

Alumni To Hear Appropriation Plans Outlined

Biennial Conference To Be Held November 5

The Eighth Biennial All-Ohio Alumni Conference will be held on the campus November 5, at which time the University's anticipated appropriations request to be made before the Ninety-third General Assembly will be outlined by University officials.

Over 300 alumni club presidents and secretaries, key alumni and district alumni governors from all parts of the state have been invited to the conference, which will be presided over by Dr. Charles F. Scott, president of the Association. The University's financial problems will be discussed by Dr. William McPherson, acting president, and Vice President J. L. Morrill.

Constitution Proposal

A recommendation involving a new standard constitution to be adopted by all of the local alumni clubs will be taken to the group from the Association's board of directors.

Under this proposed plan, all local alumni clubs will hereafter be chartered by the Ohio State University Association, the official alumni organization. This charter constitution plan will be explained to the delegates by Robert Segal, Chillicothe, district governor.

Scholarship Award

Another recommendation involves a scholarship plaque award in the high schools of Ohio, to be adopted as individual projects by the various local alumni clubs. Cecil M. Sims, Piqua, district governor, will describe the scholarship plan.

D. E. Proctor, new assistant secretary of the development fund, will explain the functions of the development fund to the members of the conference.

The delegates will be guests of the Ohio State University Association at luncheon and will attend the Ohio State-Purdue football game later in the afternoon.

Peattie Writes Article

The November issue of the Ohio Stater will include an article, "A Student Primer on Liberalism," by Dr. Roderick Peattie, department of geography, and another, "I See America," by William Cheng, International House.

Morrill Speech Features YMCA Membership Drive

Courtesy Columbus Dispatch, Vice President J. L. Morrill

Vice President J. L. Morrill will address a "Kickoff" banquet at 5:30 p. m. Monday in Pomerene Hall, which will mark the opening day activities of an intensive four-day YMCA membership drive.

Invitations have been sent to fraternity presidents and independent student leaders to attend the banquet where progress of the drive's first day will be reported and the program for the remainder of the drive will be outlined.

Other Speakers

Besides Vice President Morrill, other speakers will include: Professor Robert M. Hunter, College of Law and chairman of the "Y" Advisory Board; Rev. Donald Tippett, Bexley Methodist Episcopal Church; John J. Morrett, Com-4, president of the YMCA, and William M. Fumich, Com-2, general chairman of the membership drive.

Fumich will outline the details of the membership drive at the banquet and has announced the following committee chairmen to assist him: William H. Allen, arrangements committee; Robert E. Redding, treasurer; Ralph W. Sanborn, statics; James E. Kidd, fraternities and clubs; Walter S. Page, office; Irving M. Lichtenstein, publicity.

Two teams have been organized into the Scarlet and the Gray to compete in getting new membership subscriptions. The Scarlet team has as its general chairman Dean W. Palmer, Com-3, while the Gray group is led by George Miller, Com-3.

Scarlet Team

Committee captains working on the Scarlet team under Palmer include William C. Dagger, Harry E. Sondles, Robert Hoffman, Jack C. Younger and John Macklin.

Captains of the Gray team under Miller are: Roger D. Kennedy, Leo J. Mistak, James W. Danner, Norman Kripke and Morrett.

The committees anticipate contacting at least half of the University's male students before the end of the drive November 4.

All American Rating Received By Makio

For the second consecutive year the Makio has received an All American rating from the National Scholastic Press Association.

The Association awards ratings to school publications each year. The Makio is classed in the group of schools with 5000 or more students. There were three other All American ratings in this group.

Senate Hears Discussion Of Union Fund

Solons Suggest Means Of Diverting $1032.28

By IRVIN L. EDELSTEIN
Student Senate Reporter

Suggestions for disposing of a Union Fund, consisting of $1032.28, headlined the weekly Student Senate meeting Thursday evening.

The fund was set up two years ago by the Senate with an ultimate end of accumulating a large enough amount of money with which to finance at least a part of the expenditure of a new Union.

Dances Assessed

Money for the fund has been obtained by assessing fraternity, sorority and independent dances given for profit, as well as the various proms and the Military Ball. Each organization charging more than $1 admission must set aside 30 per cent of its profit for the fund, while the others are taxed 10 per cent.

However, as the amount has been increasing at the rate of only $500 per year, Robert W. Ferguson, A-4, Senate president, appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of putting the money to some immediate practical use.

Rightmire Memorial Suggested
The committee report, read by George Stine, Med-4, chairman, suggested that the fund be used to build a Rightmire Memorial on the campus, that it be used for a lecture series, or that it be returned to the respective classes. Suggestions from various senators seemed to indicate

Community Fund Shows Increase

Dr. Denune Regards Plan Of Contacting Students As Not Being Feasible

Latest reports on the University Community Fund campaign show a total contribution of $14,124, an increase of $889 over the figure announced Wednesday.

Dr. Perry P. Denune, department of sociology and chairman of the University campaign, revealed that the total contribution to date consisted of 1589 pledges, an average of $9.20 per pledge, and that donations are still coming in.

Dr. Denune said that he did not think that it would be practical or fair to start a student campaign for funds. It would be a tremendous task to contact the 13,700 students in the University, he said, and it would take a working force of at least 137 persons.

He also stated that fraternities and sororities will be contacted by the women's branch of the organization which covers the residential districts, but that student campaigns in the past have met with very little success.

