THE EUROPEAN SCENE...

THE LONG expected rift between Dr. Hjalmar Schacht and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler has come to a definite head with today's announcement that the noted financial expert has been removed from the presidency of the Reichsbank. He will be replaced by Walther Funk. Effects of the announcement were felt in German market negotiations, some bonds dropping as much as four points.

GERMANY has sent Great Britain a note confirming her intentions to achieve equality with the English navy in submarine and to build five 10,000-ton cruisers armed with 8-inch guns. British reception of this note is anxiously awaited.

FROM PERPIGNAN, France, comes the report of a radio broadcast from Burgos, Spain, stating that Rebel Generalissimo Francisco Franco narrowly escaped death Thursday when his airplane was caught in a blast of anti-aircraft fire over the suburbs of Barcelona.

IN LONDON, today, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain rejected a request by Labor Leader Clement Attlee to summon Parliament for discussion of the Spanish question. Meantime bombing scares continued throughout London and police questioned Irish Republican Army sympathizers in hopes of solving the "reign of terror" which has prevailed during the past few days. Airplanes at the Hendon Airfield were ordered left in the open for several days because of a threat to bomb hangars.

IN WASHINGTON...

PRESIDENT Roosevelt conferred today with railroad executive Carl Gray and Senator Burton K. Wheeler of the Senate interstate commerce committee, and Representative Clarence F. Lea, of the House committee, in reference to the current railroad situation. Wheeler announced, after the conference, that he would introduce several bills, probably next week, attempting to assist economic rehabilitation of railroads.

THE CONFERENCE on State Defense, an organization composed of the Attorney Generals of 42 states, today added its voice to the protest raised over the President's plan to tax the income from federal, state and municipal bonds.

AUTHORIZATION of five million dollars in improvements in the naval base facilities on Guam Island came from various Congressmen today who add their opposition to that of Japan, which is but 1500 miles from the mid-Pacific island. President Roosevelt stated that the pending bill was an authorization, not an appropriation, and that dredging of the harbor and increasing the marine barracks and airplane landing facilities would be the major aims of the plan.

FROM NEAR AND FAR...

HANS SCHACKOW and Ernest Kuhrig, convicted as German spies, were today sentenced to two years in prison for taking photographs at Fort Randolph, a fortified area in the Panama Canal Zone.

A CONGRESSIONAL investigation of Alaskan affairs was proposed today by Mayor Don Brownell and the city council of Seward, Alaska. Management of the government-owned Alaskan Railroad and the Matanuska Valley colony were disclosed as main objects for such an investigation.

POLICE EXECUTIVES of 12 eastern states and several Canadian provinces are meeting in Trenton, N. J., today with hopes of standardizing speed and traffic regulations from Prince Edward Island, Canada, to West Virginia.

IN OCALA, Fla., the local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy today threatened to boycott the film "Gone With the Wind" when it plays Ocala unless a southern lass is chosen to play the part of Scarlett O'Hara. They objected to the choice of Vivian Leigh, an English actress, for the role.

City Officials Tell Landlords About Men's Housing Rules

By THOMAS E. DELLINGER

More than 500 rooming-house operators, fraternity and sorority house managers, and students were present at a meeting in University Hall Thursday afternoon to discuss the question of compliance with housing regulations. George W. Matson, City Building Inspector, and Edward P. Welch, City Fire Chief,

WOSU Will Carry Labor Discussion

Science, Poetry, Drama Will Also Be Broadcast Over WOSU This Week End

"What Outside Employment Means to the College Man" will be discussed over station WOSU at 3 p. m. Saturday by Kenneth J. Rosen,

Com-3, and Tom J. McFadden, A-4, under the sponsorship of the Forum Club, Philip J. Hermann, A-4, publicity director for that organization, announced today. The speakers will discuss the labor situation on the campus, Hermann said.

At 7:15 tonight Professor Cedric E. Hesthal, department of physics and astronomy, will be guest speaker on the station's Science Series. He will talk about "Modern Advances in Scientific Fields."

Dr. Tom B. Haber, department of English, will give poetry readings at 8:30 p. m. A half hour play, "Hear O Israel," will be presented at 5:15 p. m. Saturday by the Hillel Radio Players under the direction of Sylvia Lipson and Hannah M. Polster.

Members of the cast are Morton A. Shapiro, Bernice Epstein, Civia Cohen, Albert H. Sosolov, Mort L. Feigenbaum, Paul D. Bloch, Solomon Comet and Herbert L. Essey.

Philandering Phi Taus Firm; Will Forswear Fair Fems

By VERNON S. GILMORE

Even the feeble complaint, "But Bill I was expecting her to ask me to the Goldigger's Prom" is no excuse—little Paul Phitau cannot go out tonight.

As is generally the case with such schemes, this one may have originated with some lone individual who never has dates anyway. At any rate, it has culminated in a decision by the boys of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity to make this an "Anti-Women Week End"—two nights dedicated to themselves.

Proponents of the plan (the cads!) hope to make the event a success by keeping the boys so busy that their minds find no time to center upon their troubles—or temporary lack of troubles, as you may prefer to call it.

"Under penalty of a five-dollar fine there will be no dates, shaving, or catering to any women whatsoever." Music, the radio, card games and bull sessions will abound, although, as yet, no entirely safe session subject has been found.

During the 48 hours, all members of the fraternity will reside in the chapter house and, to make the project agreeable to them, the pledges will be treated with temporary equality, a state which may make conditions doubly difficult for the actives.

The boys profess that no grievance against the fairer sex has driven them to this drastic action. Rather do they feel that too much of a good thing may be bad and a little studying, on the other hand, may be good. Studying for midterms, we then conclude, is the main reason for their plan.

Counter-plans for evading the day-old rules are probably running through the minds of no small number of trustworthy Phi Taus at this very minute, but getting out of the house both tonight and Saturday night will prove difficult. Even careful censorship of all phone calls is planned.

