some details of the report had leaked out last month in Tokyo.

LONDON—(UPI)—The 1959 Nobel Peace Prize has been awarded to amember of the British Parliament. Philip Noel-Baker—A Laborite member—was awarded the $42,000 cash prize by the Norwegian Parliament in Oslo. Noel-Baker is a veteran fighter for world disarmament and international cooperation.

MIAMI, Fla. — (UPI) — Fred Hockett, head of the Florida White Citizens Council, said yesterday he was going to "organize a big Ku Klux Klan" in Miami. Hockett was upset over the refusal of several Negro and white witnesses to cooperate with a state legislature committee investigating the NAACP.

EVANSTON, Ill. — (UPI) — Northwestern University English Professor Dr. Bergen Evans said last night, "my conscience is very clear" over his role in preparing questions for two television quiz shows. Evans, who made $150 a week as Supervising Editor of the questions asked on the $64,000 Question and the $64,000 Challenge, said "I have done nothing wrong."

Ex-Counselor Found Dead

A former assistant to the dean of the College of Commerce and Administration was found dead in a car in the garage of her home Wednesday night, according to Columbus police.

Mrs. Helen Zwick, 53, whose resignation became effective last Saturday, took her own life by carbon monoxide poisoning the coroner ruled.

"WE REGRET very much the unfortunate death, and we regretted it very much when she submitted her resignation," said Dean James R. McCoy, College of Commerce and Administration.

The death was discovered when friends went to Mrs. Zwick's home to learn why mail and newspapers were accumulating, police said. A sweeper hose had been connected from the car's exhaust to a rear window with the car motor running.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, said she may have taken her life last Friday. She left several suicide notes, indicating she was despondent about being alone in the world, he said.

Mrs. Zwick, who resigned for "personal reasons," had been a counselor with the college for several years. She had checked eligibility of candidates for degrees.

Former Dean Walter C. Weid-ler, who worked with her for many years, expressed regret.

Horn Soloist Plays Sunday

Gary Stamm, Ed-4, will be the baritone horn soloist for the University Concert Band's program at 3 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 8, in Mer-shon Auditorium.

Stamm, a fourth year member of the band and a music major, will play solos in "Fantasia di Concerto" by Boccalari. He was recently elected president of the band.

The program, to be directed by Prof. Donald E. McGinnis, includes a new work, "Twelve Tone Blues," composed by John Beck of the theory department of the School of Music.

Several original band compositions are on the program. These are: "Overture for Band" by Felix Mendelssohn, "Lincolnshire Posy" by Percy A. Grainger and "Ingle-sina, Marcia Sinfonica" by D. Delle Cese.

The program is open to the general public. There is no admission charge.

Monday Is Deadline

Student organizations must file their annual report forms in room 304 of the Ohio Union by Monday, Nov. 9. Organization who fail to do this will lose official University recognition.

1959 Student Enrollment up

The University Registrar's Office reported an official autumn enrollment total of 23,260, an increase of seven students over last fall's figure.

The total was also 55 above an unofficial count announced two weeks ago.

University officials said that a final accounting of fee payments brought the total above last year's date.

The 1959 student body includes 16,245 men and 7,015 women. Among the various University areas, largest enrollment was listed for the College of Arts and Sciences, 5,343; College of Education, 4,382; Graduate School, 3,646; and College of Engineering, 2,924.

'The Living End'

Beatniks in the campus area, although few in number, are representing an increasing force. Within the past quarter certain entertainment places surrounding campus have undergone renovations, renovations which are conducive to a Bohemian atmosphere. These changes include dark, smoke-filled rooms, loud progressive jazz and the reading of generally lewd poetry by some bearded member of the beatnik "cult."

The beatnik is a walking protest of all conventional rules of behavior. He mutinies against present day standards usually because he cannot assume the responsibilities which these standards demand. Therefore, he removes these responsibilities by calling himself a beatnik. By donning shabby garb and avoiding razor blades he automatically changes his way of life.

He feels that these changes make him superior instead of inferior as he was before. Now he is interested in far greater matters than those which concern the "inane masses."

The thought that he may be neurotic, warped or weak never enters his mind because this new way of life is "the living end." He is given special, almost reverent-like consideration by those around him.