ROTC Horseman Suffers Injury

Suffering head lacerations and body bruises, John E. Farahay, Com-4, of Columbus, was reported recovering today after being thrown from a horse during an ROTC riding class at the artillery corral Thursday afternoon.

After mounting and riding into the corral at the beginning of the class period, witnesses report that Farahay's mount broke into a gallop, raced the length of the enclosure, and then suddenly stopped, unseating its rider.

Farahay was taken to University Hospital for treatment and was reported released to his home Thursday night.

Student Cooperative Constitution Rejected

The recently prepared constitution of the Student Cooperative Association was rejected by Lowell A. Wrigley, director of men's housing bureau and assistant dean of men, when it was submitted to him by the managers of the various houses for approval.

Mr. Wrigley rejected the constitution on the grounds that it was not broad enough to include the increasing number of students in the cooperative movement.

'Dad Of Dads'

Courtesy Columbus Dispatch, Dwight J. Magers

Mr. Magers, father of Richard M. Magers, Engr-2, selected at random by Dean of Men Joseph A. Park from a file of all University students, will reign as "Dad of Dads" at "Dad's Day" observance at the Ohio State-Purdue football game.

Alliance Confers Planning Powers On Two Chairmen

Executive, Recording Secretaries, Treasurer Elected

In planning future ASA programs two committee heads chosen in the annual election of officers at a meeting Thursday night will be given extraordinary powers, it was revealed by Clyde S. Barnhart, Ag-2, new president and former executive secretary of the ASA.

The newly elected chairman of the labor committee, LaVerne B. Slagle, Com-4, and of the peace committee, Edward Likover, Grad, will have the authority to call special discussion or lecture sessions of the ASA, or to take over one of the regular weekly meetings, if they should desire to emphasize some problem in their special field.

Besides those mentioned, three other officers were elected unanimously after nominations had been made from the floor and discussed. They are: Dorothy Immerman, A-4, executive secretary; Martin Hurvita, A-2, treasurer, and Elizabeth A. Smith, Ed-3, recording secretary.

A motion was carried that the ASA should unite with the USP in the coming campus elections on the grounds that it was the most progressive party. The strength of the ASA was placed at 125 votes by the president.

Staters Elect Four To Membership

Kenneth J. Kline, secretary of the University YMCA, was recently admitted to membership in Ohio Staters, Incorporated, along with three members of the student body.

The students selected were: George Miller, Com-3; Franklin M. Rhodes, Engr-4, and James Foley, Vet-3.

At a meeting tonight the Ohio Staters will discuss the question of excursion rates for students wishing to leave Columbus over the Armistice Day week end, beginning November 11.

Winter Quarter Schedule Cards

Winter quarter schedule cards for students in the Colleges of Agriculture, Arts, Arts-Education, Commerce, and Education may be obtained at the Registrar's office on November 1. These schedules must be filed with the Registrar on or before Tuesday, November 8. Failure to comply with this rule involves a penalty of $1 for each day of delay, the maximum fine being $5.

Students who must have special concessions in the assignment of hours for recitations and laboratories due to ill health or self-support, should file their schedules, accompanied by a special request blank, on November 1. This special request blank must be presented each quarter.

Edith D. Cockins,
Registrar.

OSP A Names Queen Candidates, Enlists Tower Club Votes

Agnes Ondrak Gets Unanimous Backing; Dormitory Group Has Potential Support of 200

By ROBERT N. BUTLER
Lantern Political Editor

With the Tower Club—representing 200 potential votes—definitely enlisted to its support, Ohio Students' Party Associated, campus political combine, nominated six co-eds for Homecoming Queen Thursday.

The Homecoming Queen nominees and their affiliations are: Elizabeth D. Tuttle, Alpha Chi Omega; Elsie M. Kloos, Delta Delta Delta; Peggy Reese, Delta Zeta; Frances H. Goodwin, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Agnes M. Ondrak, Newman Club and Independent; Freda J. Burkhardt, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Vote-Getting Power

Of the six nominees, nothing is known of their vote-getting power with the single exception of Miss Ondrak. As an OSPA nominee for Homecoming Queen last year, she polled 810 votes. This was 98 more than the second highest, Ellen Morley, who was chosen Homecoming Queen at the Homecoming Dance.

With the annexation of the Tower Club, the strength of OSPA is considerably augmented. It is understood that difficulty in selecting a class office slate caused the combine to turn to the Tower Club for possible nominees.

Supported by 37 Groups

Beside the Tower Club, OSPA has signed and sealed 37 other organiza-

USP Organization Set; Leon Kogan Named Chairman

Ten Groups To Support Independent Combine

By WILLIAM N. MENDEL

With officers elected and organization virtually completed, the United Students' Party, independent political coalition, was prepared today to swing into action with the acknowledged support of at least 10 campus groups.

At the USP's second formal meeting Thursday in the Ohio Union, the combine delegates unanimously elected Leon D. Kogan, Com-3, permanent chairman. He is a member of the Independent Men's Association.

Other Officers

Other officers elected and the groups they represent are: secretary, Joseph A. Mihalka, A-2, Stadium Club; treasurer, Belle D. Weiner, A-2, Independent Women's Organization; publicity manager, Richard E. Curl, A-4, Stadium Club. Twenty-three official delegates attended.

