Myers, Professor and Mrs. Joseph R. Taylor, Professor Louis A. Cooper and Professor William L. Graves, occupying the west box.

Choice seats may be had at Henrick's and the Jolly Gargoyle, at 75 and 50 cents, all being reserved.

BUSINESS STAFF NAMED TUESDAY BY STROLLERS

The Stroller business staff for next year was appointed by the Stroller board Tuesday. Frederick F. Jaeger, E-3, was selected as business manager; Chester M. Jenkins, Ag-3, was appointed stage manager, and James K. Miller, A-2, was chosen press agent. Harold M. Haylor, E-3, was appointed advertising manager.

This is the first time in two years that the Stroller board has appointed an advertising manager. Because of war conditions, the advertising manager appointed in 1917 did not return to school and last spring the position was left vacant.

The new business staff was appointed after recommendations of this year's staff had been considered. All members of the business staff are entitled to full membership in the organization.

DR. HUMPHREY IS NO BETTER

Dr. William A. Humphrey of the College of Homeopathic Medicine, who has been critically ill for the past week at the Homeopathic Hospital, is no better. Dr. Humphrey is suffering from blood poisoning and complications as the result of an operation on his right arm.

LA BOHEME HOLDS INITIATION

La Boheme held initiation services recently for Vernon K. Richards, A-3; Paul A. Leighton, A-2, and Walter W. Chamblin, A-2.

TO HOLD JUBILEE SUPPER AT OHIO FIELD ON JUNE 12

Arrangements have been completed for the annual alumni jubilee supper to be held on Ohio Field on June 12, and which will differ greatly from those of previous years. All the seniors will be invited and will be initiated into the association at this time. At the request of J. Lewis Morrill, secretary of the Ohio State University Association, a senior committee headed by Thomas B. Meek and composed of members of Scarlet Mask, Men's Glee Club and Strollers, will present an entertainment. This will be the climax of the jubilee celebration.

Other arrangements for the day include registration at the alumni office in Ohio Union, a business meeting of the Ohio State University Association at 9 a. m. and a luncheon at the Union at 1:30 p. m. Lowry F. Sater '95 is in charge of the program. At 3 p. m. the graduates will witness the faculty-senior baseball game, after which they will go to Ohio Field for the jubilee supper.

COUNCIL NAMES MAY 17 FOR LANTERN ELECTION

Class Representatives to Be Chosen at Polls in University Hall and Home Economics Building.

Monday, May 17, was set aside by Woman's Student Council at its meeting Tuesday as election day for representatives who will take part in the annual lantern ceremony. Voting booths will be placed in University Hall and the Home Economics Building. All candidates will be chosen at large at the polls by the girls of the respective classes.

Council went on record as endorsing the proposed May breakfast to be given May 25, from 7 to 9 a. m., on Ohio Field, under the auspices of the Woman's Athletic Association. Council further pledged its assistance in promoting interest among the girls relative to the affair.

Tickets for the annual May Fete, to be held May 24 at 4 p. m., in the hollow just east of Mirror Lake, were distributed among the council members by Henrietta Wahlenmaier, chairman of the distribution of tickets.

ALUMNA AUTHOR OF PAGEANT

Esther Reedy Writes Theme for May Day Fete at Williamson.

Miss Esther Reedy '19, who has spent the last year in Williamson, W. Va., making a mental survey of the public schools, wrote the May Day pageant recently given there by 150 school children.

The theme portrayed was the resources of Williamson and the beauty of the mountains around it. Miss Reedy gave one of the solo dances, impersonating the Spirit of Steam. She will return to Ohio State next year for post-graduate study in psychology.

NEW COMMITTEE TO MEET TO DISCUSS SENIOR PROM

Eleanor M. Ferris, Ed-4; Mary G. Hedges, Ag-4; Audrey P. Smith, Ed-4; Elizabeth Richards, A-4; Minnette Fritts Proctor, Ed-4; Oliver S. Matheny, CJ-4; Frank Lane, A-4; George F. Henning, Ag-4, and Victor J. Roehm, E-4, have been appointed as the committee for the Senior Prom. The first meeting will be held in room 209 of the Gymnasium, Thursday at 5 p. m.