The beatnik sets up new rules for himself because he is unable to abide by the rules of society. He condemns society for its conformism. Yet he himself is not individualistic. He is more of a conformist than the people he is condemning, for, step by step, he matches the rest of his clan in sloppiness and thought.

The Bohemian attitude has degenerated through the years. Pioneer beatniks were romanticists dedicated to the higher truths of art and nature. They protested only a small number of conventions which they deemed illogical. The modern beatnik, however, denies all middle-class values and dedicates himself to Nothingness.

The modern affiliation boasts a diverse membership. Beatniks may range from the effeminate, flowery type, who contemplate deeply on Zen Buddhism (which holds there is no way to truth except passive contemplation) to the crude, bum-like bawdy type who worships booze, sex and despair.

Beatnik diversions also have a certain degree of versatility. They may range from writing poetry and painting to dancing to Bongo drums and orgies.

Campus entertainment spots which have encouraged this off-beat type of individual are, in essence, supporting their principles. These places generally do not serve alcohol yet they lend support to the antics of beatniks which are far more disgusting than the effects of alcohol.

Let's hope this present fad of Bohemianism passes when people realize its a waste of time to patronize the drags of society who represent nothing more than an adolescent alienation from that society. B. F.

Hanker to Hunker

What will happen next? Time Magazine reports that the University of Arkansas has added another fad in campus antics: "hunkerin'." It means squatting on the ball of the feet for a long time.

The fad, says Time, grew out of a chair shortage in a fraternity house at Arkansas. Hunkerers always hunker together, and girl hunkerers are perfectly eligible. Sophisticates hunker flatfooted.

Real progressives hunker with elbows inside the knees, though this is difficult while drinking beer. Arkansas travelers report hunkerin' has already spread to campuses in Missouri, Mississippi and Oklahoma.

The hunkerers say their main purpose of hunkerin' is to get down and hunker together. It's a social thing. Oh well, it's not any crazier than stuffing people into telephone booths.

University Policy On Off-Campus Rooming Houses Draws Comment

To the Editor:

Dean Guthrie's remarks to CSA on University policy in regard to discrimination in student housing were, of course, not quoted in full in Thursday's LANTERN Nov. 5.

It may, however, serve a good purpose if we call attention to the inanity of his remarks in the form in which they were reported, for we may in that way prompt a fuller and more public statement from the President's Cabinet. The topic certainly has generated enough concern to warrant such a statement.

DEAN GUTHRIE announced that the President's Cabinet rejects the suggestion, made and seconded by several members of the faculty, that the University refuse to approve rooming houses practicing racial or religious discrimination. In his remarks as quoted, he gave his audience these reasons (at most) for rejecting the suggestion:

(1) It is the responsibility of the University to provide adequate housing for all.

(2) With the advent of the new dorms the University has greatly improved the housing situation.

(3) We have never taken the position to refuse to register off-campus houses.

(4) We can't get along without the rooming houses.

THOSE WHO support the suggestion under consideration are well aware of all these points and, I think, admit their truth. But how do they in any way weaken the suggestion?

Point (1) is a frank admission that the University cannot take the stand of pious helplessness described by Dean Guthrie in another quoted remark: "It is well known that the University does not practice discrimination in dormitories and we hope that the off-campus rooming house landlords take the same position." If we are responsible for adequate housing and we know that landlords do not take that position, thereby rendering their housing inadequate by the standards we apply to on-campus housing, then we are wrong to hope when we could act.

Point (2) is, of course, irrelevant, since the facts in the case, recognized by the President's Cabinet, are simply that despite recent improvements in student housing, a serious flaw remains.

Point (3) is an appeal to our tradition of having done nothing about a situation that we admit is deplorable. It seems uncharitable to examine this point further.

Point (4) is the only one that seems, off-hand, to make even the show of good sense. But it does so only by omitting, in the most astonishing way, to take account of the fact that the rooming houses need us. Do the members of the President's Cabinet seriously believe that more than a handful of landlords could afford to give up their University approvals if the conditions of approval were changed as suggested? Apparently they do. And since they are reasonable men, they must have good evidence for this belief. May the rest of us know what it is?

Dept. of Philosophy

Equal Rights . . .

To the Editor:

"We resent anyone's attempt to restrict our freedom of choice." This sentence—from a letter to the Editor on Nov. 4—is not a request from a group of students asking equal rights, but from five students who wish to keep their own status quo.