New support was gained for the combine as it voted to sanction affiliation with the Women's Cooperative House after Emma L. Adams, A-Ed-3, official representative, reported a vote of confidence in the USP from the dormitory. The USP also voted to accept affiliation with Mack Hall, represented by Elizabeth A. Smith, A-3.

Decision as to the USP's slate of queens and class officers which was to have been made at the meeting has been delayed to allow more time for consideration, Kogan explained. He said that the next meeting, which will be closed, will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Ohio Union, and that the USP slate would in all probability be chosen at that time.

Fraternity Heads To Meet

The first meeting of the Council of Fraternity Presidents will be held November 8, Joseph M. Ryan, A-3, secretary of Fraternity Affairs, announced today. The main business of the meeting will be the nomination of the four sophomore secretaries.

Bucks Steal Quietly Into 'Big City' for NYU Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(UP).—The Ohio State football squad stole quietly into the "big city" today for a final "experimental" gridiron lesson Saturday afternoon in the Polo Grounds against the plucky Violet eleven of New York University.

The game was overshadowed by Manhattan's enthusiasm for the Notre Dame-Army and Columbia-Cornell contests vying for attention on the same afternoon, but the Bucks' event shaped up large in the 1938 Ohio State football scheme of things.

Schmidt planned to exercise his squad this afternoon in the Polo Grounds. The Ohio State Band was to arrive late today for its appearance at the game Saturday.

Lafayette nosed out the Violets 7 to 6 last Saturday.

"A pretty tough game" would seem to be just what Ohio pigskin followers desire to sharpen their favorites for rough going ahead in the Big Ten title scramble.

Ohio State barely got a workout last week in walloping Chicago 42 to 7, but Coach Mal Stevens seemed to have a much stronger Violet eleven than the Maroons to throw against the Bucks.

A crowd between 20,000 and 25,000 probably will watch the game.

Highlights on Glittering Generalities

By Richard Taylor

Last week was initiation week. But I doubt if anyone knew it. The only outward evidence of any initiation was the gang of campus beauties who ran about the campus without make-up adorning their usually lovely faces. This was quite, quite noticeable.

But the old initiations have faded into memories. By a ruling of the Council of Fraternity Presidents, all the lively antics of hell week are now kept inside the fraternity and sorority houses.

There was a time when the Oval was turned into a three ring circus for this event. My ancient and feeble brain can look back to the last of these about four years ago. I remember the lad who was dressed as a Mohammedan. Every day of the week, during the 10 minutes that the Chimes ring at noon, this neophyte was obliged to spread a prayer rug in front of Commerce Building and chant a prayer. "Hail to the bells! Hail to the bells!" came the chant for a full 10 minutes.

Then there was the boy who was the reincarnation of old Captain Kidd. He had to embark on a cruise of adventure on Mirror Lake. His trusty ship was a washtub. And there are some of you who will remember Andy Thomas stalking a campus restaurant with his long barreled rifle and his false teeth. He was a mountaineer, and out of this grew the Bulger Boys which flourished for some time.

But in this modern and sophisticated age, the active harrass their initiates in the privacy of their strongholds. Padding, chewing tobacco, and other tortures have gone the way of all flesh. Probably the most vicious of all stunts is the new "air-raid." When the alarm is sounded, the neophytes must needs dive under the nearest table, point their legs up into the stratosphere, and yell BOOM! When the alarm is sounded for a submarine attack, up they jump onto the table and drop depth bombs.

Another favorite trick is the "William Tell." One young man stands in the center of the room balancing a doughnut atop his cranium, while the others try to knock it off with wet sponges. Isn't it all too, too ducky?

By this time even the freshmen should know Dr. Held, the gentleman with the Van Dyke beard. Anyway, Dr. Held spent a very formal Sunday afternoon at the home of one of the deans a week ago. As he opened the door to leave, the dean's dog went bounding out of the door into the street. Whereupon the dean's wife yelled, "Whiskers, you come back here!"

And it took the dean and his whole family to convince Dr. Held that Whiskers was the doggy's name and that the reference was not to Dr. Held.

And the Alpha Xi Delta pledges have elected an "Etiquette Chairman." Why girls!

I thought my cousin from Bucyrus was a problem, but my own mother is beginning to worry me. She called the Sundial office the other day and asked for me. She was told that her wandering son was not there.

"Will you take a message for him?" she asked. "Yes, we will," answered Bob Schroeder. "Thank you," said she, and hung up!

Martha Chamberlain, who was circulation manager of the Ohio Stater last year, received a trade ad with a local beauty shop as part of her share of the profits. So Martha went blithely to said shop and proceeded to get a permanent, a shampoo, a manicure, a mud pack, and whatever else girls get at beauty shops. After it was all over Martha discovered that the establishment had changed hands, and she had to shell out complete payment for the whole works. Martha says she wishes she had stayed the way she was...

Dr. Harlan Hatcher brought a guest to his English class Wednesday, whom he introduced as a member of the English department of Western Reserve University. The guest spent the hour discussing the folk ballads of the United States. In the course of the hour, he broke down and sang several cowboy songs. This went over so well with the class that the next day Dr. Hatcher came back and tried the same thing. The class is now taking a poll to see which of them to send to the Pendleton Round-up next fall.

Harry Vallery, Dads' Day chairman, has announced that this year they will select a "Dad of Dads." Won't that make the gentleman a grandfather, Harry?