GIRLS GET HONORABLE MENTION

Four girls received honorable mention because of the workmanship and patterns of the dresses made by them, at a tea given by the heads of the department of home economics in the dietetics laboratory Tuesday at 4 p. m. They are: Helen Huffman, Ag-2; Dorothy Fenton, Ag-1; Helen Nice, Ag-1, and Lucinda Alexander, Ag-1. Dresses were made from organdie, gingham, linen, silk and voile, ranging in cost from $1.49 to $14.

SONGS MUST BE IN THIS WEEK

Saturday is the last chance campus composers will have to submit a song celebrating the semicentennial and win the $50 prize offered by the Ohio State University Association. Entries must be submitted to Professor William L. Evans of the department of chemistry.

TELLS ABOUT WORKINGS OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

R. J. Dustman Explains Organization's System of News Collection and Distribution.

"Newspapers are elected to membership in the Associated Press just as members are elected to a club," explained R. J. Dustman, manager of the Columbus branch of the Associated Press, in a talk before the class in Journalism 104, Wednesday at 8 a. m.

"This is because the Associated Press is a mutual co-operative news-gathering organization, begun in the first place by newspapers in the Middle West in order to get Washington news uncolored. The organization has now a membership of 1300 papers."

Leased-wire telegraph, telephone and cable, traction car and train are all used to serve the Associated Press. It leases 80,000 miles of telegraph wire to every large city and to many small ones. It also employs a mail service for material that remains fresh for some time. This mail service is mostly used for feature stories. "The telephone is often used," Mr. Dustman continued, "as small country papers can often get enough in that fashion to fill the first page. These messages are taken directly on the typewriter."

Membership assessments in the Associated Press are based on the size of the newspaper, the extent of its territory and its circulation. The cost varies, running as high as $500 per week in large cities.

William J. Norris of the department of art will speak before the class Friday.

REPUBLICANS TO OPEN MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Arrangements have been completed for beginning a college Republican club membership campaign at once to end at midnight May 29. The Republican state advisory committee intends to select three students, either men or women, who will represent the large, medium and small colleges and universities of the state, to attend the Republican national convention at Chicago June 8 as its guests.

Each Republican club will seek to enlist in its membership all students who endorse the Republican party. At the end of the campaign percentages will be reckoned to determine the leading college club in each of the three classes, according to the ratio of the members to the enrollment of the given college.

Woman students are eligible to membership and may be selected by the winning college for the trip to the convention. The representatives who go to Chicago will send back daily reports of the events of the convention to their respective colleges and also to the Republican state headquarters at Columbus.

JAP MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

Dr. Ostram, a missionary of Japan, will speak at the meeting of the World Fellowship Club Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Dr. William Houston, 54 Fifteenth Avenue. Following the program, the nomination committee will be appointed, election of officers to take place at the picnic Thursday, May 20.

Nothing but Milk Since May 1 Is Diet Accepted by Experimenting Student

How would you like to live on 20 pints of milk per day for six weeks? Would it appeal to you to forsake banquets, dinner parties and senior activities for the sake of experimental research?

Nels I. J. Nelson, VM-4, is living on a milk diet of 20 pints a day and sleeping 12 hours. The object of the experiment is to make a study of the assimilation of milk in the normal system.

May 1, Nelson began to fast and continued fasting for five and one-half days. On the second day of the fast he experienced a sensation of hunger, but on the fourth day this disappeared, leaving him in a weakened condition. During this period of fasting he lost 20 pounds in weight. He was then examined by three physicians at the University Homeopathic Hospital to see if he was physically

GREEK BANQUET PUT OFF UNTIL NEXT SEMESTER

Men's Panhellenic Council Postpones Annual Affair Because of Lack of Time.

The annual Panhellenic banquet, scheduled for the purpose of announcing the scholastic standing of the various fraternities represented in the organization, will not be held until next fall. This was decided by Men's Panhellenic Council at its meeting at the Phi Gamma Delta House Tuesday at 7 p. m. It was deemed unwise to give the function this spring on account of the short time remaining before school closes.