Now it can be seen why that boy on the corner was telling the girl, "Say you're calling for Western Union and ask for me—and PLEASE don't keep it to 10 words!"

Camp Ground May Be Bought For University

Senate Takes First Steps Toward Project

By GEORGE SATTLER
Student Senate Reporter

Primary steps were taken by the Student Senate Thursday night toward securing a camping site for University use when a committee was appointed by Robert W. Ferguson, A-4, president of the Senate, to investigate the territory near Columbus for a suitable piece of property. The committee is scheduled to report at the next meeting of the Senate.

Suggestion for the action taken by the Senate came from Dean of Men Joseph A. Park, who said: "The University has a great need for a camping ground where students can get both recreation and experience in the camping arts, and it is possible that the proposed property can be purchased by using money available in the Ohio Union fund."

Dean of Women Esther A. Gaw, after praising the suggestion, recommended to the committee that they investigate the possibility of securing government funds for the project.

Betty Belt Reports

Previous to the appointment of the investigation committee by Ferguson, the Senate accepted a report given by Betty B. Belt, Ed-4, on the activities of the social activities committee, which is investigating the extra-curricular activities of University students. The investigation will be continued.

Miss Belt told the Senate that statements from John F. Mee, director of the College of Commerce Placement Bureau; Dr. Viva Booth, acting director of the Bureau of Business Research, and Dr. Felix

Any Old Clothes? Then Wear 'em At the Hobo Hop

Cornshock decorations and the requirement that dancers crawl through a packing case to enter the dance floor will help provide a real "hobo jungle" atmosphere at the Newman Club's Hobo Hop on Saturday from 9 to 12 p. m. in the Ohio Union.

Girls are to wear torn slacks and shirts, while the boys are to wear torn trousers and coats. A Newman Club pin will be awarded to the person having the best costume.

This dance will inaugurate a new series of week-end dances to be sponsored by the club and to be continued until Lent. An amplifying set with records of a number of prominent bands will furnish the music, and the dancers will be permitted to cast a vote for their favorite orchestras.

Sigfrid Kinkopf, Com-2, is chairman of the dance. Members of his committee are Archer E. Reilly, Audrey Kirchner, Jean M. White, Albert Patnik, Eleanor M. Smith, John Petruska, Elizabeth A. Hepplewhite, Jeanne M. Bowen and Albert S. Koteles.

Admission to the dance, to be paid in pennies, is 10 cents for members and 25 cents for non-members.

Betty Belt Discloses Dance Committeemen

Betty B. Belt, Ed-4, president of the Pomerene Advisory Committee, announced today the members of her committee for the annual George Washington Tea Dance to be held February 11. Miss Belt is the general chairman.

In charge of decorations is Joan N. Zimmerman; orchestra and finances, Jane Walcutt; tickets, Jane Walcutt and Betty J. Hadsell; publicity, Ruth A. Nichols and Edna H. Barr, arrangements, Ellen Southard and Joan Zimmerman.

"Racket Busters" to Meet

Panhellenic's "queen racket" investigating committee, composed of M. Elizabeth Reiter, Ag-4, Jane C. Wood, A-4, and Barbara E. Davis, A-3, will meet Saturday to discuss further plans, Miss Reiter announced today.

Local Priest, Rabbi, Minister Participate In Panel Discussion

Three Speakers Agree the State Is Made For Man, and Not Man for the State

Three faiths presented their sides of "The State Is Made for Man" to the audience in a panel discussion in University Chapel at 8 p. m. Thursday. Three well-known Columbus religious leaders spoke: Dr. J. Harry Cotton, Broad Street Presbyterian Church; Rabbi Harry Kaplan, Hillel Foundation, and Father J. J. McLarny, Aquinas College.

"There are three reasons," Dr. Cotton declared, "why religion cannot put the state above man:

Strollers Cast Announced Today

Robert A. Minor to Play Grandpa in "You Can't Take It with You"

Mrs. Dorothy I. Lambert, director of Strollers Dramatic Society's winter production, "You Can't Take It with You," announced the selection of the cast today. The lovable role of Grandpa will be played by Robert A. Minor; Arline T. Lehman is to be the absent-minded Penny, the future author of a great novel. Essie, the toe dancing daughter, is Mary Ann Crawford; George W. Finklestein acts the part of Tony Kirby, a son of a rich banker, who succumbed to the temptations of a full-wool Alice, portrayed by Betty J. Paisley.

Other roles are played by: Mrs. Kirby, A. Eileen Heckart; Gay, Betty Lou Thompson; the Duchess, Marguerite Linton; Reba, Inez A. Norman; Mr. Kirby, Wayne B. Foster; Kolenkhov, Leo M. George; Ed, J. Robert Hoffman; Paul, James L. Linton; Henderson, Byron E. Corbin; De Pinna, Robert V. Mendenhall; G-Men, Robert W. Halliday, Donald D. Bernard, Willis C. Lightburn.

Mrs. Charles St. John Chubb, Mrs. H. C. Nolen, Edward S. Drake, Stewart Allen and Dr. Eugene W. Bahn, department of speech, assisted Mrs. Lambert in choosing the cast.

Eight Girls Chosen By Women's Ohio

Eight new members will soon be initiated into Women's Ohio as a result of selections made by members of the group at a dinner meeting Thursday.

Announcement of the names of those chosen is being withheld pending formal notification. Rachel C. Gillespie, Ed-4, and Helen F. Geren, A-4, were elected vice president and treasurer, respectively, at the meeting.

A committee chosen to arrange for a dinner to be held prior to the Goldiggers' Prom is made up of V. Jean Allen, Com-4, chairman; Mrs. Sue Smith Hobbs, Grad, Betty Booth, A-4, and Mary Forman, Ed-3.

Glider Club to Admit Four New Members

The Glider Club will admit only four new members this quarter it was decided in a meeting held Thursday night in Derby Hall. This is necessary because of the increasing popularity of the club, D. Alfred Kiffer, Engr-4, announced today.