These five men insist that if all students at Ohio State had equal rights it would be as "un-American as communism." They insinuate that if anything does come from all this rabble-rousing and agitating no real progress will have been made. Isn't this a somewhat unrealistic attitude in the light of progress which has already been made in combating racial discrimination? A look at progress in areas such as academic institutions, the entertainment field and professional sports might show these people that attitudes can be changed.

No one denies these men the right to express their opinions, although they themselves seem to be apologizing for their stand.

Come out from behind your platitudes about "un-Americanism" and your sly allusions toward the rabble-rousing groups on campus and defend your position, boys!

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — More working time was lost because of strikes in September than in any month since June, 1952, the Labor Department reported.

It said the steel strike and other work stoppages resulted in 14 million man-days of idleness.

Greek Problems Are Their Own

To the Editor:

Hats off to you, Mr. McFadden. To my knowledge, your letter represents the first sincere attempt by a Greek to publicly acknowledge that criticism of the Greek system can be constructive. Let us hope that your letter marks the first step toward clearing up a lot of the needless Greek-Independent animosity.

Your basic point—that the Greeks and Independents should arrive at a better understanding in the future—is a sound one for, in truth, both groups can function better if their interests are combined in a common cause. My only objection is to your proposed method of arriving at such an understanding. Theoretically, no doubt, I and other Independents would profit greatly by sitting in on a discussion with you and other officers of the Greek system, but, in actuality, I, as an Independent, have neither the right nor the desire to interfere in your affairs. Since you do not represent a public concern, but rather a group of private organizations, the manner in which you solve your problems is your business.

If it is a misconception that the Greeks are a bunch of "hell" raisers, playboys, party girls, etc., then it is up to the Greeks to correct this misconception. It is not my responsibility or that of any other Independent to assist you or to interfere in any way.

In short, Mr. McFadden, your problems are your problems, and the only time you'll hear from me or any other Independent is when you step on our toes.

Dave Nemec, A-4

EDITOR'S NOTE

It has been called to our attention that a letter printed in the LANTERN on Oct. 28 and signed by Rona Lee Glazer, was not sent in by Miss Glazer.

Miss Glazer was not on campus at the time the letter was sent. Whoever sent the letter used her name, spelling the first name wrong.

The letter was accepted in good faith and we are sorry, Miss Glazer, that it got into print.

We would like to remind our readers that names may be withheld from publication and that it is definitely not necessary to sign someone else's name. Forging someone's name is a serious matter. If you have something to say, own up to it.

GOLFING?

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The White House yesterday sought to straighten out the record on President Eisenhower and whether he played golf in France during the 1944 Battle of the Bulge. It said the fact was he didn't.

Eisenhower, allied commander in Europe in World War II, has been criticized sharply at times in the memoirs of some of his fellow generals.

Viscount Alanbrooke, chief of the British General Staff in 1944, recently added to the stories in a book, "Triumph in the West." He called Eisenhower "a charming personality . . . but no real commander."

Union Candy Salesman Helps 'Sell' University

By Ed Schottenstein

Bruce Baird, who is in his fourth year of agriculture at the University, may be one of the smiling faces you've met across the candy counter at the Ohio Union. Being employed by the Union aids Bruce in financing his way through school and also provides him with innumerable experiences.

While Bruce was cashing checks for a line of anxious students, he commented, "You know, you learn a lot about your fellow man from behind the counter."

"For example, almost all the students are basically honest when you mistakenly give them too much change or when they ask you to cash a check. In effect this makes the job I'm doing much more rewarding in many ways."

Bruce said that when he took the position at the Union, he was told that not only was he a seller of the items on display but also a public relations' man selling the University itself. "I took this statement lightly at first," said Bruce, "but later I began to see what they meant."

He explained that the candy counter was not affiliated with campus information but the requests he got for directions, dates, names and numbers would make one think otherwise. However, each request is met with a friendly smile and a courteous greeting. This way everybody goes home impressed with both the University and its personnel.

THE MANY prevalent magazine on display raised the question as to what kind of tastes the students at the University have. Bruce told me that the largest selling magazines were the intellectual ones, an interesting observation showing that students are more interested in the reality rather than the fantasy of the world's happenings.