Word from Tony Aquila states that all the paper that is thrown at football games is gathered up and sold. The amount of paper is enormous, and I suppose if ticket sales fall off, they can always equip the football team with the revenue from waste paper sales. People are beginning to think it's more fun to throw paper than to watch the game, anyway.

They tell of the blushing bride, Who to the altar goes, Down the aisle of the church Between the friend-filled rows; There's Billy whom she motored with, And Bob with whom she swam; There's Jack; she used to golf with him, And Steve, who called her "Lamb." There's Ted, the football man she owned, And Don of tennis days; There's Herbert, too, and bland Eugene, Who took her to the plays, And there is Harry, high school beau With whom she used to mush; No wonder she's a blushing bride. Ye Gods, she ought to blush!

Campus Church News

By Janelle Moser

Since 1925 the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation has served as a religious, cultural and social center for Jewish students at the University. Today it offers to the 1100 Jewish students at the University a well rounded program of Jewish interests at its attractive building at 46 East Fifteenth Avenue.

Varied Activities

Under the supervision of the director, Rabbi Harry Kaplan, the Foundation conducts liberal and orthodox religious services, classes in Hebrew, Jewish history, Jewish problems, seminars, forums, dramatics, athletics and social functions.

A branch of Avukah, a Zionist organization, is located at the foundation and for those students who speak modern Hebrew a Hebrew circle has been recently organized.

Member of Religious Council

Hillel is a member of the University Religious Council and is active in interfaith work on the campus. In its program of personal service the Hillel Foundation maintains a student loan fund as well as an employment and housing bureau.

The Hillel House, open day and night during the school year, contains a chapel, library, kitchen, social rooms and the Hillel offices.

The student officers of the Hillel Student Council are: Jay Robert Klein, president; Ruth Stone, vice president; Mardelle Kleinman, secretary, and Arthur Markell, treasurer.

Hillel Foundation serves a three-fold purpose inasmuch as it is a center of Jewish worship, Jewish education and Jewish social center. Hillel is a "Jewish home away from home."

Don't Forget—

Tonight ghosts and goblins will gather on the lawn of the Indianola Student Center for a big Halloween box social at 8 and a dance later. Everyone is warned to come masked, or else!

That the Sunday vespers at the Indianola Student Center will be at 7 p. m. and will be in charge of Dr. Donald Tippett of the Bexley Methodist Episcopal Church.

There is to be an illustrated lecture entitled "Understanding Japan" Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church.

Sunday is known in the Presbyterian Churches as Sesqui-Centennial Sunday for Christian Education. Dr. P. Martin Baker's subject for the sermon at the Northminster Presbyterian Church Sunday presents the crisis and the need to strengthen Christian Education, especially in our colleges and universities.

At the young people's meeting at 6:30 Sunday evening at the Universalist-Unitarian Church, Rev. Howard G. Matson, who is working among Universalist and Unitarian students, will outline the plans for the student work for the year.

Nature's Diner Lost Forever

A story is gone. The object of visitors' candid cameras is gone. Two dental students have lost their favorite dining spot.

Last year, two students in the College of Dentistry, created a sensation by eating their lunches in the hollow trunk of a tree near the Ohio Union. The cavity, large enough for a foursome, has been filled with 15 tons of cement and a steel beam running up the center of the trunk.

University officials considered the tree a landmark and the filling has been used to lengthen the life of the tree.

Senate Discusses Disposal Of Fund

that the money should not be diverted but should be left in the Union fund to further improve the Ohio Union.

Dean of Women Esther Allen Gaw suggested that the money be untouched and in the event of the building of a new Union, the money could be used to furnish a Student Senate room.

No definite recommendations were made by the solons or by the committee upon the matter.

Amendment Passed

Upperclassmen in the Graduate School were given consideration by the Senate when it passed an amendment to the Code of Acts. The amendment, introduced by Harold E. Barlow, Dent-4, allows juniors and seniors in the Graduate School to be considered as juniors and seniors in the preferential allotment of Junior and Senior Prom tickets. The motion was introduced because of the inability of members of the Graduate School to obtain prom tickets.

Committee Report Accepted

The senate accepted a report of the elections committee read by Tom J. McFadden, A-4, which set November 9 as deadline dates for conferences with combine leaders on their publicity. McFadden also gave the second reading of an amendment which would grant Senate seats to the presidents of the junior and senior classes. This amendment will be voted upon next week, directly after its third reading before the group.

Dean W. Palmer, Com-3, Senate secretary, announced that the first Senate dinner will be held December 1.

Cosmopolitan Club To Sponsor Reception

A dinner and reception for new students interested in the Cosmopolitan Club will be held at 8 tonight at the International House.

Publication Board Approves Papers

Mid-Mirrors Receive Official Permission To Establish Newspaper

Meeting Thursday at the call of Professor James E. Pollard, chairman, the Board of Student Publications authorized the publication of "The Looking Glass," a newspaper sponsored by Mid-Mirrors, a committee of WSGA, and "The Independent," the official organ of the IMA.

"The Independent" was approved on the condition that the IMA continue to be responsible for the paper.

The board authorized preliminary payment of 1937-1938 Sundial staff and heard a report of the activities conducted by Harry E. Young, student publications adviser, since he assumed his duties July 1. The establishment of a publications library under Mr. Young's supervision was also approved.