Classes will start Saturday at Norton Field. New members will be acquainted with the club's second ship, "Sky Ghost," now under construction.

Hospital List

Institute Hears Dr. Doan

Dr. Charles A. Dean, director of medical research, College of Medicine, spoke informally on the subject of good health to members of the Institute of Social Living, Thursday.

"1. The state itself is not a morally ideal entity—it cannot go higher than the average.

"2. The state cannot realize individual exceptions.

"3. The state cannot touch the deep questions of destiny so important to every man."

Dr. Cotton said he had made a number of observations on the connection between religion and the state. His findings, he said, were that the whole basis of civil liberties has come from religious movements, that the most dogged resistance to totalitarian states has come from the churches, and that the dictator nations and their leaders seem to fear the church most of all.

Father McLarny "The state," defined Father McLarny, "is a condition in which some men live. It is not separated on lines of geography or race."

He pointed out that man has always been found with two institutions—civil government and religion, and he further pointed out that history has shown one long struggle for authority between the two. He believes that the state and religion should be separated in entity but united in operation.

Rabbi Kaplan Rabbi Kaplan continued the discussion, saying that most of the philosophers, monarchs, tyrants, and teachers of the ancient world have forced a fallacy upon the world with the words "man is made for the state." He showed the lack of logic in the assertion and declared that one of the most fundamental of truths is the belief that "the state is made for man," as the topic for the panel discussion stated.

"Religion and democracy are now embattled against the old enslaving forces of hate, political hysteria, and psychological confusion," he asserted. "We who place man above the state are fighting for survival against jingoism and nationalism. The only cure for an ailing society is more religion and democracy."

Barbara B. Wilcox, A-4, introduced the speakers, and Mary Phillips, department of music, presented an organ prelude. Rev. E. R. Walborn presided over the interfaith panel and the discussion which followed.

Home Ec Club Plans Joint Meeting, Dinner

Plans for holding a joint meeting with the Townshend Agricultural Society in the near future were made at a meeting of the Home Economics Club Thursday in Campbell Hall, and the following committee appointed to complete arrangements for the affair, which is held annually: Maxine E. Miracle, Ag-4; Audrey C. Mace, Ag-1, and Elizabeth E. Snyder, Ag-3.

Club members also discussed plans for a spring quarter dinner and heard an address concerning poetry by Mrs. Tessa S. Webb, department of agricultural extension.

Two Forum Clubs Are Too Many, Group Says

The Forum Club, University speech group, meeting in Derby Hall Thursday night voted to advise members of the organization known as the University Forum Club, whose purpose is to bring well known speakers to the campus, that they must change their club's name.

Dean of Women Esther A. Gaw, who was consulted by the Forum Club, upheld its claim, Martha Q. Lee, Com-4, president, said.

The club also discussed a Lincoln Day banquet to be held February 12 at the Village Restaurant. The next meeting will be held January 6 in Derby Hall.

A Housing Council

It has long been the practice to lump together all men who have not pledged allegiance to some portion of the Greek alphabet, label them "independents" and regret their lack of participation in campus activities.

Too often, the Independent Men's Association and other organizations of non-fraternity men have been considered the habitat of the campus "forgotten man." This has led to the emergence of another and even more forgotten "forgotten man," who is associated with no organized group. He is not "independent," he is unaffiliated.

At last, however, it looks as if the "forgotten man"—both "independent" and "unaffiliated"—is going to get a break.

The selection this week of a committee from the IMA, the Tower, Buckeye, and Stadium Clubs and the co-operative houses to plan a lodging house council representing all non-fraternity men is, potentially at least, a gigantic step in that direction.

As now conceived, the council would be composed of representatives of the above groups and individual rooming houses, as a sort of non-fraternity complement to the Council of Fraternity Presidents. One of its main purposes would be to "overcome the prevalent indifference on the part of a large number of students toward activities."

The council's part lies in increasing the scope of activities in which its students can engage by outlining a strong, active policy, and its greatest hope lies in its ability to provide a MECHANISM for carrying out those activities. To serve its purpose, it must not become just an "independent" movement, but must include ALL interested "unaffiliated" men.

Whatever it achieves must come through cooperation. Already the great twentieth century cry has been raised by some factions within the present embryo council. They want to know what they're going to get out of it.

Somewhere in the books left too long on their shelves it is stated that the great good lies not in what we can get, but in what we can give.

We think a conscientious non-fraternity council could give a lot to the campus, and, in so doing, even unto itself.—V.L.H.

A New Responsibility

John W. Millar, the newly appointed manager of the block cheering section, has a big responsibility on his hands. The success of the block cheering section next year largely depends on Millar and on head cheerleader Dick Kelting.

The section was a complete success this year. The campus and thousands of other Ohio State football fans are looking forward to a repeat performance next year.

The cheering section manager is a new position, created especially to help insure the success of the section. Its importance equals that of the head cheerleader. The new manager and his staff of assistants are responsible for taking care of the equipment of the section and for doing the preliminary work which must be done this year and next summer to get the section ready to go in the fall. The senior manager will receive a Varsity "O" for his work.

We congratulate Millar and wish him success with his new responsibilities.

We're Glad

It's Friday

...for the sake of the 13 students who have been acting as guest secretaries for the Religion-in-Life speakers. These students have been busy all week arranging schedules for the speakers, directing them to campus buildings and arranging personal interviews with the speakers for students desiring such conferences.

But perhaps their hardest task has been getting over to the Ohio Union each morning by 8 o'clock for a special breakfast with the Religion-in-Life leaders. We'll bet most of them will skip breakfast tomorrow morning. And so will we.

Glittering Generalities

Cigarette bummers have become quite a problem to Franklin Rhodes. No sooner does he buy himself a nice new package than someone who has nothing but the habit comes up and bums all he has. So now he has a special cigarette case for just such an emergency, which he willingly hands to moochers. It is stocked with a well assorted collection of various sizes of stubs.