A general discussion was held by the members of the council as to the merits of a plan whereby the president of each fraternity in the organization should act as that chapter's representative, instead of appointing one, as is now the case. Nothing definite was decided except that the question should be considered later.

Results of the championship bowling match held last week between members of the All-Greek and Panhellenic Bowling Leagues were reported by the committee in charge, and the possibilities of making it an annual affair were contemplated.

The next and last meeting of the year for the council will be held at the Zeta Beta Tau House, Tuesday, May 25, at 7:15 p. m.

MIDVALE STEEL MAN SPEAKS

Says Manufacture of Product Improving, in Illustrated Lecture.

"The manufacture of steel has been one of continuous improvement," said George A. Richardson, representative of the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company of the Cambria Steel Company, in a lecture on the "Manufacture of Steel Products," in the Chapel Tuesday afternoon.

Several reels of film picturing the various steps from the mining of the ore to the finished product, including certain forms of Bessemer furnaces, the rolling mills for large iron plates and structural shapes and special mills used for the rolling of steel car wheels, steel flywheels and disc steel automobile wheels, were shown.

CAMPANILE INCREASES SIZE

May Issue Will Contain Eight Short Stories and 16 Additional Pages.

The Campanile is to be enlarged 16 pages, thereby increasing the size to 64 pages. The May edition will contain eight short stories, as compared with one in the first issue. May 21, the date of the beginning of the Big Six track meet, is set as the date for the sale of the magazine. It will be sold by members of Theta Sigma Phi.

Election of editor and business manager for next year will be held some time next week. They will be selected from the juniors who have been doing the best work on the Campanile this year.

FROSH AND SOPHS MEET FRIDAY FOR TUG OF WAR

Each Team Confident of Making Its Opponent Wade Through Mirror Lake.

Will the record of 'Hank' Ohlson of the department of physical education, of having never coached a losing team, be broken when the freshmen meet the sophomores Friday at 4 p. m. at Mirror Lake in the annual tug of war?

"No," say the sophomores, who feel confident that under his direction they can repeat their performance of last year.

"Yes," say the freshmen, who are to be piloted by Gymnasium Director Cobb, and who feel that the recent showing at the tryouts foretells their victory.

For several days tryouts have been held for both teams on Ohio Field, and while 45 huskies have appeared for the yearlings, 30 showed up for the sophomores. All men wishing to try out must weigh 165 pounds. Thirty men will be picked for each team.

According to the rules of the contest, a rope will be stretched across Mirror Lake at the widest point and a handkerchief will be tied in the middle, to be marked by a stake which will be driven in the center of the lake. Each side is to pull for 20 minutes, after which, if neither side is pulled in, the side having moved the handkerchief the most past the stake will be declared the winner and the losing team must wade through the lake to greet the winning team.

The present sophomores, under the direction of Ohlson, won last year. However, the contest had to be performed twice, as the first event ended in a tie, the handkerchief being directly in the center as the pistol was fired. In a second contest the sophomores won, ending with the handkerchief two feet over the line.

ENGINEERS CONDUCT CONTEST

Sophomore engineering drawing students visited the Terry Engraving Company plant Tuesday for the purpose of acquainting themselves with the process used in making zinc etchings. The students, who are in the department of civil engineering, are making maps for photo reduction. The exercise is in the nature of a contest, the winner to be given a zinc etching of his work as a prize. The class is conducted by Professor W. D. Turnbull.

BROOKS RETURNS TO CAMPUS

Dr. Clyde Brooks of the department of physiology has returned from a meeting of the American Medical Association in New Orleans, where he gave a paper on "New Methods of Clinical Measurement of Blood Pressure," of which Dr. Albert M. Bleile is joint author. Dr. John J. Coons and Dr. J. H. J. Upham of the College of Medicine were also present.

SPHINX CHOOSES FIFTEEN STUDENTS TO MEMBERSHIP

Link Day Exercises Held in Chapel on Account of Rain, for First Time in Society's History.

