

Copyright Services

for Grad Students

Copyright Services at The Ohio State University Libraries supports faculty, staff, and students by providing education and guidance on the application of copyright law to facilitate education and research.

Questions?

For more information, contact us at:

go.osu.edu/copyright

Copyright Services

University Libraries

Thompson Library

(614) 688-5849

Email: libcopyright@osu.edu

Copyright Services offers the following services:

- Workshops
- Customized presentations
- Consultations
- Copyright permission requests assistance
- Information on how to register a copyright
- Referral to resources

Graduate students have used our services to:

- Discuss and assess risks, rights, and obligations in using copyrighted works in their thesis or dissertation and their classroom teaching
- Locate and understand usage restrictions for public domain and Creative Commons licensed works
- Clarify their rights as creators of copyrighted content
- Draft permission request letters to copy, modify, and share copyrighted materials
- Understand the differences between plagiarism and copyright infringement
- Review publishing agreements

Disclaimer: Copyright Services is not legal counsel to the University or any members of the University community. Information provided by Copyright Services is not legal advice. creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0