And every once in a while he finds some lad who will smoke one of the things.

An employee of the speech department does nothing but read books. She goes through two books a week, counting the words in each sentence. This is probably what is known as being crazy over books.

We'll bet there was a decided boom in the business of the lending library at Temple University after a book was returned with a ten dollar bill left in it as a book mark. There must have been a wealth of information between the covers.

Those wicked swords that hang by detachable chains from the belts of advanced military students present difficulties. Dago Dick Himes swiped Joe Kail's uniform and locked the sabre on with a padlock. When Joe went to take it off, he couldn't find the key to the lock. And he's been wearing the sword to bed with him for a week. They had to call out the whole corps of army engineers before they could get it off of him.

This Saskatchewan student who scoffs at the wintry blasts of Columbus may be pretty tough, but just wait till he spends two hours in a downtown theater when the summer cooling system is on. Two to one he'll shiver the enamel off his front teeth.

Evidently students can spend 10 weeks in a class and never know their professor's name. In a class last week Dr. Laurence H. Snyder stressed a certain point which one of his class members disputed. So the dissenter trotted over to the library to look up said idea.

The next day in class he announced sheepishly that the professor had been right.

"What book did you find your point in?" asked Dr. Snyder.

"I don't know," replied the lad, "some minor authority, I think." And after much searching through his notes, he came up with, "Oh yes, it was a book by a Dr. Laurence Snyder."

A headline announcing a radio program stated: "Early Presentations to Honor Fraternities." I don't suppose they have tried chloroform yet.

Leroy Bierly has asked the Student Senate to please stop calling him up. On an average of four times each week he is called into the Student Senate office for some meeting he knows nothing about, when the man wanted is really Leland Byerly, a Senate member.

Perhaps the election of the Michigan football player as queen of some event the Wolverines put on will serve a good purpose. Next year at Homecoming, our football captain can kiss the Michigan queen instead of our own queen. There are lots of ways. (With a brick for instance.)

Here is a little story that George Smallsreed, managing editor of the Columbus Dispatch, told at the last Sigma Delta Chi meeting. Mr. Smallsreed was discussing a possible choice of colleges with one of his staff. The staff member wanted to go to a large school because, as he put it, "Can you imagine going through your whole life as an alumnus of a little school like Capital?"

Embarrassment puts it mildly, as Mr. Smallsreed explained that he had been in just that situation for a number of years, and didn't mind at all.

And one of the same gentleman's smiles: "He knew less about the subject than a hog knows about astronomy."

Our recent snow storms give the girls a chance to wear their snow suits which they've been wearing all winter anyway.

I see where they have established individual rifle shooting on the University of Minnesota campus. Wonder what they shoot at, professors maybe?

Sunday Sermons

What with Religion-in-Life Week such an outstanding success, churches in the University district are settling back to normal routine with many interesting sermons planned for this Sunday.

The Universalist-Unitarians will have as guest speaker, Rev. J. F. Meyer who is pastor of the Independent Protestant Church. Rev. Meyer will preach on the subject of "The Spirit of True Friendship."

Also a guest speaker, the Rev. Sheridan W. Bell, associate pastor of the Indianola Methodist Church, will discuss "The Living Cross" at the services of the Tenth Avenue Baptist Church Sunday morning.

Begin Discussions

This Sunday evening will open a series of discussions of the topic "Jesus Answers the Questions of a Frightened World" at the Indianola Lutheran Church. This discussion group will be a regular feature of the student discussion group which meets each Sunday evening at 7. The topic for discussion this week will be "Jesus Six Points."

The Society of Friends will meet for worship at the Indianola Student Center at 11 a. m. this Sunday.

The third in the Foolish Fallacy series will be presented this Sunday evening at 7:30 at the First Baptist Church. The fallacy this week is entitled "One Million People Can't Be Wrong."

Held, secretary of the College of Commerce, indicated that "social and extra-curricular activities are participated in by too few students and a large percentage of the students participate in few or no activities."

Miss Belt then moved that the Senate members should aid in distributing a questionnaire prepared by Dr. Ross L. Mooney to secure accurate information on the extra-curricular activities problem. The motion carried after some discussion from the floor as to whether or not the questionnaire would reach independents and non-activity groups if Senate members distributed the questionnaires to the members of the organizations which they represent. It was pointed out those filling out the questionnaire would all be students already interested in extra-curricular activities.

However, Dean of Women Esther A. Gaw told the Senate that Dr. Mooney had ways in which to reach the non-activity groups. This statement cleared all opposition to the motion and the motion carried.

Park Suggests Notary
Dean of Men Joseph A. Park then suggested to the Senate that funds be appropriated by the Senate to install a notary public at the information booth in the Administration Building. He said that the demand for notaries was too great for the number of notaries available on the campus.

Senator Craig moved that the Senate appropriate the necessary funds for installing the notary, and the motion carried without a dissenting vote.

Motion Defeated
Despite the fact that it was pointed out to the Senate that the Religion-in-Life program had had some of its sources of income cut off this year, a motion made by John J. Morrett, Com-4, representative from the YMCA, to donate $10 to help defray the expenses of the program was defeated by a 14-10 vote.

Opposition to the donation grew when Senator McFadden of the LANTERN stated that the Senate should know how badly the money was needed before any money was donated.

Wrigley's Statement

Lowell A. Wrigley, assistant dean of men and director of men's housing, believes that the meeting was a success in that it put the issue clearly to the landlords and students involved and he hopes that the people realize that Inspector Matson is not responsible for making these laws, but that he is only an enforcement officer pursuing the course of his duty.

Wrigley said, "The belief that co-operative houses will be exempted from these housing ordinances is a mistaken idea. All houses in the University district, and over the city for that matter, will be ruled on equally."

RELIGION-IN-LIFE . . .