President Congratulates Members and Tells Newly Chosen Men They Represent Ohio State.

Solemnized in the Chapel for the first time since the founding of the society, and featured by the selection of one senior, the annual Link Day of Sphinx was celebrated Wednesday noon with the selection of 14 juniors and one senior.

President Thompson, presiding over the ceremonies, addressed the students who had packed the Chapel to witness the linking, after the rain had prevented the usual outdoor solemnities. He congratulated the begowned Sphinx about to make their new selections and called attention to the seriousness of the occasion.

"To those who are about to be chosen I extend my congratulations as well," he said, "and ask that they consider themselves as men chosen not to represent themselves, but the University. Each man who will be linked has behind him a record of three years of honorable service which he is expected to continue."

One Senior Selected

The selection of Joseph A. Park was made in recognition of his work and service in behalf of the University and marks the first linking of a senior in the history of the society.

The new links and their activities are:

George R. Fenner, CJ-3, of Columbus; baseball, Lantern staff, Sigma Delta Chi, Alpha Kappa Psi, Varsity "O."

William V. Slyker, L-1, of Huron; football, baseball, captain-elect 1921 basketball team, Bucket and Dipper.

Gaylord R. Stinchcomb, E-3, of Folsom.

ALL-UNIVERSITY ELECTIONS

One of the most discouraging features of our University life has been the complete failure to obtain a real expression of campus sentiment in elections, either general or special. Elections for the most important offices as well as for those of lesser importance, alike create little enthusiasm among students. The percentage of votes cast in proportion to those which might have been cast is pitifully and disgracefully small. The sacredness of the franchise means apparently nothing.

And the result has been that the election of a person bears no relation to his popularity or fitness, and manipulation and irregularities are encouraged because no one has enough interest to file a protest.

Complaint has been made that the system here is wrong. It is claimed that elections are held so frequently as to amount to a nuisance. For instance, there are separate elections for Men's Student Council, Woman's Student Council, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Ohio Union board of overseers, May Fete Queen and often the athletic associations. Have one big election and nearly every student in the University will cast a ballot, is the opinion of many.

And there is much to be said in favor of this plan. Most evident is the enormous saving of time and trouble. Then there would be a concentrated interest in the election. With many candidates running, each with his supporting factions, much discussion, campaigning and a consequent large vote would result. It would mean the establishment of a traditional election day, taking its place along side of Dip Day, Link Day and the like.

On the other hand, it is said that a long ballot would result in the same condition which marks its use in civic and state elections, namely, that with so many persons to be voted for it is impossible for the voter to make a careful study of the possibilities of each candidate. However, the fact remains that in student elections this objection could not be a serious one.

This system of an all-campus election is being employed at Michigan, as it happens, the election being held today. Students there are being asked to vote for the following: President of Student Council, officers for Michigan Union, student councilmen, Y. M. C. A. officers and officers for the Engineering Society, Architectural Society, engineering and architectural honor committee and Oratorical Association.

What percentage of students enrolled at Michigan will vote at this election is not known at present, but the combining of all elections into one big one is at least worthy of a trial. Surely, nothing could be worse than the present conditions.

DECISIONS

Making decisions is something no one can avoid. Though scarcely realizing it perhaps, so unconscious are we often of the processes of thought, we make hundreds of decisions a day. What we wear, what and when we eat, where we go and whom we go with are things settled only after balancing certain advantages and disadvantages against each other.

On the weightier matters, and particularly now on student affairs, this process is of course more deliberate. Shall we go to college, and if so, where? From which course will we squeeze the most knowledge and enjoyment? If the opportunity presents itself, shall we affiliate with a fraternity? Shall we go in for activities, meeting our fellow-students, sharing their hopes and ambitions, getting their viewpoints, or go it alone, wrapped up in ourselves? Shall we only take from our Alma Mater or shall we also give, mixing our strength with hers, each rising bigger and better from the contact? All these things have to be thought out, fought out, decided. There is no escaping; no one can help us. We can ask advice, to be sure, but the final answer must be of our own making.

