Resource Updates

- ProQuest Statistical Datasets contains data from federal, state, private, and other sources.

You will begin to see an increasing number of Wiley e-books in the catalog.

Not seeing a Springer/Birkhauser book in our catalog? We may have access online via Springer's site. Browse or search - the green symbol means we have access.

Unfortunately due to exceptionally low usage combined with an exceptionally high price, we are following the lead of many of our fellow institutions and cancelling our subscription to Inspec database. Most of the scholarship covered by Inspec is covered by other databases, however, in some instances users will need to use more than one database to obtain the same overall coverage. Recommended substitutes include: Compendex, Web of Science, and Scopus. See also other engineering and computer science databases.

We have increased availability of online content for some journals. See the Online Journals List or search the catalog for online journals.

SciFinder Scholar (AKA Chemical Abstracts) now has unlimited seats.
