COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

The Office of International Affairs (OIA) Community Service Award recognizes community volunteers who have provided outstanding service over a number of years to the international community at The Ohio State University. This award is given annually and the recipient is honored at the OIA Awards Ceremony during International Week. The individual selected for this honor receives an inscribed silver bowl.

ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for nomination, a community member must:

- Have been involved for a number of years with one or more community organizations which provide programs and services for the international community at The Ohio State University;
- Be nominated by a member of the Ohio State community; and
- Not be a previous recipient of the award.

NOMINATION PROCEDURE

To nominate a community member for the OIA Community Service Award, complete the enclosed form, obtain at least two letters of recommendation and attach your answers to the following questions:

- In what ways has this community member provided outstanding service to the University's international community?
- For how long and through which organizations has this individual provided service?
- Has this individual been recognized by other groups for efforts on behalf of the University's international community?

This form, letters of recommendation, and answers to the questions should be returned to:

Office of International Affairs
Awards Committee
286 University Hall
230 North Oval Mall

Nominations will be accepted until 5:00 p.m. on April 30, 1991.

SELECTION PROCEDURE

A Selection Committee composed of individuals from the University community will review nomination materials and make recommendations to the President. The winner of the award will be announced in early May.

All questions concerning the OIA Community Service Award should be addressed to the Office of International Affairs, 292-3821.