Strutting Democracies
Cited by Dr. Brumbaugh

"Take any individual who is quite a democrat at home away from his country and watch him strut," said Dr. T. T. Brumbaugh, director of the Wesley Foundation in Tokyo, and Religion-in-Life-Week speaker, at a gathering in Lord Hall Thursday night.

"This is true not only of a Britisher in India, or of a Frenchman in Africa, but also of an American in the Philippines."

"Those nations of imperialist tendencies," he continued, "such as Italy, Germany and Japan, are not the great imperialist powers of the world. They have little land and immense populations to sustain on it. The great democracies are the great imperialist powers."

Dr. Brumbaugh then narrowed his talk down to Japan, that nation being his special field. "There are more colleges and universities in Tokyo alone than there are in all Ohio," he said. "And, oddly enough, there are more than 30,000 Chinese students attending them, in addition to numerous students from Korea, Java, India, and even from as far away as British Africa. The Chinese students are not restricted or molested in spite of the fact that they are known to dislike extremely the government's policies. Of course, the government must approve the curricula of the schools, but this would tend to affect everyone."

In closing Jones cautioned against insincerity both in regard to our own lives and that of others. "At all times be honest with yourself," he said.

Executive Officers
Crisis Solution

Choosing as his topic "A Business-Like Pattern for Religion," Harrison M. Sayre, president of the American Educational Press, stated to commerce students Thursday afternoon that "the world today faces a crisis and each individual can help to solve it by cooperating in organized group action through the medium of the church."

"The individual, through his church action groups and by inter-church cooperation, can himself influence public opinion locally, statewide and nationally on all vital questions of the day."

Mr. Sayre thought that the people of America want to find the solution in terms of our democratic system to the need today for social integration.

Since church members in the United States comprise 60 million who profess loyalty, the church could be the most effective method of moulding public opinion in the nation today, providing the various groups joined in concerted political action, he said.

Snooks Converses with Lucy

Dear Lucy:

Thanks loads for the many excellent suggestions which you made in your last letter. I visited these places and was overjoyed at the truths of your statements made in last Friday's LANTERN. Here I intend to tell you of my own experiences.

This week Trout's Restaurant at 1810 North High Street, opposite the Ohio State Museum, is offering delicious special steak dinners. This steak is fried exactly the way you want it, with all of its goodness remaining in the meat. Also ask for a cup of delicious Maxwell House coffee.

For good meals at all times, "try Trout's." You'll like it there; it's really different.

I tried one of the swell malted milk shakes at The Tunnel, 1706 North High. After eating one of their giant ham-burgers, the milk shake tasted grand. You'll go back for more of their chocolate malteds. They've got three dippers of rich ice cream, the best chocolate in town, a glass of fresh milk, and two teaspoons of super quality malted. Don't forget they deliver, if you call UN. 0336.

Have you heard about the Student Restaurant, just south of Eleventh Avenue on High Street, which is operated by University students? I was amazed at the tasty food and the low prices when I ate there the other night. They have unusual breakfast specials which are attracting many students. Everyone was so very pleasant while I was there. You and I must go there soon. Remember the slogan: "student owned, student patronized."

Yesterday I visited the new dining room of the Waffle Shop, 2069 North High, and was really delighted at the atmosphere there. The waffles I ate in addition to my regular meal tasted grand, and they satisfied my appetite, too. Why don't you visit the new dining room and see and "taste" for yourself.

That's all for now, Lucy; and I'll meet you at all of these places.

Yours,

Snooks.

Comments on Coach Olsen's Activities
While Paul Warren Travels to Michigan
To See First Scarlet Swimming Meet

Lantern Sports Writer

Not so many years ago it was considered safe to take grandmother to a basketball game. Although the contests then were lively enough, there was little about them which would send her blood pressure soaring. But all that has been changed, and one of the persons most responsible for whipping basketball out of the horse and buggy stage is Coach Harold G. Olsen, rotund director of the Buckeye cage forces.

Less publicized than his work with the Scarlet quintet, but no less important, are Coach Olsen's contributions to the improvement of basketball, both from the spectators' standpoint and the players'. He has been successful in getting the National Collegiate Athletic Association—the body which coordinates college athletics in the United States—to adopt two of his brain children: the "10-second" rule and the national intercollegiate basketball tournament which will be inaugurated this March. He was also one of the leaders in the successful campaign to eliminate the tip-off after each basket.

Changes Have Increased Speed . . .

That the "10-second" rule and the elimination of the tip-off have effectively increased the speed of basketball is an established fact. The game today is more streamlined and more thrilling to watch than it was six years ago.

Since the "10-second" rule was introduced in 1934, stipulating that a team which takes possession of the ball under its opponent's basket must get the ball to the opposite side of the court within 10 seconds, offensive play has been accelerated and stalling has practically disappeared. "Freezing" the ball has been made more difficult and has necessitated more careful ball handling, because under the "10-second" rule a team has only half the court in which to "freeze" the ball instead of the entire floor.

Long Cherished Dream . . .

The national intercollegiate tournament was the fruition of a long cherished dream. For years the corpulent Ohio State cage mentor had looked forward to the day when the nation's best basketball teams would be pitted against each other in a national championship game. He took his idea to the National Coaches Association—an organization of college basketball coaches—and with the approval of that body submitted his plan to the NCAA. The NCAA liked the idea and placed the problem of organizing the tournament in Coach Olsen's hands.

A plan has been drawn up which will result in the best team east of the Mississippi River facing the best team west of the river. San Francisco has already been selected as the site of the western playoffs. Mr. Olsen is in New York today arranging the eastern playoffs. Teams participating in the playoffs are to be selected arbitrarily from eight geographical areas by a competent committee in each area.

Tournament Good Idea . . .

The idea of a national basketball tournament sponsored by a recognized body such as the NCAA is a good one. It will tend to eliminate "fly-by-night" chamber of commerce tournaments. The NCAA already sponsors successful national championship contests in track and field, swimming and wrestling, and this year for the first time, in addition to basketball, will sponsor golf and tennis tournaments. The national cage tourney may provide the answer to the question of which section of the country produces the best basketball teams.