A tentative agreement was reached calling for meetings of the board on the first Thursday of each month.

'Key' Will Honor First Grid Coach

Alexander Spinning Lilley, first football coach at the University, will be honored by Scarlet Key on the morning of the Ohio State-Michigan homecoming game. A plaque commemorating his work in laying the foundation for football at the University will be unveiled then.

The six living members of the original grid squad have been invited to attend the ceremony. The plaque will be placed above the entrance to the football dressing rooms in the east tower of the Stadium.

Many important and colorful University men will be present, among them will be: Dr. William McPherson, acting president of the University; L. W. St. John, University athletic director for more than a quarter of a century; past coaches and captains of Buck teams; athletic board members, and alumni.

Research Work To Be Launched

In order to provide data for investigations carried on in the field of visual psychology and to verify certain concepts prevalent in present optometric procedure, students in the School of Optometry and the department of psychology will begin cooperating in a research program Saturday morning.

Each Saturday morning thereafter, for an indefinite period of time, volunteers will be given eye examinations by members of the cooperating staffs. Examinations will be given free from 8 a. m. till noon. Anyone may volunteer for examinations.

The plan was originated and presented by a committee of the Ohio State Students' Optometric Association. The committee is as follows: Fred Silverstein, Opt-4, chairman; Henry Hoffstetter, Opt-4; Robert Sturges, Opt-4, and Murry Ginsburg, Opt-4.

Dr. Glen A. Fry, School of Optometry, and Dr. Robert Y. Walker, department of psychology, are directing the research program.

What's the Sense In Fighting Anyhow?

"Have you met Kurt Stahn, that exchange student from Germany who was interviewed in the LANTERN Tuesday?"

"You have. What did you think of him? He seemed like a swell guy, didn't you think so?"

"You did. Well, so did I. You know, it's funny. Germany and all those countries in Europe are so far away that a person never seems to realize that the guys over there are regular fellows just like us. I never thought of it very clearly until I talked to this fellow, Stahn.

"Why he's just another college boy trying to get along, and I suppose there's millions just like him over there. Why they drink cokes, and play soccer and rugby instead of football, and have dates just as we do. Kurt said in his interview that he doesn't like swing and he told me that too, but that's because he's not used to it.

"Over there, they go in for waltzes and tangos, and their dates are about like ours—walks, dancing and maybe a stop-off in a cafe somewhere to have some of that German beer we've heard so much about. Why they're just regular fellows!

"You know, I've been thinking there isn't any sense in people getting into wars. Why in the devil would we, or fellows in England, or boys in France or guys anywhere in the world want to fight with other regular fellows, like Stahn. There just isn't any sense in it.

"Personally I don't like Hitler or Hitler's ideas. I don't know what Kurt thinks of him. Maybe he doesn't like him either, and then again maybe he does. Whatever he thinks, he has a right to his own opinion. Anyhow there still isn't any sense in the world fighting about it.

"You know there ought to be some way for the world to keep out of war. I don't know what it is, but there ought to be a way. Maybe it's collective security; maybe it's reorganization of the governments in the world so that the people would have more voice in them; maybe it's tearing down trade barriers and redistributing colonies so every country would have a chance of making a go of it. I don't know, but there should be a way out somewhere.

"I've been thinking that we who are students in this country and all the students in the world should be trying to figure out some plan of keeping the world out of war that'll work. One of these days we're going to be running the show, and if we know our stuff, maybe we can do a better job than our dads have done."

—Such a monologue might have been delivered by any ordinary student who read the interview in Tuesday's LANTERN with Kurt Stahn, a German student who is attending the University this year. At least that's how the interview struck us.

Let's try to inform ourselves on what we can do to keep the world out of war. Things look pretty black, but the prize is certainly big enough to be worth trying for. Let's take a shot at it, and here's hoping we hit.

We're Glad It's Friday . . .

. . . for the sake of the students in the bleek cheering section, because tomorrow they'll get a rest. They deserve it for they've done a swell job. The biggest trouble with the section is that the students in the section and everyone on the Ohio State side of the Stadium are unable to see how good a job the section really is doing.

Last week, when the Chicago game looked pretty well sewed up, we took a chance on missing part of it while we walked around to the other side of the Stadium and dropped into a vacant seat where we could see the section.

The timing on raising the cards was good, and from where we were the job looked perfect. For the information of the students in the section we'd like to report that they are doing a good job.

Buck Squad Arrives In New York City

Schmidt To Hold Secret Practice This Afternoon

By PAUL WARREN
Lantern Sports Editor

NEW YORK CITY, October 28 (Special to the LANTERN) —The official Ohio State football party, including some 40 players, coaches and managers, arrived here in New York early this morning after a 12-hour sleeper hop from Columbus. The party took a bus from the Pennsylvania Station to the McAlpin Hotel where it will be quartered until Sunday morning.

Although most of the players making the trip saw New York for the first time this morning, they took it in their natural stride and did not seem too amazed at many of the sights. The squad took a two-hour sight-seeing trip of Rockefeller Center this morning and is expected to take another trip through the city proper this afternoon before Coach Francis A. Schmidt sends it through its last practice session for the game with the Violets at the Polo Grounds Saturday afternoon.

At noon today, Schmidt had not yet announced where the team would practice this afternoon, but nobody seemed to care but the coaches. The squad was anxious to see more of New York in the afternoon before settling down to the serious business of practicing for the game.

