assembly of the Jewish community.

The convention was called by Mr. David Ben-Gurion, the head of the Jewish community, and attended by representatives of various Jewish organizations.

The convention discussed various issues affecting the Jewish community and the future of the country.

It was decided that the Jewish community should continue to work for the advancement and development of the region.

The meeting adjourned with the promise of further discussions and actions.