You can't expect to find the solution in an intersectional tune-up series such as the Bucks played during the Christmas holidays. In such a series the visiting team is tired from its long train ride and is just as much interested in sight-seeing as it is in playing basketball. If there is any way of proving accurately the relative strength of teams in different sections of the country, it will have to be a method at least as broad as the national tournament arranged by Coach Olsen.

Mighty Fallen; Conference Cage Squads Resume Race

By HORACE HILB

Now that the mighty have fallen, the Big Ten court chase is back on normal footing. After all, anything other than a cat-and-dog fight for any Western Conference title would be treason—and it was little less than perfect that the lowly Wildcats should be the ones to finally trip the Gophers.

After two consecutive week ends in which every squad in the league was engaged, this Saturday will find only two games scheduled, with Michigan meeting Iowa at Iowa City and Illinois traveling to Madison to play Wisconsin.

The Badgers, hitherto a very lethargic outfit, awoke last Monday to practically eliminate the Wolves from the race. But when the high-stepping Illini come to town, the Wisconsin quintet will be up against a totally different proposition.

High Scorers . . .

Illinois has two players in the race for Conference scoring honors. Pick Dehner is tied with Ben Stephens of Iowa at the top, while Bill Hapac holds fourth position right behind Captain Jimmy Hull of the Scarlet.

With Jimmy Rae, Michigan's outstanding player, definitely on the sidelines with a back injury, the Wolves will have a hard time contesting the bid of the Iowans for what might prove to be a prominent place in the Big Ten panorama. Rae will not play against the Bucks Monday when Michigan invades the Coliseum.

It seems to be a case of too many injuries for the Wolves, especially now that the Hawkeyes have combined a good measure of teamwork with the bucket-dropping genius of their captain, Ben Stephens.

SAE Romps to 34-0 Victory In I-M Play

The final intramural games of the current week were played Thursday night with 60 teams participating. Both fraternity and independent quintets saw action on the evening's card.

By far the most unusual game was the Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Sigma Nu active contest which ended in a 34-0 victory for the SAE's.

The Phi Mu Delta cagers piled up the largest number of points of any team as they licked Alpha Epsilon Phi 46-14. Captain Bob Moch and Johnny Rajkovich were high scorers for the winners with 14 markers each.

Betas Win . . .

Esco Sarkkinen and Frank Clair led the Beta Theta Pi squad to a 31-23 win over Chi Phi and together scored 24 of the Beta points. Thomas led the losers' scoring attack with 12 tallies.

In the independent games, the Hunter All-Stars proved to be the high scoring outfit as it trounced the Ramblers 42-11. Satterfield of the Stars accounted for 18 points and took the individual scoring honors for the evening.

The three closest games of the evening were played between independent teams. The Tower Club No. 6 aggregation edged the Frosh Physical Education Majors 10-9, and the IMA No. 1 squad eked out a 13-12 win over Tower Club No. 4. Mercaptan Manor defeated the Tower Club No. 7 11-9 in the other tight game of the card.

CO-ED SPORTS

By

MARY JANE HILL

A new plan has been formulated this year for the swimming meet to be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, February 1. Eight swimmers have been chosen to captain the teams and all other girls wishing to compete in the meet will be placed on any one of the teams they desire. The captains are anxious to hear from advanced and intermediate swimmers who wish to be on their teams. These captains are Virginia Gilliland, Rachel Gillespie, Martha Coe, Martha Fippin, Terry Arthur, Peggy Eller, Jean Storey and Betty McCoy.

Teams will consist of not less and not more than eight girls. Entries close January 27. Events will include speed, form, novelty, diving and other competition to be announced later. Swan Club members will act as officials and judges for the meet. Prospective entrants may practice in the Pomerene pool any day from 5 to 6 p. m. Students not having privilege cards must apply to the Physical Education office for a special check up.

The Badminton Club will hold its winter quarter tryouts Tuesday at 6 p. m. in the gym. Any girl interested in the club is cordially invited to go there and display her skill.

The women's intramural basketball tournament has been drawn up and play will begin Tuesday. The teams have been arranged into leagues for a round robin playoff. There are four leagues with five teams in each league.

BUCK MATMEN AFTER SECOND STRAIGHT WIN

Ohio State's Varsity wrestlers go to Ohio University for their second meet of the season Saturday. They will be after their second straight win.

The lineup probably will be the same as the one which defeated the West Virginia grapplers last Saturday by the overwhelming score of 29-3. Coach Mooney is still undecided on the 128-pound assignment but it will be filled by either George Beshara or Dick Varney.

Ohio U's Bobcat team represents a strong outfit with heavyweight Chet Adams outstanding. Last season Buck heavy George Downes took his first beating from Adams.

City Champions . . .

Bijaks, 145 or 155 pounds, and Detuerk, 135 or 145 pounds, are other Bobcat stars. They were at one time city champions of Cleveland.

The complete Ohio State lineup includes: 121 pounds, Martin; 128 pounds, Beshara or Varney; 136 pounds, MacIntyre; 145 pounds, Montanaro; 155 pounds, Myer; 165 pounds, Peltier; 175 pounds, Griffith, and Downes at the heavyweight post.

Since the first of the quarter the whole squad has been training hard and now is in top physical shape.

Mackey Explains Baseball Schedule

The first of several baseball meetings preceding the beginning of winter practice was held Thursday afternoon in the Stadium lecture room. Coach Fritz Mackey, new head coach of the Buckeye nine, was greeted by several returning veterans, including Captain Gene Myers, Paul Washburn and Dick Wolfhurst.

Mackey explained the new Big Ten schedule system, which will go into effect this season. The Big Ten will be split up into a northern section and southern section. The northern section teams are: Iowa, Minnesota, Chicago, Northwestern and Wisconsin. The southern section teams are: Ohio, Purdue, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois. Each team will play every other team in its section twice, the games being played on successive days. Each team of a section will also meet two teams in the opposite section in single game series.

