Actuarial Science
Students Form Club

The newest undergraduate club is the Actuarial Club at Ohio State.
The group formed this Spring Quarter as a result of increased interest, and increasing numbers, in the major in Actuarial Science. At present, there are about 111 undergraduates majoring in the Actuarial Science program in the department. The purpose of the organization is to develop in members an understanding of the actuarial profession and influence the conditions under which members are being prepared for their professional role in society.
The organizational meeting of the Club attracted 50 attendees. The officers are Charles Bremer, President, John Bilancini, Vice President, David McLeroy, Treasurer, and Carol Ziccardi, Secretary. The Club's advisor is Robert B. Brown.