Most of the boys enjoyed a good night's sleep on the train and consequently showed no ill effects of the overnight hop.

30,000 Expected . . . A crowd of 30,000 is expected to witness the battle, though it will probably be the smallest crowd of the day in New York, for the Army-Notre Dame and Columbia-Cornell tilts are drawing most of the attention from Gotham fans. The weak opposition expected from the New York U. team is keeping the interest of the game very low.

Betting odds in New York favor the Bucks by almost a three to one margin, with most of the betting being done on the basis of giving New York backers points, and all the talk here is about how many points the Bucks are going to score.

The New York Club is not giving up, however. Many members of the squad were sophomores two years ago when the Bucks humiliated them with that famous 60-0 score at Columbus, and they are very anxious to even the count if possible.

The poor showing made by the Violets against Lafayette last week, though dampening the enthusiasm of the Violet supporters, has failed to stop the team's belief in itself.

Same Lineup . . . Schmidt is expected to start virtually the same lineup against the Violets that started against Chicago in last week's battle. This will have Ross Bartsch and Keith Bliss at ends, Alex Schoenbaum and Carl Kaplanoff at the tackles, Pete Gales and E. Hofmayer at guards, Steve Andracko at center, Mike Kabealo at quarter, Jim Strausbaugh and Frank Zadworney at the halfback posts, and Jimmy Langhurst at fullback.

Most of the 34 players who made the jaunt to New York are expected to see plenty of action in the game unless the Violets provide much stiffer opposition than is expected.

Game time is at 2 p. m., and Grant P. Ward and Wib Pettegrew, WOSU announcers, will broadcast it through the University station for the benefit of the fans who could not make the trip to the big city.

Editor's Note: Paul Warren, Lantern Sports Editor, is in New York for the game. In his absence a guest writer has taken his column for today.

That train pulled out for New York a while ago; a couple of hands full of rooters turn around and head back campus way from the station. High Street seems deserted; traffic jams are few and far between.

Downtown seems almost empty, the boisterousness and laughter of a merry football crowd are missing—the city appears bleak and gloomy, although it really isn't that bad.

On campus, the Oval looks as barren as a dried-up oasis. It will look that way Saturday when thousands should be rushing to the game . . . of course it always looks empty on a Friday but somehow we always have a mind picture of that Saturday crowd: It won't be that way Saturday.

Gloomy Saturday

Even the Stadium somehow shows that it is aware that 70,000 fans, all in a hurry, will not be wending their ways to their seats on the morrow. You can sense, by looking at it, that there will be no marching band nor block cheering section to fill the air with noise and song; there'll be no fresh white lines on the green sod; no "thump" of body hitting body or pigskin hitting foot; no blast of a referee's whistle nor shot of a gun ending the game.

You can tell that there won't be newspapers and cigarette butts, ticket stubs, programs, torn paper and debris to be swept clean. The press box will be empty, no clatter of typewriters or announcer's voice will break the silence.

Suddenly you realize that you're going to miss all of this more than you thought you would. You're going to miss that slap of the back from someone you don't know after that first touchdown. You'll miss being pushed and shoved by a mob of humanity hurrying to their cars after the game.

Saturday is going to be a very quiet Columbus town that greets us, there's going to be a terrific lull. The week end isn't going to seem the same. A few loyal and fortunate rooters will be in New York for the game and we'll all envy them about game time. Many will head back to their home towns for a few days; the rest of us will loaf around the house without bothering to get dressed, anxious for the game to get started so that we can stick our heads into the radio loudspeaker.

Seems funny, but it's true—what a difference a two hour football game can make!

Bob Cats Rage

There's a small feud going on down at Ohio University brought on by the Bob Cats' second defeat in two years at the hands of Western Reserve and a Cleveland sports writer was right in the thick of it also by declaring that Ohio U. is out of its class.

Ohio wants to play Reserve again next year, and they want to play them on their own field. For the past games the Bob Cats have traveled to Cleveland for the game but now the sports editor is howling for the game at Ohio U.

A long editorial appearing on the front page of the Green and White, Ohio's school paper is entitled "We Want To Beat Reserve" and from the sound of things it appears that if Reserve ever treks to Athens, there'll be a hot time in the old town.

Just Guesses

And now let's get out on the proverbial limb with a few predictions on Saturday's games; above all, don't say that we told you.

- Ohio State-NYU. The Bucks all the way, 27-0.
- Pennsylvania-Navy. A close one, Penn, 7-0.
- Fordham-Pittsburgh. Pitt, 13-0.
- Columbia-Cornell. Cornell, 13-6.
- Harvard-Princeton. Princeton, 6-0.
- Notre Dame-Army. Notre Dame, 20-7.
- Duke-North Carolina. Duke, 7-6.

Wildcat-Gopher Contest Tops Big Ten Schedule

Practically all of the Big Ten grid teams have given up chasing that will-o'-the-wisp called intersectional prestige for the time being and will spend their efforts Saturday in attempting to better their respective positions in their own Western Conference title chase.

Only Chicago, which faces DePaul, and the Bucks, bound for the eastern shores and their contest with the Violets, will be removed from the sordid scramble out of which a flag holder, or holders, will eventually emerge. It might be noted here, superfluously, perhaps, that the Maroons are out of the scramble for a much longer interval than a day.

Gophers Face Wildcats . . .