And there comes a time, as it has come to hundreds this year, when we are seniors and find ourselves face to face with the biggest question of all: What shall we do with our lives? We have the product of our minds and our bodies to offer the world. What shall we decide is a fair return? The accumulation of material things? The knowledge of a service unselfishly done? What? Each of us must set his own criterion for success. No matter what it may be, it can only be realized in one way—by making sure that it is the one thing above all others that we most want and then relentlessly battering our way ahead until we reach it. Nothing can stop a definite purpose and a strong will.

OUR SHARPSHOOTERS

Ohio State University has won additional laurels in a comparatively new field of intercollegiate competition. In the past few weeks the University rifle team has scored decisive victories over Indiana, Illinois and DePauw without incurring a defeat.

While rifle matches have little of the glamour attaching to football, baseball, basketball, track and tennis contests, they should not be dismissed as insignificant affairs. Any event in which the University displays its prowess, be it a successful glee club concert or Stroller production, the winning of a debate or the publication of a magazine, a football game or a rifle match, means that just that much louder will its name go ringing across the land. Every new achievement means more power.

So we extend congratulations to the University riflemen with their keen eyes.

Some officials recommend prison for food profiteers. That would be too good for 'em, for on our trips through such institutions as members of a class in sociology we have noticed that the "chow" rivals that of the most profiteer-oppressed boarding house.

The daily news carries the report of a youth who tried to steal an elephant. That's nothing compared with what some people try to "get away with" every day around here.

It should be the solemn duty of every upperclassman to explain to the average freshman that Link Day has absolutely nothing to do with sausages.

The journalism student certainly has his "nut" test each day in trying to get news in various parts of the campus.

"Preserve the preserves" should be the cry around the table as the price of sugar gives promise of another advance.

In discussing picnics, the wet and dry question is one of the main issues at stake.

Prominent dopesters have figured that the co-ed meet will be won by those who are always "chasin' around."

TAPS AT 11 A. M.

(First Spirit)

Out of these timeless rolling deeps,
 Across the dim eternal abyss,
 I feel—I feel—a yearning glow
 Of earthly memories,
 Earthly bliss!

What is that call I hear from afar,
 Vague and faint, from a tiny star?

(Second Spirit)

Ah, I have heard it pealing clear,
 As low I hover o'er earth, and glide;
 And I then forget the turbid Marne,
 And the black barrage,
 My bleeding side!

I too have heard a bugle call
 Ring from our Alma Mater's hall!

(First Spirit)

Oh, into my shadow-wounds I feel
 A quiet peace, a mystery,
 And Flanders fields, and wild Verdun,
 Vanish from out
 My memory!

Ah, sweet it is thus dead to be,
 And live again in memory!
 And live again
 In memory!

—FRED HARROLD.

Wise Quotation

"Man wants but little here below."
 And man gets it!

From McDuffy's First Reader

"See the smiling man over there."
 "And why is the man smiling?"
 "He is smiling because he sells furniture on the installment plan."
 "And why should that make him smile?"
 "Because the month of June will soon be here."
 "And what has the month of June to do with it?"
 "That is the month when two who should know better decide that two can live cheaper than one."
 Pupil—"Can two live cheaper than one, teacher?"
 Teacher—"This is a lesson in reading. We will take up arithmetic tomorrow."

Modern Heroes

The man stood on the burning deck.
 The leaping flames, they scorched his neck.
 But gee, oh gosh! he stood there meekly
 And filmed the scene for Pathe's Weekly.

There's just one thing worse than a professional coquette. That's an amateur.

Old Are Too Neurotic

Dr. Frank Crane urges every man to marry while he's very young. He's right; when you go into battle you want to be in perfect condition.

Deadened the Sound

Mother—"Didn't I hear you kiss Jack last night?"
 Daughter—"No, ma'am; he was wearing a muffler."

Oh Boy!

Our idea of a good joke would be to have one of the newly elected Phi Beta Kappas flunk something in the finals.

This Is a Treat

First Kat—"Well, how does your new guy treat you?"
 Second Kat—"He doesn't."