If you're ever over at the Union between 12:00 and 3:00, Monday, Wednesday or Friday, drop over to the counter, and whether you want a candy bar or directions to the west ball room, Bruce will be there, waiting for his chance to please.

Four Down . . . One To Go . . .

'Dead-eye' Dave May Boot Record Saturday

By FRANK EVANS
Sports Editor

A 40-year-old record may be booted out of the books tomorrow if Deadeye Dave Kilgore gets the chance to kick another field goal.

Woody Hayes isn't out to break the record—he's only interested in winning the ball game.

IF WE NEED HIM, we'll call on him," said Hayes." But we're not going to change our strategy just to break the record."

Kilgore now has four field goals in five games. This equals the field goals record for one season, set by 'Chic' Harley in eight games in 1919.

Don Southerin, matched Harley's mark in the 1957 Rose Bowl game with his game-winning field goal. Southerin's boot came in this tenth game.

KILGORE, who has scored 16 points so far this season is now the only kicker in the Big Ten's top six individual scorers. Ahead of him are two fullbacks, two halfbacks and an end.

With his four field goals and four point after-touchdown tries, he is presently two points behind Ron Burton, Northwestern, Gary Ballman, Michigan State, and Don Horn, Iowa.

Ernie Godfrey, who first introduced Dave to Ohio State, had plenty of praise for his young kicker.

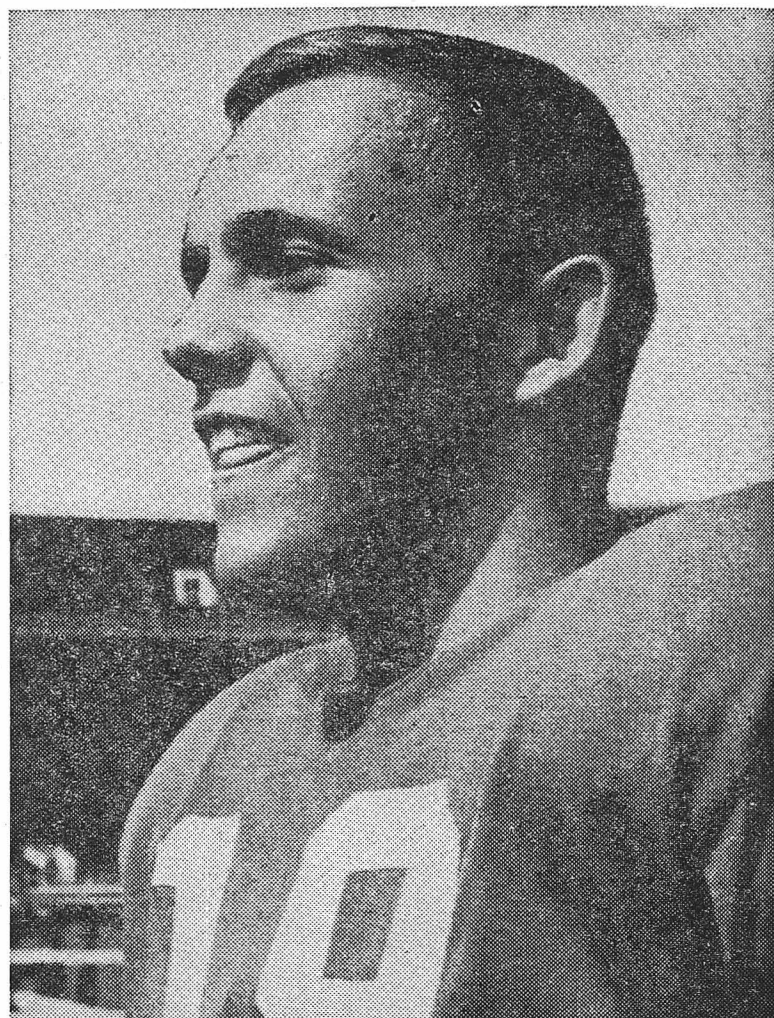

"I first got to know of Dave when he wrote to me from Dayton where he was playing high school football." He was considering attending the Air Force Academy but he was interested in Dental school and we told him that Ohio State ranked with the best.

"RIGHT NOW," added Godfrey, "Dave is as deadly within the 40-yard line as any college player in the country. His high degree of accuracy for a kid his size is phenomenal."