Minnesota, after a week of rest, travels to Evanston for a battle with the Wildcats that might well end the Gophers' one-year reign. Heralded as "the game for the Big Ten championship" by Chicago scribes, it has every chance of being just that.

Both teams will present a sterling defense. Northwestern is one of the major outfits with an uncrossed goal line this fall, while only two touchdowns have been scored against Bierhan's men: one by Nebraska on a stolen ball and one by Michigan in an honest drive.

Offensively the Gophers have the edge statistically, although Bernie Jefferson's passing may offset that. This will be the first time, however, that Harold Van Every will be able to assume full duties for the Gophers, and his triple threat abilities in which passing is no minor item may prove to be the deciding factor in favor of Minnesota.

Sophomores will be at a premium when Michigan and Illinois face each other at Ann Arbor. Tom Harmon, already hailed as one of the outstanding first-year backs of the nation, will carry a good deal of the Wolverine load, and Cliff Peterson's play will mean plenty in the Illini reckonings.

Michigan had to take to the air against Yale as its forward wall failed to produce results last week, but the line has been charging well in practice, and Crisler can reasonably expect it to resume the play that carried the team right along earlier in the season. The Wolverines are expected to continue their drive, but the Zuppke men can do a lot to spoil Crisler's first season of coaching the Maize and Blue.

Wisconsin vs. Indiana . . .

The Halloween season is a very appropriate symbol for the Hoosiers this year. In their opponent for this Saturday, Harry Stuhldreher's Badgers, they face a team that shows every indication of continuing the losing jinx for Bo McMillin's squad.

Competition Keen In I-M Football Games; Delts Win Feature

While spectators and substitutes alike stood around and shivered, competition on the various touch football fields boiled to a high pitch Thursday afternoon.

Delta Tau Delta showed a renewal of its 1937 form by snowing Alpha Sigma Phi under with a 25 to 0 score. The Delts were paced to their victory by Herring, whose passing, with the cooperation of Weaver at end, accounted for three of the four touchdowns registered.

A sleeper play and a fast man on the end post combined to start the ball rolling for Zeta Beta Tau over Sigma Pi, 25 to 0. This play was good for a touchdown and the downfall of the morale of the Sigma Pi lads. Weiss, Goldstein and Vinocur each scored a touchdown with Weiss helping on the fourth score by passing to one of his ends.

Phi Psis Win . . .

Completely outclassed, as the score indicates, 28-0, Alpha Gamma Rho went down to defeat at the hands of

I-M Examinations

One of the rules of the intramural league specifies that all participants must have a minor physical exam before they can play. Many of the players have not yet been examined and I-M officials have requested that they come to Dr. Castleman's office in the Physical Education Building as soon as possible to be examined.

the fast Phi Kappa Psi team. On the opening kickoff Day received the ball and never stopped till he had crossed the pay-off line that put his team ahead.

One of the tightest games of the day was played by Alpha Zeta and Beta Theta Pi. The only score of the game was made on a 30-yard pass thrown by Bertina. The ball whipped through the air for 30 yards and then hit the back of its intended receiver, bouncing into the air and finally being retrieved by another Beta, Shouse, who carried it across the goal line. Bertina then dropped back and dropped-kicked the extra point, the final score reading, Beta Theta Pi 7, Alpha Zeta 0.

Delta Upsilon fought the Sigma Chi to a standstill and finally won out by a 6 to 0 score. Only a technicality kept the D U's from scoring two more points on a safety. The best passing combination seemed to be Hill to McClaine, which eventually paid off with the six-point score.

Tower Club No. 3 turned on the heat to score two touchdowns and a safety over the Buckeye Club No. 3, the final tallies showing the score, Tower 14, Buckeye 0.

The other game of the day found Alpha Kappa Kappa winning over Delta Theta Sigma 25 to 0. The Alpha K's displayed one of the best offensive drives of the day.

Another close score is indicated against Indiana.

Purdue will at last have a chance to unleash the power it has shown all season when it travels to Iowa City for its match with the Hawkeyes. Mike Byelene, Lou Brock, Tony Juska and the rest of the Boilermaker backs should have a field day at the expense of Ira Tubbs' "undernourished" footballers.

Chicago will have no cinch in meeting a DePaul team that has given stiff fights to stronger teams than the perennial occupant of the Big Ten cellar, but the Maroons are picked to win their first game of the season.

Cross-Country Team Off For Madison Today

Led by Captain Jim Whittaker, the Buckeye hill and dale squad left Columbus at noon today en route to Madison, Wis., where they will meet the Badgers in a cross-country duel Saturday afternoon.

Making the trip, in addition to Whittaker, are Nelson Price, Jack Spellicy, Darwin Keye, Frank Bolton and Ernie Williams. They will notor to Chicago where they will entrain for Madison.

Although the Bucks lost their first test of the year at Miami two weeks ago, they have been showing marked signs of improvement during their recent workouts. During time trials Monday at the University Golf course, Whittaker set a new University four mile record by covering the distance in 20 minutes 30 seconds.

Wisconsin has one Big Ten victory already on its side of the ledger as a result of its victory over Purdue Saturday by the score of 24-33.

Although Captain Art Bodeau of Purdue led the pack home, the Badger team was able to place enough men in the paying positions to defeat the Boilermakers. Close on the heels of Bodeau came Wally Mehl, the Badgers' No. 1 man. Mehl won the Indoor and Outdoor Big Ten two-mile run last year, setting a new record in the indoor running.

