

How to Tell the Birds from the				Robert Williams Wood				1907
Flowers
Title of feature				Creator(s)				Year

Size Most dailies: 18 x 12 cm

* Indicates date is uncertain. % Indicates strip is on verso of another feature.

Sundays appear in red and bold.

	January	February	March	April	May	June	July	August	September	October	November	December
1												SFC474
2
3											SFC474
4
5
6
7
8												SFC474
9
10											SFC474
11
12
13
14
15												SFC474
16
17
18
19
20										SFC474
21
22												SFC474
23
24											SFC474
25
26
27										SFC474
28
29												SFC474
30
31

There are various books titled "How to tell the birds from the flowers" by Robert Williams; the earliest published by Wood San Francisco : New York : P. Elder and Company, [c1907] the latest by New York, Dover Publications [1959]. These were obviously published before the books were.