KILGORE, WHO is 5' 9" and weighs 174 pounds, kicked 15 of 17 conversions in 1958. This included an important field goal against Iowa.

If he doesn't crack the record tomorrow, He'll have two more chances against Iowa and Michigan.

If he does crack it—Deadeye Dave will have left his toe print in the Buckeye record book right alongside the mark made there by the immortal 'Chic' Harléy.

DEADEYE DAVE—Dave Kilgore, Ohio State's fine place kicker, could rewrite the record books tomorrow if he connects with a field goal against the Hoosiers from Indiana. Kilgore, now tied with "Chic" Harley and Don Sutherin with four field goals apiece, is no doubt hoping he gets the chance to break the field goal mark. Harléy set the record in 1919 and Sutherin tied it in 1957.

Shakespeare said it this way:
"The smallest worm will turn, being trodden on."
But Miguel de Cervantes beat him to it in "Don Quixote", Part II, Book 3:
"Even a worm when trod upon, will turn again."

"MUSIC HAS CHARMS"

The 17th Century playwright, William Congreve, was the first to set down this classic metaphor concerning the powers of sound and rhythm. You'll find the whole quote in "The Mourning Bride", Act I, Sc. 1:

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast,
To soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak."

"RHYME OR REASON"

Edmund Spenser, 16th Century poet, expected a pension. He didn't get it. So he wrote this rhyme:

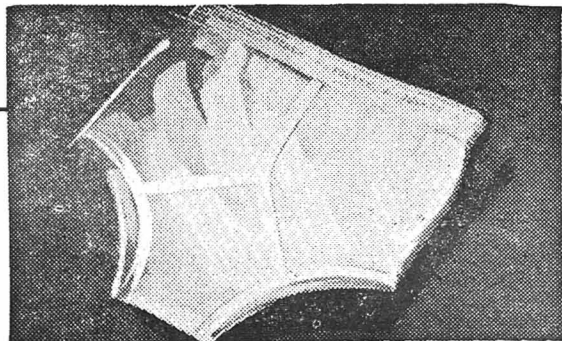

"I was promised on a time/To have reason for my rhyme;/From that time unto this season,/I received nor rhyme nor reason."

Soccer Team Hosts Wolves

Ohio State's varsity soccer squad, winless in their seven matches this year, will be trying to break that skein when they host the Michigan Wolverines tomorrow morning at ten.

THE BUCKS were defeated by Denison, 4-0, in their last outing.

Said Coach Walt Ersing, "We outshot them, but we could not outscore them."

The starting lineup will be as follows: Ken Brown, goal; Art Mayer and Herb Flugin, fullback; Larry Finkenbine, Mohamm Nuri and George Nartsissov, halfbacks; Ed Syron, Warren Kirchner, Pete Park, Bill Henson, and Captain Jerome Kosmider, forward line.

The soccer field is located south of the stadium next to the varsity football practice field.

The Question Box . . .

Fans Rank Bucks Over Hoosiers

How does the man on the street feel about the Bucks' chances of defeating the Indiana Hoosiers tomorrow?

The feeling seems to be that the odds men are right in making the Bucks seven point favorites following their resounding victory over Michigan State.

The fans seem to have a new confidence in the Buckeye's wide open offensive tactics, featuring the accurate passing and timely runs of junior Tom Matte. They are confident that Mike Ingram, Dick Michael, and the rest of the defensive stalwarts will be able to stop Indiana's single wing attack, which so far this year has scored at least one touchdown through the air in each of its games.

Some go so far as to say that the Bucks will finish the season by winning their last three games, although they feel that the games will be close.

The Bucks seemingly will be taking the field tomorrow before a confident crowd, as they strive to make their fans' predictions come true.

Mary Jen Lee, Junior in Dental Hygiene:

"Coach Woody Hayes' team has proved one thing, 'they don't quit.' If Ohio State plays the brand of ball that they showed against Michigan State they should beat Indiana. As far as the games with Iowa and Michigan, let's forget them for now and just worry about Indiana."

Dick Pugliese
Fine Arts

Dick Pugliese, Graduate Assistant in Fine Arts:

"Considering how the Bucks offense jelled in the Michigan State game, I don't think they will have any difficulty in overcoming Indiana. I base this also on the indestructable spirit the team has shown this year, which has enabled them to rise above their coaching."