The meet Saturday will be run between the halves of the Indiana-Wisconsin football game.

Polo Team Meets Harbor Hills

For the second time this season a Scarlet polo trio will face Harbor Hills in the Coliseum this evening. Captain Clyburn will use the same lineup that operated to such good advantage against Illinois last Friday night: Chet Roof, number one; Captain Ed Kennedy, number two, and Earl Springer, number three. A preliminary match starting at 8:30 will take place between squads composed of Buck alumni and the Junior Varsity.

Halloween, Pledges Fill Society Column

Delts, Sigma Nus, A.D.Pi's, Newmans, Alpha Chis To Dance; 2 Sororities Have Newcomers

By MARTHA ANN HINKLE
Society Editor

If you've noticed that society news has become a bit routine of late, don't blame us. Can we help it if Halloween comes on the very heels of pledge elections, so that our information see-saws back and forth between the two types of news? But don't think we're complaining... we like it here in our rut. The Delts will celebrate Halloween all day Saturday, with an open house in the afternoon to listen to the game, a buffet supper after that, and a dance after that. Delta Tau Delta Social Chairman Roland Diemer (how's that for a title?) tells us that the house will be decorated as befits the season, and that many prominent alumni will be on hand for the festivities.

"Skeleton Stomp"

According to word just brought in by carrier pigeon from the Sigma Nu house, the boys of that lodge and their dates will out-goblin the goblins' own holiday, when they dance Saturday night. Chuck Mulback, Bud Dawson and Bill Moore are in charge of refreshments and decorations, with a prize offered to the winner of the "Skeleton Stomp."

Official Bulletin

The Ohio State University

Vol. XVIII FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1938 No. 20

THIS BULLETIN will be the official medium for all authorized announcements. Faculty and students—especially officials of all organizations—are requested to look to the Bulletin for information. University officials and executives will be guided by the Bulletin in preparing for meetings. In the interest of efficiency and to avoid conflicts the following announcement is made: No meetings or functions of any sort will be permitted or provided for either on the campus or in the University Buildings unless authorized and announced in the Daily Bulletin. The University assumes no responsibility for unauthorized or unannounced meetings. Notices should be at the President's Office not later than noon for the day following and noon Friday for Monday's Bulletin.

To the Members of the Teaching Staff

Approximately 20 graduate students and a considerably larger number of undergraduates have not paid their autumn quarter fees or have not received official deferment of these fees through the offices of the dean of men or the dean of women.

The President's office asks respectfully for the prompt and decisive cooperation of the teaching staff to clear up these irregularities. Only those students, graduate or undergraduate, for whom the Registrar's office has supplied class enrollment cards to the departments can be permitted to remain in classrooms and laboratories.

Teachers are requested to check class attendance against their official roll books at once and to enforce the University regulations without exception. Your assistance will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM McPHERSON,
Acting President.

Autumn Quarter, 1938 Freshman Mid-Quarter Grades

All teachers of freshman students are requested to cooperate with the registrar and the college offices in furnishing freshman mid-quarter grades for the autumn quarter, 1938, under the following schedule:

October 28—On this day the various departments will receive the cards for recording the mid-quarter grades from the registrar.

November 7—On this day the graded cards are due in the office of the registrar not later than 12 m. Mid-quarter standing is an important factor in freshman progress and our teaching assistance and counseling will be more effective if these reports can be made promptly and accurately. Instructors are earnestly requested to give a brief statement of reasons for "D" and "E" grades on the back of the cards to assist the junior deans in their advisory relations with the students and their parents.

Advance notice of this schedule is given so that the departments may conduct mid-terms in ample time to provide data for mid-quarter grades and to insure the prompt return of the cards to the registrar's office.

WILLIAM McPHERSON,
Acting President.

Requests for Special Schedules For Winter Quarter

Students who must have special concessions in the assignment of hours for recitations and laboratories due to self-support, ill health, or for any other reason, should call at the Registrar's office AT ONCE and secure a special schedule request blank. This blank, signed by either the junior dean or the secretary of the college, MUST BE FILED WITH YOUR ELECTION CARD. It is therefore necessary to have this blank signed before you fill out your schedule card which may be secured at the Registrar's office on November 1. Schedule cards with special schedule requests attached cannot be given priority in assignment to class unless filed November 1. Special schedule requests filed after November 1 will be considered along with all other election cards that are filed. This applies to students who filed a special request blank at the opening of the autumn quarter as well as all others.

Dean of Women's Announcement

Women students who live in any of the dormitories, sorority houses, or University houses and who expect to attend the New York University-Ohio State game on Saturday, October 29, should report directly to their superintendent or head resident. A list of such absentees should be sent to this office before noon Saturday. Undergraduate women are expected to have the consent of their parents when they attend an out-of-town game.

Department of Speech

All students interested in taking Speech 402 for the winter quarter should note the error in the Time Schedule. The course will be given Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 3; lecture Tuesday at 3, instead of Tuesday and Thursday 3-5; lecture Wednesday at 3, as noted in the Time Schedule.

Exemption Tests For Speech 459

Exemption tests for Speech 459 will be given during the last week of October in room 208, Derby Hall.

The hours are 4 and 5 daily except Tuesday. See Miss Peck at room 205 1/2, Derby Hall, for appointments.
