Canfield Club

The Canfield Club was organized about nine years ago as a friendship club. It was named Canfield with the permission of Dorothy Canfield Fisher, an alumna of Ohio State, who is now a famous novelist. She shows great interest in the organization through the letters written to it from time to time.

All girls working for part of their school expenses are eligible to membership. The main purpose of the club is to help girls become acquainted with campus people and customs. There are many parties and dances given throughout the year, the two main events being a Spring formal and a Tea for their employers.

Dear Sir,

The Liberal Club is calling a student conference on Education Costs. The reduced budget, the problem of second-hand textbooks etc. will be brought up. Each organization may send one delegate who should bring credentials. Your cooperation will be warmly appreciated.

Dear Miss Thrati,

I read P. Mrozey's Jan 8 on Campus article concerning historical records. I am a "senior citizen" and in the process of "pitching" before some one else does. One of the articles is a small 1932-33 Canfield Club yearbook. I have no idea how long it existed.

I remember very few details of the club. I believe the deed to the women's set in motion for girls students, living off campus, earning their room by living in a private home assisting in child care and minor chores. I had a wonderful four years (1932-33) with two different girls' families. My only memory of the club is my worry over designing, setting up the programs for that particular year.
Please let me know if you are interested in this very small yearbook or calendar. I live in Worthington and can mail or hand deliver. My telephone number is 855-5421. My address:

Mrs. J.C. Lowman (Emily)
490 Evening St. Worthington, O.
4-30-25

1-26-57. Called her & told her we wanted to like to have it. She said try to mail it or else bring it down.

In her January 27, 1957 letter which accompanied the booklet, she signed her name: Emily Stokes Lowman.