Betty Holland

Betty Holland, Junior in Commerce:

"I think that we will beat Indiana now that we have found a way to score touchdowns. It will be a close game, and so will the Iowa and Michigan games. I hope the Iowa game is as exciting as the last two were. They could possibly go all the way."

Jack Dameron
Senior, Education

Jack Dameron, Senior in Education:

"We have a darn good chance of winning because of the improvement the team has made and the enthusiasm it has shown. They should do very well the rest of the year but the games will be very close. In the Indiana game we should at least be a 3 to 5 point favorite."

Korean Organization Promotes Friendship

By Sheldon Greenberger
The Korean Students Club, an organization made up of 37 Ohio State Korean students, was chartered on this campus in 1955. Since that time it has worked to promote mutual friendship among our Korean students, and to contribute to the international cultural exchanges at the University.
The group meets with its advisor, Dr. Frank M. Fletcher, Jr., at monthly informal meetings which are usually held away from campus, at a picnic grounds or shelter house.
MEETINGS ARE also held to celebrate major holidays, such as Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Grand Jury Indicts None In Lynch Case

POPLARVILLE, Miss (UPI)—The men who lynched a rape suspect, Mack Charles Parker, last April were almost certain today of escaping punishment by the state.
A reliable source told United Press International that the Pearl River county grand jury of 18 men simply ignored the lynch case during its two-day deliberations, which recessed yesterday.
THE PANEL will reconvene today to present its final report to circuit court, the source said. It is possible, but unlikely, that a later grand jury will investigate the case.
There also is a possibility the federal government will re-enter the case.
Parker was dragged from his jail cell April 25 by masked men and his body, riddled with bullets, was found May 4 in the Pearl River.
THE FBI reportedly named several men as the killers after a month-long investigation, but no arrests were made pending the regular grand jury session which began Monday.
However, the grand jury did not hear the 378-page FBI report, the source said, and apparently did not call for testimony from any of the 60 FBI agents who worked on the case.
The FBI turned its evidence over to the state authorities after it was determined that no federal laws had been violated in the slaying of Parker.
IT WAS announced that the federal government would try to step in with lesser charges against the suspected mob members.
One, who carries a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine, could be imposed on conviction when two or more persons "conspire to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate any citizens in the free exercise of any right or privilege provided by the constitution."

The club tries to keep in contact with other Koreans throughout Ohio, and is also affiliated with the Ohio State Korean Alumni Association, located in Seoul, Korea.
This group is composed of former Ohio State Korean students who have returned to their native country.
PLANS NOW being made by the members include participation in the University's International Dance-o-Rama Saturday night. Also planned for the future is a "Spotlight on Korea" night, to which all students will be invited. Native Korean dances and music will be featured, all accompanied by Oriental instruments.
Newly-elected officers of the club include Kyoman Jin, Grd, president; Chang Min Lee, Engr 4, vice-president; In Mook Lee, Grad, secretary; Yoon Bae Ouh, Grad, treasurer; Kidong Kang, Grad, social chairman, and Bong Ju Shin, Grad, publication chairman.
"We hope that every student, regardless of nationality, who is interested in our group will contact us at AX-1-0693 or AX-1-4211," said Jin.

African Show To Open New Art Gallery

The University School of Fine and Applied Arts will open a new gallery in Hayes Hall on Sunday with a reception from 3-5 p.m. On display will be more than 100 primitive African sculptures from the Olsen Collection of Connecticut.
Refreshments will be served and the public is invited. After the formal opening on Sunday, the exhibition will be on display daily 8-12 noon and 1-5 p.m. and 8-12 noon on Saturdays until Nov. 27. This collection is touring the mid-west for the first time.
The Black Hills of North Dakota are true mountains, says the National Geographic Society.

Amendments

the Freshman Class Council constitution.
SENIOR SENATOR Pat Anderson asked Senate to strike a part of the Council's constitution concerned with representation on the Council.
In opposition to the move, Senator Jim Turner said that the Council had unanimously approved its constitution. He said the motion itself grew out of the fear on the part of some senators that the Council would become entirely controlled by independents.
At least six senators objected to different parts of Turner's speech. One senator objected to Turner's tone.
PRESIDENT WAGNER upheld the objection and told Turner to use no names during his speech.

