

4th INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ANDALUSIAN SYMPOSIA ON SLAVIC STUDIES

GranaSlavic2014

www.ugr.es/~feslava/granaslavic2014/

UNIVERSITY OF GRANADA, SPAIN

June 4-6, 2014

The Organizing Committee is pleased to announce the 4th International Conference “Andalusian Symposia on Slavic Studies” (GranaSlavic2014), which will be held in June 4-6, 2014 at the University of Granada. This event is organized to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the founding of Department Section of Slavic Studies at the University of Granada.

The goal of the Conference is to promote both theoretical and applied research in the field of Slavic Studies, and bring together scholars who are interested in the different topics of the Conference:

1. Learning and Teaching of Slavic Languages and Cultures
2. Slavic Literatures and Cultural Expressions
3. Media, Political Discourse and International Relations
4. History, Culture and World View
5. Linguistic Studies
6. Translation to and from Slavic Languages

The official conference languages are any Slavic language, Spanish and English.

Plenary Speakers: Aleksei Shmelev (Russian Academy of Sciences), Anna Zalizniak (Russian Academy of Sciences), Andrei Bitov (Writer), Laura Janda (University of Tromsø), Carlos Taibo (Autonomous University of Madrid), and Selma Ancira (Translator. Spanish National Translation Award, 2011).

Invited Speakers: Tore Nessel (University of Tromsø), Pierre Gonneau (Paris Sorbonne University-CNRS), Irina Mikaelian (Penn State University), and Yuri Shevchuk (Columbia University).

Plenary debate on "Verb classifier hypothesis for Russian verbal prefixes": Anna Zalizniak (Russian Academy of Sciences), Irina Mikaelian (Penn State University), Laura Janda (University of Tromsø).

In addition to scheduled sessions, a round table on Translation from Slavic Languages into Spanish is planned during the Conference.

Venue: Faculty of Philosophy and Literatures, University of Granada (Spain). Map

Abstract (300-350 words, not including references) must be submitted online via <http://linguistlist.org/easyabs/granaslavic2014> by March 3, 2014.

Important dates:

- Abstract submission: March 3, 2014.
- Notification of acceptance: March 18, 2014.

After acceptance of your abstract:

- Registration deadline: April 18, 2014.
- Program Announcement: May 20, 2014.
- Conference dates: June 4-6, 2014.
- Paper submission to be published in the book “Trends in Slavic Studies” (Editorial URSS): June 16, 2014. Further details about paper publication requirements will be posted at the conference URL: www.ugr.es/~feslava/granaslavic2014/.

Scientific Committee: Boris Uspensky (Naples Oriental University), Nina Arutiunova (Russian Academy of Sciences), Jiří Černý (Palacký University of Olomouc), Henryk Fontański (University of Silesia), Vsevolod Bagno (Russian Academy of Sciences), Alexei Shmelev (Russian Academy of Sciences), Anna Zalizniak (Russian Academy of Sciences), Juan Gay Armenteros (University of Granada), Miguel Gómez Oliver (Universidad de Granada), Juan de Dios Luque Durán (University of Granada), Ricardo Martín de la Guardia (University of Valladolid), Sultana Wahnón (University of Granada), Carlos Taibo (Autonomous University of Madrid).

Organizing Committee: Enrique Quero Gervilla (Chair. University of Granada), Benamí Barros-García (Co-chair. University of Granada), Yuri Shevchuk (Columbia University), Margaret Tejerizo (University of Glasgow), Stefano Aloe (University of Verona), Simón Suárez Cuadros (Executive secretary. University of Granada), Natalia Arsentieva (University of Granada), Tatiana Kopylova (Udmurt State University), Joaquín Enrique Torquemada (University of Granada), Béata Cieszynska (University of Lisbon), José Antonio Hita Jiménez (University of Granada), Elena Mironesco-Bielova (University of Granada), Ángeles Quero Gervilla (University of Granada), Enrique Vercher García (University of Granada), Marc Ruíz-Zorrilla Cruzate (University of Barcelona), Pablo Marynenko (Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv), Nina Kressova (University of Tartu), Álvaro Marín García (Kent State University), Tamara Gorozhankina (University of Granada), José Alejandro Calero Díaz (University of Granada), Petr Sclechta (Palacký University of Olomouc), Tatiana Chaikheva Trofimova (University of Granada), Ulyana Savchenko (University of Toronto), Ángel Díaz-Pintado (University of Granada), Tatiana Fomina (Udmurt State University), Agata Natalia Golab (Maria Curie-Skłodowska University), Marcin Kołakowski (University of Warsaw).

Conference fee:

The conference fee includes: conference materials, abstract publication (Granada University Press), paper publication (Editorial URSS), visit to Alhambra, and closing dinner (optional).

Participants with closing dinner: EUR 140

Participants without closing dinner EUR 110

Co-authorship: each participant has to pay the full registration fee.

Guests (participants without abstract/paper that require conference materials and certificate of attendance): EUR 40.

Participation in absence (abstract and paper will published): EUR 90

Accommodation and travel expenses will be borne by the participants.

Further details about registration, visa applications (if required) and paper publication requirements will be posted at the conference URL: www.ugr.es/~feslava/granaslavic2014/.

For any other questions or concerns, please email granaslavic2014 (at) gmail (dot) com.

We look forward to seeing you in Granada!

Enrique Quero Gervilla

Chair of GranaSlavic2014

Benamí Barros-García

Vice-chair of GranaSlavic2014