The Buck squad will start practice at the Coliseum February 1, when all battery men are to report, it was announced. The remainder of the team will report for practice February 11. Baseball motion pictures were shown at the meeting.

Vanderbilt Frosh Ponder Over 'South'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (ACP) — Math problems and English themes are usually thought of as the freshmen's greatest curriculum problem, but at Vanderbilt University this year the first-year students are tackling the nation's number one economic problem, "The South."

This innovation is the idea behind the new social science survey course. Purpose of the course is to introduce all freshmen in the College of Arts to the subject matter and methods of the social sciences and to interest them in contemporary problems.

Scarlet Squad Awaits First Michigan Meet

By PAUL WARREN
Lantern Sports Editor

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 20 (Special to the LANTERN) — Coach Mike Peppe and his squad of 14 swimmers were resting up today in the Michigan Union for their meet with the Wolverines here tonight.

The group arrived in Ann Arbor at noon from Toledo after spending the night in Toledo. Mike Peppe and his three divers practiced in the Wolverine pool Thursday night and then drove back to Toledo to meet the rest of the squad.

Just what Buck swimmers would swim in each event is not definitely known yet, and Peppe insists that he will not let anyone know until just before the meet tonight.

Divers Certain . . .

There is one certainty about the whole meet and that is the fact that Al Patnik and Earl Clark will do the diving for the Bucks and will give them a one-two sweep in this event.

In the free-style events, it is another question entirely. Bill Quayle will swim the 50-yard event, but who will be his partner in this and who will swim in the 100-, 220- and 440-yard events is a question. Peppe has taken Bill Howell, Captain Bob Johnson, Bud Howard, John Hartlein and Elwood Woodling along and from this collection of free-stylers, he will choose the entries for the meet.

Johnny Higgins, Big Ten champ, and Al McKee will definitely be the entrants in the breast stroke, and though John Haigh will offer strong competition here, there is a chance for a Buck sweep.

Four Backstrokers . . .

Four backstrokers have been taken along to confuse everyone as to whom Mike will use. Curly Stanhope and Ed Poscavage seem to be the best bets here in this 150-yard race.

The deciding factors of the meet are expected to be the 300-yard medley and the 400-yard free-style relays. It was these two events that the Scarlet swept last year to give it both dual meet victories over the Wolverines.

Cagers Clash With Cadets At West Point

While Monday's clash with Michigan looms in the background, the Scarlet cagers leave tonight on a quick trip to West Point for a game with Army Saturday afternoon.

Gilbert Mickelson, sophomore forward, has been added to the disabled list and will not make the trip. Suffering from a sore muscle in his left leg, he will rest at home while Jed Mees, also a sophomore, takes his place. The rest of the roster will include the same group of players who made the trip to the Pacific coast and to Illinois.

The squad will arrive at West Point Saturday morning where it will be met by Coach Harold Olsen who is in New York today arranging details of the national intercollegiate basketball tournament. Like all of Army's home games, the contest will be played in the afternoon, and the team will return to Columbus immediately after the final whistle.

Regulars Start . . .

Coach Olsen has indicated that although Saturday's game is of no consequence in Conference standings, he will start his regular first string lineup with Jimmy Hull and Dick Baker at the forwards; Johnny Schick at center and Bob Lynch and Dick Boughner at the guards. It is probable that most of the other players will see action.

The Buckeyes will find Army a hard nut to crack. The cadets, with a high scoring front line and adequate replacements, have bowled over most of their opponents on the Atlantic Seaboard with high scores. The starting lineup probably will include McDavid and Brinker in the forward positions, Kobes at center and Sullivan and Samuel at the guards.

Saturday's game will be the Buckeyes' final non-Conference tilt of the season.

Michigan State Added

Indiana University's swimming team has added Michigan State to its schedule. The mermen will meet at Indiana on March 4, ending the Hoosier home season.

MILLS and OHIO STATE

MILLS has always been an important part of life at Ohio State. Yes, we might just as well be right on the campus—for every evening an Ohio Stater "steps out," he tops off the night with a visit to MILLS BUFFET with the girl friend.

We number among our valued guests—Ohio State "greats" of other years who got the MILLS habit while on the campus. Quality foods, distinctive service and friendly hospitality have built a business of which we are justly proud and you OHIO STATERS have played a most important part in our success.

Formals, Festivity To Mark Week End

Dinner-Dances, House Dances, Skating Parties, Banquets, Book Review Scheduled

By MARTHA ANN HINKLE
Society Editor

Merry Christmas, you all! Or at any rate, doesn't it look like Christmas these days, what with the luscious snow and all?

First off, we'd like to tell you about the Alpha Omega dance planned for Saturday night. The affair is to be an escaped convict dance, with prison uniforms required, the inside of the house decorated to look like a prison, an electric chair and all the fixin's. We might say that arrangements cover the prison situation from Alpha to Omega. (Sorry, that slipped!)

ATO Party

Robert Seabold is arranging a dance for the ATO boys at their house Saturday night. Dancing will be to the radio, and chaperons will include Mr. and Mrs. Elton D. Ketch and Mr. and Mrs. James Smith.

Zeta Bete Week

The Zeta Bete boys have lined up an ambitious week end. Festivities will start off with a tea dance, to be followed by a buffet supper, at the house from 5:30 to 9:30 Saturday. And here's the really novel part... At 6:30 Sunday MORNING, the boys and their dates will gather for a sunrise dance and sleigh ride out to Gahanna!!! We've reversed that a little; what we meant was that they would gather for the sleigh ride first, THEN have the dance, but anyway, isn't it all pretty clever?

Law Quadrad

And here are some more of the many parties scheduled for Saturday night, the E Psi E's will be the Law Quadrad, when the Delta Theta Sigmas, the Phi Delta Phis, the Gamma Eta Gammas and the Tau Epsilon Pi's get together for a formal at the Fort Hayes Hotel. Bob Jones seems to be planning it all, and it looks to be quite an evening.