Stall Senate

Bob Wieland, chairman of the Student Government Commission, was unanimously supported in his proposal to send the question to his commission for interpretation and study.
The Senate's only action was to sponsor an All Nations' Coffee Hour on Tuesday, Nov. 17, in the Ohio Union and to set up a co-operative student book exchange.
The exchange will be set up in the Senate office. It will cost a student 10 cents for each book that he buys through the co-operative system.

Meet a Young Executive on the Champs Elysées

(SHE COULD BE YOU!)

Not long ago this young lady was a college senior. Today, she handles the responsibilities and decisions of an executive in one of the world's largest organizations. Today, she's an Army officer in Paris... a Lieutenant in the Women's Army Corps.
Her professional and social life is busy... exciting... happily balanced.
On duty, this young executive occupies a position requiring education, initiative and intelligence. The high salary and traditional privileges of an Army officer are hers.
Off duty, she enjoys her leisure time. (Free evenings and weekends plus 30 days annual paid vacation.) Perhaps she'll attend evening classes at the Sorbonne. Or make a skiing trip to St. Moritz. Or spend a holiday on the French Riviera. Whatever she does, she'll find a world of fun!
Of course, her assignment didn't have to be Paris. It might have been Heidelberg, Honolulu, Tokyo... even New York or Los Angeles.
But wherever this young lady goes, she enjoys a feeling of individual accomplishment. Because she began her career as an executive... an officer in the Women's Army Corps.
She could be you... this young executive on the Champs Elysées.

Special...1960 Summer Program for Juniors:

Want a special preview of Army life? Why not see it for yourself this summer! If you qualify for this limited program, you'll receive 4 weeks of orientation training during the summer of 1960—without any commitment. The sole purpose of this program is to help you decide—with confidence—if you want to apply for a commission after you graduate. If you're interested, today is the day to mail the coupon. There's no obligation.

NEWS IN REVIEW

Compiled by Alton Brown

'Uncoached Appearance'

The news spotlight this week was captured by the House Investigating Sub-committee, as they continued their probe of former television quiz shows.

The star witness, brow-mopping Charles Van Doren, astounded the nation when he admitted that he has been "fed" answers and questions on NBC's "21" program, to amass some $129,000.

"I have deceived my friends," Van Doren said, "and I have millions of them." With this statement the tired-looking college professor read a prepared statement that disclosed how his first quiz victory had been planned up to the time he was defeated.

In the statement, he pointed a finger at the show's producer, Albert Freedman. Van Doren spoke softly, telling how Freedman had persuaded him to go through with "the great deception," convincing him that success on the show would strengthen the cause of Education.

Van Doren also told how Freedman had coached him on the answers and instructed him in the art of acting as if he was trying to draw on the resources of his mind to produce the answers.

After he read his statement, the scholar said, "I would give almost anything I have to reverse the course of my life in the last three years."

Almost immediately after he left the hearing room, Van Doren felt the blows that followed. The Board of Trustees of Columbia University accepted his tendered resignation from his teaching post. The next day, NBC cancelled his $50,000-a-year position as a consultant and performer on the "Today" program.

All this goes to prove that old axiom—"all that glitters, is not gold."

Scot Free

The Grand Jury of Pearl River County, Mississippi, wound up its affairs last week without indicting anyone in the Mack Charles Parker lynching case. The 18 jurors did not ask for an FBI report of the case, therefore, the local prosecutors didn't ask for it. This touched off the Justice Department into immediate action. Acting Attorney General Lawrence E. Walsh said that the Department would take the case before a Grand Jury of the U. S. Court.

There was speculation that the Department might seek an indictment of Parker's kidnappers on charges of violating Civil Rights laws. Parker was allegedly dragged from his jail cell in Poplarville, Miss., and murdered by a crazed mob last April 25.

No Progress

After hearing arguments from both Management and Labor, the Supreme Court is now ruling on sides have been meeting with the the outcome of the 115-day-old Federal Mediation Service this steel strike. Negotiators from both past week, but as usual, "no progress."

Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said that Union and Company bargainers were "getting nowhere" in their efforts to reconcile differing cost estimates in counter contract proposals.

In the event the Supreme Court ruling is in favor of the Taft-Hartley injunction, the steelworkers will have to return to work for 80 days.
