Hallowen House, one of 28 residence halls at The Ohio State University, offers men-only and women-only floors. It was named in memory of William Halloran, one of four Ohio State men who died in the attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941.