Donors can take a bite

THANKS TO CHERYL&CO. of Columbus, President Gee has a bow tie that tastes as good as it looks. And the gourmet food company's bow tie cookie will benefit four University programs as 10 percent of sales will go to the Alumni Association; Student Alumni Council; Housing, Food Services and Events Centers; and Critical Difference for Women. Last month, Gee and Nancy Zimpher, dean of the College of Education and chair of the Critical Difference fund, right, receive a giant sample cookie from Cheryl&Co. president Cheryl Krueger, center.