Phi Ep Affair

The Phi Epsilon Pi's will go formal Saturday night when they hold a dinner dance at the Hall of Mirrors in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel. Percy Lowery's orchestra will play, and Milton Rapport, Ted Wohl and Sam Shapiro are in charge... And more—the Phi Eps will observe the seventh birthday of the local chapter with a banquet at the house Sunday.

Miscellaneous

The Beta pledges will be skating and dancing Saturday night, the AE Pi pledges will be having a dance at their house, the E Psi E's will be doing the same at theirs and the Kappa Phi Kappas are planning a dance at theirs. The engineering boys will be festive, with dances to be held at both the Triangle and the Theta Tau houses, while the Phi Delta Epsilon medical lads will be swinging at their house.

More of Same

The Phi Kappa Sigmas are planning a rushing dance at their abode, the Pi K A's and the Sig Eps will be dancing at their houses, and the Sigma Chis are planning an affair at Oak Park.

Beta Dinner-Dance

The University Club will be the scene of a super-super formal dinner-dance tonight, when the Beta boys entertain. Henry Cincone and his orchestra will provide the music, and Bill Howell, Frank Vogel and Johnny Carlson are the committee in charge. Johnny says that the girls will receive "beautiful favors."

Delta Chi

Come to think of it, did we ever mention the Delta Chis? In case we didn't, they will hold a formal dance at the Scioto Country Club tonight from 9 to 1. That's all we know about it.

Pledge Parties

Two more parties on Sunday will wind up the week end's hilarity... the DU pledges will be having a party from 5 to 8, and the Alpha Gamma Sigma pledges will hold a tea dance for the Kappa Delta pledges at their house from 2 to 5. Whew!

Book Review

The Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae will sponsor a book review and musical tea at 3 p. m. Sunday, when Mrs. Leslie B. Keyser will review "The Singin' Fiddler," by Jean Thomas. The story will be particularly interesting to the Zetas, since it is much in keeping with their philanthropic work in Marion, Va. Actives and pledges will assist the alumnae. Tickets may be obtained from several alumnae.

Anniversary

The Theta U's will celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary Saturday with a formal banquet at the Broadwin Hotel. An interesting program

Dr. Hicks to Speak To Audubon Society

Dr. Lawrence E. Hicks, director of the Ohio Wildlife Research Station at the University, will speak before the Columbus Audubon Society on the subject, "Hunting Birds in Europe," at 8 p. m. Thursday in the auditorium of the Columbus Public Library.

The meeting will be public and plans for a short bird study course intended primarily for anyone not affiliated with a bird club or nature study group will be announced.

bid you adieu. Have a good time tonight, Saturday and Sunday!

P.S.—There's to be a Mortar Board meeting at 4 p. m. Sunday at the Alpha Phi house. Mary Jane Vines says everybody better come, 'cause there's much to be discussed.

House Warming

Rho Pi Phi, pharmacy fraternity, will open its new house to friends at a house warming party Saturday night. Faculty members of the College of Pharmacy have been invited to the party as well as alumni. Several members of the Cleveland alumni chapter which advanced the money to finance the house have notified the fraternity that they would be present.

Notice

Through the courtesy of R. F. Stillwell, mining engineer of the class of 1923, we have been able to obtain three reels of moving pictures with sound attachment, showing the production, preparation and utilization of coal, including the various mining processes and processing. These movies will be shown at 7:30 p. m. Friday, January 20, in room 208, Lord Hall.

All interested are cordially invited to attend.

H. E. NOLD,
Department of Mine Engineering.

Chemistry Colloquium

A Chemistry Colloquium will be held at 4 p. m. Tuesday, January 24, in room 402, Chemistry Building. Dr. Frank Verhock will be the speaker, and the topic is "Vapor Pressures and Accommodation Coefficients of Certain Plasticizers."

Colloquium in Theoretical Physics

A colloquium in theoretical physics will be held at 4 p. m. Monday, January 23, in room 112, Mendenhall Laboratory of Physics. The topic for discussion will be "Interaction between Vibration and Rotation in Methane." The subject will be introduced by Wayne H. Shaffer. All persons interested are welcome.

Sir Ronald Storrs to Speak

Sir Ronald Storrs, for more than 30 years a British diplomat holding important positions in the Near East, will speak in the Chapel at 8:30 p. m. Monday on "The Problem of Palestine and the Eastern Mediterranean." Sir Ronald, who served as Oriental secretary at Cairo, as civil and military governor of Jerusalem, and as governor of Cyprus and Northern Rhodesia, comes here under the auspices of the Columbus branch, American Association of University Women. Tickets for the general public will be available at the door Monday night.

Suggested Amendments to Report on Urgent Needs

In order that the Faculty Committee of Six appointed to receive and correlate suggested changes in the report of the President's Committee of Twenty-five on "Urgent Needs of the University" may proceed with its work, it is necessary that a final date be set for the receipt of letters containing suggested changes and additions. February 7 has been named by the committee as the final date. Communications from any members of the University faculty will be considered by the committee, whether they relate to their department or field of specialization, to other specific areas, or to the University in its more general aspects. Letters should be sent to the undersigned, department of electrical engineering, Robinson Laboratory.

H. W. BIBBER,
Chairman.

Organic Chemistry Colloquium

The next meeting of the Organic Chemistry Colloquium will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, January 24, in room 302, Chemistry Building. The following topics will be discussed: "Synthesis of Dill and Parsley Apiol," by Moses Konigsberg, and "Cumulenes," by Professor M. L. Wolfson.

Physiology Seminar

The Physiology Seminar will meet in room 211, Hamilton Hall, at 4 p. m. Tuesday. Dr. Fred A. Hitchcock will speak on "Claude Bernard and His Contribution to Physiology." All those interested are cordially invited to attend.
