Notes from Strippers Guide: The series appearing at the same time from two syndicates is probably explained by Lowry having submitted it to both of them and having it accepted and quickly put into print by both. The Philadelphia Inquirer switched to an alternate but very similar series titled "Peg Leg Pete". Character revived in "Poor Old Robinson Crusoe". Title changed to "Salt-Sea Yarns By Binnacle Jim" on 4/30/05. The Battle Creek Moon was running this strip in 1912 - reprints?
Sundays for SFS107 (marked red and bold) were published in the Stockton Evening Mail on Saturdays. They are tracked by their listed Saturday dates. They are still considered Sundays due to their large format and colors - other newspapers would publish these features on Sundays.
4 undated examples of this feature for 1904-1905 are held in the collection in box SFS109-9; however, no dates are available for them. The run of Sundays for these years has been kept in the original order in which it was received from the San Francisco Academy of Comic Art.