Jingle Bells

Women could be humorists,
 Especially if they're single;
 For since most everyone's a belle,
 They should know how to jingle.

THE CAMPUS COP

Foresight

The members of an English class in the Physics Building were given an assignment to write a theme on process. One co-ed used "How to Can String Beans" as her topic, and she proceeded to tell the necessary steps to complete this process according to Hoyle, or whoever is the authority for canning. Another member of the class wrote a theme telling how a certain delicious meal could be prepared by a woodsman in which no cooking utensils would be required. Still a third member made many mouths water by writing on "How to Make Lemon Pies." The theme ended by stating how nice and brown the whipped cream on top would be.

The Campus Cop, having dined sumptuously on a bar of chocolate because of a shrinkage of the purse, was having visions satisfying to the appetite when he saw the theme of another member of the class. This classmate had evidently anticipated the results of the foregoing recipes and so had written on "How to Make Pills."

IN FAVOR OF RAGTIME CLEANUP

Pointing out that the words of popular songs frequently are suggestive, Dean F. Louise Nardin of the University of Wisconsin recommended a ragtime cleanup and the relegation of the average popular song to the ash can, in a talk on "Chivalry and Partnership" at the Badger Club in Madison last week. Along with popular songs should go risque shows, in so far as student patronage is concerned, according to the Wisconsin dean of women.

TO WRESTLE AT OLYMPIC MEET

Another Big Ten activity will be represented in Western Conference style when the Olympic games open at Antwerp. Captain Troendly of the Nebraska wrestling team has received a bid to compete and will probably be found in Belgium next August.

BUCKEYES DOPED TO WIN HURDLES IN BIG SIX MEET

NOTE.—This is the second of a series of articles discussing the relative merits of the probable entries in the Big Six track meet.

Rogers of Miami, and Hill and Pollman of Ohio State have thus far shown themselves to be away ahead of all other entries in the two hurdle races and these three should take the first three places in each of the dashes over the sticks.

In the high hurdle race, Hill of Ohio State is the probable winner, as he is the only man in the state who has been able to go the 126 yards in :16. Rogers is about the next best bet, with Pollman a close third choice. Mitchell of Wooster, is the northern Ohio champion, but his time of :16.4-5 will hardly get him better than fourth place; at that he will have to step rather rapidly in order to beat out McDiarmid of Miami, who has shown lots of stuff in the event. Leavitt of Wooster, Padilla of Wesleyan, and Smith of Cincinnati, are likely contenders.

Although Hill of Ohio State has made the low hurdles in :26.1-5, Rogers of Miami has an excellent chance to nose him out. Last year, when Ensign made :26, Rogers would have been the winner had he not tripped over a hurdle near the finish when he was leading. Pollman may upset things and beat out either or both of these men. The little sprinter has the stuff to come through in fine style. Mitchell of Wooster is again fourth place choice, with Dietrich of Case last. Martin of Oberlin is also a fair runner, but the competition for the smaller places will not be so keen in this event.

Doping out the relay races is largely a matter of chance, as few relays have been run this year, and the personnel of the teams changes too constantly to be certain of the makeups for the big meet. However, Ohio Wesleyan has the most likely set of quarter-milers and should cop first. If Cincinnati has anyone to help out, West will make that team a strong contender with a probable second-place finish. Ohio State and Oberlin will be in on the fight, with the upstarters slight favorites to beat out the Buckeyes. Case is a good fifth-place choice, as the Engineers usually come along with a good relay squad.

Adding the points so far makes the score stand: Ohio State 33, Ohio Wesleyan 16, Miami 14, Cincinnati 13, Oberlin 10, Wooster 5, and Case 3. The Buckeyes then, show more strength in the shorter distances than any other two teams combined in each of these events and it would be no great surprise if the first runner across the line were one from Coach Castleman's tent.

FROSH AND VETERANS MIX TO PREPARE FOR BIG TEN

Coach Fuller's frosh students of the diamond and Coach St. John's veterans have been staging daily tilts, preparing the Varsity for the Big Ten frays. Although the veterans at the game always put across a win, the yearlings have shown some first-class baseball material in their ranks.

Dudley and Workman have been doing most of the mound work for the first-year men. Dudley was an all-high hurler, hailing from North, while Workman made a name for himself at Huntington, W. Va., making the all-high team for three successive years. On the receiving end, Tufford and Lynch are showing good form and with a little more experience and coaching, will make excellent Varsity material next year. Several good men are fighting for regular berths in both the infield and the outer gardens, but as yet no place has been cinched by any one man.

ONE MORE HOME CONTEST TO BE PLAYED BY VARSITY

Out of the 11 more games to be played by the Ohio State baseball team, only one will be on the Eleventh Avenue diamond and this with Illinois, Monday, May 17.

The following games comprise the baseball schedule for the rest of the season: Friday, May 14, Purdue at Lafayette; Saturday, May 15, Indiana at Bloomington; Monday, May 17, Illinois at Columbus; Wednesday, May 19, Michigan at Ann Arbor; Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22, Marshall College at Huntington; Thursday, May 27, Illinois at Urbana; Friday, May 28, Wisconsin at Madison; Monday, May 31, Ohio at Athens; Friday, June 11, Wesleyan at Delaware; Saturday, June 12, Denison at Granville.

OHIO STATE TO MEET PURDUE AND INDIANA ON RIVALS' FIELDS

With two wins and one defeat tucked away under their belt, Coach St. John's Scarlet and Grey baseball warriors will leave sometime Thursday for the adjoining state on the west to play a pair of week-end games, the first with Purdue Friday, the second with Indiana the following day. After the defeat given the Boilermakers here, no trouble should be had giving the same dose there. But with Indiana some difficulty may be encountered.

While the Hoosiers have lost five straight games, two to Wisconsin, two to Iowa and one to Michigan, the breaks have been against them. The team has fallen into a semislump since the defeat by Michigan, and Coach Scholler's men have been going through intensive practice during the last few days in a determined effort to overcome this lapse. The work of the Crimson men at bat has been a big handicap to the team. "Red" Rauschenbach and Hendricks have been hitting consistently, but the chief fault of all has been their inability to connect in the pinches.

The lineup of the Indiana team will be much the same as in other contests this season. Kunkel will probably be the man picked for mound duty against the Buckeyes with Walker a possibility. Rauschenbach will work behind the plate, proving himself a general at this position last season. "Jack" Hendricks has been playing a great game at first, Dean, basketball and football star, will work at the keystone sack. Buttorff, a fast and dependable fielder, holds down the hot corner and Mathys, another clever man at the game, works at short. Driscoll, Teeters, and Schuler cover the outer gardens, playing left, center and right fields, respectively.

DROP DISCUSSION GROUPS FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR

Y. M. C. A. Project Showed Some
Lack of Interest, Due to Late
Start of Movement.

The Y. M. C. A. discussion groups have come to a close, and according to a report given out by Willis S. Mozier, chairman of the committee, there is a diversity of opinion as to their success.

It is thought that the movement was started too late in the school year to be successful. However, the committee in charge feels that as a whole the movement was worth while since enthusiasm was substituted among the students for indifference upon the subjects of vital importance to the student body. For the sake of organization, this work was divided into units, consisting of the fraternities, the boarding clubs and the small groups that met in the Y. M. C. A. office. The average attendance was 20.

The subjects discussed with the most enthusiasm and drawing the largest vote for popularity were: "Political and International Situation," "Current Topics," "Labor and Capital," "Socialism," "Bolshevism," "Social Evolution, Its Relation to the Bible and Miracles and Birth of Jesus." The pamphlet published by Huntley Dupre played a part in stirring up interest in the discussions and furnished the incentive to make some of the meetings a success.

That the failure of some few of the groups to prove interesting was not due to the fault of the leaders was brought out in every case. "The members of the faculty and others who acted as leaders in the various groups are to be congratulated upon their success and willingness to help in this movement, and whatever element of success came from these meetings is due in a large measure to the leaders," said the chairman of the committee.

The work of organizing these groups next year will be started as soon as school opens in September, and it is hoped that the movement will be well under way by the holiday season.
